(b) No person shall operate a pleasure vessel within twenty (20) feet of the exterior boundary of a water area which is clearly marked by buoys or some other distinguishing device as a bathing or swimming area.

(c) Swimming areas shall be marked with yellow and red colored buoys by the owners of such areas.

(c) It shall be the duty of any sheriff advised of a collision, accident or other casualty reported under this act; to (1) conduct an appropriate investigation of such collision, accident or other casualty and (2) to prepare and submit a report of the results of said investigation, together with the completed standardized accident report forms to the board.

The owner shall not be liable, however, unless such vessel is being used with his or her express or implied consent. It shall be presumed that such vessel is being operated with the knowledge and consent of the owner, if at the time of the injury or damage, it is under the control of his or her spouse, father, mother, brother, sister, son, daughter or other immediate member of the owner's family. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to relieve any other person from any liability which he would otherwise have, but nothing contained herein shall be construed to authorize or permit any recovery in excess of injury or damage actually incurred.

70-106. (3884) Power of commission to ascertain property values.

Investigation by Commission

The provision of this section authorizing the commission to make an investigation is permissive only and it is not mandatory that the commission make its separate investigation. State ex rel. Olsen v. Public Service Commission, 131 M 104, 308 P 2d 633, 639. (Dissenting opinion on this point, 131 M 104, 308 P 2d 633 at 640.)

The statute is silent as to what methods the commission must use in ascertaining the value of the property and the commission has a wide latitude in choosing a method of arriving at the value of the plant used and useful in serving the public. State ex rel. Olsen v. Public Service Commission, 131 M 104, 308 P 2d 633, 637.

Value of Property

Method of Ascertaining Value of Property

Commission did not err in fixing the value of the plant where they considered reproduction cost new less depreciation; the original cost less depreciation; and the assessed value so far as taxable property was concerned. State ex rel. Olsen v. Public Service Commission, 131 M 104, 308 P 2d 633, 637.

While the statute does not establish a formula for arriving at fair value, it does require such value to be found and used as a base in fixing rates. The reasonableness and justness of the rates must be related to this finding of fair value. State ex rel. Olsen v. Public Service Commission, 131 M 272, 309 P 2d 1035.

70-128. (3906) Action to set aside rates or charges fixed by commission.

Demurrer

That part of this section which requires the commission and other parties defendant to file their answer to the complaint within thirty days does not preclude the filing of a demurrer. There is no reason why the commission may not properly demur upon grounds which raise only questions of law that are preliminary to a consideration of the case on the merits.

As to the contention that this results in the delay of the trial, it is sufficient to say that it is proper for the court to extend the time for answering for a reasonable time after disposition of the demurrer. State ex rel. Olsen v. Public Service Commission, 129 M 106, 283 P 2d 594, 596.

Review on Appeal

On review, if the commission's order and findings therein are supported by evidence and credible proof, the courts will sustain it. State ex rel. Olsen v. Public Service Commission, 131 M 272, 309 P 2d 1035, 1040.

It must appear from said application that the use or operation of such system will not cause to be transmitted any energy, communication or signal from this state to any other state, territory or possession of the United States, or to any place in any foreign country or to any vessel; or that the effects of such transmission extend beyond the boundaries of this state; or when interference is caused by such use or operation with the transmission of energy, communications, or signals from within this state to any place beyond its borders, or from any place beyond the borders of this state to any place within this state, or with the transmission or reception of such energy, communications, or signals from and/or to places beyond the borders of this state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 26, L. 1959.

70-405. Issuance of license—fee—additional information. Upon receipt of an application which conforms to the requirements of the preceding section, and all regulations of the commission adopted pursuant thereto, the commission shall forthwith issue to the applicant a license, in a form to be prescribed by the commission, which shall authorize the continued operation of said system for a period of one (1) year thereafter. The fee for such license shall be in the amount of one dollar ($1.00) per year. In the event that such application is for the construction or operation of a VHF booster system or VHF translator system which was not on the effective date of this act in operation within the boundaries of this state, the commission may require additional information with regard to the necessity for and convenience of such system and conduct such investigations and hearings as are deemed necessary to determine whether authorization of said system should be granted.

Section 1. - Chapter 1. Railroads—regulation by board of railroad commissioners, 72-150, 72-164.

72-164. Railroad commission may order electric signal bells installed.

72-101. (3779) Creation of commission.

Vacancy

The time limitations prescribed in section 23-809 which provides the secretary of state shall certify to the various county clerks the names of persons nominated for election not less than 45 days nor more than 90 days before the election, has no application to an election to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of a regularly elected railroad commissioner where, such commissioner defers and withholds the effective date of his resignation until but 32 days remain between such effective date and the day of the general election. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 647.

The provisions of section 23-809, a general statute, are in conflict with the special provisions of this section, a special statute, which applies specifically and exclusively to the filling of vacancies occurring in the board of commissioners of the state of Montana. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 646.

There can be no special election to elect the governor's appointee's successor under this section, for the result of a special election could oust the governor's appointee prior to the next general election held next after such appointee's appointment and qualification. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 647.

The office of railroad commissioner is one that is required to be filled by the voters at the general elections held biennially, and it is only when a vacancy occurs that a temporary appointment is authorized to stop the gap and permit the board to continue to function with three members until the electors are presented with their first opportunity to select the appointee's successor which opportunity is afforded under the law at the next general election held following the occurrence of the vacancy. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 646.

72-118. (3796) Power to alter classification or rate—hearing complaint.

Change in Rates

Advantage, preference or discrimination standing alone is not sufficient justification for interference with intrastate rates. It is only undue or unreasonable advantage, preference or prejudice, or undue, unreasonable or unjust discrimination that justifies intervention by the interstate commerce commission. Montana Citizens F. R. Assn. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 128 M 127, 271 P 2d 1024, 1030.

Disparity between Interstate Rates and Intrastate Rates

The consequences of an intrastate rate increase by the state board are quite different from the standpoint of a shipper from an interstate rate increase by the interstate commerce commission. The reason for this difference is that the interstate commerce commission has the power and authority to declare a rate unreasonable or discriminatory retroactively and to compel reparation to a shipper who has paid freight charges in excess of a reasonable rate. The state board has no such authority. Consequently, the state board should require independent proof on matters essential to warrant an increase in intrastate rates and charges and should not assume that the intrastate rate was properly related to the interstate rate prior to the change made in the latter and that to maintain this relationship the intrastate rate had to be increased exactly the same as the interstate rate. Montana Citizens F. R. Assn. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 128 M 127, 271 P 2d 1024, 1027.

The state board has no authority to grant an automatic raise in intrastate rates simply because the interstate commerce commission had granted a raise in interstate rates. The mere disparity between the interstate rates and the intrastate rates does not compel the state board to grant an increase so as to remove the disparity. Montana Citizens F. R. Assn. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 128 M 127, 271 P 2d 1024, 1027.

Discontinuance of Service

An order of the board that there should be no curtailment or discontinuance of passenger train service between points within the state except where authorized by commission is valid under the statute and in line with authorities that a public utility may not discontinue its service without approval of the public service commission. Great Northern Ry. v. Board of Railroad Comrs., 130 M 250, 298 P 2d 1093, 1094. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 250, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095.)

Railroad was not authorized to discontinue railway service between points within Montana without permission of the commission, although in an earlier petition by the railroad to discontinue such service the commission had ruled it had no jurisdiction. The erroneous ruling of the board that it had no jurisdiction over proceedings to abandon the service so far as it affected intrastate transportation did not justify the railroad in removing the trains. That order was subject to review and the obligation to have that order reviewed rested on the railway company as a necessary step to procure the consent of the board for the abandonment of the train service. Great Northern Ry. v. Board of Railroad Comrs., 130 M 250, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 250, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095.)

Obligation to Review

Where the board ruled that it had no jurisdiction in acting on a railroad's petition to discontinue service, the railroad was not authorized to discontinue such service between points within the state without the consent of the commission. The order was subject to review and the obligation to have that order reviewed rested on the railway company, as a necessary step to procure the consent of the board for the abandonment of the train service. Great Northern Ry. v. Board of Railroad Comrs., 130 M 250, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 250, 298 P 2d 1093, 1095.)

72-132. (3809) Action to determine reasonableness of rates, etc.

Appellant Review

The findings of the board are by law deemed prima facie just, reasonable and proper, and courts should ascribe to them the strength due to the judgments of a tribunal appointed by law and informed by experience. The board's conclusion is subject to review, but when supported by evidence is accepted as final. Chicago, M., St. P. & P. R. Co. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 126 M 568, 255 P 2d 346, 350.

Requiring Continuation of Service at a Loss

Where convenience and necessity is found to exist, evidence of earnings and losses on its various services would be material before a railroad would be heard to complain that a service is an undue burden on interstate commerce or that in rendering the service there is an unlawful taking of property without due process of law. Chicago, M., St. P. & P. R. Co. v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 126 M 568, 255 P 2d 346, 352.

The fact that several trains are run at a loss, is not, standing alone, sufficient to justify the discontinuance of the trains in question. It has long been settled that a requirement that a particular service be rendered at a loss does not make a service confiscatory and thereby an unconstitutional taking of property. The Constitution does not grant to a railroad company a continuing privilege of exercising its franchise and at the same time permit it to escape from the duties incidental to it. Chicago, M., St. P. & P. R. Co v. Board of R. R. Comrs., 126 M 568, 255 P 2d 346, 351.

Title of Act

An act relating to and regulating the retail installment selling and financing of goods, including motor vehicles and services; to define terms used herein; to require the licensing of sales finance companies; to vest the administration and enforcement of this act in the office of the state superintendent of banks; to prescribe the powers, duties, authority and jurisdiction of such superintendent of banks with respect to this act; to authorize the adoption and promulgation of

74-602. Definitions. Unless otherwise clearly indicated by the context, the following words when used in this act, for the purposes of this act, shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them in this section:

(a) "Goods" means all chattels personal, including motor vehicles and merchandise certificates or coupons exchangeable for chattels personal, but not including money or things in action. The term includes goods which,

at the time of the sale or subsequently, are to be so affixed to realty as to become a part thereof whether or not severable therefrom.

(c) "Motor vehicle" means any new or used automobile, mobile home, motorcycle, truck, trailer, semitrailer, truck tractor, and all vehicles with any power, other than muscular power, primarily designed or used to transport persons or property on a public highway, excepting however, any vehicle which runs only on rails or tracks or in the air.

(d) "Retail buyer" or "buyer" means a person who buys goods or obtains services from a retail seller in a retail installment transaction under a retail installment contract and not for the purpose of resale.

(g) "Retail installment contract" or "contract" means an agreement evidencing a retail installment transaction entered into in this state pursuant to which a buyer promises to pay in one or more deferred installments the time sale price of goods and/or services. The term includes a chattel mortgage, conditional sales contract and a contract for the bailment or leasing of goods by which the bailee or lessee contracts to pay as compensation for its use a sum substantially equivalent to or in excess of its value and by which it is agreed that the bailee or lessee is bound to become, or for no further or a merely nominal consideration has the option of becoming, the owner of the goods upon full compliance with the provisions of the contract.

(h) "Cash sale price" means the price stated in a retail installment contract for which the seller would have sold or furnished to the buyer, and the buyer would have bought or obtained from the seller, the goods or services which are the subject matter of the retail installment contract, if such sale had been a sale for cash at a cash price instead of a retail installment transaction at a time sale price. The cash sale price may include any taxes, registration, certificate of title, license and official fees, and cash sale prices for services, if any, and for accessories and their installation and for delivery, servicing, repairing or improving the goods.

(i) "Official fees" means the fees prescribed by law for filing, recording or otherwise perfecting and releasing or satisfying any title or lien retained or taken by a seller in connection with a retail installment transaction.

(j) "Principal balance" means the cash sale price of the goods or services which are the subject matter of the retail installment transaction plus the amounts, if any, included in the sale, if a separate identified charge is made therefor and stated in the contract, for insurance and other benefits and official fees, minus the amount of the buyer's down payment in money or goods.

(k) "Finance charge" means the amount, as limited by section 8 [74-608] hereof, in addition to the principal balance, agreed upon between the buyer and the seller, to be paid by the buyer for the privilege of purchasing goods or services to be paid for by the buyer in one or more deferred installments.

(l) "Time sale price" means the total of the cash sale price of the goods or services and the amount, if any, included for insurance and other benefits if a separate identified charge is made therefor and the amounts of the official fees and the finance charge.

(m) "Sales finance company" means a person engaged, in whole or in part, in the business of purchasing retail installment contracts from one or more sellers. The term includes but is not limited to a bank, trust company, investment company, Morris Plan company or savings and loan association, if so engaged. The term shall not include a person who makes only isolated purchases of retail installment contracts, which purchases are not being made in the course of repeated and successive purchases of retail installment contracts from the same seller.

(n) "Holder" of a retail installment contract means the retail seller of the goods or services under the contract, or, if the contract is purchased by a sales finance company or other assignee, the sales finance company or other assignee.

(o) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, and any other group however organized.

(p) "Superintendent" means the state superintendent of banks of the state of Montana.

(q) Words in the singular include the plural, the masculine includes the feminine and the neuter, and vice versa.

(r) This act shall have no application to the lending of money by banks or other lending institutions and securing loans by chattel mortgages of goods in the ordinary course of lending by such banks or other lending institutions.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-603. Licensing of sales finance companies required. (a) No person shall engage in the business of a sales finance company in this state without a license therefor as provided in this act: Provided, however, that no bank, trust company or savings and loan association authorized to do business in this state shall be required to obtain a license under this act but shall comply with all of the other provisions of this act.

(b) The application for such license shall be in writing, under oath and in the form prescribed by the superintendent. The application shall contain the name of the applicant; date of incorporation, if incorporated; the address where the business is or is to be conducted and similar information as to any branch office of the applicant; the name and resident address of the owner or partners or, if a corporation or association, of the directors, trustees and principal officers, and such other pertinent information as the superintendent may require.

(c) The license fee for each calendar year or part thereof shall be the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for each place of business of the licensee in this state.

(d) Each license shall specify the location of the office or branch and must be conspicuously displayed there. In case such location be changed, the superintendent shall endorse the change of location of the license without charge.

(e) Upon the filing of such application, and the payment of said fee, the superintendent shall issue a license to the applicant to engage in the business of a sales finance company under and in accordance with the provisions of this act for a period which shall expire the last day of December next following the date of its issuance. Such license shall not be transferable or assignable. No licensee shall transact any business provided for by this act under any other name.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-604. Denial, suspension or revocation of licenses. (a) Renewal of a license originally granted under this act may be denied, or a license may be suspended or revoked by the superintendent on the following grounds: (1) Material misstatement of fact in the application for license; (2) wilful failure to comply with any provision of this act relating to retail installment contracts; (3) defrauding any retail buyer to the buyer's damage; (4) fraudulent misrepresentation, circumvention or concealment by the licensee through whatever subterfuge or device of any of the material particulars or the nature thereof required to be stated or furnished to the retail buyer under this act.

(b) If a licensee is a partnership, association or corporation, it shall be sufficient cause for the suspension or revocation of a license that any officer, director or trustee of a licensed association or corporation, or any member of a licensed partnership, has so acted or failed to act as would be cause for suspending or revoking a license to such party as an individual. Each licensee shall be responsible for the acts of any or all of his employees while acting as his agent, if such licensee after actual knowledge of said acts retained the benefits, proceeds, profits or advantage accruing from said acts or otherwise ratified said acts.

(c) No license shall be denied, suspended or revoked except after hearing thereon. The superintendent shall give the licensee at least ten (10) days' written notice, in the form of an order to show cause, of the time and place of such hearing by registered mail addressed to the principal place of business in this state of such licensee. The said notice shall contain the grounds of complaint against the licensee. Any order suspending or revoking such license shall recite the grounds upon which the same is based. The order shall be entered upon the records of the superintendent and shall not be effective until after thirty (30) days' written notice thereof given after such entry forwarded by registered mail to the licensee at such principal place of business. No revocation, suspension or surrender of any license shall impair or affect the obligation of any lawful retail installment contract acquired previously thereto by the licensee.

(d) Any person, licensee, or applicant, considering himself aggrieved by an order of the superintendent may within thirty (30) days from the entry of the order complained of, apply for writ of review in accordance with the provisions of chapter 90 of Title 93 of the Revised Codes of Montana of 1947 [93-9001 to 93-9011].

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-605. Investigations and complaints. (a) The superintendent, or his duly authorized representatives, shall have the power to make such investigations as he shall deem necessary and, to the extent necessary for this purpose, he may examine such licensee or any other person and shall have the power to compel the production of all relevant books, records, accounts and documents.

(b) Any retail buyer having reason to believe that this act relating to his retail installment contract has been violated may file with the superintendent a written complaint setting forth the details of such alleged violation and the superintendent, upon receipt of such complaint, may inspect the pertinent books, records, letters and contracts of the licensee and of the retail seller involved, relating to such specific written complaint.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-606. Powers of superintendent. (a) The superintendent shall adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as shall be necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this act. All rules and regulations of general application shall be filed in the office of the superintendent. A copy of every such rule or regulation shall be mailed to each licensee, postage prepaid, at least fifteen (15) days in advance of its effective date: Provided, however, the failure of a licensee to receive a copy of such rules or regulations shall not exempt him from the duty of compliance with such rules and regulations lawfully promulgated hereunder.

(b) The superintendent shall have power to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, papers, books, records and other evidence before him in any matter over which he has jurisdiction, control or supervision pertaining to this act. The superintendent shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to any person whose testimony is required.

(c) If any person shall refuse to obey any such subpoena, or to give testimony, or to produce evidence as required thereby, any judge of the district court of the county in which the licensed premises are located may, upon application and proof of such refusal, make an order awarding process of subpoena or subpoena duces tecum for the witness to appear before the superintendent and to give testimony, and to produce evidence as required thereby. Upon filing such order, in the office of the clerk of the said court, the clerk shall issue process of subpoena, as directed, under the seal of said court, requiring the person to whom it is directed, to appear at the time and place therein designated.

(d) If any person served with any such subpoena shall refuse to obey the same, and to give testimony, and to produce evidence as required thereby, the superintendent may apply to the judge of the court issuing such subpoena for an attachment against such person, as for a contempt.

The judge, upon satisfactory proof of such refusal, shall issue an attachment, directed to any sheriff, constable or police officer, for the arrest of such person, and upon his being brought before such judge, proceed to a hearing of the case. The judge shall have power to enforce obedience to such subpoena, and the answering of any question, and the production of any evidence that may be proper by a fine, not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100), or by imprisonment in the county jail, or by both fine and imprisonment, and to compel such witness to pay the costs of such proceeding to be taxed.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-607. Requirements and prohibitions as to retail installment contracts. (a) Each retail installment contract shall be in writing, shall be signed by both the buyer and the seller, and shall be completed as to all essential provisions prior to the signing of the contract by the buyer. However, if a retail installment transaction is a sale of goods other than a motor vehicle where no title, lien or other security interest is retained or taken by the seller, then the retail installment contract need not be contained in a single document. In such cases, if the contract is contained in more than one document, then one such document may be an original document executed by the retail buyer applicable to purchases of goods or services to be made by the retail buyer from time to time and in such case such document, together with the sales slip, account book or other written statement relating to each purchase, shall set forth all of the information required by this section and shall constitute the retail installment contract for each such purchase.

(b) The printed portion of the contract, other than instructions for completion, shall be in at least eight (8) point type. The contract shall contain the following notice in a size equal to at least ten (10) point bold type:

1. "Notice to the buyer. Do not sign this contract before you read it or if it contains any blank spaces.

2. "You are entitled to an exact copy of the contract you sign.

3. "Under the law, you have the right to pay off in advance the full amount due and to obtain a partial refund of the finance charge."

(c) If the contract covers the sale of a motor vehicle, it shall also contain, in a size equal to at least ten (10) point bold type, a specific statement that liability insurance coverage for bodily injury and property damage caused to others is not included if that is the case.

(d) The seller shall deliver to the buyer or mail to him at his address shown in the contract, a copy of the contract signed by the seller. Until the seller does so, a buyer who has not received delivery of the goods or been furnished the services shall have the right to rescind his agreement and to receive a refund of all payments made and return of all goods traded in to the seller on account of or in contemplation of the contract, or if such goods cannot be returned, the value thereof. Any acknowledgment by the buyer of delivery of a copy of the contract shall be in a size equal to at least ten (10) point bold type and, if contained in the contract, shall appear directly above the buyer's signature.

(e) The contract shall contain the names of the seller and the buyer, the place of business of the seller, the residence or place of business of the buyer as specified by the buyer and a description of the goods sold or services furnished or to be furnished, and shall clearly state and describe any collateral security taken for the buyer's obligation.

(f) The contract shall contain the following items: (1) The cash sale price of the goods or services; (2) the amount of the buyer's down payment, and whether made in money or goods, or partly in money and partly in goods, including a brief description of the goods traded in; (3) the difference between items one and two; (4) the amount, if any, included for insurance and other benefits if a separate charge is made therefor, specifying the types of coverage and benefits; (5) the amount of official fees; (6) the principal balance which is the sum of items three, four and five; (7) the amount of the finance charge; (8) the total amount of the time balance stated as one sum in dollars and cents, which is the sum of items six and seven, payable in installments by the buyer to the seller, the number of installments, the amount of each installment and the due date or period thereof.

The above items need not be stated in the sequence or order set forth; additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the buyer.

(g) The amount, if any, included for insurance, which may be purchased by the holder of the contract, shall not exceed the applicable premiums chargeable in accordance with the rates filed with the insurance department of this state where such rates are required by law to be approved by said department. All such insurance shall be written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state and shall be countersigned by a duly licensed resident agent authorized to engage in the insurance business in this state. A buyer may be required to provide insurance on the goods at his own cost for the protection of the seller or holder, as well as the buyer, but such insurance shall be limited to insurance against substantial risk of loss, damage or destruction of the goods. Any other insurance may be included in a retail installment transaction at the buyer's expense only if contracted for voluntarily by the buyer. If such insurance for which such identified charge is made insures the life, safety or health of the buyer or his interest in the goods and is purchased by the holder, the holder shall within thirty (30) days after the execution of the retail installment contract send or cause to be sent to the buyer a policy or policies or certificate or certificates of insurance, written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state, clearly setting forth the amount of the premium, the kind or kinds of insurance, the coverages and, if a policy, all the terms, exceptions, limitations, restrictions and conditions of the contract or contracts of insurance, or, if a certificate, a summary thereof. The seller shall not decline existing insurance written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state and the buyer shall have the privilege of purchasing insurance from an agent or broker of his own selection and of selecting his insurance company: Provided, however, that the insurance company shall be acceptable to the holder, which acceptance shall not be unreasonable or arbitrarily withheld, and further, that the inclusion of the cost of the insurance premium in the retail installment contract when the buyer selects his agent, broker or company, shall be optional with the seller.

(h) If any insurance is canceled, or the premium adjusted, any refund of the insurance premium received by the holder, shall be credited to the final maturing installment of the contract except to the extent applied toward payment for a similar insurance protecting the interests of the buyer and the holder or either of them.

(i) A buyer may transfer his equity in the goods at any time to another person upon agreement by the holder, but in such event the holder of the contract shall be entitled to a transfer of equity fee which shall not exceed fifteen dollars ($15.00).

(j) The holder may collect a delinquency charge on each installment in default for a period not less than ten (10) days in an amount not in excess of five per cent (5%) of each installment or five dollars ($5.00), whichever is less or, in lieu thereof, interest after maturity on each such installment not exceeding the highest lawful contract rate. In addition to such delinquency charge, the contract may provide for the payment of attorneys' fees not exceeding fifteen per cent (15%) of the amount due and payable under such contract where such contract is referred for collection to an attorney not a salaried employee of the holder of the contract and for court costs and actual and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with such delinquency.

(k) No retail installment contract shall be signed by any party thereto when it contains blank spaces to be filled in after it has been signed except that, if delivery of the goods is not made at the time of the execution of the contract, the identifying numbers or marks of the goods or similar information and the due date of the first installment may be inserted in the contract after its execution. The buyer's written acknowledgment, conforming to the requirements of section 7(d) [subsec. (d)] of this section, of delivery of a copy of a contract shall be conclusive proof of such delivery, that the contract when signed, did not contain any blank spaces except as herein provided, and of compliance with this section 7 [this section] in any action or proceeding by or against a holder of the contract without knowledge to the contrary when he purchases the contract.

(l) Upon written request from the buyer, the holder of a retail installment contract shall give or forward to the buyer a written statement of the dates and amounts of payments and the total amount unpaid under such contract. A buyer shall be given a written receipt for any payment when made in cash.

(m) After payment of all sums for which the buyer is obligated under a contract, and upon written demand made by the buyer, the holder shall deliver or mail to the buyer, at his last known address, one or more good and sufficient instruments to acknowledge payment in full and shall release all security in the goods or in any collateral security.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-608. Finance charge limitation. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, the finance charge included in a retail installment transaction shall not exceed the following schedule:

(1) As to motor vehicles:

Class 1. Any new motor vehicle designated by the manufacturer by a year model not earlier than the year in which the sale is made—seven dollars ($7) per one hundred dollars ($100) per year.

Class 2. Any new motor vehicle not in class 1 and any used motor vehicle designated by the manufacturer by a year model of the same or not more than two (2) years prior to the year in which the sale is made—nine dollars ($9) per one hundred dollars ($100) per year.

Class 3. Any used motor vehicle not in class 2 and designated by the manufacturer by a year model more than two (2) years prior to the year in which the sale is made—eleven dollars ($11) per one hundred dollars ($100) per year.

(2) As to services and goods other than motor vehicles: (i) On so much of the principal balance as does not exceed three hundred dollars ($300), eleven dollars ($11), per one hundred dollars ($100) per year; (ii) if the principal balance exceeds three hundred dollars ($300), but is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000), nine dollars ($9) per one hundred dollars ($100) per year on that portion over three hundred dollars ($300); (iii) if the principal balance exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000), seven dollars ($7) per one hundred dollars ($100) per year on that portion over one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(b) Such finance charge shall be computed on the principal balance as determined under section 7(f) [74-607(f)] of this act on contracts payable in successive monthly payments substantially equal in amount from the date of the contract until the maturity of the final installment, notwithstanding that the total time balance thereof is required to be paid in installments. A minimum finance charge of twenty dollars ($20) may be charged on any retail installment transaction.

(c) When a retail installment contract provides for payment, other than in equal successive monthly installments, the finance charge may be at a rate which will provide the same yield as is permitted on monthly payment contracts under subsections (a) and (b) hereof, having due regard for the schedule of payments in the contract.

(d) Any sales finance company may purchase or acquire or agree to purchase or acquire from any seller any contract on such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between them. Filing of the assignment, notice to the buyer of the assignment, and any requirement that the holder maintain dominion over the payments or the goods if repossessed shall not be necessary to the validity of a written assignment of a contract as against creditors, subsequent purchasers, pledgees, mortgagees and lien claimants of the seller. Unless the buyer has notice of the assignment of his contract, payment thereunder made by the buyer to the last known holder of such contract shall be binding upon all subsequent holders.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-609. Refunds on prepayment. Notwithstanding the provisions of any retail installment contract to the contrary, any buyer may prepay in full, at any time before maturity, the debt of any retail installment contract and in so paying such debt shall receive a refund credit thereon for such anticipation of payments. The amount of such refund shall represent at least as great a proportion of the finance charge as the sum of the monthly time balances beginning one (1) month after prepayment is made, bears to the sum of all the monthly time balances under the schedule of payment in the contract. Where the amount of credit is less than one dollar ($1.00) no refund need be made.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-610. Refinancing retail installment contract. The holder of a contract, upon request by the buyer, may extend the scheduled due date of all or any part of any installment or installments, or defer payment or payments, or renew or restate the unpaid time balance of such contract, the amount of the installments and the time schedule therefor and may collect for such extension, deferment, renewal or restatement a refinance charge computed as follows: The holder may compute the refinance charge on the unpaid time balance to be extended, deferred, renewed or restated by adding to such unpaid time balance the cost for any insurance and other benefits incidental to the refinancing plus any accrued delinquency and collection charges, after deducting any refund which may be due the buyer as for a prepayment pursuant to section 9 [74-609] of this act, at the rate of the finance charge specified in section 8(a) [74-608(a)] of this act and by reclassifying in the case of motor vehicles by its then year model, for the term of the refinancing agreement, but otherwise subject to the provisions of this act governing computation of the original finance charge. The provisions of this act relating to minimum finance charges under section 8(b) [74-608(b)] and an acquisition cost under section 9 [74-609] shall not apply in calculating refinance charges on the contract extended, deferred, renewed or restated. If all unpaid installments are deferred for not more than two (2) months, the holder may at his election charge and collect for such deferment an amount equal to the difference between (a) the refund required for prepayment in full under section 9 [74-609] as of the scheduled due date of the first deferred installment, and (b) the refund required for prepayment in full as of one (1) month prior to said date, times the number of months in which no scheduled payment is made.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-611. Penalties. (a) Any person who shall knowingly violate any provision of this act or engage in the business of a sales finance company in this state without a license therefor as provided in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both.

(b) Any person violating sections 7, 8, 9 or 10 [74-607 to 74-610] of this act, except as the result of an accidental and bona fide error of computation, shall be barred from recovery of any finance charge, delinquency or collection charge on the contract.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

74-612. Waiver. Any waiver of the provisions of this act shall be unenforceable and void.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 282, L. 1959.

Separability Clause

Section 13 of Ch. 282, Laws 1959 read "Severability and constitutionality. If any provisions of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held unconstitutional, the remainder of the act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby, and it shall be conclusively presumed that the legislature would have enacted the remainder of this act without such invalid or unconstitutional provision."

(970) Abandonment of school districts. (1) He shall attach to contiguous districts territory not a part of any district except as hereinafter provided, and he must declare a school district abandoned when a school has not been operated in the district during a period of three (3) consecutive years. The county superintendent in determining the question of abandoning any school district under this act must include any period of time that may have elapsed before the approval of this act, except that the period of abandonment for these districts which have during the school years 1958-1959 provided transportation or in lieu of transportation, payments, shall not commence until July 1, 1959; provided, however, that the county superintendent of schools shall notify each school district which has not operated a school for two (2) years, that the non-operation of a school for another year will bring about abandonment: Failure of the county superintendent to give such notification does not, however, protect the district from abandonment.

(2) The abandoned territory shall be attached to a contiguous district or districts. Whenever there are five (5) or more children in abandoned territory eligible for attendance in an elementary school as determined by the county superintendent and residing more than three (3) miles from an established school in the district to which the abandoned territory is attached, the school trustees shall provide a school in such abandoned territory when requested so to do by the parents of at least three (3) of such children. (3) All funds of an abandoned district, after all the debts of the district have been paid, shall be placed in the general fund of the district or districts to which its territory is attached on order of the county superintendent. If the territory of an abandoned district is divided and a part attached to two (2) or more districts, the funds of the abandoned district, after all its debts have been paid, shall be apportioned by the county superintendent between the districts to which such territory is attached in proportion to the assessed value of the property attached to each thereof. The school buildings, if any, in the abandoned territory, shall not be disposed of or removed unless approval for disposal or removal is given by a majority vote of the residents of the abandoned district present at a meeting in such school buildings, such meeting to be duly called by the board of trustees of the consolidated district. The county superintendent shall have power to declare a school district abandoned when there is an insufficient number of residents of said district who could qualify or when the available residents refuse to qualify in sufficient number as trustees and clerk for said district so that no legal board can be formed or a quorum obtained so that meetings of a board of trustees of such district can be held. Whenever a school district is ordered abandoned upon order of the county superintendent of schools in such case, then he shall attach said school district to a contiguous district or districts as herein provided.

75-1630. (1013) Transfer of funds. Children may attend public elementary schools in districts in the county outside of the district in which they reside, or in a district in an adjoining county, or in a district in a county in another state when the district in such other state adjoins the district in which they reside, or is situated in a county in such other state, which county adjoins the state of Montana, when written permission is secured from the board of trustees of the district in which they are to attend school and when written permission has been given by the county superintendent of schools of the county in which the children reside. Permission must be granted for such attendance in another district within or without the county of such children's residence when the following conditions exist:

1. When a child lives less than three (3) miles from a public elementary school in another district or county and three (3) or more miles from a public elementary school in the district or county of his own residence.
2. When a child resides more than three (3) miles distance from a public elementary school within his own district or county and no transportation is furnished by the home district or county to such school.
3. When regular bus transportation is furnished by a public elementary school in another district or county and his own district or county does not furnish transportation.

Such distances mentioned above shall be measured from the point where the private family dwelling house is situated to the school house by the shortest traveled route.

4. When a family has children who must attend high school outside of its own district or county and such family also has elementary school children who can more conveniently attend the elementary grades in the same district where the high school is located, provided such elementary children live more than three (3) miles from the home school or that a parent must move to town to provide high school education for his children.

5. When the county superintendent of schools of the county where the child resides, for any other reason than stated above shall approve the attendance of any child in a public elementary school in another county. In approving such attendance in another district or county, the county superintendent shall take in consideration such items as distance to school, road conditions, trading center of parents, opportunity to live with relatives, dormitory facilities, living conditions, transportation and type of educational program.

When approval of attendance in another district within or without the county has been granted, the district in which such child resides shall pay to the school district where such child attends, an amount based on the following tuition rates: in the case of attendance at an elementary school with an average number belonging up to one hundred (100), the tuition to be paid shall be two hundred twenty-five dollars ($225.00); where the school attended has an average number belonging between one hundred one (101) and three hundred (300), the tuition shall be two hundred dollars ($200.00); and where the school attended has an average number belonging over three hundred (300), the tuition rate shall be one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175.00) per pupil.

It is hereby made the duty of the board of school budget supervisors in approving the budgets, to include therein an item to care for the above tuition, if this has not already been done by the board of trustees in preparing the budget for the district.

Applications for permission to attend a school outside the district or county shall be made to the county superintendent before July 1, previous to the year of attendance, excepting in those cases where circumstances prevent such application. These applications are to be approved or disapproved, except as otherwise provided by law, by the county superintendent, and by the trustees of the district the pupil wishes to attend.

At the close of the school term of the year in which such pupil attends this school outside the district, the clerk of such district shall transmit to the county superintendent the names of pupils from other districts attending his school, together with the number of days attended. This information in turn shall be transmitted by the county superintendent to the districts affected and such district shall reimburse the school attended for all pupils of its district; provided such pupil has attended at least forty (40) days. This amount of reimbursement shall be made an item of the budget for the coming year and reimbursement shall be made to the district of attendance out of the first funds available to the budget; provided, however, that the trustees of the district receiving pupils from another district may waive any or all tuition; provided, further, that the amount of this tuition shall not reduce the foundation program of the school paying it, but shall be an additional item added to it to be raised without a vote of the people; and provided further, that the district receiving the tuition may apply it against the needs of the budget after the regular district, county and state aid have been received.

In the case of a district which does not operate a school, the amount of this tuition can be raised without a vote of the people if the five (5) mill district levy and other local revenue is insufficient to raise the amount needed.

It shall be the responsibility of the superintendent of schools and the board of trustees of the public elementary school receiving the pupils and county superintendent of schools of the county of the pupils' residence to determine and agree upon eligibility of pupils transferring under the provisions of this act; provided, that an appeal may be taken to the state superintendent of public instruction.

Whenever elementary pupils residing in Montana are approved for attendance in an elementary school in an adjoining state; and whenever elementary pupils in an adjoining state are approved for attendance in an elementary school in Montana, the above schedule of tuition payments may be waived and payments arrived at on a reciprocal basis with the state involved. The state superintendent of public instruction is hereby authorized to negotiate with the state superintendent of public instruction of each state involved in arriving at tuition payments, which may either be on a per pupil basis of a flat amount or on an actual cost basis.

CHAPTER 18—SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Section 75-1805. Creation of new districts out of other districts—change of boundaries.

75-1831. Examination of school district books—accounting methods to be prescribed—reports.

75-1805. (1024) Creation of new districts out of other districts—change of boundaries. (1) A new school district may be created out of portions of one (1) or more existing school districts where the taxable valuation (the percentage valuation upon which levies are made and taxes computed) of property remaining in each district from which territory is taken is not reduced below seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) and where the number of census children between the ages of six (6) and sixteen (16) years is not reduced below fifteen (15). For the purpose of organizing a new school district out of one (1) or more existing districts, a petition in writing shall be made to the county superintendent of schools, signed by parents or guardians of at least ten (10) census children between the ages of six (6) and sixteen (16) years, residing within the boundaries of the proposed new district, and residing at a greater distance than three (3) miles from any schoolhouse owned by any one of such school districts in which a school is maintained. The petition shall describe the boundaries of the proposed new district and give the names of all children of school age residing therein at the date of the presenting of said petition. The petition shall also show the taxable valuation (the percentage valuation upon which levies are made and taxes computed) of the property within the proposed new district which must not be less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) as shown by the last completed assessment roll. Provided, however, that said provision as to the minimum remaining taxable valuation of each district from which territory is taken shall not apply in a case where such district has at least fifty thousand (50,000) acres of nontaxable Indian land remaining within its borders and provided, further, that said provision as to the minimum taxable valuation of such proposed new district shall not apply where such proposed district contains at least fifty thousand (50,000) acres of nontaxable Indian land.

(2) The county superintendent shall within five (5) days from the receipt of such petition give notice of the hearing of said petition by posting or causing to be posted, a notice thereof at least ten (10) days prior to the time appointed by him for consideration of said petition, in at least three (3) of the most public places in the proposed new district and one (1) on each schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change, or if there be no schoolhouse, then in one (1) of the most public places in each of said old districts; and shall on the day fixed in the notice proceed to hear said petition at the place designated in said notice, which must be either at the courthouse of the county or else at the schoolhouse in one of the school districts affected, unless a protest in writing signed by at least a majority of the school electors residing within such proposed school district shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools before or at the time fixed in the notice for the hearing of said petition, in which event the proposed school district shall not be created. If no such protest be filed, then the county superintendent, upon hearing the petition, shall within ten (10) days from the date of such hearing, make an order establishing the new district and describing the boundaries thereof, or make an order denying such petition.

(3) An appeal may be taken to the board of county commissioners of the county, from either order made as aforesaid by three (3) resident taxpayers of either the old or the new district who are dissatisfied with said order. Such appeal shall be taken within thirty (30) days of the date of such order and upon the hearing of said matter by the board of county commissioners, a decision shall be rendered which shall be final. The appeals mentioned in this section shall be in writing, subscribed by the parties taking the appeal and shall recite sufficient facts to show their rights to appeal hereunder, and that it is an appeal from the decision rendered, and such an appeal shall be filed with the county superintendent within thirty (30) days from the date of the order establishing such new district or denying such petition. The county superintendent shall, within twenty (20) days from the filing of such notice of appeal transmit to the board of county commissioners, and file in the office of the county clerk, the notice of appeal and all petitions, plats, and papers in his possession pertaining to the petition for the creation of such new school district.

(4) The county clerk shall forthwith, upon receipt of such notice of appeal and other papers, give notice to all parties interested, by causing to be posted at least ten (10) days prior to the date of the next regular meeting of the board of county commissioners, in at least three (3) of the most public places in the proposed new district, and one (1) on each schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change, or if there be no schoolhouse, then in one (1) of the most public places in each of said old districts, notices to the effect that the board of county commissioners will, at its office in the courthouse, upon a certain date, specifying the same in such notices, which date shall be during the next regular session of the board, finally hear and determine said appeal and said petition for the creation of such new district. The boundaries of any district can be changed in the following manner, to wit:

(5) A majority of the resident taxpayers who are registered electors and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state, county and school district taxes, residing in territory which is a part of any organized school district may present a petition in writing to the county superintendent of schools, asking that such territory be transferred to, or included in, any other organized district to which said territory is contiguous, provided, however, that no territory within three (3) miles of an established school in such district shall be so transferred and provided further that the taxable valuation (the percentage valuation upon which levies are made and taxes computed) of property in the district from which territory is taken shall not be reduced to less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00); provided, however, that this latter provision shall not apply in cases where the remaining taxable valuation of the district from which the territory is taken contains at least fifty thousand (50,000) acres of nontaxable Indian land.

(6) The petition shall describe the territory which it is proposed to transfer or include, and shall also state the reason for desiring such change, and the number of children of school age, if any, residing in the territory to be transferred or included.

(7) The county superintendent shall file said petition in his office immediately on receipt thereof, and shall give notice to the parties interested by posting notices at least ten (10) days prior to the time appointed for considering said petition, one (1) of which shall be in a public place in the territory which is proposed to be transferred or included, and one (1) on the door of each schoolhouse in each district affected by the change, or if there be no schoolhouse in such district, then in some public place in such district or districts, and at the time stated in said notice for the consideration of such petition, which shall not be less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days after the date of filing such petition, he shall proceed to hear such petition, and if he deem it advisable and for the best interest of the territory proposed to be transferred or included, he shall grant such petition and make an order fixing the boundaries of the district so changed, which order shall be final, unless an appeal be taken to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein such districts are located within thirty (30) days thereafter, and upon hearing thereof the decision of said board shall be final.

(8) All the papers, documents, and records in the case shall be certified by the county superintendent to the county commissioners for their determination of the matter on appeal; provided, that lands lying contiguous to a district and not attached to any district shall be attached to an adjacent district by the county superintendent of his own motion, and provided further, that all districts shall consist of contiguous territory.

Section 75-2401. Re-election of teachers—when automatic—acceptance.

75-2401. (1075) Re-election of teachers—when automatic—acceptance. After the election of any teacher or principal for the fourth consecutive year in any school district in the state, such teacher or principal so elected shall be deemed re-elected from year to year thereafter at the same salary unless the board of trustees shall by majority vote of its members on or before the first day of April give notice in writing to said teacher or principal that he has been re-elected or that his services will not be required for the ensuing year, but in this written notice, the board of trustees, if requested by the teacher or principal, must declare clearly and explicitly the specific reason or reasons for the failure of re-employment of such teacher. The teacher or principal, if he so desires, shall be granted a hearing and reconsideration of such dismissal, before the board of trustees of that school district. The request for a hearing and reconsideration must be made in writing and submitted to the board of school trustees within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of dismissal. The board of trustees must hold a hearing and reconsider its action within ten (10) days after receipt of such request for a hearing and reconsideration. Provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the re-election of such teacher or principal by such board at an earlier date, and also provided that in case of re-election of such teacher or principal, he shall notify the board of trustees in writing within twenty (20) days after the notice of such re-election of his acceptance of the position tendered him for another year and failure to so notify the board of trustees shall be regarded as conclusive evidence of his nonacceptance of the position.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment raised the number of years after which re-election is deemed automatic from three to four.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 26, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 26, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 20, 1957.

Tenure

A teacher's tenure is a substantial, valuable and beneficial right, which cannot be taken away except for good cause. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209, 214.

The number of hours a teacher may teach in a day is not a factor in determining her right to tenure. State ex rel.

Writ of prohibition does not lie against the county superintendent of schools to prevent her from acting in an appeal taken to her by a teacher who had been denied re-employment by the school board since by this section appeals from such dismissals go to the county superintendent of schools. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209.

Rules

The rules, a violation of which gives the school board the right and power to discharge are the rules referred to in the teacher's contract, viz. "rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of the district, which are made a part hereof by reference." Hence a teacher could not be discharged for violations of rules of the superintendent of the high school, which rules were not part of the "rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees of the District, which are made a part" of the teacher's contract. Hovland v. School District No. 52, 128 M 507, 278 P 2d 211, 212.

75-3407. (h) In isolated cases where due to isolation pupils must live away from home to attend school or due to excessive distances, impassable roads or special circumstances where parents cannot transport their children payments in accordance with the above schedule are inadequate and adherence to such schedule would subject the parents or guardians of a school child or the child himself to financial or physical hardship the schedule may be altered by the county transportation committee subject to written approval by the state superintendent of public instruction; provided, that, in no case shall the altered schedule allow more than thirty dollars ($30.00) per month for one child, twelve dollars ($12.00) per month for the second child, and six dollars ($6.00) per month for each child in addition to two (2) from the same family. A degree of isolation chart shall be provided school district trustees by the state superintendent of public instruction to serve as a guide in requesting increased transportation due to isolation.

The applicant for such alteration of the schedule shall submit a written statement in duplicate to the board of trustees of the district which is obligated to make payment for transportation or services in lieu thereof, and to the county transportation committee through the county superintendent, stating the special facts and circumstances upon which he relies to justify the alteration. The county transportation committee shall act on the application regardless of the approval or disapproval by the board of trustees of the district wherein such application was initiated.

If such application be approved by the county transportation committee and alterations of the schedule will result in increased payments to be made by the state to the district, the application and pertinent data and the decision of the county transportation committee shall be submitted to the state superintendent of public instruction for final approval or disapproval.

75-3412. Transportation matters in controversy—settlement—county transportation committees. All transportation matters in controversy shall be settled by the county transportation committee hereinafter defined. Provided, that, if the applicant for transportation feels that he has not met with justice in the decision of the county transportation committee, he may appeal to the state superintendent of public instruction, in which case the county superintendent shall send to the state superintendent of public instruction all data and evidence connected with the case.

(a) To facilitate and administer the policies relating to the transportation of school pupils, there are hereby created county transportation committees. Such committees shall be organized in each county and shall consist of the county superintendent of schools, the chairman of the board of county commissioners, or such other member of the board as he may designate, one representative chosen by each high school board of trustees, who shall be a member of the board, or the high school superintendent, and a trustee from the elementary districts in each high school district who shall be selected at a joint meeting of the elementary district boards within the high school district. In counties which do not have high school districts, the elementary district representatives shall be selected at a county-wide meeting of the boards of trustees of the elementary districts of the county in a number equal to those of the high school boards, excepting that in no case shall an elementary district member of the transportation committee be a member of a school board which is both a high school board and an elementary district board. Provided, however, that the county transportation committee shall have not less than five members and that where there is only one high school board in the county that both the high school board and the elementary districts may select two representatives. The county superintendent of schools shall be chairman of this committee and a quorum shall consist of two-thirds (2/3) of the membership. It shall be the duty of the county transportation committee to approve bus routes and applications for increased transportation payments, and to act in all controversies resulting from transportation matters.

Any school district which objects to the particular bus route or transportation area to which it has been assigned may upon vote of its board of trustees signifying such objection, be assigned to an adjoining district or transportation area which maintains a public high school, provided that the board of trustees of the latter school is willing to have such district assigned to its area. In case of a continued disagreement, on the initiative of a petition signed by twenty per cent (20%) of the qualified electors of any district indicating dissatisfaction with the area to which it has been assigned the board of trustees shall place the matter of which area to belong to at the trustee election in April; provided, however, that if such pupils are not transported to the nearest high school, the state reimbursement shall be limited to the amount which would be paid if they were transported to the nearest high school, unless such attendance has been approved by the county transportation committee and the state department of public instruction. The state board of education through the state superintendent of public instruction shall formulate such rules and regulations as may be necessary for establishing high school transportation areas for determining residence of pupils, and for carrying out the purposes of this act; provided, however, that such regulations shall not prevent or deny to any parent the right to transport or arrange for transportation of his children at his own expense to the high school of any district willing to accept them. Any patron of a school district or portion of a school district dissatisfied with transportation matters in his county shall have the right of appeal to the county transportation committee and to the state superintendent of public instruction.

75-3618. Distribution of money available to districts—formula for apportionment of county funds. After the deduction of transportation reimbursements provided by law, the proceeds of the county ten (10) mill common school levy and the proceeds of the county ten (10) mill special tax for high schools, shall each be separately distributed by the county superintendent to the respective districts in the county, and the county high school if there be one, in proportion to their needs under the foundation financial program. In all cases in which the proceeds of such county levy and the five (5) mill tax for elementary schools provided for in section 10 [75-1723] hereof, when added to all other funds available to the respective districts from the permanent school fund, payments by the federal government for Indian tuition, and all payments by it or any of its agencies in lieu of taxes, and other funds which must be used in support of the foundation financial program are insufficient to finance the foundation financial program, the proceeds of the county common school levy and the proceeds of the county special tax for high schools shall each be separately distributed in accordance with the following procedure; provided, however, that cash balances to the credit of the district at the end of the school year, after authorized reserves have been subtracted as well as outstanding warrants, shall be used by the district to reduce the levies on the district for the general fund after the uniform district levy and county and state equalization aid have been received:

1. Determine the ratio that the total funds available to all districts in the county in support of the foundation program (including proceeds of the county levy) bears to the total costs of the foundation program for all such districts.

2. Determine the ratio that the total funds available to each district in support of the foundation program (excluding all proceeds of the county levy) bears to the cost of the foundation program of each such district.

3. Districts in which the ratio as determined in (2) above exceeds the ratio in (1) above shall not be entitled to distribution of county funds but shall be excluded from further consideration under this section.

4. After elimination of districts referred to in (3) above, determine the ratio that the total funds available to all remaining districts in the county in support of the foundation program (including proceeds of the county levy) bears to the total cost of the foundation program of all such remaining districts. Each remaining district shall then be entitled to distribution of funds from the county levy, which, when added to all other funds available to such district in support of the foundation program shall be sufficient to finance such proportionate part of its foundation program.

For the purpose of determining levies in a joint school district maintaining a high school, the total cost of the general fund and other budgets of such joint districts shall be divided in the ratio which the number of pupils in the joint district residing in the county bears to the total ANB of the joint district. Such resulting high school budgets shall be considered as separate budgets for high school purposes of the respective counties involved, receiving a part of the ten (10) mill levy, state equalization aid and additional moneys on either the high school district or the part of the joint school district involved as any other high school of the county.

For elementary budgets in a joint school district the total cost of the foundation program for such joint school district shall be divided in the ratio which the number of pupils in the joint district residing in the county bears to the total ANB of the joint district. Each part of such budget so divided shall be treated as a separate budget for such part of the joint district and one of the school districts of the county for the purpose of apportioning proceeds of the county levy. The resulting amount shall be used as the foundation financial program requirement of the joint district for the apportionment of the county levy. The balance of the budget over the foundation program, plus any deficiency in the state equalization payment on the foundation program, shall be an obligation of all parts of the joint school district and the levy for this amount shall be determined by dividing the amount required by the total taxable valuation of the entire joint school district.

5. No district school shall be deprived of its needful share of either county levy by reason of it being nonaccredited.

Amendments

The 1959 amendment by Ch. 64, in the second paragraph, substituted the words

"precinct registers" for the words "poll books" each time they appear.

75-4103. (1262.3) Board of trustees of county high schools. Every county high school shall be under the general supervision and control of a board of trustees consisting of seven members, one of whom shall be the county superintendent of schools of the county wherein such county high school is located, and six of whom shall be appointed by the board of county commissioners of the said county. Provided, however, whenever the county commissioners receive a petition signed by fifteen per cent of the qualified electors in the county high school district requesting the election, the county commissioners of the county shall within not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days thereafter, submit to the electors in the county high school district the following question:

Shall the board of trustees of the county high school district be elected?

If a majority of all of the votes cast be in favor of electing a board of trustees, then the provisions of sections 75-4104 and 75-4105 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, shall no longer be applicable, but the following sections shall apply:

Four of the trustees to be elected shall come from the elementary school district in which the county high school is located, and the county commissioners and the county superintendent of schools shall immediately district the remaining portion of the county high school district into three trustee districts, and each district shall be entitled to one member on the county high school board.

The election of seven school trustees of the county high school shall be held on the first Saturday in April of every year to fill the expired terms of trustees, and the term of office of trustees after the first election of the county high school board shall be for three years. However, at the first election, four of the trustees elected shall be residents of the elementary school district where the high school is situated and three of the trustees elected shall be residents of the respective trustee districts set up by the board of county commissioners and the county superintendent of schools.

At the first election the four trustees elected from the elementary school district where the high school is located shall cast lots to determine which two shall hold office for one year, which one for two years and which one for three years. The three trustees elected from the trustee districts set up by the board of county commissioners and the county superintendent of schools shall cast lots to determine which one shall hold office for one year, which one for two years and which one for three years.

The procedures for calling and holding elections, and for the assumption of office, for first class school districts, set forth in R. C. M. 1947, section 75-1607 through 75-1613, shall govern the elections provided for in this act, the words "clerk of the district and county superintendent of schools" being synonymous with "the county clerk and recorder" when the former is used in the sections referred to, and the words "board of trustees" being synonymous with the words "county commissioners," if a majority of all the votes cast be in favor of electing a board of trustees of the county high school. Upon the election and qualification for office as hereinbefore set forth of all seven of the elected trustees, the county superintendent of schools shall no longer be a member of the board of trustees.

Any twenty-five electors qualified to vote in the election, shall file with the county clerk and recorder of the county, the nominations of as many persons as are to be elected to the county high school board at the elections herein provided for, at least twenty days preceding the election. The county clerk and recorder shall cause the names to be printed on a ballot not inconsistent with the provisions of the law relating to the election of other candidates.

Every citizen of the United States of the age of twenty-one years or over who has resided in the state of Montana for one year, and thirty days in the elementary school district or the trustee district as designated above, next preceding the election, shall be eligible for the office of school trustee and entitled to vote thereat.

Absence from the school district or trustee district for sixty consecutive days, or failure to attend three consecutive meetings of the board of trustees without good cause, shall constitute a vacancy in the office of trustee. When a vacancy occurs in the county high school board from any cause whatever, the fact shall be immediately certified by the secretary of the high school board to the board of trustees of the high school who shall immediately appoint, in writing, a qualified person, resident of the school or trustee district where the vacancy occurs and who shall serve until the next election as stated herein. At the next election, a new trustee shall be elected to fill the unexpired portion of the vacated term, from the district in which the vacancy occurs.

75-4230. (1262.81) Attendance outside of county of pupil's residence—transfer of apportionment. The attendance of any eligible high school pupil at an accredited high school outside of the county of his residence, either within or without the state, must be authorized by the county superintendent of schools of the county of his residence when a pupil lives closer to a high school of an adjoining county than to any high school located in the county of his residence, or when due to road or geographical conditions it is impractical to attend the high school of his own district, and when proper application has been made to the county superintendent of schools by the parent or guardian of the pupil for whom such transfer is desired; provided, that the county superintendent of schools may at his discretion require a pupil obtaining such transfer to attend the high school nearest his residence.

In all other cases the county superintendent of schools may authorize at his discretion any eligible pupil to attend a high school in a county outside of his residence.

No payment shall be made for attendance in another state except where such attendance is in a high school in a county adjacent to the county of the student's residence.

Application for permission to attend a high school outside the county of residence shall be made to the county superintendent of the county of the pupils' residence before July 1, previous to the year of attendance, except in those cases where circumstances make this impossible. The county superintendent must then approve or disapprove these applications and notify the individuals concerned, and the high school to be attended, and the county superintendent of the county where the pupil will attend school. At the end of the school year attended and before July 15, the clerk of the school district operating the high school attended shall send to his county superintendent the name of all pupils from outside of the county attending his school, together with such pupils' home addresses and the number of days such pupils actually attended his high school, who in turn will transmit this information to the county superintendent of the pupils' residence.

Tuition for the year attended is hereby made an obligation of the county of residence for the following year. Before August 1 each year, the county superintendent of the county of residence of the pupils concerned shall make out a high school transfer budget. The total of such transfer budget shall be determined by multiplying the number of pupils attending high school outside of his county by two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) in the case of attendance at a high school with an average number belonging up to one hundred (100) pupils; two hundred twenty-five dollars ($225.00) in case of attendance at a high school with an average number belonging from one hundred one (101) to four hundred (400); and two hundred dollars ($200.00) in case of attendance at a high school with an average number belonging over four hundred (400); provided further, that the pupil has attended at least forty (40) days.

The total of the transfer budget shall be subtracted from the receipts from the county ten (10) mill levy for high schools before the remainder of such receipts is distributed to the high schools of the county. Such total of the transfer budget shall be held in a transfer fund separate and apart from other school funds and shall be allocated by the county treasurer upon instructions from the county superintendent.

In December of each year the county superintendent of the county of the pupil's residence shall notify his county treasurer of the amount to be transferred to each high school educating the pupil concerned, and the said county treasurer shall forthwith remit said amounts to the county treasurer of the county in which such high schools are located. The county treasurer receiving such transfers of money shall place the amount to the credit of the general fund of the high school concerned. Receipts by any high school for tuition are to be used against the needs of the budget after county and state aid have been received.

Whenever pupils are inmates of the Montana state orphans' home at Twin Bridges and attend the public high school in Twin Bridges, the latter school shall be reimbursed from the state public school equalization fund at the rate of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) for each such pupil; provided, however, that this amount of tuition is not considered as a part of state equalization aid. Application for this tuition from the state is to be made in the same manner and at the same time as for regular state equalization aid.

Whenever pupils residing in Montana are approved for attendance in a high school in an adjoining state, and whenever pupils in an adjoining state are approved for attendance in a high school in Montana, the above schedule of tuition payments may be waived, and payments arrived at on the reciprocal basis with the state involved. The state superintendent of public instruction is hereby authorized to negotiate with the state superintendent of public instruction of each state involved in arriving at tuition payments, which may either be on a per pupil basis of a flat amount or on an actual cost basis.

(b) But the board shall exercise no power whatsoever conferred upon it by this subdivision 2 whereby obligations are assumed or an indebtedness created in excess of the funds on hand, belonging to the high school, and not otherwise appropriated, or available to the board from the collection of taxes actually levied for the current year, or from the sale of bonds already authorized; and the power of the board to purchase, or otherwise acquire, or to sell, or dispose of, a site or sites for a high school, high school dormitories, high school gymnasiums, or other high school buildings, or for any proper high school purpose, or to build, purchase, or otherwise acquire, a high school building, high school dormitories, high school gymnasiums, or other buildings necessary for the high school or to sell, move or dispose of the same, shall be exercised only at the direction of a majority of the qualified electors of the county in the case of a county high school, or of the district in the case of a district high school, voting at an election to be called by the board, and otherwise noticed, conducted, canvassed and returned in the same manner as the annual election of school trustees in school districts of the first class.

(d) If at the hearing on such resolution protests against the adoption of the same shall be made and the board of trustees shall adopt the same over such protests, the resolution shall not become effective for fifteen

75-4602. Commission may divide county into high school districts.

75-4609. Special tax levy—election.

75-4601. High school trustees may undertake public works program—additional trustees—division of taxable valuation—commencement of proceedings. In any county having a high school the board of trustees of the county high school, if there be one, and the boards of trustees of any school districts maintaining district high schools, are hereby designated as the boards of trustees of the respective high school districts established under this act, provided that additional members may be elected to the board of trustees of districts maintaining district high schools in the number and manner as follows: When a majority of the boards of the common school districts in the high school district so request. Such requests shall be directed to the county superintendent of schools, who shall proceed as directed in this act.

The taxable valuation of the district in which the high school is located shall be divided by the number of trustees on the high school board. In the case of a first class district this number shall be seven (7), for a second class district five (5), and for a third class district three (3). This figure obtained shall then be divided into the remaining valuation of the high school district, and the resulting number, to the closest whole number, shall be the number of additional board members to be elected; provided, that the number of these additional board members shall not exceed four (4) in districts of the first and second class or two (2) in districts of the third class.

(a) The additional members elected to the board of trustees of dis-

The members so elected shall hold office for a term of three (3) years and such meetings and elections shall be held every third year after the first meeting. The state superintendent of public instruction shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the conduct of said meeting and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools to give written notice of the meetings by registered mail to each trustee not less than seven (7) days before such meeting. The additional trustees elected shall be elected from the trustees of the common school districts included within the high school district with the exception of the membership of the board of trustees of the school districts maintaining high schools.

(b) The additional members elected to the board of trustees of districts maintaining high schools, shall take office immediately after qualifying and shall participate on an equal basis with other members in all business transacted by the board of trustees pertaining to the high school maintained by said districts. Said additional elected members shall be entitled to vote on the selection of the district superintendent of schools.

To effectuate the purpose of this act, the board of trustees of any high school district, as herein provided for, is hereby authorized to undertake a program of public works in the construction, improvement or repair of buildings, furnishing and equipping the same and purchasing the necessary land therefor, for the use of any or all high schools in such high school district, and to accept funds from the United States, its instrumentalities or any of its agencies in aid of any one or more of such purposes. Such proceedings may be commenced by resolution upon the part of such board of trustees of such high school district of its own motion and without any petition being filed therefor, such proceedings may also be commenced on petition of thirty per cent (30%) of the qualified electors of the high school district. Upon presentation of this petition to the high school district board of trustees, the latter shall, within sixty (60) days take steps to present the matter asked for in the petition to a vote of the people of the high school district.

75-4602. Commission may divide county into high school districts. In all counties having a high school, or high schools, a commission consisting of the county commissioners and the county superintendent of schools shall at the request of any high school board of trustees in the county, divide the entire county into and establish one (1) or more high school districts for the purpose of this act, after hearing; provided, that each high school district so formed must have one (1) or more operating, accredited high schools within its boundaries; provided, further, that both parts of a joint district maintaining a high school may be considered as maintaining an operating high school, and as such each part of the joint district may, together with one (1) or more adjacent common school districts whose pupils attend the high school in the joint district, be set aside as a high school district. Provided, that, such resulting high school district in the county where the joint district high school is not located, shall be responsible for its share of the joint district high school budgets as is arrived at by following the procedure outlined in section 17, chapter 199, Laws of 1949 [75-3618], and shall also be considered as a single high school district with the high school district of the joint district, wherein the high school is located for purposes of bonding as provided in sections 75-4601—4605, R. C. M., 1947, as amended by chapter 188, Laws of 1951, and also for purposes of selecting additional trustees as provided for in section 75-4601, R. C. The certificate of the county superintendent of schools filed with the commission reciting that said notices were mailed shall be conclusive.

The boundaries established by said commission shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of public instruction.

If any high school district shall cease to have within its borders an operating, accredited high school, then it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools to consolidate and annex the common school districts comprising said high school district to one or more operating high school districts within a period of six (6) months after one (1) year of being declared non-operating or non-accredited; provided, that before said county superintendent of schools may declare such a consolidation and annexation, he shall give the board of trustees of each of the common school districts within said high school district proposed to be consolidated and annexed twenty (20) days' notice of his intention so to do.

In creating such districts the commission shall give primary consideration to the factor of convenience of the patrons of the several schools. Common school districts may be grouped for the purpose of this act and when practicable high school districts shall be made up of contiguous and adjacent common school districts but the commission must take into consideration the existence or non-existence of obstacles of travel, such as mountains and rivers and existence or non-existence of highways and distances to high school. No common school districts shall be divided for the purpose of this act but must be made a part of a high school district in its entirety, unless such division is approved and authorized by the voters of the common school district involved, at a special election held for that purpose and such division shall be on the basis of equal area, or as near thereto as practicable in relation to the geographical features of such district, provided that the entire portion of a joint school district within the county shall be included within a high school district, provided further that in the event twenty per cent (20%) of the voters of a common school district be dissatisfied with the proposed action of said commission in dividing into and establishing high school districts, or in the proposed action of the county superintendent in consolidating and annexing a common school district theretofore constituting a part of a high school district to an existing high school district, and shall within thirty (30) days after the giving of the notice heretofore required, file their written protest with said county superintendent, then said common school district or districts shall be by said county superintendent, or by said commission as the case may be, directed to hold a special election for the purpose of determining which high school district said district shall be annexed to or into which high school district said district shall be divided as hereinbefore provided, and the said superintendent or commission, as the case may be, shall be governed by the result of said election.

75-4609. Special tax levy—election. Whenever the board of trustees of the local school district within which the high school is situated shall deem it necessary to raise money for high school purposes in addition to its revenues from county and state apportionments, a meeting of the board of trustees of the high school district together with the chairmen of the boards of trustees of all common school districts included within the high school district shall be called and held to consider the calling of an election to vote upon the question of approving a special levy for high school purposes. Provided, that any other member designated by the board of trustees of any such common school district may represent such district in place of the chairman thereof. If a majority of the board of trustees of the high school district and the designated representatives of said common school districts attending such meeting shall determine that the proposed expenditures are necessary for the purposes of, altering, repairing or enlarging any high school or high schools of said district or for proper maintenance and operation of the high schools of said district or for acquisition of land for high school purposes, said trustees of the high school district shall ascertain and determine the number of mills required to be raised by special levy, and shall call an election for the purpose of submitting the question of making such additional levy to the qualified electors who are taxpayers upon property within the high school district, and if approved by a majority vote of all the taxpayers voting at such election, the result of said election shall be certified to the board of county commissioners, and the levy approved by such majority vote shall be made upon all property within said high school district.

75-5001. Special education—mentally handicapped children—physically handicapped children. Within the meaning of this act special education is that type of education requiring special facilities or instruction because of physical or mental deviation from the average on the part of some children. These handicapped are defined as follows:

(1) Mentally handicapped children are children who are not capable of profiting from the general educational program of the public schools. These children may be considered in three groups as follows: (a) Educable mentally handicapped. Those children who, at maturity, cannot be expected to attain a level of intellectual functioning greater than that commonly expected from an eleven-year-old, but not less than that of a seven-year-old. (b) Trainable mentally handicapped. Those children who, at maturity, cannot be expected to attain a level of intellectual functioning greater than that commonly expected of a seven-year-old and who, for entrance into a training program, are capable of walking, of clean bodily habits, and of obedience to simple commands. (c) Custodial mentally handicapped. Those children who do not show a likelihood of attaining clean bodily habits, responsiveness to directions, or means of intelligible communication. The public schools are to assume responsibility for only the educable handicapped groups.

(2) Physically handicapped children are those children who are capable of profiting from the general education program of the public schools, but who need special equipment, special services, and transportation to compensate for such physical handicaps as cardiac, cerebral palsy, or other physical handicaps including inadequate hearing and vision, which makes them unable to profit from the normal education processes without some special provision. Nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with the purpose and function of the School for the Deaf and Blind in Great Falls.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 206, L. 1955.

Title of Act

The state superintendent of public instruction shall cooperate with the state board of health in the utilization of the board of health specialists in hearing, speech and physical defects, both on the state and local levels, and shall also utilize the Montana mental hygiene clinic and specialists at the state training school in determining the type of special instruction needed by mentally deficient children.

75-5003. sons of low intelligence or severe delinquent behavior. The determination of the children requiring special education and the type of special education needed by these handicapped children shall not be the responsibility of local boards of trustees but shall be the responsibility of the state superintendent of public instruction in cooperation with appropriate medical, psychiatric and psychological advice listed above. Two (2) or more districts may combine to provide such educational facilities.

Reimbursements on the part of the state for such programs shall be computed on the basis of counting each such mentally retarded child in such special classes as three (3) in average number belonging, and each physically handicapped child according to a schedule to be prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction, but in no case shall it be over three (3) average number belonging for each such child, prorated according to time and number in these special classes, or in home tutoring. Transportation reimbursements shall be made on a schedule arrived at by the state superintendent of public instruction, and such expenditures shall be added to the transportation budget of the district. The state shall reimburse two-thirds of such approved transportation.

Children sent to the crippled children classes in any other approved program within the state shall be counted on the rolls of the home district and the home district shall transfer the funds for each such child to the school district in which these classes are located according to prescribed schedules provided, however, that when children are sent to an institution supported by funds of the state of Montana the home district will not be required to transfer funds for such child.

76-117. Any such petition shall be signed by [a] majority of the district supervisors and shall state the present name of the district and the proposed new name. If the committee determines that the proposed new name is not identical with or so similar to that of any other district in the state as to lead to confusion or uncertainty, it shall present a statement of such determination to the secretary of state, who shall issue to the district a certificate, under the seal of the state, evidencing the change of name of the district. Upon the issuance of such certificate, the supervisors of the district shall cause due notice to be given of the change of the name of the district.

(2) A petition may be filed with the state committee for the division of any district or the combination of any two or more districts, or for the division of a district and the combination of any divided part thereof with any other district. Any or all of such actions may be initiated by the filing of a single petition with the committee. Any such petition shall be signed by a majority of the members of each of the governing bodies of the affected districts. The committee shall prescribe the form for such petition. Upon the filing of any such petition, the committee shall within thirty (30) days give due notice of public hearing upon such petition. All occupiers of lands within the affected districts, and all other interested parties, shall have the right to attend such hearing and to be heard. After such hearing, the committee shall determine whether the proposed division, the combination or division and combination of territory is administratively practicable and feasible. In making such determination the committee shall give due regard to the legislative determinations set forth in section 76-102 and to the considerations enumerated in section 76-105, to the extent applicable, relative to determining the practicability and feasibility of creating a district.

(3) If the committee shall determine that the proposed division or combination, or division and combination, is administratively practicable and feasible, the committee shall affect such proposed division, combination, or division and combination by filing with the secretary of state a statement certifying the changes made in the boundaries of the affected districts, together with any change in the name of such districts. If such determination is in the negative the committee shall make and record such determination and shall deny the petition. After six (6) months from the denial of such petition, a new petition may be filed involving any of such proposals.

(4) Upon the division of a district, the supervisors thereof shall allocate the property, rights and liabilities, including contractual obligations, of the district among the resulting parts of the district, giving due consideration to the proportionate size of each such divided part, the number of land occupiers and operating units and the degree and extent of soil erosion therein, and other relevant factors. The general budget summary shall be supported by explanatory schedules or statements, classifying both expenditures and income contained therein by organization units and funds.

If so requested by the governor-elect, the governor shall incorporate in the budget, as a separate section, such estimates, comments and recommendations as the governor-elect may wish to make, and this section of the budget shall be transmitted to the legislative assembly without change, and it is the duty of the governor-elect in recommending changes to show a balance between proposed expenditures and anticipated revenue.

Part 3 shall include a proposed budget bill, authorizing by departments, institutions and agencies, and by funds, all expenditures for each fiscal year of the ensuing biennium, and must be accompanied by detailed and specific recommendations as to new sources of revenue, if necessary, to balance and to finance the budget. ### Compiler's Note

Chapter 250 of Laws 1959 authorized a referendum on a measure to provide for the sale of bonds for the construction of buildings at the state prison. Such act is to be referred to the people at the general election in November, 1960. The act reads as follows:

An act to authorize the state of Montana to become indebted for the sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000.00) in excess of the constitutional limitation of indebtedness and over and above any bonded indebtedness heretofore incurred or created and for which the state of Montana is now obligated for the construction and equipment of necessary buildings and other permanent improvements for the Montana state prison at Deer Lodge, Montana; providing for the issuance of bonds in the name of the state of Montana as evidence of such indebtedness and for the sale thereof; prescribing the form of such bonds and providing for a levy of an annual tax in excess of the amount prescribed by the constitution for state purposes sufficient to pay the principal thereof and the interest accruing thereon; and providing for a referendum of this act.

Section 1. That the state board of examiners of the state of Montana is hereby authorized and empowered to issue bonds in the name of the state of Montana, in an amount not exceeding five million dollars ($5,000,000.00) in excess of the constitutional limitation of indebtedness and over and above any bonded indebtedness heretofore incurred or created and for which the state of Montana is now obligated, the money derived from the sale of said bonds to be used for the purposes of constructing and equipping necessary buildings and other permanent improvements for the Montana state prison at Deer Lodge, Montana.

Section 2. Such bonds shall be issued from time to time by the state board of examiners at such times and in such amounts as may appear to said state board of examiners of the state of Montana in the exercise of its judgment and discretion to be for the best interests of the state and necessary for the construction and equipment of necessary buildings and other permanent improvements for the Montana state prison.

Section 3. Each series of bonds provided for in this act shall be issued in such denominations, shall be dated, shall mature serially over a period of not to exceed twenty (20) years from the date thereof, and shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding four per cent (4%) per annum, payable semiannually, as may be determined by the state board of examiners; provided, however, that for each series of said bonds issued after the issuance of the first series thereof, the board of examiners shall so fix the interest payment dates that the interest thereon will become due and payable on the same dates as the interest on the first bonds shall become due and payable, and in order so to do the state board of examiners may provide that the first interest shall be due and payable at a date less than six (6) months after the date of the issuance of such series. Said bonds may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the state board of examiners, at such price or prices and upon such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the state board of examiners prior to the issuance of said bonds.

The bonds provided for in this act shall be payable as to both principal and interest at the office of the state treasurer of the state of Montana at Helena, Montana, or at the option of the holders thereof at the office of the fiscal agent of the state of Montana in the borough of Manhattan, city and state of New York, and shall be executed in the name of the state of Montana by the members of the state board of examiners under the great seal of the state of Montana. The coupons representing interest on said bonds shall be executed with the facsimile signatures of the members of the state board of examiners.

Section 4. The state board of examiners shall prescribe the form of said bonds, and the bonds of each series shall bear upon their face the words: "Montana state prison bonds of the state of Montana" with a letter or figure to designate the series thereof, and shall be registered in the office of the state treasurer. The state board of examiners of the state of Montana is hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell said bonds as provided for in this act in such manner as they shall deem for the best interests of the state and carrying out of the provisions of this act at such times within a period of five (5) years from and after the approval of this act as the said state board of examiners shall from time to time determine necessary for the purposes herein provided. No bond provided for herein shall be disposed of for less than its par value.

Section 5. All moneys derived from the issuance and sale of bonds authorized by this act shall be paid into the state treasury and shall constitute a special fund for the construction and equipment of necessary buildings and other permanent improvements for the Montana state prison. Such moneys shall be expended only for the purposes herein expressly provided for and shall be disbursed by the state treasurer on warrants properly drawn against such fund by the state auditor pursuant to the orders of the state board of examiners.

Section 6. There shall be levied annually upon all property in the state of Montana subject to taxation an ad valorem tax upon each dollar of the taxable valuation of such property in excess of the amount prescribed by the constitution for state purposes sufficient to pay the interest accruing on said bonds as such interest shall fall due and to pay the principal of said bonds as such principal becomes due, said levy, however, not to exceed one (1) mill per annum until the indebtedness herein provided for shall have been fully paid and discharged. The tax when collected by the county treasurers of the several counties of the state shall be by them accounted to and paid into the state treasury of the state of Montana, and by the state treasurer placed in the "Montana state prison bond interest and redemption fund," which funds shall be used exclusively for the payment of principal and interest on said bonds as the same become due.

Section 7. There shall be a referendum on this act and the secretary of state is hereby required, and it is made his duty, to submit this measure in accordance with the provisions of the constitution and the laws of the state of Montana applicable thereto to the people of the state for their approval or rejection at the general election to be held in November, 1960. 81-433. Formula for fixing annual rental. The state board of land commissioners shall establish the per annum rental rate per section of all grazing lands which are the property of the state of Montana upon the animal-unit-month basis as hereinafter provided.

In fixing the minimum annual rental per section, the following formula shall be used:

The proportional relationship between the average price per pound of beef cattle on the farm in Montana during the period between the year 1938 and the year 1947, inclusive of both said years, and the average grazing fee per animal-unit-per-month for said period shall be applied to the average price per pound of beef cattle on the farm in Montana for three years next preceding the fixing of the rental.

The resulting figure shall be multiplied by, first, the carrying capacity of the land, and second, by twelve (12) so as to bring the rental from a monthly to an annual figure.

The average price per pound of beef cattle on the farm in Montana during the said period between 1938 and 1947, inclusive, to be used in the above formula, is hereby declared to be ten and one-half cents ($.105).

The average grazing fee per animal-unit-per-month (herein abbreviated to A. U. M.) for the said period between 1938 to 1947, inclusive, to be used in the above formula, is hereby declared to be twenty-four cents (24¢).

The carrying capacity of the land, to be used in the above formula, shall be in accordance with the determinations of the commissioner of state lands and investments made pursuant to section 81-404, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, originally enacted as section 4 of chapter 207 of the Laws of 1945.

The average price per pound of beef cattle on the farm in Montana for the three years next preceding the fixing of the rental, to be used in the above formula, shall be taken from statistics published by the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture current at the time of computation of the rental, or from other reliable sources current at such time.

By way of an example of the computation of minimum rental on grazing land by use of the factors prescribed herein, and taking,

- (a) a section of land, with
- (b) a carrying capacity of sixteen (16) animal-units, and
- (c) taking the average price per pound of beef cattle on the farm in Montana as seventeen and thirty hundredths cents ($.1730) for the three years next preceding the fixing of the rental, in compliance with the formula prescribed herein, such factors shall be used and applied as follows:

Price per pound for cattle from 1938 to 1947, inclusive	A. U. M. Rental	Average price per pound for cattle for 1956-1957- 1958	Rental per A. U. for one month

.105 cents is to .240 cents as .1730 cents is to X or .3954 cents

The resulting factor of .3954 cents (rental per animal-unit for one month) in the foregoing example is hereby rounded to forty cents (40¢) per animal-unit for one month to facilitate performance of the computation executed as follows:

.40 cents for one animal-unit-for-one-month times

12 months

80

$4.80 rental for one animal-unit for one year times 16 animal-unit carrying capacity for the section of land

results in $76.80 as the minimum rental for the next following year for the section of grazing land.

amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 229, L. 1951; amd. Sec.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

81-433.1. Additional computation for specified period. For the period beginning after February 28, 1960 and ending February 28, 1961, 10 cents per animal unit shall be added to the animal unit figure resulting from the formula as described in this act to determine the rental fee for state lands during this period. From and after February 28, 1961 the formula contained in section 1 [81-433] shall apply.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 284, L. 1959.

CHAPTER 9—SALE OF STATE LANDS

Section 81-908. Who may purchase and how much.

81-908. (1805.71) Who may purchase and how much. State lands shall be sold only to citizens of the United States or to persons who have declared their intentions to become citizens, or to corporations organized under the laws of this state. No person shall be qualified to purchase state land who has not reached the age of twenty-one (21) years. As far as possible to determine the lands shall be sold only to actual settlers or to persons who will improve the same, and not to persons who are likely to hold such lands for speculative purposes intending to resell the same at a higher price without having added anything to their value. No person or corporation shall be entitled to purchase more than one section of state land, and this area shall not include more than one hundred and sixty (160) acres of land susceptible of irrigation. These limitations as to area and irrigableness shall not apply to lands acquired by the state in connection with the foreclosure of its mortgages, or to lands within a federal irrigation project wherein the Congress of the United States of America now or hereafter authorizes water to be furnished to an area exceeding one hundred and sixty (160) irrigable acres.

State lands may be sold to any sovereign state of the United States or to any board of trustees or public corporation or agency of such state created by such state as an agency or political subdivision thereof. Said lands may be purchased in the quantities set forth in this section for use by such state, board of trustees, public corporation, agency, or political subdivision for educational or scientific purposes.

The title to any state lands which have been heretofore purchased by a sovereign state or a board of trustees or public corporation, agency or political subdivision thereof qualified under the provisions of this act is hereby ratified and confirmed.

CHAPTER 14—STATE FORESTS—FORESTER—TIMBER SALES
—FIRE WARDENS

Section 81-1403. State forester—appointment—compensation—term—assistants—bond.

81-1403. (1830.3) State forester—appointment—compensation—term—assistants—bond. The governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a state forester to have general charge of all the state's forests. He shall be technically trained and experienced in forestry and a graduate of an accredited forestry school, and his salary shall not exceed seven thousand dollars ($7,000.00) per annum, at the discretion of the state land board, together with the actual, necessary expenses while engaged in outside work in connection with his office and its duties as defined by law and the regulations of the state board of land commissioners and the state board of forestry. Such expenses shall be payable monthly from the state's general fund and/or the appropriations made to those other boards to which he, by law, has been designated secretary or executive officer. His term of office shall be for four (4) years. With the consent and approval of the state board of land commissioners the state forester shall appoint and fix the salaries and expenses of such office help, district foresters, fire wardens, cruisers, scalers, slash disposal men, and such other trained and qualified assistants as may be necessary in the administration of the state forests and the forested lands within the state. Provided, however, that consent and approval of such appointments by any board shall be restricted to those appointments made for the purposes of that board as defined by law. He shall give a satisfactory bond to the state of Montana in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) as a guarantee for the faithful performance of his duties.

of the state forester from $6,000 to $7,000 per annum.

Constitutionality

This section is not unconstitutional on the grounds that it does not obtain the full market value of the estate or interest disposed of as required by the constitution. State ex rel. Strandberg v. State Board of Land Comms., 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 238.)

Royalty Rate

When oil lands are leased on a royalty basis and a cash bonus, the bonus constitutes rental for an estate or interest in the land and the legislature in leasing oil lands is under obligation to obtain the full market value of the estate or interest disposed of on a rental basis, as well as for the sale of the land itself. State ex rel. Strandberg v. State Board of Land Comms., 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 237. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 238.)

Where in the leasing of lands for oil and gas, there was a bid carrying a royalty of 16⅓% with a bonus of $39,040 and another bid carrying a royalty of 12½% with a bonus of $68,000, the board of land commissioners was not authorized to accept the bid carrying the royalty of 16⅓% since the legislature has the responsibility of determining the method of arriving at the market value of leases, and by this section the legislature has determined that the royalty basis shall be 12½%. In the instant case it is impossible to determine whether the bid carrying the higher royalty but lesser bonus to be better than the bid carrying the 12½% royalty but a higher bonus, in advance of drilling. State ex rel. Strandberg v. State Board of Land Comms., 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 236. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 238.)

Under the constitution it is the legislature and not the land board that must fix the rules governing the sale and leasing of state land, and the method of arriving at the market value thereof. State ex rel. Strandberg v. State Board of Land Commrs., 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 236. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 65, 307 P 2d 234, 238.)

81-1709. (1882.9) Bond of lessees. The state board of land commissioners shall require lessees of oil and gas leases and assigns thereof to furnish bonds to the state in form and substance prescribed by law or by regulations of the board and in amount, or amounts, adequate to indemnify the state against loss, damage or detriment by reason of failure of the lessee to fully discharge the obligations contained in any lease or assignment thereof, including the payment of any money penalties fixed by the board; provided, that no bond in excess of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) shall be required under any one lease for any one year; and provided further that any lessee of oil and gas leases or any assignee of such leases, may, at his discretion, furnish one bond in a sum to be fixed by the board not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) covering all leases in which any interest is acquired, in which event separate bonds relating to individual leases or interests therein shall not be required.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

1951 Amendment Unconstitutional

Chapter 178 of Laws 1951 is an unconstitutional exercise of the legislative function to classify property for taxation. Victor Chemical Works v. Silver Bow County, 130 M 308, 301 P 2d 730, 737. (Concurring and dissenting opinion, 130 M 308, 301 P 2d 730, 737.)

Chapter 178 of Laws 1951, by permitting the reclassification of some industrial property into Class 5 while similar property is in Class 4 thwarts the mandate of sections 1 and 11 of Art. XII of the Constitution and is invalid. Victor Chemical Works v. Silver Bow County, 130 M 308, 301 P 2d 730. (Concurring and dissenting opinion, 130 M 308, 301 P 2d 730, 737.)

84-308. (2000.6) Basis for imposition of taxes on moneys and credits, moneyed capital and bank shares. As a basis for the imposition of taxes upon the different classes of property herein specified, a percentage of the true and full value of each class shall be taken as follows:

Moneys and credits, seven per centum (7%) of true and full value.

Moneyed capital and shares of banks, both national and state, thirty per centum (30%) of true and full value on that portion of the true and full value not represented by surplus, as shown on the books of the bank; seven per centum (7%) on that portion of the true and full value represented by surplus as shown on the books of the bank; provided that on that portion of any of such surplus which is over and above the amount represented by the stated capital of a bank, the excess shall be subject to thirty per centum (30%) of true and full value. The state board of equalization shall prepare, distribute and cause to be used such forms as it may require to obtain from the banks doing business in this state reports of such facts and figures as may be necessary to ascertain the taxable value of bank shares as a basis for the imposition of taxes.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 172, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 8, 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment added all that portion of the third paragraph beginning with the words "on that portion of the true and full value and not represented by surplus * * *" to end of section.

Repealing Clause

Section 3 of Ch. 206, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

84-1817. (2396.3) Distribution of state highway construction funds. (1) Allotment of state construction funds for federal aid highway systems. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, the state highway commission shall allot available state construction moneys to the federal aid interstate highway system, the federal aid primary highway system, the federal aid secondary highway system and the federal aid urban highway system in proportion to the amounts necessary to match the respective amounts of federal aid available for expenditure on these systems at the beginning of each fiscal year.

(2) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid primary highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, the state highway commission shall compute from its records the percentage of incompleting mileage of the federal aid primary highway system within each of said districts which each district respectively bears to the total incompleting mileage of said federal aid primary highway system within this state at that time, and the actual respective percentages of incompleting mileage in each district as so computed and determined at the beginning of each fiscal year shall be used in apportioning construction moneys for that year to each of the said financial districts from the state highway fund as defined and provided by section 84-1816. As a basis for the determination of the amount of incompleting mileage of said federal aid primary highway system in this state for each fiscal year, the state highway commission shall adopt as the criterion the current definition, as prescribed by the bureau of public roads, for a fully and adequately completed federal highway in this state. This criterion shall be considered as a one hundred per cent (100%) completed federal highway; and federal highway mileage which is only partially completed under the application of this criterion, shall be considered as only partially completed on a percentage basis, this to be determined from the relative estimated percentage costs of construction already performed and of additional construction which must be performed to bring said mileage up to the standard of said criterion.

(3) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid secondary highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, state construction moneys for the federal aid secondary highway system shall be apportioned to each of the financial districts as defined in section 84-1815 on a percentage basis as determined in the following manner: One-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) in the ratio of land area in each financial district to the total land area in the state; one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) in the ratio of the rural population in each financial district to the total rural population in the state; and one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) in the ratio of the rural road mileage in each financial district to the total rural road mileage in the state; one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) in the ratio of value of rural lands in each financial district to the total value of rural land in the state. Said moneys to be further apportioned to the counties within each financial district in the same ratio of land area, rural population and rural road mileage; and value of rural lands, provided, that to the extent necessary to permit orderly programming and construction of projects, expenditures of construction money in any county may exceed the amount apportioned to that county with the provision that such excess expenditure shall not exceed three (3) times the amount of the last annual apportionment to that county and that any excess expenditures shall be deducted from future apportionments to that county.

For the purposes of this section, rural population is defined as total population less the population in cities over five thousand (5,000) persons and their unincorporated fringe urban areas as reported in the federal census. Decennial census figures for population shall be adjusted during the interim between censuses in accordance with the percentage of change occurring in annual motor vehicle registration figures for each county.

For the purposes of this section, rural road mileage is defined as all road mileage outside incorporated cities, exclusive of road mileage on the federal aid rural primary highway system. Rural road mileage figures reported by the road inventory of the state highway commission shall be used in determining rural road mileage as defined in this section.

For the purposes of this section, the value of rural lands, shall include the value of state owned lands from which the state derives grazing, timber and agricultural income.

The basis for the value of rural lands shall be computed from the figures in the latest biennial report of the Montana state board of equalization. The basis for the value of state owned lands shall be computed from the latest figures on the total grazing, timber and agricultural lands in each county, submitted by the commissioner of state lands and investments in his latest biennial report. The average value of privately owned lands shall be the average value of the state owned lands, if the actual values are not available.

(4) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid urban highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, state construction moneys for the federal aid urban highway system shall be apportioned to the cities in the state over five thousand (5,000) population in the ratio of urban population in each city to the total urban population in the state for all cities over five thousand (5,000) population.

For the purpose of this section, urban population is defined as population within the incorporated limits of cities over five thousand (5,000) population and also the population within unincorporated urban fringe areas as delineated and reported in the federal census.

To the extent necessary to permit orderly programming and construction of projects, expenditures of construction money in any urban city may exceed the amount apportioned to that city with the provision that such excess expenditure shall be deducted from future apportionments to that city.

(5) Apportionment of state construction moneys to the federal aid interstate highway system. At the start of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957, and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter, state construction moneys for the federal aid interstate highway system shall be apportioned to each of the financial districts, as defined in section 84-1815, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, in proportion to the estimated cost of constructing or reconstructing the system in each district as compared with the total estimated cost of constructing or reconstructing the entire system within the state. The cost estimates to be used for apportioning said state construction funds shall be those costs developed by the state highway commission in accordance with the provisions of subsection (d) of section 108 of title I of the federal aid highway act of 1956.

(6) The state highway commission may vary the expenditures made in any financial district under the provisions of this act to the extent of fifteen per cent (15%) above the amount of money allocated to such district in any year for the federal aid primary highway system or the federal aid secondary highway system, and to the extent of one hundred per cent (100%) above the amount of money allocated to such district in any year for the federal aid interstate highway system, provided that the allocation of construction money to such district for the next succeeding fiscal year shall be decreased by an amount equal to such increased expenditures.

The 1957 amendment in subd. (1) substituted "July 1, 1957" for "July 1, 1953," inserted the words "the federal aid interstate highway system" and substituted the words "available for expenditure on these systems at the beginning of each fiscal year" for the words "apportioned to these systems" which appeared at the end of said subd. (1); added a new subd. (5); renumbered former subd. (5) as subd. (6) and in subd. 6 inserted the words "for the

84-1818. (2396.4) Refund of gasoline license tax—procedure.

Gasoline Lost—Refund

Since there has been no amendment to this law expressing disapproval of an earlier supreme court decision that gasoline lost or destroyed should be included in the provision for a refund of the tax paid, the legislature in effect approved the interpretation. State v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 393, 324 P 2d 1057, 1061.

Where gasoline was lost during a flood which tipped over storage tank, the purchaser was entitled to a refund of the tax paid. State v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 393, 324 P 2d 1057, 1061.

Where it has been decided that a claimant is entitled to a refund but the claim is such that it cannot be regularly itemized on prescribed forms, the board cannot set up the failure to comply with technical regulations as a reason for denying the claim. State v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 393, 324 P 2d 1057, 1061.

Taxpayer's complaint to recover excessive taxes paid under protest failed to state a cause of action where it failed to allege that application to the county board of equalization for reduction in assessment before resorting to court, or appeared before county board, state board of equalization or anyone charged with the equalization of taxes, and defendant's demurrer should have been sustained. Blair v. Potter, 132 M 176, 315 P 2d 177, 178, 180.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Breeding Animals Not a Capital Asset

(Sec. 1, Ch. 148, Laws 1935, R. C. M. 1947, 84-4934, Repealed by Sec. 15, Ch. 260, Laws 1955.) In re Armstrong's Estate, 133 M 328, 323 P 2d 596.

Under the former statute requiring that the final closing return of a decedent be made on an inventory basis the same as fixed for inheritance tax purposes, Sec.

1, Ch. 167, Laws 1947, unsold breeding animals valued in inventory were not to be treated as a capital asset but were to be treated as property held for sale in computing taxable income. In re Armstrong's Estate, 133 M 328, 323 P 2d 596.

Purpose of Section

In enacting this section, before the 1955 amendment, the legislature was seeking tax equality. State ex rel. Anderson v.

(b) deleted the words "if a separate or joint return is made by the taxpayer" which appeared after the words "spouse of the taxpayer"; in subds. (c)(2) and (d)(2) deleted the words "if a separate return is made by the taxpayer" which appeared in each instance after the words "spouse of the taxpayer"; in subd. (d)(2) deleted the words "has no gross income" which appeared before the words "is not a dependent" and added all of subd. (i).

Repealing Clause

84-4911. (2295.11) Income tax involving partnership — partnership statements required. Individuals carrying on a business in partnership shall be liable for income tax only in their individual capacity. There shall be included, in computing the net income of each partner, his distributive share, whether distributed or not, of the net income of the partnership for the taxable year, or, if his net income for such taxable year is computed upon the basis of a period different from that upon the basis for which the net income of the partnership is computed, then there shall be included his distributive share of the net income of the partnership for any accounting period of the partnership ending within the fiscal or calendar year upon the basis of which the partner's net income is computed. Taxpayers who are members of partnerships are required by the department to furnish a copy of their federal partnership return.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment substituted the present last sentence for two sentences which read "Taxpayers who are members of partnerships may be required by the department to make a return stating the gross receipts and net gains or profits of the partnership for any taxable year. The net income of the partnership shall be computed in the same manner and on the same basis as provided in computing the net income of individuals."

84-4914. (2295.14) Returns and payment of tax—penalty and interest—refunds—credits. (1) Every taxpayer having a gross income for the taxable year of six hundred dollars ($600.00) or over, if single or if married and not living with or supporting a husband or wife or family, or of twelve hundred dollars ($1,200.00) or over, if married and living with husband or wife, shall be liable for an income tax return, to be filed on such forms and according to instructions set forth by the board.

If any such taxpayer is unable to make his own return, the return shall be made by a duly authorized agent or by a guardian or other person charged with the care of the person or property of such taxpayer.

(2) All taxpayers, including, but not limited to those subject to the provisions of sections 84-4939, and 84-4943 as amended shall compute the amount of income tax payable and shall at the time of filing the return required by this act, pay to the board any balance of income tax remaining unpaid after crediting the amount withheld as provided by section 84-4943 as amended and/or any payment made by reason of an estimated tax return provided for in section 84-4939 as amended, provided however, the tax so computed is greater by one dollar ($1.00) than the amount withheld and/or paid by estimated return as provided in this act.

If the amount of tax withheld and/or payment of estimated tax exceeds by more than one dollar ($1.00) the amount of the income tax as computed, the taxpayer shall be entitled to a refund of the excess.

(3) As soon as practicable after the return is filed, the board shall examine and verify the tax.

(4) If the amount of tax as verified is greater than the amount theretofore paid, the excess shall be paid by the taxpayer to the board within thirty (30) days after notice of the amount of the tax as computed with interest added at the rate of one per centum (1%) per month or fraction thereof on the additional tax. In such case there shall be no penalty because of such understatement, provided the deficiency is paid within thirty (30) days after the first notice of the amount is mailed to the taxpayer.

If payment is not made within thirty (30) days or if the understatement is due to negligence on the part of the taxpayer, but without fraud, there shall be added to the amount of the deficiency five per centum (5%) thereof, provided, however, that no deficiency penalty shall be less than two dollars ($2.00). Interest will be computed at the rate of one per centum (1%) per month for each month or fraction thereof on the additional assessment with penalty added. Except unless otherwise expressly provided in this subdivision, the interest shall in all cases be computed from the date the return and tax was originally due to the date of payment.

If the time for filing a return is extended, the taxpayer shall pay in addition, interest thereon at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum from the time when the return was originally required to be filed to the time of payment.

Amendments

The 1957 amendment divided this section into subdivisions adding new subds. (2) to (4). Subdivision (1) which was formerly the first paragraph has been substantially changed. For text of this paragraph before amendment see parent volume.

The 1959 amendment, is subd. (1) substituted the word "taxpayer" for "person" each time it appears; substituted "gross income" for "net income" the first time it appears and deleted the words "or if he is the head of a family, or a gross income for the taxable year of twelve hundred dollars ($1,200.00) or over, regardless of the amount of his net income" which appeared after the words "living with husband or wife."

84-4915. (2295.15) Exemption allowed nonresident—effect of changing resident status. If a taxpayer changes his status from that of resident to that of nonresident, or from that of nonresident to that of resident, during the taxable year, he shall file a return covering the fraction of the year during which he was a resident. The exemptions provided in section 84-4910 shall be prorated on the ratio the Montana adjusted gross income bears to federal adjusted gross income. A Montana citizen moving out of the state; abandoning his residence in the state and establishing a residence elsewhere, must file a return on the fractional basis. If he obtains employment outside the state, without abandoning his Montana residence then income from such employment is taxable in Montana.

84-4920. (2295.20) Revision of return—time for determining tax, etc.*Construction Prior to Amendment

The provision of this section, before the 1955 amendment, commanding a particular act to be done for the protection of the taxpayer, viz., assessment within three years, must be construed in favor of the taxpayer. State ex rel. Anderson v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 8, 319 P 2d 221, 224.

This section, before the 1955 amendment did not constitute a statute of limitations, but rather a limitation upon the authority of the state board of equalization to reassess returns after the expiration of three years from the date the return is made. State ex rel. Anderson v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 8, 319 P 2d 221, 226.

Limitation on Reassessment

Although this section does not constitute a statute of limitations, it is a limitation upon the authority of the board of equalization to reassess returns after the expiration of three years from the date the return was filed. State ex rel. Conn. v. Robinson, 133 M 549, 327 P 2d 390, 391.

84-4922. (2295.22) Revision—application—hearing—adjustment.*Filing of Claim

Respondent paid additional tax under protest on June 12, 1953. Within the two years granted by this section, he applied for a revision, filing claim on July 24, 1954, setting forth the contended invalidity of the assessment. The claim was filed on a form provided by the board of equalization for refund of tax illegally collected. This was a sufficient compliance with the statute. State ex rel. Conn. v. Robinson, 133 M 549, 327 P 2d 390, 391.

review of board's findings on application for revision, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 212, Laws 1957.

84-4923.1. Review by court. The determination of the state board of equalization may be reviewed in the district court for Lewis and Clark county or the county in which the taxpayer resides or has his principal office or place of business, by a complaint filed by the taxpayer against the state board of equalization within six (6) months after the receipt of notice of the decision of the state board of equalization. Upon the serving of summons upon the state board of equalization as in civil action, the cause shall proceed as other civil cases. Service upon the state board of equalization may be made by serving one copy upon the secretary of the state board of equalization or one copy upon the chairman of the state board of equalization. The remedies provided by this chapter for the collection of the tax shall be stayed and no assessment, distraint or proceedings in court for collection of the taxes shall be made, begun or prosecuted until ninety (90) days after such court action is finally determined. From any determination of such court, an appeal to the supreme court may be taken by either party.

CHAPTER 54—MINES TAXATION—GENERAL PROPERTY AND NET PROCEEDS TAX

Section 84-5403. Net proceeds—how computed.

84-5408. Transmission of net proceeds to county assessor.

84-5409. Taxation and payment on royalty interests.

84-5401. (2088) Taxation of mines.

Net Proceeds

In determining the net proceeds under the provisions of sections 84-5402 and 84-5403, the gross product received under section 84-5403 is the amount paid to the producer. Hence, where producer received price of $63 a ton from general services administration while the New York market price was only $35 a ton; the total amount received by the producer is to be used. The difference between the market price and the price received is not to be considered a government bonus or subsidy as the producer was not required to sell to the government. Minerals Engineering Co. v. Greene, 131 M 119, 308 P 2d 977. This case expressly overrules Klies v. Linnane, 117 M 59, 156 P 2d 183.

84-5403. (2090) Net proceeds—how computed. The state board of equalization shall calculate and compute from said returns the gross product yielded from such mine, and its gross value in dollars and cents for the year covered by the statement, and also shall calculate and compute the net proceeds in dollars and cents of said mine yielded to such person, corporation or association so engaged in mining which said net proceeds shall be ascertained and determined by subtracting from the value in dollars and cents of the gross product thereof the following, to wit:

1. All royalty paid or apportioned in cash or in kind by the person, corporation or association so engaged in mining.

2. All moneys expended for necessary labor, machinery and supplies needed and used in the mining operations and developments.

3. All moneys expended for improvements, repairs and betterments necessary in and about the working of the mine, except as hereinafter provided.

4. All moneys expended for costs of repairs and replacements of the milling and reduction works used in connection with the mine.

5. Depreciation in the sum of six per cent (6%) of the assessed valuation of such milling and reduction works for the calendar year for which such return is made.

6. All moneys actually expended for transporting the ores, and mineral products or deposits from the mines to the mill or reduction works or to the place of sale, and for extracting the metals and minerals therefrom, and for marketing the product and the conversion of the same into money.

7. All moneys expended for fire insurance and workmen's compensation insurance, and for payments by mine operators to welfare and retirement funds when provided for in wage contracts between mine operators and employees.

In computing the deductions allowable for repairs, improvements and betterments to the mine, the state board of equalization shall compute and allow ten per cent (10%) of such cost each year for a period of ten (10) years.

No moneys invested in mines or improvements shall be allowed as a deduction unless all machinery, equipment and buildings represented by such moneys shall be returned to the county assessor of the county in which such mine is located for assessment purposes, at the level of assessment of all other property in such county.

No moneys invested in the mines and improvements during any year, except the year for which such statement is made, and except as hereinbefore provided in this section, shall be included in such expenditures; and such expenditures shall not include the salaries or any portion thereof, of any person or officer not actually engaged in the working of the mine or superintending the management thereof.

the words "and except as hereinbefore provided in this section" in the last paragraph.

Gross Product—What Included In

Where producer received price of $63 a ton from general services administration while market price was only $35 a ton the difference between the market price and the price received is not to be considered a government bonus or subsidy since the producer was free to sell to anyone and the entire price was to be included in determining the value of the gross product. Minerals Engineering Co. v. Greene, 131 M 119, 308 P 2d 977. This case expressly overrules Klies v. Linnane, 117 M 59, 156 P 2d 183.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment, in the first paragraph, substituted the words "covered by the statement" for the words "preceding the first day of January"; added the words "except as hereinafter provided" at the end of subd. 3; inserted the word "actually" in subd. 6; added the two paragraphs next to the last paragraph; and inserted

84-5408. (2091) Transmission of net proceeds to county assessor. On or before the first day of July in each year the state board of equalization shall transmit to the county assessor of each county in which such mines and mining claims are situated, the valuation of the net proceeds of such mines and mining claims for the purpose of taxation, as the same have been determined and fixed by such state board of equalization. The said valuation for the purpose of taxation shall be an amount equal to the average net proceeds from such mine for the five calendar years next preceding, or for as many years next preceding as the mine has produced gross yield, or for as many years next preceding as this act has been in effect, whichever is less. The average net proceeds for valuation shall be computed by dividing the total net proceeds for such period by the number of years for which such net proceeds were taken into account. In determining net proceeds of each individual year for averaging to determine valuation for purposes of taxation, the actual annual net proceeds as defined in section 84-5403 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, including losses, if any, from such mines and mining claims shall be taken for each year rather than the average valuation for such year. In no event shall there be valuation for the purpose of taxation for a year when there has been no gross yield from such mines and mining claims for the preceding average years and such years shall not be taken into account in computing the net proceeds for any year. The county assessor shall immediately enter the same upon an assessment roll called "assessment roll of net proceeds of mines," alphabetically arranged, and in which shall be specified in separate columns and under the following heads:

1. The name and address of the owner or lessee of the mine.
2. The description and location of the mine.
3. The number of tons of ore or other mineral products or deposits extracted and treated or sold from the mine during the period covered by the statement.
4. The gross value of the ores, mineral products or deposits, in dollars and cents, extracted and treated, or sold during the year, to be determined as provided in the preceding section.
5. The net proceeds, in dollars and cents, of such mine or mining claims during the years, to be determined as provided in the preceding section.

The form of said assessment roll shall be prescribed by the state board of equalization in conformity with the provision of this act.

(2091.1) Taxation and payment on royalty interests. At the time of transmitting net proceeds assessments the state board of equalization shall also transmit the royalty lists or schedules to the county assessor of each county in which such mines and mining claims are located and thereupon the county assessor shall prepare from such net proceeds and royalty assessments a tax roll which shall be by him furnished to the county treasurer on or before the fifteenth day of September following, upon which date said taxes shall be due and payable. Assessments of royalty on production of metals, and minerals other than petroleum and natural gas, shall be entered by the county assessor in the personal property assessment book in the name of the recipient or owner of such royalty. The county treasurer shall proceed to give full notice thereof to such recipient or royalty owner, and to collect the taxes thereon in the same manner as taxes on net proceeds of mines.

Compiler's Note

This section was amended three times in the 1957 Session. Once by chapter 18, once by chapter 44 and once by chapter 222. Neither chapter 18 nor 222 provided for a specific effective date while chapter 44 was effective February 26, 1957. Chapter 18 was signed by the Governor, February 18, 1957; chapter 44 was signed February 26, 1957; and chapter 222 was signed March 12, 1957. The acts do not seem to be in conflict with one another, hence the Compiler has made a composite section incorporating the changes made by each chapter. For specific changes, see Amendments below.

Amendments

The amendment by Ch. 18, Laws 1957 in the last paragraph substituted "dealer" for "retailer" in the first sentence; substituted "insignia" for "stamps" in the same sentence; deleted a former second sentence in that paragraph which read "Said stamps shall be properly cancelled prior to sale or removal for consumption under such regulations as the board may prescribe"; substituted "insignia affixed" for "stamp to affix," substituted "insignia" for "stamp" before the words "will be destroyed" and substituted "act" for "law" after the words "provided for in this."

The amendment by Ch. 44, Laws 1957 in the second paragraph of subdivision (2) inserted "under the authority of said Initiative No. 54 as hereby amended"; substituted "residents of Montana" for "residents of this state"; added "or in said Korean War" and added subdivision (3). The amendment did not carry any of the changes made by chapters 18 and 222.

The amendment by Ch. 222, Laws 1957 in subdivision (1) increased the tax from 2¢ to 5¢ and in the last paragraph, carried the same change as made by Ch. 18 in the first sentence; reinstated the second sentence, which had been deleted by Ch. 18; substituted "insignia" for "stamps" in that sentence and substituted "insignia" for "stamp" in the third sentence. This amendment did not carry any of the change made by Ch. 44, Laws 1957.

For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this amendatory act there is hereby appropriated from the War Veterans' Compensation Fund, in addition to the appropriation made by section 14 of said Initiative No. 54 as originally enacted, the moneys now remaining in said fund and not needed for the payment of the honorarium to persons who served in World War II, and the sum of six million dollars ($6,000,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay said honorarium to the persons who served in the military forces in said Korean War.

Nothing in this amendatory act shall be construed as impairing the security of the twenty-two million dollars ($22,000,000.00) of bonds heretofore sold under the authority of said Initiative Measure No. 54, or of the interest thereon, but the provision made by said Initiative for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon shall remain inviolate.

Section 9. Except where such construction would conflict with express provisions of this amendatory act, said Initiative No. 54 shall be construed as though the amendments made hereby had formed a part of said Initiative at the time of its adoption on November 7, 1950. Nothing herein contained is to be construed as extending the time of filing claims under said Initiative No. 54 as originally adopted nor as amended by chapter 123 of the Laws of the Thirty-third Session of the Montana Legislative Assembly, nor as authorizing any payments from said War Veterans' Compensation Fund except expenses of administration of said Initiative as hereby amended, of claims for the honorarium filed on or prior to January 1, 1954, and the expenses of administration in connection therewith, and of the payments provided for in subdivisions (b), (c) and (d), of section 2, and in sections 3 and 5, of said Initiative No. 54 as amended.

to the period, or the aggregate of the periods, of the time during which the administration of this act shall be suspended, by reason of litigation or from any other cause.

Section 11. If any provision contained in this amendatory act shall for any reason be held invalid, such decision shall not invalidate the remaining provisions of this act.

Section 12. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 13. This act will take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 26, 1957.

84-5607. Affixing of insignia. Insignia shall be affixed to packages of cigarettes only by licensed distributors and dealers. Provided, however, the provisions of this act shall not apply to public warehouses acting as agents of manufacturers.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 289, L. 1947; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 18, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment completely rewrote this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

84-5608. #### Compiler's Note

This section was amended twice in the 1957 Session. Once by chapter 18 and once by chapter 222. Neither law contained a specific effective date. Chapter 18 was signed by the Governor February 18 while chapter 222 was signed March 12. As the acts are not in conflict with each other the Compiler has made a composite section. For specific changes see Amendments below.

Amendments

The 1957 amendment by Ch. 18 substituted "dealer will" for "retailer shall"

84-5609. #### 86-103. (6785) Transfer to one for money paid by another, etc.

Where consideration for a transfer of property was paid, and title taken in the name of another a trust is presumed to result in favor of the person advancing the money. Campanello v. Mercer, 124 M 528, 227 P 2d 312, 314.

Where the husband already owned a fee simple title and the wife voluntarily made an advancement to him for the express purpose of enabling him to pay off a mortgage it does not give rise to a trust under this section. Baird v. Baird, 125 M 122, 232 P 2d 348, 353.

Presumption of Gift from Husband to Wife

In an action by an ex-husband to impose a trust on property purchased together with ex-wife during coverture, the ex-husband failed to prove facts to overcome the presumption of a gift to the ex-wife and the rule in Montana is that a transfer of property from one spouse to the other is presumed to be a gift. (Associate Justices Bottomly and Augstman dissenting.) Dial v. Dial, 131 M 310, 310 P 2d 610.

Resulting Trust

Evidence supported establishment of a resulting trust where the consideration was paid at the time or before the time that legal title passed to the alleged trustee, in that the funds and the pick-up truck traded-in, used for the initial down payment on a new truck, belonged to the defendant. *Firemen's Ins. ##### Forfeiture of Option

Where neighboring ranchers began joint venture by each contributing $1,000 to bind a one year purchase option covering lands and leases, and after forfeiture of option and option payment, continued their joint activities, purchase of all the land and leases by one partner, nine months after forfeiture, should not have been made after $14,000 price was decided without demanding that other partner produce purchase money or withdraw from venture.

Bradbury v. Nagelhus, 132 M 417, 319 P 2d 503, 507.

Purchase of Mortgage

Trustee did not violate his fiduciary duties in buying mortgage outstanding against trust property to protect trustor, who had entrusted 5% royalty for sale by trustee to raise money needed by trustor and when trustor thereafter elected to permit trustee to retain unsold royalty in satisfaction of mortgage, title to the royalty vested in the trustee. Iverson v. Rehal, 132 M 295, 317 P 2d 869, 872, 873.

Where trustee purchased a mortgage against the property to protect the beneficiary and the royalty purchasers, and held it for some 18 months, the effect was to continue the fiduciary relationship. Iverson v. Rehal, 132 M 295, 317 P 2d 869, 872, 873.

Neighboring ranchers signed a writing, agreeing to become equal partners in purchase of adjoining grazing leases and ranch lands. Each contributed $1,000 to bind a one year purchase option covering the lands and leases. The option and option payment was forfeited but they continued their joint activities. Nine months after forfeiture one partner purchased all for himself. A constructive trust was raised which purchaser could not revoke. He was required to convey an undivided one-half interest in the lands and leases to other partner subject to down-to-date accounting and reimbursement in net amount of purchase price found to be due from plaintiff to purchaser after accounting was completed from date of original agreement. Bradbury v. Nagelhus, 132 M 417, 319 P 2d 503, 511.

86-313. (7900) Third person—when involuntary trustee.

Forfeiture of Option

Neighboring ranchers signed a writing, agreeing to become equal partners in the purchase of adjoining grazing leases and ranch lands. Each contributed $1,000 to bind a one year purchase option covering the lands and leases. They forfeited the option and option payment but continued their joint activities. Nine months after forfeiture one partner purchased all for himself, taking title jointly with his wife and they in turn deed a portion to their son. The wife and son, as donees, were controlled by the donor's actions. Bradbury v. Nagelhus, 132 M 417, 319 P 2d 503, 506.

87-107. Claims for benefits. (a) Filing. Claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe. Each employer shall post and maintain printed statements of such regulations in places readily accessible to individuals in his service and shall make available to each such individual at the time he becomes unemployed, a printed statement of such regulations. Such printed statements shall be supplied by the commission to each employer without cost to him.

(b) Initial determination. A representative designated by the commission, and hereinafter referred to as a deputy, shall promptly examine the claim and, on the basis of the facts found by him, shall either determine whether or not such claim is valid, and if valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and the maximum duration thereof, or shall refer such claim or any question involved therein to an appeal tribunal which shall make its decisions with respect thereto in accordance with the procedure prescribed in subsection (c) of this section, except that in any case in which the payment or denial of benefits will be determined by the provisions of section 87-106 (d), the deputy shall promptly transmit his full finding of fact with respect to that subsection to the commission, which, on the basis of the evidence submitted and such additional evidence as it may require, shall affirm, modify, or set aside such findings of fact and transmit to the deputy a decision upon the issues involved under that subsection which shall be deemed the decision of the deputy. The deputy shall promptly notify the claimant and any other interested party of the decision and the reasons therefor. The deputy may for good cause reconsider his decision and shall promptly notify the claimant and such other interested parties of his amended decision and the reasons therefor. Unless the claimant or any such interested party, within five (5) calendar days after delivery of such notification or within seven (7) calendar days after such notification was mailed to his last known address, files an appeal from such decision, such decision shall be final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith. If an appeal is duly filed, benefits with respect to the period under dispute prior to the final decision of the commission, shall be paid only after such decision. Provided, that if an appeal tribunal affirms a decision of a deputy, or the commission affirms a decision of an appeal tribunal, allowing benefits, such benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which may thereafter be taken, but if such decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid.

(c) Appeals. Unless such appeal is withdrawn, an appeal tribunal, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall affirm or modify the findings of fact and decision of the deputy. The parties shall be duly notified of such tribunal's decision, together with its reasons therefor, which shall be deemed to be the final decision of the commission, unless within ten (10) days after the date of notification or mailing of such decision, further appeal is initiated pursuant to subsection (e) of this section.

(d) Appeal tribunals. To hear and decide disputed claims, the commission shall appoint such impartial appeal tribunals as are necessary for the proper administration of this act, consisting in each case of either a salaried examiner selected in accordance with section 87-123, or a body consisting of three (3) members, one of whom shall be a salaried examiner, who shall serve as chairman, one of whom shall be a representative of employers, and the other of whom shall be a representative of employees; each of the latter two (2) members shall serve at the pleasure of the commission and be paid a fee of not more than ten dollars ($10.00) per day of active service on such tribunal plus necessary expense. No person shall participate on behalf of the commission in any case in which he is an interested party. The commission may designate alternates to serve in the absence or disqualification of any member of an appeal tribunal. The chairman shall act alone in the absence or disqualification of any other member and his alternates. In no case shall the hearings proceed unless the chairman of the appeal tribunal is present.

(e) Commission review. The commission may on its own motion affirm, modify, or set aside any decision of an appeal tribunal on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in such case, or direct the taking of additional evidence, or may permit any of the parties to such decision to initiate further appeals before it. The commission shall permit such further appeal by any of the parties interested in a decision of an appeal tribunal which is not unanimous and by the deputy whose decision has been overruled or modified by an appeal tribunal. The commission may remove to itself or transfer to another appeal tribunal the proceedings on any claim pending before an appeal tribunal. Any proceedings so removed to the commission shall be heard by a quorum thereof in accordance with the requirements in subsection (c) of this section. The commission shall promptly notify the interested parties of its findings and decision.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment inserted the words "under dispute" in the fifth sentence of subd. (b).

87-108. Procedure and appeals.

Exhaustion of administrative remedies respect to unemployment compensation. 14 as prerequisite to declaratory relief in ALR 2d 838.

87-109. Contributions. (a) Payment. (1) On and after January 1, 1937, contributions shall accrue and become payable by each employer for each calendar year in which he is subject to this act, with respect to wages as defined in section 87-149 (c), paid for employment (as defined in this act) occurring during such calendar year. Such contributions shall become due and be paid by each employer to the commission for the fund in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe and shall not be deducted, in whole or in part, from the wages of individuals in his employ.

(2) In the payment of any contributions, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one (1) cent.

(b) Rate of contribution. (1) Each employer shall pay contributions equal to the following percentages of wages, as defined in section 87-149 (c) paid by him with respect to employment:

(A) One and eight-tenths (1.8) per centum with respect to employment during the calendar year 1937;

(B) Two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum with respect to employment during the calendar years 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, and for each calendar year thereafter, except as herein provided in subsection (c) of this section.

(c) Experience rating. The commission shall for the calendar year 1947, and for each calendar year thereafter, classify employers in accordance with their actual contribution and unemployment experience and shall determine for each employer the rate of contribution which shall apply to him throughout the calendar year in order to reflect said experience and classification.

The commission shall apply such form of classification or experience rating system which is best calculated to rate individually and most equitably the employment for each employer and to encourage the stabilization of employment.

In making such classification, the commission shall take account, each to an equal extent, of the following factors relating to the unemployment hazard shown by each employer on the basis of (1) average annual net percentage declines in taxable payrolls for the last three (3) years prior to computation date; (2) number of years the employer has paid contributions; and (3) chargebacks to the individual employer account upon the last employer basis. The computation date is hereby fixed as of the close of business on June 30th of the preceding calendar year.

The rates for the calendar year 1953 and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, shall be so fixed that they would, if applied to all employers and their total taxable annual payrolls for the preceding calendar year, have yielded total paid contributions equalling approximately one and two-tenths (1.2) per centum of the total of all such payrolls.

The commission shall determine the contribution rate applicable to each employer for any calendar year subject to the following limitations:

(1) Each employer's rate shall be two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum unless and until there have been five (5) years prior to the computation date throughout which the employer has paid contributions at the rate of two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum.

(2) The classified contribution rates for the calendar year 1947, and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, shall be: one (1.0) per centum, one and one-half (1.5) per centum, two (2.0) per centum, two and one-half (2.5) per centum, and two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum. The classified contribution rate for the calendar year 1953, and thereafter, except as hereinafter provided, shall be: five-tenths (.5) of one per centum, seven-tenths (.7) of one per centum, nine-tenths (.9) of one per centum, one and one-tenth (1.1) per centum, one and three-tenths (1.3) per centum, one and five-tenths (1.5) per centum, one and seven-tenths (1.7) per centum, one and nine-tenths (1.9) per centum, two and one-tenth (2.1) per centum, two and three-tenths (2.3) per centum, two and five-tenths (2.5) per centum, and two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum.

(3) No employer shall be assigned a classified contribution rate higher than the second classified rate above the rate which was assigned to him for the last preceding calendar year except as hereinafter provided.

(4) No employer's rate shall be fixed below two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum whose benefit payments charged as most recent employer have, in the last three (3) years preceding the computation date, exceeded the amount of his contributions for those years, provided that for the calendar year 1957 and thereafter, any employer may, for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this subsection, have the option of making a voluntary contribution to the unemployment compensation fund to cancel the amount by which the benefit payments charged to him under section 87-109 (c) during the last three (3) completed fiscal years exceed his contributions for the same three (3) years. Such voluntary contribution shall be applied first to cancel the amount by which benefits exceed contributions in the earliest of the three (3) years preceding the computation date, any remaining to cancel the excess in the second earliest year preceding the computation date, and any further remaining to cancel the excess in the most recent year preceding the computation date. Whenever the benefit payments charged to an eligible employer in the last three (3) fiscal years exceed his contributions for the same period, the commission shall notify him of the amount of such excess and the rate which would be applicable to him for the ensuing calendar year, if he exercises the option. Such employer must exercise the option of making the voluntary contribution allowed by this section within thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice; otherwise his rate for the ensuing calendar year shall be fixed at two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum.

(5) Rates as fixed by the commission shall stand and be in effect unless and until the cash reserves in the unemployment compensation trust fund at any time in the future fall below twenty-eight million dollars ($28,000,000.00), then the contribution rate of all employers subject to this act shall immediately return to a uniform rate of two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum, and shall continue at the two and seven-tenths (2.7) per centum rate until cash reserves in the unemployment compensation trust fund exceed thirty-two million dollars ($32,000,000.00).

(6) The commission shall by regulation adopt such procedures as may be necessary for the substitution, merging or acquisition of an employer account by an employing unit, and the transfer of such employer account, rights, contributions, benefit experience and ratings to the successor employing unit or units.

(7) The commission shall by regulation provide for the proper notification of employers of the classification and rate of contribution applicable to their accounts. Such notification shall be final for all purposes unless and until such employer files a written request with the commission for a redetermination or hearing thereon within thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice. The provisions of section 87-107 applicable to appeals under claims procedure shall apply with like purpose and effect, and be applicable to hearings and request for redeterminations of classifications and rates of contribution filed by employers hereunder.

(8) "Annual taxable payroll" means the total of the four (4) quarters of taxable payrolls of an employer preceding the computation date as fixed herein.

(d) Wages in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00). Commencing January 1, 1941, the provisions of this act requiring the payment of contributions by employers subject to this act shall apply only to wages paid up to and including three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) by an employer to an employee with respect to employment during any calendar year.

Amendments

The 1953 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

The 1955 amendment reorganized the subsection lettering.

The 1957 amendment in subd. (c), third paragraph, substituted "three (3) years prior to computation date" for "three (3) preceding calendar years"; in subd. (c) (1) substituted "five (5) years prior to the computation date" for "five calendar years"; in subd. (c)(4) deleted the word "average" which appeared twice, before the word "benefit" and before the word "amount," substituted "three (3) years preceding the computation date" for "three (3) preceding calendar years" and added all that portion of this subsection beginning with the proviso clause, and in subd. (c)(5) increased the minimum and maximum reserves from $18,000,000.00 and $22,000,000.00 to $28,000,000.00 and $32,000,000.00.

Separability Clause

Section 6 of Ch. 191, Laws 1953 read: "If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or inoperative, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this act but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part directly adjudged to be invalid or inoperative."

Repealing Clause

Section 7 of Ch. 191, Laws 1953 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

87-110. Period, election and termination of employer's coverage.

Constitutionality, construction and application of provision of Unemployment Compensation Act subjecting to its provisions

Effective Date

Section 8 of Ch. 191, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after the date of its passage and approval and should apply to the benefit payments under section 1 [87-103] of this act as of April 1, 1953. Approved March 4, 1953.

Construction

This statute lends itself to the specific subject of experience ratings, while section 87-138 is general in scope, hence where an employer did not avail himself of the right to file a written request for a re-determination of classification within 30 days after receipt of such notice, such notice was final and the employer could not then make application for an adjustment under section 87-138. Where one statute deals with a subject in general and comprehensive terms and another in a more minute and definite way, the two should be read together if possible but to the extent of any repugnancy between them the special will prevail over the general statute. Wymont Tractor & Equipment Co. v. Unemployment Compensation Comm., 128 M 501, 278 P 2d 208, 210.

Unemployment compensation: right of successor in business to experience or rating of predecessor for purpose of fixing rate of contributions. 22 ALR 2d 673.

87-111. Unemployment compensation fund. Establishment and control. There is hereby established as a special fund, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this state, an unemployment compensation fund, which shall be administered by the commission exclusively for the purposes of this act. All moneys in the fund shall be mingled and undivided.

History: En. Subd. (a), Sec. 9, Ch. 137, L. 1937; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 190, L. 1945; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 171, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment inserted the words "inclusive of voluntary contributions as provided in section 87-109 (c) (4)" in (1) of the second sentence and added (5).

87-112. Accounts and deposits. The state treasurer shall be ex officio the treasurer and custodian of the fund who shall administer such fund in accordance with the directions of the commission and shall issue his warrants upon it in accordance with such regulations as the commission shall prescribe. He shall maintain within the fund three (3) separate accounts: (1) a clearing account, (2) an unemployment trust fund account, and (3) a benefit account. All moneys payable to the fund, upon receipt thereof by the commission, shall be forwarded to the treasurer who shall immediately deposit them in the clearing account. Refunds payable pursuant to sections 87-135 to 87-139 may be paid from the clearing account upon warrants issued by the treasurer under the direction of the commission. After clearance thereof, all other moneys in the clearing account shall be immediately deposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America to the credit of the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund, established and maintained pursuant to section 904 of the social security act, as amended, any provision of law in this state relating to the deposit, administration, release, or disbursement of moneys in the possession or custody of this state to the contrary notwithstanding. The benefit account shall consist of all moneys requisitioned for the payment of benefits from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund. Except as herein otherwise provided, moneys in the clearing and benefit accounts may be deposited by the treasurer, under the direction of the commission, in any bank or public depository in which general funds of the state may be deposited but no public deposit insurance charge or premium shall be paid out of the fund. The treasurer shall give a separate bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as custodian of the fund in an amount fixed by the commission and in a form prescribed by law or approved by the attorney general. Premiums for said bond shall be paid from the administration fund.

87-113. Withdrawals. (a) Moneys shall be requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund solely for the payment of benefits and in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission, except that money credited to this state's account pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may also be withdrawn for the payment of expenses for the administration of this act and of public employment offices, as provided by this act. The commission shall from time to time requisition from the unemployment trust fund such amounts, not exceeding the amounts standing to this state account therein, as it deems necessary for the payment of benefits for a reasonable future period. Upon receipt thereof the treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the benefit account and shall issue his warrants for the payment of benefits solely from such benefit account. Expenditures of such moneys in the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by state officers of money in their custody. Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which such sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or in the discretion of the commission, shall be redeposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America, to the credit of this state's account in the unemployment trust fund, as provided in section 87-112.

(b) Money credited to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund by the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, may be requisitioned and used for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this act pursuant to a specific appropriation by the legislature, provided that the expenses are incurred and the money is requisitioned after the enactment of an appropriation law which: (A) specifies the purposes for which such money is appropriated and the amounts appropriated therefor, (B) limits the period within which such money may be expended to a period ending not more than two (2) years after the date of the enactment of the appropriation law, and (C) limits the amount which may be used during any twelve (12) month period beginning on July 1 and ending on the next June 30 to an amount which does not exceed the amount by which (1) the aggregate of the amounts credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the social security act, as amended, during the same twelve (12) month period and the four (4) preceding twelve (12) month periods, exceeds (2) the aggregate of the amounts used pursuant to this subsection and charged against the amounts credited to the account of this state during any of such five (5) twelve (12) month periods. For the purposes of this subsection, amounts used during any such twelve (12) month period shall be charged against equivalent amounts which were first credited and which are not already so charged; except that no amount used for administration during any such twelve (12) month period may be charged against any amount credited during such a twelve (12) month period earlier than the fourth preceding such period. Money requisitioned for the payment of expenses of administration pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the unemployment compensation administration fund, but until expended, shall remain a part of the unemployment compensation fund. The commission shall maintain a separate record of the deposit, obligation, expenditure, and return of funds so deposited. If any money so deposited is, for any reason, not to be expended for the purpose for which it was appropriated, or, if it remains unexpended at the end of the period specified by the law appropriating such money, it shall be withdrawn and returned to the secretary of the treasury of the United States for credit to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund.

(c) All warrants issued by the treasurer for payment pursuant to this section shall bear the signature of the treasurer and the counter signature of a member of the commission or its duly authorized agent for that purpose.

History: En. Subd. (c), Sec. 9, Ch. 137, L. 1937; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 171, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment divided this section into subdivisions (a), (b) and (c); in subd. (a) added the exception clause to the first sentence; added new material for subd. (b) and in subd. (c) which was formerly the fifth sentence of subd. (a) substituted "pursuant to this section" for "of benefits and refunds."

87-117. Unemployment compensation commission—organization. There is hereby created a commission to be known as the Unemployment Compensation Commission of Montana. The commission shall consist of three (3) members who shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate. They" after the words "Two (2) of the members of the commission" in the second sentence; deleted a sentence which read "Each per diem member shall hold office for a term of six years, except that (1) a member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term; and (2) the terms of office of the member first taking office after the date of enactment of this act shall expire, as designated by the governor at the time of appointment, one at the end of three years, the other at the end of six years" and deleted the word "inefficiency" which appeared after the words "commissioner for" in the last sentence.

Construction

This section is general in scope while section 87-109 lends itself to the specific subject of experience ratings and where one statute deals with a subject in general and comprehensive terms and another in a more minute and definite way, the two should be read together if possible but to the extent of any repugnancy between them the special will prevail over the general statute. Hence, an employer could not make application for an adjustment under this section where he did not avail himself of the right to file a written request for a redetermination of classification within 30 days after receipt of such notice as provided for by section 87-109. Wymont Tractor & Equipment Co. v. Unemployment Compensation Comm., 128 M 501, 278 P 2d 208, 210.

contribution or other payment required from an employing unit under this act, or under the employment security law of any other state, or territory or the federal government or who wilfully fails or refuses to make any such contributions or other payment or to furnish any reports required hereunder or to produce or permit the inspection or copying of records as required hereunder, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days in the county jail or by both such fine and imprisonment; and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact, and each day of such failure or refusal shall constitute a separate offense.

(c) Any person who shall wilfully violate any provision of this act or any order, rule or regulation thereunder, the violation of which is made unlawful or the observance of which is required under the terms of this act, and for which a penalty is neither prescribed herein nor provided by any other applicable statute, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days in the county jail or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

(d) Any person who, by reason of the nondisclosure or misrepresentation by him or by another, of a material fact (irrespective of whether such nondisclosure or misrepresentation was known or fraudulent) has received any sum as benefits under this act while any conditions for the receipt of benefits imposed by this act were not fulfilled in his case, or while he was disqualified from receiving benefits, shall, in the discretion of the commission, either be liable to have such sum deducted from any future benefits payable to him under this act or shall be liable to repay to the commission for the unemployment compensation fund, a sum equal to the amount so received by him, and such sum shall be collectible in the manner provided in this act for the collection of past due contributions. Action for collection of overpaid benefits shall be brought within five (5) years after the date of such overpayment, otherwise to be barred as provided in section 93-2604.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment inserted the words "or under an employment security law of any other state, or territory or the federal government" in subsections (a) and (b), inserted the words "less than $25 nor" in subsections (a), (b) and (c), and raised the maximum term of imprisonment in subsection (a) from 30 days to 60 days.

The reasonable cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash shall be estimated and determined in accordance with rules prescribed by the commission" and in subd. (d) substituted "a" for "such" and "ending at midnight on Saturday" for "as the commission may by regulations prescribe."

TITLE 88—WAREHOUSES AND STORAGE

Chapter 1. Uniform warehouse receipts act, 88-133.

CHAPTER 1—UNIFORM WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS ACT

Section 88-133. Satisfaction of warehouseman's lien—advertisement and sale of goods and disposition of proceeds.

88-110. (4088) Warehouseman when liable for conversion.

Tort liability of warehouseman for theft by servant. 15 ALR 2d 847. Storage charges collectible by warehouseman guilty of negligence causing injury to, or destruction of, goods of a perishable nature. 32 ALR 2d 918.

88-133. (4111) Satisfaction of warehouseman's lien—advertisement and sale of goods and disposition of proceeds. A warehouseman's lien for a claim which has become due may be satisfied as follows:

The warehouseman shall give written notice to the person on whose account the goods are held, and to any other person known by the warehouseman to claim an interest in the goods. Such notice shall be given by delivery in person or by registered letter addressed to the last known place of business or abode of the person to be notified. The notice shall contain—

(a) An itemized account of the warehouseman's claim, showing the sum due at the time of the notice and the date or dates when it became due;

(b) A brief description of the goods against which the lien exists;

(c) A demand that the amount of the claim as stated in the notice, and of such further claim as shall accrue, shall be paid on or before a day mentioned, not less than ten (10) days from the delivery of the notice if it is personally delivered, or from the time when the notice should reach its destination, according to the due course of post, if the notice is sent by mail, and

(d) A statement that unless the claim is paid within the time specified the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

In accordance with the terms of a notice so given, a sale of the goods by auction may be had to satisfy any valid claim of the warehouseman for which he has a lien on the goods. The sale shall be had in the place where the lien was acquired, or, if such place is manifestly unsuitable for the purpose, at the nearest suitable place. After the time for the payment of the claim specified in the notice to the depositor has elapsed, and advertisement of the sale, describing the goods to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person on whose account the goods are held, and the time and place of the sale, shall be published once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the place where such sale is to be held. The sale shall not be held less than fifteen (15) days from the time of the first publication; provided, however, that if there is no newspaper published in such place or if no newspaper published in such place will publish the advertisement provided for herein, the advertisement shall be posted at least ten (10) days before such sale in not less than six (6) conspicuous places therein.

From the proceeds of such sale the warehouseman shall satisfy his lien, including the reasonable charges of notice, advertisement, and sale. The balance, if any, of such proceeds shall be held by the warehouseman, and delivered on demand to the person to whom he would have been bound to deliver or justified in delivering the goods.

At any time before the goods are so sold any person claiming a right of property or possession therein may pay the warehouseman the amount necessary to satisfy his lien and to pay the reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred in serving notices and advertising and preparing for the sale up to the time of such payment. The warehouseman shall deliver goods to the person making such payment if he is a person entitled, under the provisions of this act, to the possession of the goods on payment of charges thereon. Otherwise the warehouseman shall retain possession of the goods according to the terms of the original contract of deposit.

Bridge Repairs

A necessary implication, which a reading of this act (89-101 et seq.) together raises, is that concomitant with the duty of constructing bridges, so as to restore roads, highways and streets to their former usefulness, is a duty of the board to maintain bridges made necessary by the project. State ex rel. Livingston v. State Water Conservation Board, — M —, 332 P 2d 913, 919.

On appeal from a mandamus proceeding to force state water conservation board to repair and rebuild bridges over ditch, owned by board where it crosses city streets, before the supreme court could affirm the judgment of the district court it had to be shown that some law enjoined upon board an affirmative duty to repair the bridges in question. State ex rel. Livingston v. State Water Conservation Board, — M —, 332 P 2d 913, 915, 916.

This section reveals no intention of the legislature that the board has the affirmative duty to repair bridges which are necessitated by its works. State ex rel. Livingston v. State Water Conservation Board, — M —, 332 P 2d 913, 917.

89-801. (7093) What waters may be appropriated.*Diffused Surface Water

Defendants could not be prevented from collecting diffused surface waters on their lands since plaintiffs could not make a valid appropriation for use of such water on their lands located a number of miles below. Doney v. Beatty, 124 M 41, 220 P 2d 77, 82.

Limitation on Rights

The rights of an appropriator of water are limited to the natural condition of the stream at the time the appropriation is made. Jones v. Hanson, 133 M 115, 320 P 2d 1007, 1014.

Prior Rights

Where plaintiff had over the years constructed a series of dikes in order to spread over his land the water which would flow down a dry gulley after the melting of snow or a heavy rainfall, he had a prior right to the extent that his project was finished. He who first diverts the water to a beneficial use has the prior right thereto where the right is based upon the custom and practice of the early settlers and where there was no compliance with the statute. Midkiff v. Kinch-elope, 127 M 324, 263 P 2d 976, 978. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in the case in which it was contended that the waters were flood and waste waters and to which the defendant had a right to impound in a stock reservoir, 127 M 324, 263 P 2d 976, 979.)

Where court concluded that the defendant was entitled to use its water rights out of a certain creek in accordance with a practice which had continued over 50 years, the burden was upon plaintiffs to show injury or prejudice if they sought to prevent the practice. Forrester v. Rock Island Oil & Refining Co., 133 M 333, 323 P 2d 597, 603.

Operation and Effect

Plaintiffs were not entitled to any water rights by virtue of a notice which was given 16 years before the enactment of this section, and where the place the water was to be taken as stated in the notice was a mile from where the plaintiff is claiming the water. *Stearns v. 89-829. (7119) Procedure for appropriating waters of adjudicated streams. (1) Any person hereafter desiring to appropriate the waters of a river, or stream, ravine, coulee, spring, lake, or other natural source of supply concerning which there has been an adjudication of rights between appropriators or claimants, as contemplated in section 89-839, shall:

(a) employ a competent engineer to make a survey of the ditch, or aqueduct, whereby the water is to be conveyed from the source of supply, or the dam or other work whereby the water is to be impounded, or both; or

(b) cause to be prepared an aerial photograph with a drawing thereon showing the course of the proposed ditch or aqueduct, or the location of the proposed dam or other work, or both, together with a description of the course of said ditch or the location of said dam attached thereto; and the appropriators shall file with the clerk of the court in the county in which the water is appropriated a petition giving the amount of water sought to be appropriated, a description by name or otherwise of the water course or body from which he intends to appropriate the water, and a general description of the ditch or aqueduct, stating its size, length, and capacity, showing the proposed means of appropriation and use of the water, and also the place of use thereof. If the means of appropriation be a reservoir by which the water is to be impounded, the petition shall state the location and size thereof, together with the contemplated manner of its construction and the means of conveying the water to the place of contemplated use, and the contemplated use.

(2) There shall be filed with the petition a map or aerial photograph as hereinbefore provided showing the point of, and means of diversion, and the course of the ditch or aqueduct to its terminus, and if a reservoir, the contour line thereof, the height and width of the dam, the point and means of discharge therefrom, and the spillway. If the appropriator shall intend to mingle the waters appropriated from one stream with another, or shall intend to deposit the waters impounded in a reservoir into a stream, he shall so state.

(3) The appropriator shall declare in his petition that the water rights sought by him shall be subject to, and that in the use thereof he shall be bound by the terms of any decree theretofore rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction adjudicating the waters of such river, stream, ravine, coulee, spring, lake, or other natural source of supply, or, any body of water to which the same may be tributary, provided that water stored in a reservoir pursuant to an appropriation hereunder which is subsequent to an adjudication of waters in a flowing stream when so released from storage shall not be considered as a part of the natural flow of said adjudicated stream.

(4) The appropriator shall, as near as may be, give the names of all appropriators or claimants who have, or appear to have, rights in the source of supply, from which the appropriation is sought, and whose rights may be in anywise affected by the appropriation, and in the petition the petitioner shall be named as plaintiff, and all other parties as defendants.

of said state, shall be subject to the terms of this compact. Where the singular is used in this article, it shall be construed to include the plural.

B. The terms "commission" and "Yellowstone river compact commission" mean the agency created as provided herein for the administration of this compact.

C. The term "Yellowstone river basin" means areas in Wyoming, Montana, and North Dakota drained by the Yellowstone river and its tributaries, and includes the area in Montana known as lake basin, but excludes those lands lying within Yellowstone national park.

D. The term "Yellowstone river system" means the Yellowstone river and all of its tributaries, including springs and swamps, from their sources to the mouth of the Yellowstone river near Buford, North Dakota, except those portions thereof which are within or contribute to the flow of streams within the Yellowstone national park.

E. The term "tributary" means any stream which in a natural state contributes to the flow of the Yellowstone river, including interstate tributaries and tributaries thereof, but excluding those which are within or contribute to the flow of streams within the Yellowstone national park.

F. The term "interstate tributaries" means the Clarks Fork, Yellowstone river; the Big Horn river (except Little Big Horn river); the Tongue river; and the Powder river, whose confluences with the Yellowstone river are respectively at or near the city (or town) of Laurel, Big Horn, Miles City, and Terry, all in the state of Montana.

ARTICLE III

A. It is considered that no commission or administrative body is necessary to administer this compact or divide the waters of the Yellowstone river basin as between the states of Montana and North Dakota. The provisions of this compact, as between the states of Wyoming and Montana, shall be administered by a commission composed of one representative from the state of Wyoming and one representative from the state of Montana, to be selected by the governors of said states as such states may choose, and one representative selected by the director of the United States geological survey or whatever federal agency may succeed to the functions and duties of that agency, to be appointed by him at the request of the states to sit with the commission and who shall, when present, act as chairman of the commission without vote, except as herein provided.

B. The salaries and necessary expenses of each state representative shall be paid by the respective state; all other expenses incident to the administration of this compact not borne by the United States shall be allocated to and borne one-half by the state of Wyoming and one-half by the state of Montana.

C. In addition to other powers and duties herein conferred upon the commission and the members thereof, the jurisdiction of the commission shall include the collection, correlation, and presentation of factual data, the maintenance of records having a bearing upon the administration of this compact, and recommendations to such states upon matters connected with the administration of this compact, and the commission may employ such services and make such expenditures as reasonable and necessary within the limit of funds provided for that purpose by the respective states, and shall compile a report for each year ending September 30 and transmit it to the governors of the signatory states on or before December 31 of each year.

D. The secretary of the army; the secretary of the interior; the secretary of agriculture; the chairman, federal power commission; the secretary of commerce, or comparable officers of whatever federal agencies may succeed to the functions and duties of these agencies, and such other federal officers and officers of appropriate agencies of the signatory states having services or data useful or necessary to the compact commission, shall cooperate, ex-officio, with the commission in the execution of its duty in the collection, correlation, and publication of records and data necessary for the proper administration of the compact; and these officers may perform such other services related to the compact as may be mutually agreed upon with the commission.

E. The commission shall have power to formulate rules and regulations and to perform any act which they may find necessary to carry out the provisions of this compact, and to amend such rules and regulations. All such rules and regulations shall be filed in the office of the state engineer of each of the signatory states for public inspection.

F. In case of the failure of the representatives of Wyoming and Montana to unanimously agree on any matter necessary to the proper administration of this compact, then the member selected by the director of the United States geological survey shall have the right to vote upon the matters in disagreement and such points of disagreement shall then be decided by a majority vote of the representatives of the states of Wyoming and Montana and said member selected by the director of the United States geological survey, each being entitled to one vote.

G. The commission herein authorized shall have power to sue and be sued in its official capacity in any federal court of the signatory states, and may adopt and use an official seal which shall be judicially noticed.

ARTICLE IV

The commission shall itself, or in conjunction with other responsible agencies, cause to be established, maintained, and operated such suitable water gaging and evaporation stations as it finds necessary in connection with its duties.

ARTICLE V

A. Appropriative rights to the beneficial uses of the water of the Yellowstone river system existing in each signatory state as of January 1, 1950, shall continue to be enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation.

B. Of the unused and unappropriated waters of the interstate tributaries of the Yellowstone river as of January 1, 1950, there is allocated to each signatory state such quantity of that water as shall be necessary to provide supplemental water supplies for the rights described in paragraph A of this Article V, such supplemental rights to be acquired and enjoyed in accordance with the laws governing the acquisition and use of water under the doctrine of appropriation, and the remainder of the unused and unappropriated water is allocated to each state for storage or direct diversions for beneficial use on new lands or for other purposes as follows:

1. Clarks Fork, Yellowstone River

- a. To Wyoming 60%
- To Montana 40%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from Clarks Fork above Rock Creek.

2. Big Horn River (Exclusive of Little Big Horn River)

- a. To Wyoming 80%
- To Montana 20%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from the Big Horn river above its junction with the Yellowstone river, and the inflow of the Little Big Horn river shall be excluded from the quantity of water subject to allocation.

3. Tongue River

- a. To Wyoming 40%
- To Montana 60%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from the Tongue river above its junction with the Yellowstone river.

4. Powder River (Including the Little Powder River)

- a. To Wyoming 42%
- To Montana 58%

b. The point of measurement shall be below the last diversion from the Powder river above its junction with the Yellowstone river.

C. The quantity of water subject to the percentage allocations, in paragraph B 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this Article V, shall be determined on an annual water year basis measured from October 1st of any year through September 30th of the succeeding year. The quantity to which the percentage factors shall be applied through a given date in any water year shall be, in acre-feet, equal to the algebraic sum of:

1. The total diversions, in acre-feet, above the point of measurement, for irrigation, municipal, and industrial uses in Wyoming and Montana developed after January 1, 1950, during the period from October 1st to that given date;

2. The net change in storage, in acre-feet, in all reservoirs in Wyoming and Montana above the point of measurement completed subsequent to January 1, 1950, during the period from October 1st to that given date;

3. The net change in storage, in acre-feet, in existing reservoirs in Wyoming and Montana above the point of measurement, which is used for irrigation, municipal, and industrial purposes developed after January 1, 1950, during the period October 1st to that given date;

4. The quantity of water, in acre-feet, that passed the point of measurement in the stream during the period from October 1st to that given date.

D. All existing rights to the beneficial use of waters of the Yellowstone river in the states of Montana and North Dakota, below Intake, Montana, valid under the laws of these states as of January 1, 1950, are hereby recognized and shall be and remain unimpaired by this compact. During the period May 1 to September 30, inclusive, of each year, lands within Montana and North Dakota shall be entitled to the beneficial use of the flow of waters of the Yellowstone river below Intake, Montana, on a proportionate basis of acreage irrigated. Waters of tributary streams, having their origin in either Montana or North Dakota, situated entirely in said respective states and flowing into the Yellowstone river below Intake, Montana, are allotted to the respective states in which situated.

E. There are hereby excluded from the provisions of this compact:

1. Existing and future domestic and stock water uses of water: Provided, that the capacity of any reservoir for stock water so excluded shall not exceed 20 acre-feet;

2. Devices and facilities for the control and regulation of surface waters.

F. From time to time the commission shall re-examine the allocations herein made and upon unanimous agreement may recommend modifications therein as are fair, just, and equitable, giving consideration among other factors to:

Priorities of water rights;

Acreage irrigated;

Acreage irrigable under existing works; and Potentially irrigable lands.

ARTICLE VI

Nothing contained in this compact shall be so construed or interpreted as to affect adversely any rights to the use of the waters of Yellowstone river and its tributaries owned by or for Indians, Indian tribes, and their reservations.

ARTICLE VII

A. A lower signatory state shall have the right, by compliance with the laws of an upper signatory state, except as to legislative consent, to file application for and receive permits to appropriate and use any waters in the Yellowstone river system not specifically apportioned to or appropriated by such upper state as provided in Article V; and to construct or participate in the construction and use of any dam, storage reservoir, or diversion works in such upper state for the purpose of conserving and regulating water that may be apportioned to or appropriated by the lower state: Provided, that such right is subject to the rights of the upper state to control, regulate, and use the water apportioned to and appropriated by it: And provided further, that should an upper state elect, it may share in the use of any such facilities constructed by a lower state to the extent of its reasonable needs upon assuming or guaranteeing payment of its proportionate share of the cost of the construction, operation, and maintenance. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper state in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper state in a lower state.

B. Each claim hereafter initiated for an appropriation of water in one signatory state for use in another signatory state shall be filed in the office of the state engineer of the signatory state in which the water is to be diverted, and a duplicate copy of the application or notice shall be filed in the office of the state engineer of the signatory state in which the water is to be used.

C. Appropriations may hereafter be adjudicated in the state in which the water is diverted, and where a portion or all of the lands irrigated are in another signatory state, such adjudications shall be confirmed in that state by the proper authority. Each adjudication is to conform with the laws of the state where the water is diverted and shall be recorded in the county and state where the water is used.

D. The use of water allocated under Article V of this compact for projects constructed after the date of this compact by the United States of America or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, shall be charged as a use by the state in which the use is made: Provided, that such use incident to the diversion, impounding, or conveyance of water in one state for use in another shall be charged to such latter state.

ARTICLE VIII

A lower signatory state shall have the right to acquire in an upper state by purchase, or through exercise of the power of eminent domain, such lands, easements, and rights-of-way for the construction, operation, and maintenance of pumping plants, storage reservoirs, canals, conduits, and appurtenant works as may be required for the enjoyment of the privileges granted herein to such lower state. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper state in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper state in a lower state.

ARTICLE IX

Should any facilities be constructed by a lower signatory state in an upper signatory state under the provisions of Article VII, the construction, operation, repairs, and replacements of such facilities shall be subject to the laws of the upper state. This provision shall apply with equal force and effect to an upper state in the circumstance of the necessity of the acquisition of rights by an upper state in a lower state.

ARTICLE X

No water shall be diverted from the Yellowstone river basin without the unanimous consent of all the signatory states. In the event water from another river basin shall be imported into the Yellowstone river basin or transferred from one tributary basin to another by the United States of America, Montana, North Dakota, or Wyoming, or any of them jointly, the state having the right to the use of such water shall be given proper credit therefor in determining its share of the water apportioned in accordance with Article V herein.

ARTICLE XI

The provisions of this compact shall remain in full force and effect until amended in the same manner as it is required to be ratified to become operative as provided in Article XV.

ARTICLE XII

This compact may be terminated at any time by unanimous consent of the signatory states, and upon such termination all rights then established hereunder shall continue unimpaired.

ARTICLE XIII

Nothing in this compact shall be construed to limit or prevent any state from instituting or maintaining any action or proceeding, legal or equitable, in any federal court or the United States Supreme Court, for the protection of any right under this compact or the enforcement of any of its provisions.

ARTICLE XIV

The physical and other conditions characteristic of the Yellowstone river and peculiar to the territory drained and served thereby and to the development thereof, have actuated the signatory states in the consummation of this compact, and none of them, nor the United States of America by its consent and approval, concedes thereby the establishment of any general principle or precedent with respect to other interstate streams.

ARTICLE XV

This compact shall become operative when approved by the legislature of each of the signatory states and consented to and approved by the congress of the United States.

ARTICLE XVI

Nothing in this compact shall be deemed:

(a) To impair or affect the sovereignty or jurisdiction of the United States of America in or over the area of waters affected by such compact, any rights or powers of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, in and to the use of the waters of the Yellowstone river basin nor its capacity to acquire rights in and to the use of said waters;

(b) To subject any property of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities to taxation by any state or subdivision thereof, nor to create an obligation on the part of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, by reason of the acquisition, construction, or operation of any property or works of whatsoever kind, to make any payments to any state or political subdivision thereof, state agency, municipality, or entity whatsoever in reimbursement for the loss of taxes;

(c) To subject any property of the United States of America, its agencies, or instrumentalities, to the laws of any state to an extent other than the extent to which these laws would apply without regard to the compact.

ARTICLE XVII

Should a court of competent jurisdiction hold any part of this compact to be contrary to the constitution of any signatory state or of the United States of America, all other severable provisions of this compact shall continue in full force and effect.

ARTICLE XVIII

No sentence, phrase, or clause in this compact or in any provision thereof, shall be construed or interpreted to divest any signatory state or any of the agencies of [or] officers of such states of the jurisdiction of the water of each state as apportioned in this compact.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the commissioners have signed this compact in quadruplicate original, one of which shall be filed in the archives of the department of state of the United States of America and shall be deemed the authoritative original, and of which a duly certified copy shall be forwarded to the governor of each signatory state.

89-3002. Substance of agreement.

89-3001. Authority for governor to assent to agreement between United States and Canada regarding waters of Sage Creek Basin. The governor of Montana is hereby authorized and empowered to assent, on behalf of the state of Montana, to an agreement to be entered into between the government of the United States of America and the government of Canada for, and on behalf of, the state of Montana and its citizens, and the Province of Alberta and its citizens, concerning a division of the waters of the Sage Creek Basin, the said basin being the watershed of an international stream; and, if such agreement be entered into, and such assent given, the governor of Montana is hereby authorized and empowered to take such action as may be necessary to carry the agreement into effect.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 23, L. 1957.

Title of Act

An act authorizing the governor of Montana to assent on behalf of the state of Montana to an agreement to be entered into between the government of the United States of America and the government of Canada for, and on behalf of, the state of Montana and its citizens, and the Province of Alberta and its citizens, for a division between said state and said province of the waters of the Sage Creek Basin; prescribing the formula to be used for effecting the division of the subject waters; and waiving certain rights under the boundary waters' treaty signed at Washington on January 11, 1909; and providing an effective date.

89-3002. Substance of agreement. The said agreement shall in substance provide for:

1. Construction, by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration or other agency of the government of Canada, of a reservoir in Canada at Elbow Coulee to provide capacity for approximately 7,500 acre-feet of live storage;

2. Construction, by the same agency, of a "Supply Canal to the United States" on the west side of Sage Creek to carry all of the stored water apportioned to the Montana ranchers from a point in Sage Creek below the reservoir to the point where Sage Creek crosses the international boundary. Final location of this canal will be recommended by the Canadian authorities concerned, after completion of a survey by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration;

3. Formation of a water storage society or other organization of the Canadian ranchers appropriate under Alberta laws which will be responsible for:

(a) maintenance and operation of the reservoir and of the diversion works at the head of the supply canal to the United States;

(b) apportionment of the impounded water as between the Alberta ranchers and the Montana ranchers in accordance with the formula outlined hereunder;

(c) diversion of the United States' share of the impounded water to the supply canal to the United States referred to in paragraph 2 above;

(d) provision of suitable storage apportionment and diversion records to the representative of the Montana ranchers and to the board referred to in paragraph 5 below;

(e) maintenance of Sage Creek channel between the reservoir and the point of diversion to the supply canal to the United States in a condition satisfactory to the board referred to in paragraph 5 below.

4. The water storage society or other organization mentioned in paragraph 3 to cooperate with the Montana ranchers and, as and when requested by a representative of the Montana ranchers, to release and divert to the supply canal to the United States all or part of the Montana ranchers' share of the water then impounded in the reservoir;

5. Inspection of the reservoir, channel and diversion works and the records of the storage society by an international board created by the International Joint Commission, to verify compliance with the terms of the agreement for apportionment of the stored water; said board to recommend subsequently any adjustment which may be appropriate;

6. Maintenance of the supply canal to the United States in a condition satisfactory to the board referred to in paragraph 5 above, to be the responsibility of the Montana ranchers, who will be permitted appropriate access to the canal for this purpose at all reasonable times;

7. Apportionment of water shall apply to water remaining in the reservoir at the commencement of the water year, together with the season run off impounded in the reservoir, regardless of whether the run off occurs during only on period of days or weeks or during two or more such periods. Such water shall be apportioned to the Alberta ranchers and the Montana ranchers in the following manner:

(a) If the amount of water thus available in the reservoir for apportionment during the water year is 3,750 acre-feet or less, one third thereof shall be apportioned to the Montana ranchers and two thirds to the Alberta ranchers;

(b) If the amount is more than 3,750 acre-feet but not more than 5,000 acre-feet, 1,250 acre-feet thereof shall be apportioned to the Montana ranchers and the remainder to the Alberta ranchers;

(c) If the amount is more than 5,000 acre-feet one fourth thereof shall be apportioned to the Montana ranchers and three fourths to the Alberta ranchers; provided, that if in any year the amount is more than 7,500 acre-feet, the water in excess of 7,500 acre-feet shall be made available to the Alberta ranchers if they can use it.

If the capacity of the reservoir for live storage should prove to be less than 7,500 acre-feet, the amounts of water stated above will be reduced proportionately.

8. Measurement of diversions to be made at the point of diversion from Sage Creek to the supply canal to the United States;

9. Reservoir losses, defined as "changes in reservoir storage which are unexplained by inflows and deliveries," and physical losses in Sage Creek channel between the reservoir and the point of diversion to the supply canal to the United States, to be shared in the same proportions as the water impounded in the reservoir;

10. All waters in Sage Creek Basin in Alberta, other than the Montana ranchers' share of water impounded in the reservoir calculated in accordance with the formula outlined in paragraph 7 above, to be available for use in Alberta;

11. The flow of water across the international boundary in the Sage Creek Basin not be obstructed in Montana in a manner which causes or is likely to cause damage in Alberta;

12. In consideration of the apportionments of water to be made pursuant to the aforementioned arrangements, the state of Montana and the Montana ranchers to waive any and all rights they might otherwise assert, under Article II of the Boundary Waters' Treaty of 1909, respecting the waters of the Sage Creek Basin.

CHAPTER 4—TIME

90-407. (10707) Computation of time.

Construction

In 1864 the First Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Montana by the enactment of section 430 of the Bannack Statutes at page 130 incorporated into the law of this jurisdiction the common-law rule and formula for computing time by excluding the first day and including the last which at all times since has been and now is the written law of this jurisdiction. State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, 129 M 243, 284 P 2d 998, 1002, overruling State ex rel. St. George v. Justice Court, 80 M 53, 257 P 1034, State ex rel. Bevan v. Mountjoy, 82 M 594, 268 P 558, Novack v. Perieich, 90 M 91, 300 P 240, and State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

The legislature, by this section, has prescribed the one and only lawful rule or formula for computing both the maximum and the minimum number of days designated in section 75-1606. It computes by "excluding the first day and including the last" day. State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, 129 M 243, 284 P 2d 998, 1002, overruling State ex rel. St. George v. Justice Court, 80 M 53, 257 P 1034, State ex rel. Bevan v. Mountjoy, 82 M 594, 268 P 558, Novack v. Perieich, 90 M 91, 300 P 240, and State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

In computing whether a nomination was made at least 40 days before the day of election, resort must be had to this section which requires that in computing time you exclude the first day and include the last day; thus where date of election was April 3, 1954 the last day for nominating meetings was February 22. State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, 129 M 243, 284 P 2d 998, 1002, overruling State ex rel. St. George v. Justice Court, 80 M 53, 257 P 1034, State ex rel. Bevan v. Mountjoy, 82 M 594, 268 P 558, Novack v. Perieich, 90 M 91, 300 P 240, and State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

Removal of Public Officer

In determining time under section 94-5516 which provides that party charged must be cited to appear "not more than ten nor less than five days from the time the accusation was presented" in action to remove public officer both the first and last day should be excluded. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, overruled in State ex rel. Burns v. Lacklen, 129 M 243, 284 P 2d 998.

Act not to repeal, restrict, qualify or limit, the provisions of sections 91-105 and 91-106. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal, restrict, qualify or limit, the provisions of sections 91-105 and 91-106, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, referring to the state of Montana and its institutions, and enabling the state and its institutions to take by testamentary disposition, devise, bequest, gift or grant, and enabling any person over the age of eighteen (18) years to make donations, gifts, grants, bequests, devises and testamentary dispositions to the state of Montana and its institutions, as in said sections 91-105 and 91-106, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, set forth.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 173, L. 1955.

91-104.2. Application to estates remaining undistributed at the time act goes into effect. This act is hereby expressly declared to be retroactive to the extent that it shall apply to all estates which remain undistributed at the time of the effective date of this act.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 173, L. 1955.

Repealing Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 173, Laws 1955 read "all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, except as herein preserved."

Effective Date

Section 5 of Ch. 173, Laws 1955 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 4, 1955.

91-107. (6980) Written will, how to be executed.

Attestation Clause

Where the attestation clause is regular it presents a prima facie case of the due execution of the will which the court is entitled upon a proper showing to hold prevails over the testimony of the witnesses to the contrary. This is particularly true where the experience and familiarity on the part of the testator with the requisites of the execution of a will exist. In re Swords' Estate, 129 M 165, 284 P 2d 674, 677.

The court may accept statements in the attestation clause as against the mere words of the attesting witnesses to the contrary. In re Swords' Estate, 129 M 165, 284 P 2d 674, 678.

Construction

This section does not direct that the testator must sign or acknowledge his signature to the subscribing witnesses at a time when both such witnesses are present at the same time. Neither does the section direct that the subscribing witnesses must sign the will at a time when both are present or in the presence of each other. To hold otherwise is to read into the section a requirement that is not there and was not written into such section by the legislators who enacted it into law. In re Woodburn's Estate, 128 M 145, 273 P 2d 391, 394.

The purposes of a statute requiring witnesses to a will are fully met and satisfied when this section is interpreted and construed to permit a testator to sign or acknowledge his will to the subscribing witnesses separately; and such witnesses to sign their names while not in the presence of each other. In re Woodburn's Estate, 128 M 145, 273 P 2d 391, 395.

Operation and Effect

A power of attorney to a physician to perform all medical services for decedent for which he was to receive $2,000, any portion of such amount unpaid on her death to be paid by her executor, was invalid unless executed in compliance with this section. 91-108. (6981) Definition of a holographic will.

Operation and effect

An instrument which meets all the requirements of a holographic will under this statute is sufficient to transfer real estate in Montana upon probate. In re Gift's Estate, 125 M 95, 232 P 2d 328, 331.

A letter, written some five years after the execution of a will, in which the deceased states that he wants his son to be administrator and in which no reference was made of the prior will was not a holographic will nor was it a codicil to decedent's earlier formal will. A letter, written some five years after execution of a will, in which the deceased states that he would like for his son to be administrator and the letter makes no reference whatever to any prior will, such letter cannot be a codicil to the prior will. In re Hansen's Estate, 126 M 522, 254 P 2d 1073, 1075.

91-122. (6995) Written will—how revoked.*Operation and Effect

Decedent's will was not revoked by a later letter to his son in which he states that he wants his son to be administrator. The letter made no suggestion or declaration of a revocation of his prior will, nor is there any reference thereto. No attempt was made to comply with the provisions of section 91-125 and this section. In re Hansen's Estate, 126 M 522, 254 P 2d 1073, 1075.

91-125. (6998) Revocation by subsequent will.*Operation and Effect

Decedent's will was not revoked by a later letter to his son in which he states that he wants his son to be administrator. The letter made no suggestion or declaration of a revocation of his prior will nor is there any reference thereto. No attempt was made to comply with the provisions of section 91-122 and this section. In re Hansen's Estate, 126 M 522, 254 P 2d 1073, 1075.

91-136. (7009) Children or issue of children of testator, etc.*Operation and Effect

This section can have no application unless it appears from the will that testatrix unintentionally omitted to provide for the children or the issue of a deceased child. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1142.

Any provision which affords evidence that the child or the issue of any deceased child had not been forgotten is sufficient to prevent the application of this section. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1146.

The words "omits to provide" for any children or for the issue of any deceased child as used in this section mean simply an omission to make a provision in the will and have no reference to the pecuniary value of the provision. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1146.

Purpose of Section

The legislative purpose in enacting this section was not to restrict the testatrix or to dictate to her what provisions she should make. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1146.

Will Construed to Apply to Children

Where will contained provision for "each of my heirs-at-law not elsewhere herein mentioned" to receive the sum of one dollar, such provision applied to children of a deceased child, the residuary clause naming part of the living children by name and another clause specifically dis-inheriting the other living children by name and there was no omission. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1143.

Whether an Adopted Child is "Issue" and Entitled to Legacy through Adoptive Parent

Under section 61-134, an adopted child inherits from his adoptive parent, but there is no alteration in the general rule that "issue" does not include an adopted child when he seeks to inherit not from, but through, his adoptive parent. In re Miller's Trust, 133 M 354, 323 P 2d 885, 887.

91-209. (7024) Words to receive an operative construction.*Children Not Specifically Mentioned

Where will contained provision that the residue of the estate should go to certain named children, and a provision that certain named children were intentionally omitted and another provision that "my heirs-at-law not elsewhere herein mentioned" shall receive one dollar, such latter provision will be construed to apply to children of a deceased child not named in the other provisions of the will. In re

Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1143.

Compliance with Terms of Will

Where will provided that the court should appoint "the nominee of the Roman Catholic Bishop" as executor, the court could not disregard such provision and appoint another as administrator with the will annexed. In re Effertz' Estate, 123 M 45, 207 P 2d 1151, 1154, 11 ALR 2d 1278.

91-211. (7026) Effect of technical words.*"Heirs-at-Law"

The words "heirs-at-law" applied to the children of a deceased child of the testatrix. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1144.

"Heirs," "heirs-at-law," and "legal heirs" are in a legal sense the same. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1143.

"Issue"

In the absence of testator's intention or statute an adopted child was not to be included in a legacy passing to a son and his "issue," since the term "issue" is intended to refer to natural or blood relationships, or descendants. In re Miller's Trust, 133 M 354, 323 P 2d 885, 886.

Operation and Effect

Where the deceased in a holographic will bequeathed certain personal property to a Katherine Clauson and "also the residue of my estate after all bequests are taken care of," the word "bequeath" is sufficient to include real estate located in Montana. In re Gift's Estate, 125 M 95, 232 P 2d 328, 331.

"Proceeds" in will as indicating intention as to whether assets are to constitute principal or income. 1 ALR 2d 194.

91-212. (7027) Technical words not necessary.*Operation and Effect

The word "bequeath" is sufficient to include real estate where the deceased in a holographic will bequeathed certain articles of personal property to Katherine Clauson and "also the residue of my estate after all bequests are taken care of." In re Gift's Estate, 125 M 95, 232 P 2d 328, 331.

"Proceeds" in will as indicating intention as to whether assets are to constitute principal or income. 1 ALR 2d 194.

91-218. (7033) "Heirs," "relatives," "issue," "descendants," etc.*"Heirs-at-Law"

Heirs-at-law are those determined under the Code provisions on succession in force at the time of death of the testatrix. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1144.

"Issue"

This section means that when one makes a testamentary disposition of property to the "issue" of his natural son it is to be understood that by using the word issue he meant only those who would take according to the provisions of the chapter on succession, and this does not mean that where the property passed first to the son of a testatrix with the remainder over to the issue of the son that the meaning of the word "issue" is controlled by this section. In re Miller's Trust, 133 M 354, 323 P 2d 885, 887.

Operation and Effect

Section 91-219 greatly restricts the force of this section and this section has application only to a case where the donation is made by the testator directly to the person designated therein and does not apply to a case where the bequest was given to the adoptive parent and where the adopted child was designated only as the issue of testatrix' son, and the adoption did not take place until after the death of the testatrix. In re Miller's Trust, 133 M 354, 323 P 2d 885, 887.

Under section 61-134 an adopted child inherits from his adoptive parent but the general rule that "issue" does not include an adopted child seeking to inherit through the adoptive parent is not altered by this section. In re Miller's Trust, 133 M 354, 323 P 2d 885, 887.

"Heirs-at-Law"

The words "my heirs-at-law" as used in a will were words of donation expressing a gift, a gratuitous transfer of property from one to another. In re Benolken's Estate, 122 M 425, 205 P 2d 1141, 1144.

Operation and Effect

This section greatly restricts the force of section 91-218. In re Miller's Trust, 133 M 354, 323 P 2d 885, 887, 889.

The validity of a transfer of real property in Montana by means of a holographic will is determined by Montana law. In re Gift's Estate, 125 M 95, 232 P 2d 328, 332.

91-321. Devise or bequest to trustee of inter vivos trust established by testator—validity—property not deemed held under testamentary trust. A devise or bequest may be made by a will to a trustee or trustees of a trust created by the testator or some other person, including a funded or unfunded life insurance trust, although the grantor or settlor has reserved any or all rights of ownership of the insurance contracts, when the trust is established by written instrument executed before or concurrently with the execution of such will. Such devise or bequest shall not be invalid because the trust is amendable or revocable, or both, or because the trust was amended after the date of execution of the will. Unless the will provides otherwise, the property so devised or bequeathed shall not be deemed to be held under a testamentary trust of the testator but shall become a part of the trust to which it is given to be administered and disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the instrument establishing such trust, including any amendments thereto, made prior to the death of the testator, regardless of whether made before or after the execution of the will. An entire revocation of the trust prior to the testator's death shall invalidate the devise or bequest.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 185, L. 1959.

Title of Act

An act to provide for devises or bequests to a trust by will when the trust is amendable or revocable, or both, or because the trust was amended after the date of execution of the will; to provide that the property so devised or bequeathed shall not

Where sale of land was made by oral agreement with administrator without confirmation of court, and thereafter to clear title a petition for sale of land was filed and bids were received, one by the purchaser for the amount so paid and one from another party for more than twice the amount bid by the purchaser (see section 91-3016), and sale was confirmed in such purchaser, such sale and judgment of confirmation were void on objection of the heirs although no fraud was practiced, the heirs not being parties to the proceeding. *Larson v. ### CHAPTER 5—ESCHEATED ESTATES—INHERITANCE BY NONRESIDENT ALIENS—DISPOSAL OF UNCLAIMED PROPERTY

Section 91-502. Title to escheated property vests in state—when.

91-510. Disposition of moneys from escheated estates.

91-512. Duty of attorney general—employment of special assistant.

91-520. Conditions under which aliens in foreign country may inherit.

91-521. Duties of executors and administrators in estates involving alien heirs.

91-502. Title to escheated property vests in state—when. Whenever the title to any property, either real or personal, or mixed, fails for any reason including want of heirs or next of kin, such title shall vest in the state of Montana immediately upon the death of the owner without an inquest or other proceeding in the nature of office found, and there shall be no presumption that such owner died leaving heirs or next of kin; provided that in relation to property other than estates, title shall be presumed to have failed whenever the owner, beneficial owner, or person entitled to any such property within this state has been or shall be and remain unknown for a period of twenty (20) successive years, and during such period whenever the whereabouts of such owner, beneficial owner or persons has been or shall be and remain unknown, and during such period whenever any personal property wherever situated has been or shall be and remain unclaimed, then, in such event, such personal property shall escheat to the state.

All sums escheated under the provisions of the Escheated Property Act shall be deposited by the treasurer in the escheated estates fund; in connection with the recovery of money or property from escheats other than those from estates, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to deduct the costs incurred in reducing such moneys or property to the possession of the state of Montana, which sum shall not exceed five per centum (5%) of the amount so recovered, except for such other costs and fees as the judgment of escheat shall so direct.

Moneys and properties placed in the escheated estates fund shall be held in trust for a period of ten (10) years prior to deposit in the public school fund by the state treasurer; such ten (10) year period being a time within which the owner, beneficial owner, or any person having a right, title, or interest in the property or money escheated may make claim upon the escheated estates fund by the institution of an action for the dissolution of the trust in an amount equal to the full amount or value of the property escheated minus the costs and expenses incident to reducing the same to the possession of the state.

In order to ascertain if any person has knowledge of or is in possession of any escheatable property, it shall be lawful for the attorney general or his assistant to obtain discovery on motion in the district court requiring any such person or persons to divulge any information they may have concerning the possession or location of any property subject to escheat, or any other information pertinent to the recovery of such property by the state of Montana or which information may lead to the discovery of such escheatable property.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 184, L. 1943;
amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 170, L. 1953.

Amendment

91-510. Disposition of moneys from escheated estates. All money or property which is at the time of the passage and approval of this act in the hands of the state treasurer, from escheated estates, shall be placed by him in a fund to be known as the escheated estates fund of the State of Montana: Out of said fund the state treasurer shall pay all claims regularly presented against the state and approved by the state board of examiners in order to defray the costs of enforcing this act and all other acts relating to escheated estates in an amount to be designated and appropriated by the legislative assembly of the state of Montana each biennium. "Costs" shall be construed to mean such expenses as are necessarily employed in the enforcement and administration of the escheated estate laws and all other expenses of enforcing the provisions of the laws relative to escheated estates.

All other sums remaining in the escheated estates fund and not otherwise herein provided for administrative purposes and expenses shall be deposited by the state treasurer in the public school fund on the first day of July, 1953, and on the first day of July of each year thereafter.

Provided further, however, that trust estates created under the provisions of section 91-520, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, as amended, shall not become a part of the escheated estates fund until finally escheated as provided by law.

Such salary and expenses shall be payable monthly from the escheated estates fund.

Repealing Clause

Section 3 of Ch. 193, Laws 1953 repealed

91-520. Conditions under which aliens in foreign country may inherit.
1. No person shall receive money or property, save and except mining property, as provided in section 25, Article III, of the Constitution of the state of Montana, as an heir, devisee and/or legatee of a deceased person leaving an estate or portion thereof in the state of Montana, if such heir, devisee and/or legatee, at the time of the death of said deceased person, is not a citizen of the United States and is a resident of a foreign country at the time of the death of said intestate or testator, unless, reciprocally, the foreign country in question would permit the transfer to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in the United States, of property left by a deceased person in said foreign country.

2. In order to prove reciprocity the alien heir, devisee and/or legatee must establish by competent evidence produced at a hearing to determine heirship; (a) that such foreign country recognizes the right of United States citizens to inherit property left by a deceased person in such foreign country; (b) that such foreign country places no restrictions upon the movement of money or property out of such foreign country to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in the United States.

3. If such proof as required by subsection 2 establishes the fact that such foreign country recognizes the right of inheritance, but restricts the movement of money or property out of such foreign country to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in, and a citizen of the United States, then and in that event, the court upon such a determination, shall at the time of final distribution, order the inheritance of such alien heir, devisee and/or legatee distributed to the state treasurer of the state of Montana, in trust for such named heir, devisee and/or legatee, under such conditions and restrictions as are imposed on the movement of money or property by such foreign country in question to an heir, devisee and/or legatee residing in, and a citizen of the United States.

4. In an action for dissolution of the trust so created, the following jurisdictional facts must be set forth in the complaint: (a) the name of the beneficiary of the trust; (b) the foreign country in which the beneficiary has his permanent residence; (c) the conditions and restrictions imposed upon the trust funds by the court in its decree of final distribution; (d) the fact that the beneficiary is in the state of Montana; (e) the verification of the complaint by the beneficiary before an official of the state of Montana authorized by law to administer oaths; (f) that the action has been commenced within the period of three (3) years of the date the trust was created, unless the conditions of the trust declare a shorter or longer period to exist in the country of the foreign heir's residence and that reciprocally such period has been imposed to satisfy the requirements of reciprocity, hereinabove set forth; (g) in the event that the beneficiary is a minor or insane person, his action must be instituted within the period of limitation herein provided for the commencement of the action, by his guardian, duly appointed under the laws of the country of residence of said minor or insane person and the record of such appointment shall be fully exemplified and attested by a duly accredited representative of the state department of the government of the United States of America in such foreign country; (h) unless the action herein provided shall have been commenced within three (3) years, or such shorter or longer period as is specifically declared as a condition of the trust, as hereinabove required, then such trust funds shall forthwith escheat to the state of Montana, and no action can thereafter be instituted in the courts of this state for the recovery of such escheated trust funds.

5. The action provided for under the provision of subsection 4 hereof shall in all other respects comply with the requisites of section 91-518.

6. No estate in which alien heirs, devisees and/or legatees have a distributive share shall be considered to be in a condition to petition for final distribution, unless, the court enters a written order in such estate decreeing that an action for determination of heirship has been instituted in which the state of Montana was made a party-defendant and that a decree determining heirship has been entered and filed in said action.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment added all that part of this section following the first paragraph.

The 1953 amendment in subsection 4 (f) added the number "(3)" and the part beginning with the words "unless the conditions"; in subsection 4 (h) inserted "(3)", the words "or such shorter or longer period as is specifically declared as a condition of the trust" and the word "hereinabove" between the words "as" and "required."

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 31, Laws 1951 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 144 Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 144, Laws 1953 provided this act should be in effect immediately after its passage and approval. Approved March 2, 1953.

Determination of Heirship by Court

Rather than relying on the opinion of a California court that heirs in Rumania may inherit from persons dying in this country since there is reciprocity between the United States and Rumania, a trial court should make its own determination of whether or not the country of Rumania has reciprocity with the United States in connection with inheritance after due notice is given to the interested litigants that a case decided in a sister state is to be used in connection with its findings and an opportunity afforded all litigants interested to be heard upon the question. Such trial court should also make a determination as to whether or not such foreign country places restrictions upon the movement of money or property out of such foreign country, and if so make its order accordingly. In re Stoian's Estate, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088, 1089.)

Foreign Law—Notice

Before one can rely on a foreign country's law that persons in this country may inherit property located in the foreign country there must be notice given of the intent to rely on the foreign law. In re Stoian's Estate, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 52, 269 P 2d 1085, 1088, 1089.)

Operation and Effect

Where reciprocity was shown and such foreign heirs were residents of Rumania, their shares in the estate of the deceased, by operation of law, passed to the attorney general of the United States, successor to the rights of the alien property custodian, because Rumania was a "designated enemy country." In re Gaspar's Estate, 128 M 383, 275 P 2d 656, 659.

Where the decedent died in 1940, his estate vested immediately in his heirs and the 1951 amendment to this section which requires in proving reciprocity that the alien heir established that such foreign country places no restrictions upon the movement of money or property out of such foreign country, the amendment would not apply to the instant proceeding since it would take away or impair vested rights. In re Gaspar's Estate, 128 M 383, 275 P 2d 656, 662.

Operation of Amendment

Where death occurred in 1949, the estate passed at that time and the amendment made in 1951 can have no application to this estate. In re Spoya's Estate, 129 M 83, 282 P 2d 452, 454.

In decree of distribution court improperly applied the provisions of this section, as amended, in setting up a trust of the property bequeathed and devised to certain foreign heirs, the state holding as trustee, where decedent died November 27, 1948. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 242.

Reciprocity—Burden of Proof

The burden of proving reciprocity falls upon the foreign heirs, because they, being in the foreign country, are in a better position to prove the laws thereof than any other party to the heirship proceedings. The fact that such burden rests upon the foreign heirs does not mean, however, that no other party to the heirship proceedings may make such proof, where it is to their interests to do so. In re Gaspar's Estate, 128 M 383, 275 P 2d 656, 659.

Reciprocity—Proving

Certified copies of decisions of district courts, containing the seal of the court properly authenticated and in substantial compliance with 93-1001-19, showing in substance that in the cases under consideration American citizens either inherited property from the estate of one dying in Yugoslavia or the decision otherwise respected property rights of American citizens in property in Yugoslavia were properly received in evidence. In re Spoya's Estate, 129 M 83, 282 P 2d 452, 456.

Certificates made by the ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Yugoslavia to the United States to the effect that the Constitution and laws of Yugoslavia and treaties between Yugoslavia and the United States accord to citizens of the United States the reciprocal right of inheritance equal to those accorded to citizens of Yugoslavia were properly received in evidence to prove reciprocity. In re Spoya's Estate, 129 M 83, 282 P 2d 452, 456.

The qualification of a witness to testify as an expert is a matter within the sound discretion of the trial court, and where there is no showing of a clear abuse of that discretion the ruling of that court will not be disturbed on appeal. In re Spoya's Estate, 129 M 83, 282 P 2d 452, 455.

It is not a requirement that before a person can be an expert in the field of foreign law that he must have been admitted to practice law in some jurisdiction. In re Spoya's Estate, 129 M 83, 282 P 2d 452, 455.

Portions of the Constitution of Yugoslavia, certified to by the Minister of Justice of Yugoslavia, and relating to the inheritance of private property were properly received in evidence. In re Spoya's Estate, 129 M 83, 282 P 2d 452, 456.

91-521. Duties of executors and administrators in estates involving alien heirs. In any estate where money or property would have vested in any alien person but for the provisions of section 91-520, it shall be the duty of the executor or the administrator thereof, as soon as he shall have completed and filed the inventory and appraisement in said estate to furnish the attorney general with the following written information and file a copy thereof, in the probate proceedings in said estate:

1. The names and addresses of the alien heirs, devisees and/or legatees in said estate;
2. The share, or proportionate share thereof of each of said alien heirs;
3. The appraised value of the entire estate.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 104, L. 1939; am. Sec. 1, Ch. 30, L. 1951.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment provided for the filing of names of alien heirs with the attorney general after inventory and appraisement instead of listing such heirs in the petition for letters and also in the petition for distribution. The amendment also omitted those provisions of the section providing for the disposition of property which would have gone to such heirs. Present provisions for the disposition of such property are found in sec. 91-520.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 30, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

91-701. (10018) Jurisdiction of the court over the estate, etc.*“Domiciliary” and “Ancillary” Administration

Administration in the state where the person was domiciled at the time of his death is deemed the principal or primary administration and is ordinarily termed “domiciliary administration,” while administration in a state other than where the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death but wherein the decedent left property is termed “ancillary” or “auxiliary” administration. In re Smith’s Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Operation and Effect

Where, at the time of decedent’s death his alleged will, wherever executed was a domestic document in Montana wherein decedent was domiciled and left estate and not a foreign writing of some person residing and domiciled in some other state or foreign country, the filing, offering for probate and proving of such domestic will is governed by the provisions of this section, sections 91-801 to 91-812, 91-901 to 91-907 and not by the provisions of sections 91-1001, 91-1002 and 91-1003. In re Smith’s Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Original Probate

Under the provisions of subdivision 1 of this section it is the declared public policy of this jurisdiction that the first, the primary or the original probate of a will should be made in the county in which the decedent was a resident and domiciled at the time of his death. In re Smith’s Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Residence

In the enactment of subdivision 1 of this section the legislature has treated “residence” as synonymous with “domicile.” In re Smith’s Estate, 126 M 558, 255 P 2d 687, 691.

Residence of Decedent

Where decedent was a life long resident of one county but went to another county to a rest home since no similar care could be obtained in his home county and other evidence disclosed that he did not intend to change his residence, he retained his legal residence in his home county. This section is neither mandatory nor jurisdictional. It does not compel action. It merely permits action and then only in a case coming squarely within its provisions.

In re Minder’s Estate, 128 M 1, 270 P 2d 404, 408, 45 ALR 2d 898.

Mere failure of the executor to file his petition for probate and for letters for 30 days or more after learning of testator’s death will not of and in itself effect a forfeiture of the named executor's right to letters testamentary, for, if and when good cause be shown for the delay, then and thereupon, the trial judge is divested of his authority to adjudge an involuntary or implied renunciation of the named executor's right to letters testamentary. The only persons authorized to contest a will are those who, but for the will, would succeed in some degree to the decedent's estate; therefore, an executor named in a prior will cannot contest a codicil naming a new person executor. 91-811. (10030) Proof required when no contest. If no person appears to contest the probate of a will, the court or judge may admit the same to probate:

(a) On the testimony of one of the subscribing witnesses only if he testifies that the will was executed in all particulars as required by law, and that the testator was of sound mind at the time of its execution.

(b) If it appears at the time of the filing of the petition to have the will proved that none of the subscribing witnesses reside in the county, and that the deposition of one of the witnesses to the will can be taken elsewhere, the court may direct it to be taken and may authorize a photographic copy of the will to be made and presented to such witness on his examination, who may be asked the same questions with respect to it and the handwriting of himself, the testator, and the other witness, as would be pertinent and competent if the original will were present.

(c) If none of the subscribing witnesses reside in the county at the time appointed for proving the will, and it is made to appear to the court that the execution of the will cannot be proven under either of the foregoing subdivisions of this section, the court may admit the testimony of other witnesses to prove the sanity of the testator and the execution of the will; and, as evidence of such execution, it may admit proof of the handwriting of the testator and of the subscribing witnesses, or any of them.

91-901. (10032) Contestant to file grounds of contest, etc.

Estoppel

Although estoppel usually must be specially pleaded, in a will contest where grounds for objection to probate of will were that deceased had married after the execution of the will, and petitioner answered alleging the last marriage was void by reason of a previous marriage which had not been dissolved, no further pleading would be permissible under this section and therefore evidence of estoppel to question the validity of the divorce and second marriage was properly admissible. In re Anderson's Estate, 121 M 515, 194 P 2d 621, 626.

Operation and Effect

In a will contest the contestant has the burden of proof and ordinarily should be the one to first submit proof. But where the proponent submitted his proof first and covered the entire field there would be no purpose in going over the same ground a second time. In re Swords' Estate, 129 M 165, 284 P 2d 674, 679.

CHAPTER 10—PROBATE OF FOREIGN WILLS

Section 91-1001. Wills proved in other states to be recorded, when and where.

91-1001. (10039) Wills proved in other states to be recorded, when and where. All wills duly proved and allowed in any other of the United States, or in any foreign country or state, may be allowed and recorded in the district court of any county in which the testator shall have left any estate, provided however, that the primary probate of any will of any testator who, at the time of his death, was a resident of Montana and left estate therein, must be had in the county of his residence in this state, and may not be proved and admitted as a foreign will.

History: En. Sec. 27, p. 246, L. 1877; re-en. Sec. 27, 2nd Div. Rev. Stat. 1879; re-en. Sec. 27, 2nd Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; re-en. Sec. 2350, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 7404, Rev. #### Amendment

The 1953 amendment deleted the words "or shall have been a resident at the time of his death" which appeared after the words "testator shall have left any estate" and added the proviso.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 56, Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 56, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 20, 1953.

Operation and Effect

Where at the time of decedent's death his alleged will was a domestic document in Montana wherein decedent was domiciled and left estate and not a foreign writing of some person residing and domiciled in some other state or foreign country, the filing, offering for probate and proving of such domestic will is governed by the provisions of sections 91-701, 91-801 to 91-812, 91-901 to 91-907 and not by the provisions of sections 91-1001, 91-1002 and 91-1003. ### 91-1002. (10040) Proceedings on production of foreign will.

Operation and Effect

Where the decedent was domiciled in Montana and left an estate, the statutory requirements prescribed in Chapter 8 of Title 91, relating to the offering of the will to probate, notice, and the opportunity to contest, may not be circumvented and evaded by the simple device of first offering decedent's alleged will for probate in California, where decedent also left some property, and then returning to Montana, the state of decedent's residence and domicile, with an authenticated copy of the probate proceedings had in California and thereupon, without any notice whatever to the heirs, legatees, and devisees resident in Montana, obtaining an order admitting the alleged will to probate and granting letters of administration, merely upon the presentation of a petition therefor and the submission of the authenticated copy of the California proceedings. ## CHAPTER 14—PERSONS TO WHOM AND ORDER IN WHICH LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION ARE GRANTED

91-1401. (10068) Order of persons entitled to administer, etc.*Disqualification

Assertion of claim to property, by surviving wife, which others contend belong to the estate does not render her or her nominee incompetent. In re Adkin's Estate, 133 M 27, 319 P 2d 512, 513.

The fact that the nominee of the widow may assert a claim against the estate is no ground of disqualification. In re Adkin's Estate, 133 M 27, 319 P 2d 512, 513.

When litigation arises between the widow and the estate or its creditors, and the estate is insolvent then her interests become so antagonistic to the estate and the creditors that she ought not be appointed executrix or administratrix. In re Adkin's Estate, 133 M 27, 319 P 2d 512, 514.

Where widow was disqualified from serving as executrix by reason of asserting rights adverse to the estate which were involved in litigation, she could not still appoint some one else to serve. In re Adkin's Estate, 133 M 27, 319 P 2d 512, 514.

Failure to Apply—Effect

The fact that son made no application for letters of administration of estate of deceased mother until after application of public administrator, did not work a forfeiture of his right to be appointed where he was laboring under the impression there was no estate to administer. In re Wilcox' Estate, 122 M 290, 201 P 2d 989, 991.

Where persons entitled to preference in appointment as administrator fail to file a petition until letters have been issued to another and have not availed themselves of the provisions of section 91-1504, they cannot have the letters revoked except under the provisions of section 91-1601 or sections 91-2101 to 91-2105. In re Ruane's Estate, 122 M 387, 204 P 2d 1037, 1039.

Operation and Effect

This section is exclusive and mandatory and if person is properly qualified to administer estate the order of priority cannot be deviated from by the court. In re Wilcox' Estate, 122 M 290, 201 P 2d 989, 990.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment substituted the words "the sum determined by the rate established for the same or comparable bonds or obligations by a nationally recognized rating bureau licensed in this state" for the words "one-half of one per cent per annum on the amount of such bond"; deleted the word "therein" which appeared between the words "obligation" and "not" and substituted the words "the sum determined by the rate established therefor by a nationally recognized rating bureau licensed in this state" for the words "one-half of one per cent on the amount of such bond, recognizance, undertaking, stipulation, or other obligation, during each year same has been in force."

Daughter's right to family allowance became lost when she attained the age of eighteen years and upon her remarriage. In re Hall's Estate, 124 M 355, 224 P 2d 138, 140.

Disposition of Allowance as Between Widow and Daughter

Where district court made order for family allowance to both widow and daughter by previous marriage but such payments were discontinued because of insufficient funds in estate, it was proper, where funds thereafter came into estate, to permit payment to widow on amount owing on family allowance so ordered where she was in need and still unmarried, but to deny any share to daughter where she was then over the age of eighteen and married. (2) When it so appears that the value of the whole estate does not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00), and the expenses of his last illness, funeral charges, and expenses of administration, as well as all other debts of the estate have been paid, it is in the discretion of the court or judge, by an order for that purpose after notice to all persons interested to appear on a day fixed to show cause why such order should not be made, to distribute the whole of the estate to the widow, if there be a widow, and if no widow then to the minor child or minor children, in the same manner as above provided in the case where the value of the whole estate does not exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500.00) subject to whatever mortgages, liens or encumbrances there may be upon said estate at the time of the death of deceased. The notice to creditors must be given to present their claims within the time set by law for estates in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00), and those not so presented are barred as in other cases.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment changed the method of distribution. Prior to amendment the first paragraph provided that the judge "must assign, set over and distribute to the widow for the use and support of herself and minor child or minor children, if there be a widow and minor child or minor children, and if there be no minor children, then for the use and support of the widow, and if no widow, then to the minor child or minor children, if there is or are any, for his or their use and support, the whole of the estate, including the fee simple title to the real estate" and the second paragraph contained similar provisions with regard to distribution except that the estate was required to be assigned in the discretion of the judge. The amendment also substituted the words "the time set by law for estates in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00)," for "four (4) months after the first publication of such notice," in the last sentence.

An order of sale standing alone is not sufficient to pass title from the heirs to a purchaser, but there must also be a confirmation of the sale as a condition precedent to the passing of title. Larson v. Whitmer, 124 M 399, 224 P 2d 983, 986.

Operation and Effect

The statute provides the only method by which the heirs may be divested of title to their property in the process of administering the estate and purchasers from an administrator are bound to take notice of these statutory requirements. Larson v. Whitmer, 124 M 399, 224 P 2d 983, 986.

what way an advantage or benefit would accrue to the estate, and those interested therein, by such sale. If any of the matters here enumerated cannot be ascertained, it must be so stated in the petition; but a failure to set forth the facts showing the sale to be necessary will not invalidate the subsequent proceedings, if the defect be supplied by the proofs at the hearing, and the general facts showing such necessity be stated in the order.

91-3013. (10222) Private sale of real estate, how made and notice—bids, when and how received. When sale of real estate is ordered to be made at private sale, notice of the same must be posted in three (3) of the most public places in the county in which the land is situated, such notice to be posted at least ten (10) days before the date of sale. Such notice shall be published in a newspaper if there be one printed in the same county, if none, then in such as the court or judge may direct, once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks. The notice must state a day on or after which the sale will be made, and a place where offers or bids will be received, and the lands and tenements to be sold must be described therein with common certainty. The day fixed for sale must be within ten (10) days from the day of the last publication of notice, and the sale must not be made before the day so fixed, but must be made within six (6) months thereafter. The bids or offers must be in writing and may be left at the place designated in the notice, or delivered to the executor or administrator personally, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of court to which the return of sale must be made, at any time after the first publication of the notice, and before the making of the sale. If it be shown that it will be for the best interests of the estate, the court or judge may, by an order, shorten the time of notice, which shall not, however, be less than one week, and may provide that the sale may be made on or after a day less than ten [10], in which case the notice of sale and the sale may be made to correspond with such order.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment inserted the provision that the notice must be posted at least ten days before date of sale, provided that the newspaper publication should be "once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks" instead of "two weeks successively next before the day on or after which the sale is to be made" provided that the date of sale must be within ten days from day of last publication instead of at least fifteen days from first publication, substituted the provision that the court might fix the time for sale on or after a day less than ten for a provision that the court might fix a day less than fifteen but

91-3108. (10256) Leasing—procedure to procure order—provisions and terms—execution—effect. To obtain an order to lease the realty, the proceedings to be taken and the effect thereof shall be as follows:

1. The executor, administrator, or any person interested in the estate, may file a verified petition showing: The advantage or advantages that may accrue to the estate from giving a lease; a general description of the property proposed to be leased; the term, rental, and general conditions of the proposed lease; and the names of the legatees and devisees, if any, and of the heirs of the deceased, so far as known to the petitioner.

2. Upon filing such petition an order must be made by the court or judge, requiring all persons interested in the estate to appear before the court or judge, at a time and place specified, not less than two nor more than four weeks thereafter, then and there to show cause why the realty (briefly indicating it) should not be leased for the period (stating it), at the rental mentioned in the petition (stating it), and referring to the petition on file for further particulars.

3. The order to show cause must be personally served on the persons residing in the county interested in the estate, at least ten days before the time appointed for hearing the petition, or be published for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county.

4. At the time and place appointed in the order to show cause, or such other time and place to which the hearing may be postponed, the court or judge having first received satisfactory proof of personal service or publication of the order to show cause, must proceed to hear the petition, and any objections that may be filed or presented thereto. Upon such hearing, witnesses may be compelled to attend and testify in the same manner and with like effect as in other cases, and the court or judge may, in its or his discretion, appoint one or more, not exceeding three, disinterested persons to appraise the rental value of the premises, and direct that a reasonable compensation for their services, not to exceed five dollars per day, be paid by the estate. If, after a full hearing, the court or judge is satisfied that it will be for the advantage of the estate to lease the whole or any portion of the real estate, an order must be made authorizing, empowering, and directing the executor or administrator to make such lease. The order may prescribe the minimum rental to be received for the premises, and the period of the lease, which must in no case be longer than for ten years, except that a lease or contract providing for the exploration of the premises for oil, gas or hydrocarbons may provide for a term of ten years and for as long thereafter as oil, gas or hydrocarbons shall be produced in commercial quantities, and may prescribe the other terms and conditions of such lease.

5. After the making of the order to lease, the executor or administrator must execute, acknowledge, and deliver a lease of the premises, for the rent, and period, and with the conditions specified in the order, such lease before it shall become effective shall be approved by the court or judge thereof before delivery, setting forth in the lease that it is made by authority of the order, and giving the date of such order. A certified copy of the order shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of every county in which the leased land, or any portion thereof, lies.

6. Every lease so made shall be effectual to demise and let, at the rent, for the term, and upon the conditions prescribed therein, the premises described therein. Jurisdiction of the court to administer the decedent's estate shall be effectual to vest such court and judge with jurisdiction to make the order for the lease, and such jurisdiction shall conclusively inure to the benefit of the lessee, his heirs and assigns. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings impairs or invalidates the same, or the lease made in pursuance thereof.

Section 91-3801. Proceedings to determine heirship.
91-3802. Appearance of parties.

91-3801. (10324) Proceedings to determine heirship. Any person claiming to be heir to the deceased, or entitled to the distribution in whole or in part of an estate may, at any time after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration upon such estate, file a petition in the matter of such estate, praying the court or judge to ascertain and declare the rights of all persons to said estate, and all interests therein, and to whom distribution thereof should be made. Upon the filing of such petition, the court or judge must make an order directing service of notice to all persons interested in said estate, to appear and show cause, on a day to be therein named, not less than sixty [60] days nor more than four [4] months from the date of the making of such order, in which notice shall be set forth the name of the deceased, the name of the executor or administrator of said estate, the names of all persons who may have appeared claiming any interest in said estate, in the course of the administration of the same, up to the time of the making of said order, and such other persons as the court or judge may direct, including the state of Montana by service upon the attorney general, and also a description of the real estate whereof said deceased died seized or possessed so far as known, described with certainty to a common intent; and requiring said persons, and all persons named or not named having or claiming any interest in the estate of said deceased, at the time and place in said order specified, to appear and exhibit, as hereinafter provided, their respective claims of heirship, ownership, or interest in said estate, to said court or judge, which notice shall be served in the same manner as a summons in a civil action; upon proof of which service, by affidavit or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the court or judge, the court or judge shall thereupon acquire jurisdiction to ascertain and determine the heirship, ownership, and interest of all parties in and to the property of said deceased, and such determination shall be final and conclusive in the administration of said estate, and of the title and ownership of said property, the court or judge must enter an order establishing proof of the service of such notice; if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court or judge that no issue has been joined relative to heirship, then it shall not be necessary in such estate to file a complaint under the provisions of section 91-3802 and the court or judge shall thereupon enter a decree determining heirship, except in such estates in which nonresident alien heirs are entitled to a distributive share of the estate, in which event and before the entry of a decree determining heirship the court shall proceed to a hearing upon the determination of the question of reciprocity between the foreign country of which the nonresident alien heir is a resident and the United States as provided by section 91-520. Further, in all estates in which the decedent left a will, it shall be unnecessary to determine heirship but this shall not relieve any nonresident alien heirs, legatees and/or devisees from satisfactorily establishing their identity and proving that reciprocity exists between the country in which the nonresident alien legatee or devisee resides and the United States as provided under the provisions of section 91-520; provided, that whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the court or judge that such estate consists of personal property only, and upon application being made showing good reason therefor, the court or judge may, in its discretion, make an order directing service of said notice to all persons interested in said estate to be made by posting or publication, or both, for such shorter period as to the court or judge may appear proper and requisite.

Attorneys for Foreign Heirs

Attorneys to represent foreign heirs, appointed by court, under section 91-4316, where court decided that certain nonresident heirs did not have representation in the probate of an estate, had no right to petition for heirship proceedings under this section. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 239.

Jurisdiction of District Court

Allowance of attorney for foreign heirs to file petition for heirship proceedings did not vest the court with requisite jurisdiction to proceed. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 239.

Proceedings must be started by petition before the court acquires jurisdiction. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 238.

A district court, when sitting in probate, while still a court of general jurisdiction, can only function and operate on probate matters by following the mandate laid down by the statute. In re Bell's Estate, — M —, 331 P 2d 517, 520.

Notice of Proceedings

Proceedings for determination of heirship were void where only notice given was that of posting in three public places. In re Bell's Estate, — M —, 331 P 2d 517, 521.

Sufficiency of Petition

Petition is sufficient if it shows that the petitioner is an heir of the deceased or entitled to distribution. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 238.

Attorneys for foreign heirs must have some written authority before they can proceed with the petition. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 239.

When Determination of Heirship Necessary

Decree of distribution was void where not preceded by determination of heirship

Purported decree of distribution, promulgated upon a hearing had December 19, 1940, which was the same day executrix's attorney successfully petitioned for an order to have himself appointed for non-resident heirs averring that there could be no determination of reciprocity as required by section 91-520 because of the war, affirmatively showed that no determination of heirship was had under the provisions of this section and sections 91-3802, 91-3803. In re Bell's Estate, — M —, 331 P 2d 517, 521.

91-3802. (10325) Appearance of parties. All persons appearing within the time limited must file their written appearance in person or through their authorized attorney, such attorney filing at the same time written evidence of his authority to so appear, which written evidence must be in the English language, or if in a foreign language, the same must be accompanied by an English translation thereof, duly certified as correct by a United States consul, entry of which appearance shall be made in the minutes of the court and in the register of proceedings of said estate. And the court or judge shall, after the expiration of the time limited for appearing as aforesaid, enter an order adjudging the default of all persons for not appearing as aforesaid, who shall not have appeared as aforesaid. At any time within twenty [20] days after the date of the order of the court or judge establishing proof of service of such notice, any of such persons so appearing may file his complaint in the matter of the estate, setting forth the facts constituting his claim of heirship, ownership, or interest in said estate, with such reasonable particularity as the court or judge may require, and serve a copy of the same upon each of the parties or attorneys who shall have entered their written appearance as aforesaid, if such parties or such attorneys reside within the county; in all estates in which a nonresident alien heir, legatee and/or devisee has or may have an interest in a decedent's estate, the state of Montana shall be considered a necessary party and must be personally served by serving a copy of the complaint and order on the attorney general; and in case any of them do not reside within the county, then service of such copy of said complaint shall be made upon the clerk of said court for them, and the clerk shall forthwith mail the same to the address of such party or attorney as may have left with said clerk his post-office address. Such parties are allowed twenty [20] days after the service of the complaint, as aforesaid within which to plead thereto, and thereafter such proceedings shall be had upon such complaint as in this code provided in case of an ordinary civil action; and the issues of law and of fact arising in the proceeding shall be disposed of in like manner as issues of law and fact are herein provided to be disposed of in civil actions, with a like right to a motion for a new trial and appeal to the supreme court; and the provisions in this code contained, regulating

Decree of Heirship

A decree of heirship is conclusive on the rights of the parties affected by the decree, and has the same force and effect as does a final judgment. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 235.

If from the judgment roll it affirmatively appears a court acted without jurisdiction the judgment is void and of no effect. In re Hofmann's Estate, 132 M 387, 318 P 2d 230, 239.

Section 91-3901. Distribution of estate—how made and to whom.

91-3901. (10327) Distribution of estate—how made and to whom. 1.

Upon the final settlement of the accounts of the executor or administrator, or at any subsequent time, upon the application of the executor or administrator, or any heir, legatee, or devisee, the court or judge must proceed to distribute the residue of the estate in the hands of the executor or administrator, if any, among the persons who by law are entitled thereto; and if the decedent has left a surviving child, and the issue of other children, and any of them, before the close of the administration, have died while under age and not having been married, no administration on such deceased child's estate is necessary, but all the estate which such deceased child was entitled to be [by] inheritance must, without administration, be distributed to the other heirs at law; provided, that whenever it appears any of the persons claiming to be heirs, or claiming a right to share in said estate, are nonresidents of the United States, then a proceeding to determine their rights shall be held under the provisions and as provided for in the three preceding sections with reference to the determination of heirship.

2. Whenever all the heirs or devisees of any estate who are residents of the United States shall agree that any nonresident of the United States is a lawful heir or devisee of said estate and is lawfully entitled to share therein, said agreement may be reduced to writing and filed with the clerk of the court in the matter of said estate, and thereafter it shall not be necessary for any such nonresident heir or devisee to institute any proceedings to determine his rights of heirship.

3. The provisions of subdivision 2 shall dispense with the proceedings provided for by section 91-3801, insofar as such section relates to establishing heirship, but shall not dispense with the necessity of establishing proof of reciprocity as required in estates in which nonresident aliens are claiming as heirs, legatees and/or devisees.

4. A statement of any receipts and disbursements of the executor or administrator, since the rendition of his final accounts, must be reported and filed at the time of making such distribution; and a settlement thereof, together with an estimate of the expenses of closing the estate, must be made by the court or judge, and included in the order; or the court or judge may order notice of the settlement of such supplementary account, and refer the same as in other cases of the settlement of accounts.

Where the decedent was a resident of California and had used community property funds to purchase land in Montana, there was still an inheritance tax due on the whole of the land value in Montana when it was devised to his wife. She did not have an undivided one-half interest in the Montana land by virtue of the California community property laws, since the effect of the community property laws does not vest title in her automatically but it does enlarge her "bundle of right." Gifts by decedent to his son and daughter were not subject to inheritance tax where the only effect of the mention of these gifts in the will was to explain why the decedent did not give them more and to show that they were not overlooked. 91-4402. Transfers in contemplation of death. When the transfer is of property made by a resident or by a nonresident when such nonresident's property is within the state, or within its jurisdiction, by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift, made in contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death. Every transfer by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift, made within three (3) years prior to the death of the grantor, vendor or donor, of a material part of his estate, or in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, and without a fair consideration in money or money's worth shall, unless shown to the contrary be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this section, but no such transfer by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift, made before such three-year period shall be treated as having been made in contemplation of death providing, however, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to have modified, amended, or repealed the provisions of section 91-4408 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment added all that part of the second sentence beginning with the words "but no such transfer . . . ."

Burden of Proof

Burden of proof is upon the transferee to overcome the presumption that the gift was made in contemplation of death if the transfer was made within three years prior to the death of the donor. But, if the gift were made more than three years prior to the death of the grantor, the burden of proof is upon the state to show that in fact the gift was made in contemplation of death. In re Ludington's Estate, — M —, 333 P 2d 873, 874.

Correction of Deed

In a proceeding by wife to terminate joint tenancy and determine inheritance tax, decedent having died on December 11, 1954, at age of 74 years, from injuries sustained in an automobile accident, the court properly excluded one-half the value of the farm land from the inheritance tax, where transfer of title was made by decedent to himself and his wife to correct error in deed to him alone in 1938, on December 9, 1952, while decedent was in good health and was not contemplating death. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 455.

Deed in Escrow

Where deed to hotel property was deposited in escrow and the agreement required the grantee, a stranger, to pay certain specified amounts monthly for a period of three years after which he was to pay a certain amount monthly for the remainder of the lifetime of the grantor which amount was not disproportionately less than the value of the property and the grantee was to have immediate possession, make repairs and carry insurance on the property, there was not a taxable transfer of property in contemplation of death. In re Sebree's Estate, 122 M 509, 206 P 2d 553.

Determination of Whether or Not Gift is in Contemplation of Death

Generally, the test to be applied is to ascertain the dominant motive of the donor in the light of his bodily and mental condition, and "the best evidence of the decedent's state of mind at the time and the reasons for making the transfers are the statements and expressions of the decedent himself." In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 844.

Family Partnership

Decedent, who died intestate on November 12, 1952, at age 78, on December 10, 1951, gave undivided one-seventh interest in his ranch, livestock, and equipment used in its operation, to each of his five children and his wife, retaining an undivided one-seventh interest for himself, and the family then organized a partnership to continue operations. Donor paid federal gift tax thereon. At the time of the transfers donor was in good health and making preparations for a trip to Africa. District court properly held that the transfers were not made in contemplation of death and were not taxable. In re Keating's Estate, — M —, 332 P 2d 906, 908.

Gifts Not in Contemplation of Death

Where decedent after forming a corporation for the operation of his farm transferred some of the stock to members of his family who had been working on the farm and evidence disclosed that it was because he had offered them a share in the business if they worked in it, the gifts were not in contemplation of death and were made for purposes associated with life rather than with death. In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 844.

Gift to Daughter

Sometime prior to May 3, 1949, deceased made a gift of $10,000 to his daughter, who was seeking a loan rather than a gift, but was informed by her father that he preferred to make a gift outright, which was explained in his will. Decedent died on May 4, 1954, at the age of 72 years. This amount was properly excluded from his estate for the purpose of inheritance tax. In re Ludington's Estate, — M —, 333 P 2d 873, 874.

Joint Bank Account

Where money, solely the property of one person, was deposited in a joint bank account payable either to her or the other person without consideration, and such deposit was made within three years of the death of the person, half of the account was a gift in contemplation of death and taxable under this section, and after the death of the person, the half then received by right of survivorship is taxable under section 91-4405. State Board of Equalization v. Cole, 122 M 9, 195 P 2d 989.

Presumption

The transfer of one-half interest in farm land to wife, having been made within three years prior to the death of the grantor, is presumed to have been made in contemplation of death, unless shown to the contrary. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 455.

Satisfaction of Mortgage

Forgiveness of debt, which was not made by will, but made by a duly executed and recorded satisfaction of mortgage made and recorded more than three years prior to the death of the decedent, was properly excluded from his estate for the purpose of inheritance tax. In re Ludington's Estate, — M —, 333 P 2d 873, 875.

United States Savings Bonds

Where person with her own funds purchased Series G United States savings bonds payable to her or in the alternative to another person named on the bonds and she retained control of the bonds they were not "held in the joint names of two or more persons" within the meaning of section 91-4405, and they amounted to a transfer to take effect at or after death taxable at their full market value under this section. State Board of Equalization v. Cole, 122 M 9, 195 P 2d 989, 997.

For there to be an absolute inter vivos gift and not taxable as a transfer in contemplation of death, there must be the expiration of the presumptive period and an absence of proof to the contrary. If there is no delivery to the cotenant, the transfer is one to take effect at or after death and taxable as such. In re Marsh's Estate, 125 M 239, 234 P 2d 459, 462.

Law Applicable

Where trust was created in the year 1915 under which certain persons were to receive portions of the trust funds on the death of settlor of the trust who died in 1945, the transfer, for inheritance tax purposes, was to be taxed at the rate in existence in 1945 and not at the rate in existence in 1915. In re Kohr's Estate, 122 M 145, 199 P 2d 856, 5 ALR 2d 1046.

91-4404. Transfers under power of appointment.

Inheritance, succession, or estate tax on property covered by power of appointment as affected by location of property, or residence of parties, outside the taxing state or country. 19 ALR 2d 1415.

91-4405. Joint estates, government bonds, tenants by the entirety, joint bank accounts, and similarly held property. Whenever any property, however acquired, real or personal, tangible or intangible, including government bonds of the United States, inscribed in co-ownership form, or held in joint tenancy by two [2] or more persons, or as tenants by the entirety, or is deposited in any bank or other depository in the joint names of two [2] or more persons and payable to the survivor or survivors of them upon the death of one of them, the right of the survivor or survivors to the immediate possession or ownership is a taxable transfer. The tax is upon the transfer of decedent's interest, one-half or other proper fraction, as evidenced by the written instrument creating the same, as though the property to which the transfer relates belonged to the joint tenants, tenants by the entirety, joint depositors, holders in co-ownership form, or persons, as tenants in common, and had been, for inheritance tax purposes, bequeathed or devised to the survivor or survivors by will, except such part thereof as may be shown to have originally belonged to the survivor and never to have belonged to the decedent. This section shall not be construed to repeal or modify the provisions of section 91-4402, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947.

History: En. Sec. 1 (part), Ch. 65, L. 1923; amd. Sec. 1 (part), Ch. 150, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1 (part), Ch. 105, L. 1927; amd. Sec. 1 (part), Ch. 186, L. 1935; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 181, L. 1951.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment revised the wording of this section, adding the last sentence and changing the description of the property to which the section applies, the former description being "any property, real or personal * * * held in the joint names of two or more persons, or as tenants by the entirety, or is deposited in banks or other institutions or depositories in the joint names of two or more persons and payable to either or the survivor."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 181, L. 1951 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith, except as provided in that act.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 181, L. 1951 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1951.

Cross-Reference

See annotations to sec. 91-4402. State Board of Equalization v. Cole, 122 M 9, 195 P 2d 989.

Construction

The exception at the end of this section means "except such part of the decedent's fractional share of the property thus deemed to be bequeathed or devised by will as may be shown to have originally belonged to the survivor and never to have belonged to the decedent prior to the creation of the joint tenancy." In re Kuhr's Estate, 123 M 593, 220 P 2d 83, 85.

Entire Estate Property of Surviving Spouse—No Tax Due

Where property held in joint tenancy by husband and wife was purchased with the funds of the surviving husband, no inheritance tax was due on such property. In re Kuhr's Estate, 123 M 593, 220 P 2d 83, 85.

Operation and Effect

Where a husband and wife purchase land jointly and the funds come from a joint bank account to which it can be shown that the husband originally contributed all the money, one-half of the realty is considered the wife's share upon her death and it is subject to the tax imposed by this section. The fact that the consideration at some previous time came as a gift from one spouse to another is unimportant. In order for the exception in the statute to apply, it must be shown that the immediate joint tenancy originally belonged to the survivor prior to the creation of the immediate joint tenancy. State v. Hanson, 125 M 174, 232 P 2d 342, 344.

In the case of joint bank accounts where it can be shown that the money was originally furnished by the survivor and none by the decedent the account is not taxable for it comes within the exception in this section. State v. Hanson, 125 M 174, 232 P 2d 342, 345.

Where the husband and wife hold a promissory note jointly it is taxable under this section. The property so taxed is the credits or choses in action, the various promissory notes, and that property never had belonged to the survivor prior to its acquisition by the husband and wife. State v. Hanson, 125 M 174, 232 P 2d 342, 346.

In estates where the death occurred before March 1, 1951, the effective date of this section; the tax on government series E and G bonds is generally imposed by section 91-4402. In re Marsh's Estate, 125 M 239, 234 P 2d 459, 462.

United States Savings Bonds

United States savings bonds registered jointly in the name of the decedent and one of her three children and kept in a safe deposit box in the name of the decedent and one of her children to which such daughter had access did not constitute a gift to any of the children, the possession remaining joint and the bonds were taxable. In re Brown's Estate, 122 M 451, 206 P 2d 816, 821.

Government bonds can never be held in tenancy by the entirety, because either cotenant may sell the bonds upon surrender of the bond and receive the full accrued value; while the very characteristic that distinguishes the tenancy by the entirety from other cotenancies is that neither of the cotenants alone can terminate the tenancy or sever the estate. In re Marsh's Estate, 125 M 239, 234 P 2d 459, 461, 462.

91-4406. Insurance part of estate.

Amount of Exclusion from Gross Estate

Decedent's gross estate aggregated $378,916.29, $64,761.33 thereof represented proceeds from life insurance policies. Of this, $16,536.29 was payable to named beneficiaries. The balance of the life insurance proceeds, $48,225.04 was made payable to the executor of the estate. District court was not in error in determining that $50,000 was exempt from inheritance tax. In re Cline's Estate, 132 M 328, 317 P 2d 874, 875.

Annuity Proceeds

Where total amount of annuity proceeds and insurance was $53,276.26, and the amount of proceeds from the annuity was $2,813.61, the $50,000 exemption did not extend to these annuity proceeds. In re Coleman's Estate, 132 M 339, 317 P 2d 880, 883.

Application of Statute

This is a specific statute exempting all insurance proceeds up to $50,000 and taxing insurance proceeds over and above that amount. It makes no difference to whom the proceeds are payable, whether named beneficiaries, trustees, or personal representatives of the decedent. In re Cline's Estate, 132 M 328, 317 P 2d 874, 875; In re Coleman's Estate, 132 M 339, 317 P 2d 880, 883.

Naming ultimate beneficiaries of life insurance policies in trust agreement and not in insurance policies did not make proceeds subject to tax to the extent that they did not exceed $50,000. In re Coleman's Estate, 132 M 339, 317 P 2d 880, 883.

Insurance Defined

Annuity policies are "insurance" within the meaning of this section. In re Hammerstrom's Estate, 133 M 469, 326 P 2d 699; In re O'Grady's Estate, 133 M 595, 326 P 2d 705.

Proceeds of life insurance policies which have matured as endowments and which are left with the insurance company at a fixed rate of interest, the principal sum payable at death, in accordance with one of the optional modes of settlement, are not exempt under the insurance exemption of this section. In re Harper's Estate, 124 M 52, 218 P 2d 927.

91-4407. Tax on clear market value—deductions. The tax so imposed shall be upon the clear market value of such property passing by any such transfer to each person, institution, association, corporation or body politic, at the rates hereinafter prescribed and only upon the excess of the exemption hereinafter granted to such person, institution, association, corporation or body politic, and in determining the clear market value of the property so passing by any such transfer the following deductions, and no other shall be allowed; debts of the decedent owing at the date of death, expenses of funeral and last illness, all Montana state, county, municipal and federal taxes, including all penalties and interest thereon, owing by decedent at the date of death, the ordinary expenses of administration, including the commissions and fees of executors and administrators and their attorneys actually allowed and paid, including attorneys' fees, filing fees, necessary expenses and closing costs incident to proceedings to terminate joint tenancies, termination of life estates and transfers in contemplation of death, and any and all other proceedings instituted for the determination of inheritance tax, and federal estate taxes due or paid.

Construction

The words "actually allowed and paid" as used in the statute do not relate to the ordinary expenses of administration. In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 846.

Expenses of Administration

In a proceeding under section 91-4321 to terminate joint tenancy and have inheritance tax determined court should not have allowed as expenses, the attorney fee, filing fee, and estimated closing expenses, for these were all expenses of administration, and there being no estate, there could be no expenses of administration. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 454.

Operation and Effect

This statute is clear and direct and declares no deduction shall be allowed except those specified therein. In re McAnelly's Estate, 127 M 158, 258 P 2d 741, 748.

Ordinary Expenses

While ordinarily the appraisers are the ones who fix the value of the property of an estate, where the estate consists of stock in a closely held corporation, the services of an accountant may become necessary to determine the fair market value of the stock and the cost of such services are an ordinary expense in the administration of the estate. In re Warren's Estate, 128 M 395, 275 P 2d 843, 846.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Interest on Federal Estate Tax

Interest on federal estate tax is not deductible under this section since it is not mentioned. The statute is clear and direct and declares no deduction shall be allowed except those specified therein. In re McAnelly's Estate, 127 M 158, 258 P 2d 741, 748.

91-4413. Exemption of intangible personal property, etc.*Character of Property at Death

It is the character of the property at death that determines whether it is real or personal property and whether it is subject to a transfer tax. In re Briebach's Estate, 132 M 437, 318 P 2d 223, 225.

Contracts for Sale of Real Estate

Decedent had been a resident of Montana but had moved to California where he resided at the time of his death. During his lifetime he contracted to sell land in Montana. Rights passing to widow under the contracts was properly excluded from the gross value of the estate subject to an inheritance tax

Partnership Property

When partnership is settled and the debts are paid, the real estate of the partnership retains its character as such and is not tax exempt as intangible property. In re Perry's Estate, 121 M 280, 192 P 2d 532, 537.

As to personal property of a partnership, only so much thereof as is necessary to discharge the duties imposed on the survivor passes to him and the balance of the partnership property should be divided between the surviving partners and the heirs of the deceased partner, which retains its character as tangible property and is not tax exempt. Failure to serve such notice or to allow such examination or to retain a sufficient portion or amount to pay such tax as herein provided, shall render said safe deposit company, trust company, bank, or other institution, person or persons, or such corporation, liable to the payment of the tax due upon said securities or assets in pursuance of the provisions of the inheritance tax laws. The state board of equalization may issue a certificate authorizing the transfer of any such stock, securities or assets whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the said board that no tax is due thereon; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions shall not apply to shares of stock in any Montana corporation held by a nonresident of Montana at the time of his death whose death occurred on or after January 30, 1945, and who was at the time of his death domiciled in any other district or state of the United States, provided reciprocal rights are granted by such district or state of domicile similar to section 91-4413, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, and in such event this subsection (2) shall not apply to the transfer of stocks, bonds, mortgages or other securities exempt from taxation under the provisions of section 91-4413, and a Montana corporation, or its agent, may transfer stocks, bonds, mortgages and other securities without any liability for the tax imposed under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws where there are reciprocal rights as set forth in section 91-4413, and in such event no application for consent to transfer such stock need be made to the state board of equalization of the state of Montana, and the corporation, or its duly authorized transfer agent may transfer such shares of stock upon its books without any such application or consent to transfer.

(3) Whenever a tax may be due from the estate, or the beneficiaries therein, of any resident or nonresident decedent upon the transfer of any property, when the property or the estate left by such decedent is partly within and partly without this state, or upon any stocks, bonds, mortgages, or other securities representing property or estate partly within and partly without this state, any beneficiary of such estate shall be entitled to deduct only his proper proportion of that portion of the total debts and expenses of administration which the gross estate in Montana or within its jurisdiction bears to the gross estate both within and without this state, but no deduction shall be made for any federal estate, inheritance, succession or transfer taxes paid to the United States. As to his Montana exemption, each beneficiary shall be entitled to deduct only that portion represented by the ratio between his interest in the property in this state or within its jurisdiction and his interest in the entire estate.

(4) The state board of equalization shall require such reports and information and shall make such orders, rules, and regulations as it may deem necessary to enable the said board to secure the necessary information from domestic corporations, and to ascertain the amount of and collect such tax; and no holding company or other corporation subject to the provisions of this section shall deliver or transfer any such stocks, bonds, mortgages, or other securities of a Montana corporation without retaining a sufficient portion thereof to pay any tax which may thereafter be assessed under the provisions of this act on account of such transfer, except upon order of the proper court or a certificate of consent of the state board of equalization.

(5) Any corporation or holding company violating the provisions of this section shall be liable to the state for the amount of the tax together with a penalty of ten per centum (10%) thereof.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 62, Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment inserted the number "(10)" in subsection 2 and added the proviso in that subsection.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 62, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 20, 1953.

91-4423. (10400.13) Jurisdiction of district court—notice to state board required before hearing. The district court of every county of the state having jurisdiction to grant letters testamentary or of administration upon the estate of a decedent whose property is chargeable with any tax under the inheritance tax laws, or to appoint a trustee of such estate or any part thereof, or to give ancillary letters thereon, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions arising under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws, and to do any act in relation thereto authorized by law to be done by a district court in other matters or proceedings coming within its jurisdiction; and if two [2] or more district courts shall be entitled to exercise any such jurisdiction, the district court first acquiring jurisdiction hereunder, shall retain the same to the exclusion of every other district court.

Before any decree determining inheritance tax in any estate shall be made by the court, the court shall require proof that due notice has been given to the state board of equalization before the hearing upon the petition to have inheritance tax determined, whether such hearing be at the time of the hearing on the final account or otherwise; and the court shall likewise require proof that a copy of such petition has been given to the board not later than the time of giving the notice; and, before the time fixed in said notice, said board shall cause to be filed, with the clerk of the district court, a certificate signed by the board stating that the amount of the inheritance tax determined to be due the state of Montana as appearing in the report or petition, has been properly computed therein or, if no tax is due, such certificate shall so state; and, if the board shall object to the amount of the tax so computed, the board shall, before the time fixed for the hearing, file with the clerk of the court its written objections thereto, setting forth therein the nature of the objections. If neither such certificate nor objections shall have been filed at the time fixed for the hearing, it shall be conclusively presumed that the board concurs in the amount so computed.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment substituted the last paragraph for a paragraph which read, "Before decree of distribution in any estate shall be issued by the district judge, or the issuance of an order discharging the executor, administrator or trustee of any estate, there shall be filed with the clerk of the district court a certificate signed by the state board of equalization stating that the amount of inheritance tax determined to be due to the state of Montana, as appearing in the order of the court determining tax, has been properly computed, or if no tax is due such certificate shall so state."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 79, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

91-4430. (10400.20) Notice of hearing. Notice of such hearing to determine the inheritance tax shall be given in the same manner and may be included in the notice of hearing the administration account, as provided by law. A copy of the application for exclusion of any property to avoid inheritance tax thereon shall be given with notice of hearing thereof, and notice of any such hearing shall be mailed to the state board of equalization not less than fifteen (15) days before such hearing, upon notice forms provided by said board and containing such information as it may require.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 65, L. 1923; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 150, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 141, L. 1927; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 80, L. 1949.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment inserted that part of the second sentence to the first comma, substituted "and notice of any such hearing" for "Notice in writing of such hearing," increased the time from ten to fifteen days and substituted "notice forms provided by said board and containing such information as it may require" for "such blanks and containing such information as the state board of equalization may provide."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 80, L. 1949 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 80, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 24, 1949.

91-4432. (10400.22) Appraisal at clear market value at time of death, etc.

Widow's Life Estate

Decedent left a will giving wife residue and remainder of his property during the term of her natural life, provided she should remain his widow, with right to dispose of the same or any part thereof, for her use, support and maintenance, at her discretion. A following paragraph gave to his two daughters, in equal shares, the property referred to in the preceding paragraph to come into possession thereof at the death or remarriage of the wife. The widow never remarried and died within six months after death of testator. Net estate of taxable value of $99,022.61 passed under the paragraphs mentioned, of that amount court properly found that $18,784.19 passed to the widow where amount was calculated upon the basis of her life expectancy of 5.72 years. In re Bishir's Estate, 132 M 558, 318 P 2d 576, 577.

91-4434. (10400.24) Repealed.

Repeal

This section (Sec. 15, Ch. 65, L. 1923; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 150, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 141, L. 1927), relating to inheritance tax on property transferred subject to any charge, estate or interest determinable by death, was repealed by Sec. 1, Ch. 100, Laws 1955.

91-4438. (10400.28) Rehearing within sixty days.

Supervisory Control

The Supreme Court was without jurisdiction in State ex rel. Blankenbaker v. District Court, 109 M 331, 96 P 2d 936 to review the record of the proceedings on its writ of supervisory control since the relatrix had a clear and adequate remedy by appeal from the judgment and order fixing the tax which she was required to pay, all duly prescribed by written law, but she failed to avail herself of such remedy and the judgment and order. Hence the opinion, decision and holding of this court in the case of State ex rel. Blankenbaker v. District Court, 109 M 331, 96 P 2d 936, are expressly disapproved and overruled. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 705.

91-4440. (10400.30) Collection of unpaid taxes.

Evidence of Value

Evidence that furniture was old and of little value may be admitted although no answer or reply was filed to controvert the verified affirmative allegations of the state since only those pleadings enumerated in the statute are necessary. In re Seebree's Estate, 122 M 509, 206 P 2d 553, 555.

91-4441. (10400.31) Special administration to determine tax, etc.

Termination of Joint Tenancy

Petitioner in a petition to terminate a joint tenancy under section 91-4321 may do every act required by this statute (91-4401 et seq.) including the filing of an inventory of all property of the deceased, and the making and filing of the required State Board Forms No. 2-F and 3-A reports, or the petitioning of the district court for exclusion of property from inheritance tax. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 454.

Where petitioner seeks a determination of inheritance tax under section 91-4321 by filing inventory of property of deceased and reports required by state board, if the state board believes that property subject to tax has not been reported, it may in its objections to the 3-A report, set forth the same, and the court will determine the matter at the hearing to determine the tax due. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 454.

Intangible Property

The interest of a vendor in a contract to sell real estate is intangible property.

CHAPTER 45—GUARDIAN AND WARD

91-4509. (5876) Guardian of property of nonresident person, etc.

Failure to Appoint Attorney for Minor

Fact that no attorneys were appointed to represent minors in proceeding for sale of real estate by administrator of estate did not affect the validity of the proceedings under section 91-4316. Haugan v. Yale Oil Corp., 124 M 1, 217 P 2d 1084, 1087.

91-4515. (5878) Rules of awarding custody of minors.

Modification

When the custodial fitness of neither spouse is questioned a bill of exceptions and a judgment roll reflecting four modifications of custody orders in nine weeks, no matter how well intended or by whom sought or ordered, supported by undisputed testimony, is clear prima facie record of substantial change affecting the children warranting modification of decree. Trudgen v. Trudgen, — M —, 329 P 2d 225, 228.

In hearings on motions to modify child custody orders, parties desiring written findings of facts and conclusions of law must move for them in writing at the close of the evidence, as the statute requires. Even then, if the evidence justifies but one conclusion, formal findings are not necessary. Trudgen v. Trudgen, — M —, 329 P 2d 225, 230.

Mother Preferred

Other things being equal, custody in the mother is to be preferred where children are of tender years. Trudgen v. Trudgen, — M —, 329 P 2d 225, 226.

Operation and Effect

On a hearing of a modification of a decree which awarded the father custody of the minor child, the trial court did not abuse his discretion in denying the motion to modify the decree. While there has been a change of condition surrounding the mother since she has since remarried and maintains a home there was no showing that the father has not taken good care of the infant and there is evidence that the mother hasn't visited the child for some time. Barham v. Barham, 127 M 216, 259 P 2d 805. (See, however, dissenting opinion, 127 M 216, 259 P 2d 805, 807.)

Residence of Children

Limitations on residence of children are to be conditioned by what appears best for the children and the trial judge is invested with much discretion in these matters. Trudgen v. Trudgen, — M —, 329 P 2d 225, 230.

Court is without authority to appoint a guardian of the person and estate without service of a notice of the time and place of the hearing of the guardianship petition, and a guardian appointed without such notice is a guardian de facto. Grauman v. Chambers, 122 M 31, 198 P 2d 629, 632.

91-4704. (10415) Petition for restoration to capacity. A person who has been declared insane or incompetent, or the guardian, or any relative of such person within the third degree, or any friend, may apply, by petition, to the district court of the county in which he was declared insane, to have the fact of his restoration to capacity judicially determined. The petition shall be verified, and shall state that such person is then sane or competent. Upon receiving the petition, the court or judge must appoint a day for a hearing before the court, and, if the petitioner request it, shall order an investigation before a jury, which shall be summoned and impaneled in the same manner as juries are summoned and impaneled in civil actions. The court or judge shall cause notice of the trial to be given to the guardian of a person so declared insane or incompetent, if there be a guardian, and to his or her husband or wife, if there be one, and to his or her father or mother, if living in the county, and to the superintendent of Montana state hospital in all cases in which the petitioner is on parole from said hospital. On the trial, the guardian or relative of the person declared insane or incompetent, the superintendent of Montana state hospital, and, in the discretion of the court or judge, any other person, may contest the right to the relief demanded. Witnesses may be required to appear and testify, as in civil cases, and may be called and examined by the court or judge on its or his own motion. If it be found that the person be of sound mind, and capable of taking care of himself and his property, his restoration to capacity shall be adjudged, and the guardianship of such person, if such person shall be not a minor, shall cease. The clerk of the court by which such petition is determined shall mail a copy of the order determining the same to the superintendent of Montana state hospital.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment added the words "and to the superintendent of Montana state hospital in all cases in which the petitioner is on parole from said hospital" at the end of the fourth sentence; inserted the words "the superintendent of Montana state hospital" in the fifth sentence; inserted the words "or his" appearing after the words "court or judge on its" in the sixth sentence and added the last sentence.

Section 91-4818. Commitment to veterans' administration or other agency of United States government.

91-4818. Commitment to veterans' administration or other agency of United States government.

(1) and (2). * * * [Subdivisions (1) and (2), same as parent volume.]

(3) Upon receipt of a certificate of the veterans' administration or such other agency of the United States that facilities are available for the care or treatment of any person heretofore or hereafter committed to any hospital for the insane or other institution for the care or treatment of persons similarly afflicted and that such person is eligible for care or treatment, the superintendent of the institution may cause the transfer of such person to the veterans' administration or other agency of the United States for care or treatment. Upon effecting any such transfer, the committing court or proper officer thereof shall be notified thereof by the transferring agency. No person shall be transferred to the veterans' administration or other agency of the United States if he be confined pursuant to conviction of any felony or misdemeanor or if he has been acquitted of the charge solely on the ground of insanity, unless prior to transfer the court or other authority originally committing such person shall enter an order for such transfer after appropriate motion and hearing.

Any person transferred as provided in this section shall be deemed to be committed to the veterans' administration or other agency of the United States pursuant to the original commitment.

1. The guardian, or any person interested in the estate of the ward, shall file a verified petition showing, in the case of an application to mortgage real property, the following matters: the particular purpose or purposes for which it is proposed to make the mortgage, which shall be either to pay the debts, costs and charges of maintenance, charges of administration, or to pay, reduce, extend, or renew some lien or mortgage already subsisting on said realty, or some part thereof, or for the purpose of benefiting or improving the real estate of the ward; a statement of such debts, charges, costs of administration, or liens or mortgages to be paid, reduced, extended, or renewed, or the purpose and advisability of improving the real estate, as the case may be; the advantage that may accrue to the state from raising money, the amount proposed to be raised, together with the general description of the property proposed to be mortgaged, and the names of the ward and next of kin, if any, so far as known to the petitioner. In the case of an application to lease or grant an easement for right of way, including an application to make an oil and gas lease, said petitioner shall show the advantage that may accrue to the estate from giving the lease an easement for right of way; a general description of the property proposed to be leased or the easement for right of way to be granted; the terms, rental and general conditions of the proposed lease or right of way to be granted; and the names of the ward and next of kin, so far as known to the petitioner.

2. Thereafter the same procedure shall be had in all respects as is provided by the laws of Montana relating to the mortgaging or leasing of the real estate of a decedent, and the following sections are hereby expressly made applicable to the mortgaging or leasing of a ward's property by a guardian: section 91-3101, sections 91-3103 to 91-3109, inclusive.

92-101. (2816) Name of act—what each part to contain.

Construction of Act

The act must be construed liberally in favor of the claimant, and to authorize recovery the law does not require demonstra-

Amendments

The 1953 amendment completely rewrote this section. Prior to amendment it read: "There is hereby created a board to consist of three members; the commissioner of agriculture, labor, and industry shall be one member; the state auditor shall be one member, and one member shall be appointed by the governor, which board shall be known as the industrial accident board, and shall have the powers, duties, and functions hereinafter conferred. The term of office of the appointed member of the board shall be for four years and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, payable monthly, and shall be chairman of the board. The board shall elect one of their number as treasurer of the board."

The 1959 amendment substituted "the director of the bureau of vocational rehabilitation" for "the commissioner of agriculture" and deleted a proviso which appeared at the end of the section and read as follows: "provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not be applicable to the chairman of the board until the expiration of term of the present chairman of the board."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 161, Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 161, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 3, 1953.

Appointment of Governor

Prior to the enactment of chapter 161, Laws of 1953 an appointment by the governor to the board was effective at once by the governor's act alone. By chapter 161 is added the condition that an appointment to the board by the governor is neither complete nor effective until the consent of the senate has been given. State v. Swanberg, 130 M 202, 299 P 2d 446, 448.

An appointment made by the governor on May 1, 1955, which was during a time when the senate was not in session was not effective since it was not with the consent of the senate. The incumbent would continue to hold the office. Section 7, article 7 of the Constitution, which authorizes the governor to make recess appointments when a vacancy occurs has reference only to such vacancies which leave the office without anyone to discharge the duties and does not apply to a case where the incumbent holds until his successor is elected or appointed and qualified and is discharging the duties of his office. State v. Swanberg, 130 M 202, 299 P 2d 446, 448.

Construction

Chapter 161, Laws of 1953 did not create a new board nor a new office but preserved intact the old board which had functioned as such since 1915 but provided for a change only in the personnel of the board, and of the conditions laid down under which the governor might appoint to that board. State v. Swanberg, 130 M 202, 299 P 2d 446, 452.

92-108. (2823) Ex officio members to receive no additional compensation. Neither the commissioner of labor and industry nor the director of the bureau of vocational rehabilitation shall receive any additional compensation for the duties imposed upon them by this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 96, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 2823, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 231, L. 1959.

92-116. (2831) Expenses to be paid from what fund. The industrial administration fund provided by section 92-837 shall consist of the following:

(1) All fees provided in section 92-119, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947;

(2) All assessments paid to the board by employers who elect to become bound by Plan No. 1 of this act;

(3) All assessments paid to the board by insurers who insure employers under Plan No. 2 of the act;

(4) All fees paid for inspection of boilers and issuance of licenses to operating engineers as required by law;

(5) All assessments levied against the industrial insurance fund as provided by this act.

Said fund shall be divided into two (2) accounts, to be known, respectively, as the general account and the industrial insurance fund account. The general account shall be credited with all of the assessments and fees described in items (1), (2), (3) and (4) above. The assessments described in item (5) above shall be allocated between and credited to, the general account and the industrial insurance fund account, respectively, in the manner and proportions hereinafter provided. The general account shall be debited with expenses incurred by the board in the general administration of the provisions of this act, including the salaries of its members, officers and employees, and the actual and necessary traveling expenses and disbursements of such members, officers and employees, incurred while on the business of the board either within or without the state, other than any such salaries, disbursements and expenses, or portions thereof, incurred in the operation or administration of the industrial insurance fund. The industrial insurance fund account shall be debited with all expenses, disbursements and salaries which are incurred in the administration or operation of the industrial insurance fund, including a portion of the salaries of the members of the board and its officers and employees, commensurate to the time spent by them on the business of such fund, and also the cost of inspections and examinations of places of employment covered under Plan No. 3. The funds in each of said accounts shall be used exclusively for the purposes herein described with respect to each such account, and any balance remaining in either of said accounts shall not be transferred to the other. Disbursements from the industrial administration fund shall be made after being approved by the board upon claim therefor to be audited and approved by the state board of examiners.

At the beginning of each fiscal year the board shall levy against the industrial insurance fund an assessment in an amount not exceeding ten per cent (10%) of the gross annual direct premium income of the said industrial insurance fund for the previous fiscal year, less return premiums, and said assessment shall be paid forthwith by the treasurer into the industrial administration fund. The amount of said assessment shall be allocated and credited as follows, to-wit: Sixty-two per cent (62%) thereof to the said industrial insurance fund account, and the balance thereof to the said general account.

Independent Contractor

In an action to recover an assessment made on compensation paid to truck drivers whom employer claimed were the employees of an independent contractor, it was proper to give an instruction that the board was not a party to the contract with the independent contractor and was not bound to recognize the contracting parties but could assert its rights against "party employing the laborer". *Jeffries Coal Co. v. Dependency does not mean absolute dependency for the necessities of life, but rather that the applicant looked to and relied on the contributions of the workman, in whole or in part, as a means of support and maintenance, and a person may be a dependent although able to maintain himself without any aid from the contributor. Thus, where the decedent had agreed to contribute $40 per week to his parents, they were fully and reasonably justified in looking to and relying on these contributions as a means of support and constitutes them dependents within the statute. *Tabor v. 92-418. (2870) Injury or injured defined.*Aggravation of Pre-Existing Condition

Employee who injured leg while loading freight car was entitled to workmen's compensation where disability was due to accident which aggravated and accelerated arthritic condition. Birnie v. United States

Gypsum Co., — M —, 328 P 2d 133, 135, 136.

That an employee was suffering from or afflicted with a pre-existing disease or disability does not preclude compensation if the disease or disability was lit up, aggravated or accelerated by an industrial injury. Birnie v. United States Gypsum Co., — M —, 328 P 2d 133, 136.

Disease Aggravated or Accelerated by Accident

The rule that the employer takes the employee as he finds him is well established. The fact that an employee was suffering from a pre-existing disease or disability does not preclude compensation if the disease or disability was aggravated or accelerated by an industrial injury which arose out of and in the course of the employment. Gaffney v. Industrial Accident Board, 129 M 394, 287 P 2d 256, 259.

"Fortuitous" Defined

The word "fortuitous" means happening by chance or accident; coming or occurring unexpectedly or without known cause; and is synonymous with "industrial accident." Rathbun v. Taber Tank Lines, 129 M 121, 283 P 2d 966, 969; Murphy v. Anaconda Company, 133 M 198, 321 P 2d 1094.

Heart Failure as an Industrial Accident

Heart failure brought about by unusual stress and strain in employment amounts to an industrial accident for which an award of compensation should be made. Rathbun v. Taber Tank Lines, 129 M 121, 283 P 2d 966, 969.

Pulmonary Embolism—Death Compensable Although No Unusual Strain Beyond the Mere Employment Itself

Where death resulted from a pulmonary embolism which occurred while the employee was engaged in his usual employment, it was compensable, even though there was no unusual strain or exertion involved. Murphy v. Anaconda Company, 133 M 198, 321 P 2d 1094.

Duty of Board to Advise Employee

Where the industrial accident board had received notice of an accident from the employer and had authorized medical care upon a written inquiry made by the employee within one year from the date of accident, the board could not assert the statute of limitations when the employee filed a formal claim six days after the year elapsed since the board had a duty fully to advise the employee as to all requirements when he first made inquiry. Yurkovich v. Industrial Accident Board, 132 M 77, 314 P 2d 866.

Equitable Estoppel

Where employee did not file his written claim for compensation within 12 months from the date of the happening of the accident because he was not examined thoroughly during that time, although he repeatedly asked that X-Rays be given, the doctrine of equitable estoppel should apply, and the employee should receive his compensation. McCoy v. Mike Horse Mining & Milling Co., 126 M 435, 252 P 2d 1036, 1039.

The doctrine of equitable estoppel is a flexible one, founded in equity and good conscience; its object is to prevent a party from taking an unconscionable advantage of his own wrong while asserting his strict legal rights. Levo v. General-Shea-Morrison, 128 M 570, 280 P 2d 1086, 1090.

Equitable estoppel may prevent a defendant from contending that a claim was not filed in time. Levo v. General-Shea-Morrison, 128 M 570, 280 P 2d 1086.

Under the facts of the case the employee's failure to file his claim within the statutory time should not operate to bar his claim, since his failure was brought about by the direct intervention of the employer's agents. Levo v. General-Shea-Morrison, 128 M 570, 280 P 2d 1086.

Aggravation or Acceleration of Disease

The rule that the employer takes the employee as he finds him is well established. The fact that an employee was suffering from a pre-existing disease or disability does not preclude compensation if the disease or disability was aggravated or accelerated by an industrial injury which arose out of and in the course of the employment. Gaffney v. Industrial Accident Board, 129 M 394, 287 P 2d 256, 259.

Decision of Board—Presumption

Where a decision of the board as to whether an accident arose out of or in the course of the employment involved the consideration of conflicting evidence as to essential facts or the deduction of permissible but diverse inferences therefrom, its solution of such conflict is presumed to be correct, and the burden of proof is upon the party attacking it to show they were erroneous. Partoll v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 122 M 305, 203 P 2d 974, 977.

Heart Failure

Heart failure may be classified as an industrial accident where it is brought about by unusual stress and strain in employment. Rathbun v. Taber Tank Lines, 129 M 121, 283 P 2d 966, 969.

Injury Arising Out of and in the Course of Employment

If act resulting in injury is incidental to the employment, the fact that it was done during the lunch period does not prevent the award of compensation. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 187.

Injuries sustained after the completion of the regular work by an employee subject to call may in a proper case be compensable as an injury arising out of and in the course of employment. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 187.

Where employees of defendant were permitted to play handball in garage and had played such game daily during their lunch hour for a period of about three months, and employees were required to eat their lunches on the premises so as to be there if a call came, and only employees participated in the game, an injury caused when an employee, while jumping for the ball, accidentally struck another breaking his glasses, was sufficiently incidental to the employment to have arisen out of and in the course of his employment. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 187.

No exact formula can be laid down which will automatically solve every case involving the question whether an accident arises out of and in the course of the employment, but each case must depend upon its particular facts and circumstances. Partoll v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 122 M 305, 203 P 2d 974, 977.

Unusual Strain or Exertion Not Necessary

An unexpected injury received in the ordinary performance of a duty in the usual manner is an injury by accident and, if there is medical causation, it is compensable. Murphy v. Anaconda Company, 133 M 198, 321 P 2d 1094, 1101.

Operation and Effect

The schedule of payments set forth in section 1, chapter 253, Laws 1955 did not become effective until July 1, 1955 and there is nothing in the act to show any intention of the legislature to give a retrospective application thereto. Yurkovich v. Industrial Accident Board, 132 M 77, 314 P 2d 866, 872.

Wisconsin Decision

The 1949 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance by $2.50.

The 1951 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance by $1.50.

The 1953 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance by $3.00.

The 1955 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance by $2.00.

The 1957 amendment raised the maximum compensation in each instance as follows: $28.00 from $26.50, $30.50 from $28.50, $33.50 from $29.50, $36.50 from $30.50, $40.00 from $31.50, $42.50 from $32.50; inserted the words "in amount or duration" after the words "and not exceeding" near the end of the first sentence and in the second sentence inserted the words "increases by birth, or" and added the proviso clause.

Benefits Under Public Employees Retirement Act

Where a person is entitled to benefits under both the disability retirement act and the workmen's compensation act, and the award of the industrial accident board is for permanent partial disability, the retirement board was without authority to deduct such amount from the disability retirement allowance since it is only authorized under section 68-901, where the award of the industrial accident board is for total and permanent disability. State ex rel. Ebel v. Schye, 130 M 537, 305 P 2d 350, 354.

Construction

The clause in this section "not exceeding however, the maximum compensation allowed in cases of total disability, and not exceeding the total compensation provided in this act for the total loss of the member causing such partial disability" has reference only to the total weekly compensation. It has nothing to do with the length of time the award must be paid. Spieth v. Stuart, 130 M 216, 299 P 2d 106, 108, overruling anything in conflict therewith found in Novak v. Industrial Accident Board, 73 M 196, 235 P 756.

Under this section a claimant must show loss of earnings, while under section 92-709 he is entitled to an arbitrary sum—a percentage of his salary—as compensation for the loss of the member regardless of loss of earning or earning capacity. Construing this section and section 92-709 most favorably to the workman, he may take his choice by proceeding under this section and prove loss of earnings, or he may proceed under section 92-709 and obtain the arbitrary amount. Spieth v. Stuart, 130 M 216, 299 P 2d 106, 108, overruling anything in conflict therewith found in Novak v. Industrial Accident Board, 73 M 196, 235 P 756.

Actual earnings after the injury are prima facie evidence of "ability to earn" and not the sole criterion of earning capacity, but the criterion is to be followed in the absence of a strong showing that it is not a reliable standard. Greenfield v. Industrial Accident Board, 133 M 136, 320 P 2d 1000, 1003.

Repealing Clauses

Section 7 of Ch. 7, L. 1949 and Sec. 6 of Ch. 48, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 8 of Ch. 7, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 3, 1949.

1945 Amendment Unconstitutional

Chapter 213 of Laws 1945 is unconstitutional since the legislature failed to follow the constitutional mandate of having the bill printed for use of the members and that fact shows affirmatively on the journals. O'Bannon v. Gustafson, 130 M 402, 303 P 2d 938.

Construction

Under this section a claimant is entitled to an arbitrary sum—a percentage of his salary—as compensation for the loss of the member regardless of loss of earning or earning capacity, while under section 92-703 a claimant must show loss of earnings. Construing this section and section 92-703 most favorable to the workman, he may take his choice by proceeding under section 92-703 and prove loss of earnings, or he may proceed under this section and receive an arbitrary amount. Spieth v. Stuart, 130 M 216, 299 P 2d 106, 108, overruling anything in conflict therewith found in Novak v. Industrial Accident Board, 73 M 196, 235 P 756.

Operation and Effect

Where there was proof of a limitation of muscular movement to the extent of forty or fifty per cent, but no proof of the inability to obtain employment or how or in what manner the claimant's ability to earn had been in anywise reduced because of the injuries, the trial court was correct in denying the claimant compensation since the loss of earning power as the result of an injury is not necessarily proportional to the bodily functional disability. Shaffer v. Midland Empire Packing Co., 127 M 211, 259 P 2d 340, 342.

The test is not whether there has been a loss of earnings or income caused by the injury, but rather has there been a loss of earning capacity—a loss of ability to earn in the open labor market. Shaffer v. Midland Empire Packing Co., 127 M 211, 259 P 2d 340, 342.

92-709A. Permanent and total disability created by a second injury—second injury fund. (1) If an employee who has previously lost, or lost the use of, one [1] hand, one [1] arm, one [1] foot, one [1] leg, or one [1] eye, from any cause or origin and irrespective of compensability becomes permanently and totally disabled through the loss, or loss of use, of another such member or organ, the employer, insurance carrier, or industrial accident fund, as the case may be, shall be liable only for the compensation payable for such second loss; provided, that in addition to such compensation and after the completion of the payments therefor, the employee shall be paid the remainder of the compensation that would be due for permanent total disability, out of a special fund known as the "Second-Injury Fund," and created for such purpose in the following manner:

In every case of the death of an employee under this act, where there is no person entitled to compensation, the employer if under Plan I, or his insurance carrier if under Plan II, or the industrial accident fund if under Plan III, shall pay to the second injury fund of the industrial accident board the sum of five hundred and no/100 ($500.00) dollars to be deposited for the benefit of said fund, and the board shall direct the distribution thereof.

When in the judgment of the industrial accident board, the amount of money in the second injury fund is such that there is a surplus above and beyond known liabilities, the board may in its discretion suspend or decrease further collection of assessments for a period of time to be determined by the board but in no event to exceed one [1] calendar year.

(2) There is hereby appropriated from moneys in the industrial accident fund the sum of twenty thousand and no/100 ($20,000.00) dollars to immediately create said second injury fund and to pay the compensation provided for in this act. When in the judgment of the industrial accident board, the contributions to the second injury fund so warrant, the board shall direct the reimbursement of the industrial accident fund out of said second injury fund. In addition to the reimbursement hereinabove directed to be made, the board shall cause to be paid to the industrial accident fund from said second injury fund, when contributions thereto so warrant, interest at the rate of 3% per annum upon said sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) hereinabove appropriated or upon such portion thereof as may from time to time remain in said second injury fund.

Title of Act

An act to amend that portion of the Workmen's Compensation Act contained in chapter 7 of Volume 6 of the Revised Codes of Montana of 1947 by adding thereto a new section to be known as section 92-709A; encouraging the employment of disabled veterans and other disabled persons; providing for payment of workmen's compensation for a second injury; creating a second injury fund in the industrial accident board through payments from employers, insurers, and the industrial accident fund; appropriating twenty thousand and no/100 ($20,000.00) dollars from the industrial accident fund for the purposes of this act and providing for the repayment thereof.

Effective Date

Pleading aggravation of a preexisting physical condition in workmen's compensation cases. 32 ALR 2d 1459.

92-710. (2921) Repealed.*Repeal

This section (Sec. 16, Ch. 96, L. 1915; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 177, L. 1929; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 235, L. 1947), relating to hernia cases, was repealed by Sec. 1, Ch. 197, Laws 1959.

92-712. (2923) Adjustment of compensation in case of further injuries.*Construction

The fact that a man has once received compensation, as for example where he has previously received 250 weeks or half the statutory amount does not mean that forever after he is in the eyes of the compensation laws but half a man, so that he can never again receive a compensation award going beyond the other fifty per cent of total. After having received his prior payments, he may, in future years, be physically able to and does resume full gainful employment for several years, and if he does, there is no reason or logic why a disability from an unscheduled industrial accidental injury, which would bring anyone else total permanent disability benefits, should yield him only half as much. Peitz v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 316, 264 P 2d 709, 712.

The limitation affixed to unscheduled injuries applies only to the particular injury which results from a particular accident. Any other interpretation would be discriminatory as between a person having a prior industrial accidental injury and another person who had the same kind of an injury outside of industry; when both thereafter had an unscheduled industrial accidental injury, the former would have his prior payments deducted while the latter would receive full payment. Peitz v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 316, 264 P 2d 709, 712.

Worker, who suffered a prior industrial accident several years before to a different segment of his body and drew compensation for several months for that injury but at the time of his present injury he was not receiving compensation for the prior injury nor were the prior payments commuted or paid in a lump sum, would not have that compensation deducted from the claim under the present injury. Peitz v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 316, 264 P 2d 709.

92-715. (2926) Monthly payments converted into a lump sum. The monthly payments provided for in this act may be converted, in whole or in part, into a lump sum payment, which lump sum payment shall not exceed the estimated value of the present worth of the deferred payments capitalized at the rate of two per centum (2%) per annum. Such conversion can only be made upon the written application of the injured workman, his beneficiary, or major or minor dependents, as the case may be, and shall rest in the discretion of the board, both as to the amount of such lump sum payment and the advisability of such conversion. The board is hereby vested with full power, authority, and jurisdiction to compromise claims and to approve compromises of claims under this act; and all settlements and compromises of compensation provided in this act shall be absolutely null and void without the approval of the board. Any approval of the board must be in writing and set forth specifically the reasons for such lump sum or compromise payment.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment reduced the rate of capitalization provided for in the first sentence from 5% to 2%.

The 1957 amendment added the last sentence.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 225, L. 1951 repealed

all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 225, L. 1951 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 5, 1951.

Operation and Effect

Where the evidence before the district court was ample to sustain that court's judgment that the claimant should be awarded total disability rating and that a lump sum award and payment be made to him, such judgment will be affirmed. Kustudia v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 115, 258 P 2d 965, 970.

The legislature evidently intended in the enactment of the Workmen's Compensation Act that the monthly payments should be the rule and lump sum settlements the exception. The various purposes of the method of periodical payments, is as far as possible, to preclude the possibility of an improvident claimant or dependent wasting the means of support and thereby becoming a burden upon the public; and also that the result of the industrial accident may be better appraised during the periodic payments. Moffett v. Industrial Accident Board, 130 M 303, 301 P 2d 340.

CHAPTER 8—MISCELLANEOUS REGULATIONS—POWERS OF BOARD—REHEARINGS AND APPEALS

Section 92-807. Notice of claims for injuries other than death.

92-814.1. Requiring claimant to submit to examination—report of physician—cost.

92-819. Apportionment of costs and disbursements—expenses.

92-823. Time for filing—final findings and awards.

92-827. Record of proceedings to be kept and testimony to be taken down—attorney's fees.

92-807. (2933) Notice of claims for injuries other than death. No claims to recover compensation under this act for injuries not resulting in death shall be maintained unless, within sixty (60) days after the occurrence of the accident which is claimed to have caused the injury, notice in writing stating the name and address of the person injured, the time and place where the accident occurred, and the nature of the injury, and signed by the person injured, or some one in his behalf, shall be served upon the employer or the insurer, except as otherwise provided in section 92-602; provided, however, that actual knowledge of such accident and injury on the part of such employer or his managing agent or superintendent in charge of the work upon which the injured employee was engaged at the time of the injury shall be equivalent to such service.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 96, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 2933, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 177, L. 1929; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 234, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted "sixty (60) days" for "thirty (30) days."

92-808. (2934) Employers and insurers required to file reports, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where the industrial accident board had received a notice of injury from the employer, and a letter from the employee asking what he should do and the board advised the employee that he could get medical treatment, the board recognized that the employee suffered a compensable accident and there was a duty to notify the employee that he was required to file a claim under oath. Yurkovich v. Industrial Accident Board, 132 M 77, 314 P 2d 866, 869.

92-814.1. Requiring claimant to submit to examination — report of physician—cost. In the event of a dispute concerning the physical condition of a claimant, or the cause or causes of his injury or disability, if any, the board, at the request of the claimant, employer or insurer, as the case may be, shall require the claimant to submit to such examination as it may deem desirable by a physician or physicians within the state of Montana or elsewhere who have had adequate and substantial experience in the particular field of medicine concerned with the matters presented by the dispute. The physician making such examination shall file a written report of his findings with the board for its use in the determination of the controversy involved. The board shall pay the physician for such examination and shall be reimbursed by the party who requested it.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment deleted from this section a second sentence, for text of which see parent volume.

92-821. (2947) Jurisdiction of board to hear disputes and controversies.

Attack on Decision—Burden of Proof

Where the decisions of the board and court involve the consideration of conflicting evidence as to essential facts or the deduction of permissible but diverse inferences therefrom, their solutions of such conflict are presumed to be correct, and the burden of proof is upon the party attacking them to show that they were erroneous. Partoll v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 122 M 305, 203 P 2d 974, 977.

92-823. (2949) Time for filing—final findings and awards. The board shall hold the initial hearing to determine any dispute or controversy arising under this act within ninety (90) days from the date on which such disputed claim was filed with the board. After a final hearing by the board, it shall within thirty (30) days, make and file its findings upon all facts involved in the controversy, and its award, which shall state its determination as to the right of the parties.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 96, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 2949, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 38, L. 1953.

The 1953 amendment added the first sentence of this section and inserted the number (30).

92-826. (2952) Jurisdiction to rescind or amend any order, etc.

Lump Sum Settlement

Where employee, in 1938, entered into a full and final compromise settlement calling for a lump sum payment and which was approved by the board, such order of the board could not be reopened in later years. Moffett v. Industrial Accident Board, 130 M 303, 301 P 2d 340.

92-827. (2953) Record of proceedings to be kept and testimony to be taken down—attorney's fees. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings and hearings had before the board, or any member thereof, of any formal hearing had, and all testimony produced before the board or any member thereof shall be taken down by a stenographic reporter appointed by the board, and the parties shall be entitled to be heard in person or by attorney.

Whenever the claimant or plaintiff is represented by an attorney either before the board or the courts, the industrial accident board may, in its discretion or upon the application of the claimant or plaintiff, fix the amount of the attorney fee of the attorney representing the claimant or plaintiff, and the fee fixed by the board shall be paid by claimant or plaintiff.

In cases of an action to review any order or decision of the board, a transcript of such testimony, together with all exhibits, and of the pleadings, records, and proceedings in the cause shall constitute the record of the board. Provided further, that the board must furnish a copy of such testimony, written exhibits, pleadings, records and proceedings to the claimant without costs.

92-833. (2959) Appeal to district court.

Appeal Time Provisions Mandatory and Jurisdictional

The appeal time provisions of this section are mandatory and jurisdictional; thus, where an application for a rehearing was denied, and appeal to the district court was not made until 36 days after the application for rehearing was denied and 28 days after notice of such order and decision of the board was received, the district court was without jurisdiction to entertain the appeal. State ex rel. Albrecht v. District Court, 126 M 178, 246 P 2d 1035, 1036, 1037.

Appeal to Supreme Court

Where the evidence before the district court was ample to sustain that court's judgment, such judgment will be affirmed. Although full credit and effect are given to the findings made by the board the court will uphold the judgment of the district court, if the conclusions of law reached by the board are not correct. Kustudia v. Industrial Accident Board, 127 M 115, 258 P 2d 965, 970.

Operation and Effect

Where claimant appealed from the decision of the industrial accident board and then dismissed such appeal without prejudice in order to present a motion for a rehearing as contemplated by this section, there was no waiver of his right of appeal. Spieth v. Stuart, 130 M 216, 299 P 2d 106, 110.

Presumptions

Every presumption is in favor of the correctness of the decision of the industrial board. Birnie v. United States Gypsum Co., — M —, 328 P 2d 133, 136.

Employees who are resident citizens of the state, employed and paid in Montana through the only office of their employer, a Montana corporation, are entitled to the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Laws of Montana although they were injured in another state. *State v. The act must be construed liberally in favor of the claimant. Murphy v. Anaconda Company, 133 M 198, 321 P 2d 1094, 1097.

Operation and Effect

The court cannot under the guise of liberal interpretation, disregard plain provisions of the statute, but when it is open to more than one interpretation, one favorable to the employee and the other against him, the court must give it the construction most favorable to the injured workman. Geary v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 120 M 485, 188 P 2d 185, 186.

The industrial accident board's first duty is to administer the act so as to give the employee the greatest possible protection within the purposes of the act. Yurkovich v. Industrial Accident Board, 132 M 77, 314 P 2d 866, 871.

An injury is accidental where either the cause or the result is unexpected or accidental even though the work being done is usual or ordinary as long as the exertion is either the sole or a contributory cause of the injury. Murphy v. Anaconda Company, 133 M 198, 321 P 2d 1094, 1101.

Where employee was a union job steward and was injured in an auto accident, after working hours, while driving to a union meeting which was not concerned with an impending strike or grievance, the employee was not within the scope of his employment at the time of the accident. Morgan v. Industrial Accident Board, 133 M 254, 321 P 2d 232.

In determining whether or not an employee was acting within the scope of his employment a fundamental rule is that in cases where some reasonably immediate service to the employer can be discerned the claim has been sustained, but where no immediate service is found the claim is denied. Morgan v. Industrial Accident Board, 133 M 254, 321 P 2d 232, 236.

Where claimant petitioned for the granting of further compensation, which was denied, and the court admitted her testimony as to her physical condition subsequent to the hearing before the board, claimant was entitled to have admitted a doctor's deposition which had been taken while the appeal from the board's ruling was pending. *Zachariasen v. 1. There is a direct causal connection between the conditions under which the work is performed and the occupational disease.

2. The disease can be seen to have followed as a natural incident of the work as a result of the exposure occasioned by the nature of the employment.

3. The disease can be fairly traced to the employment as the proximate cause.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1309. Notice of employees' right to reject occupational disease compensation act. Every employer subject to the provisions of this act shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place upon his premises in languages, including English, as are from time to time designated by the board, a notice available for inspection by all his employees in substantially the following form:

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1310. Liability of last employer, exception. Where compensation is payable for an occupational disease the only employer liable shall be the employer in whose employment the employee was last injuriously exposed to the hazard of such disease, but in the case of silicosis the only employer liable shall be the employer in whose employment the employee was last exposed to harmful quantities of silicon dioxide ( $\text{SiO}_2$ ) dust for a period of ninety (90) actual workshifts or more after July 1, 1958.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1311. Payment of compensation—exceptions and limitations. A. Compensation shall be paid to every employee who becomes disabled by reason of occupational disease arising out of his employment, subject to the following conditions; and when claims are presented and notices given in accordance with the limitations of sections 12 and 13 [92-1312 and 92-1313] of this act.

1. No compensation shall be paid when the last day of the injurious exposure of the employee to the hazard of the occupational disease has occurred prior to the effective date of this act except as in section 11 [this section], paragraph "A", subparagraph 4 provided.

2. No compensation shall be paid for a disease other than silicosis unless total disability results within one hundred twenty (120) days from the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed; provided that the board upon good cause shown may waive this limitation in the interest of justice, but in any case said period may not be extended to more than one year from the date of last employment by the said employer.

3. No compensation shall be paid in case of silicosis unless during the eight years immediately preceding the disablement the injured employee has been exposed to harmful quantities of silicon dioxide dust for a total period of not less than one thousand (1,000) work shifts in employment in this state and unless total disability results within four years from the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed.

4. Provided, however, that any silicotic employee who is discharged by his employer to escape liability for silicosis benefits under this act shall be eligible to receive compensation under this act when totally disabled if he has seven hundred (700) actual work shifts since January 1, 1954 for that employer, provided, further, when any employee in employment on or after January 1, 1959, because he has an occupational disease incurred in and caused by such employment, which is not yet disabling, is discharged or transferred from the employment in which he is engaged, or when an employee ceases such employment and it is in fact, as determined by the medical panel, inadvisable for him on account of such nondisabling occupational disease, to continue in it, and suffers wage loss by reason of such discharge, transfer, or such cessation, the board may allow compensation on account thereof as it may deem just, not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00).

5. No claim shall be maintained nor compensation paid unless the claim has been filed with the employer, the insurer, of the board, in writing under oath within the time fixed by section 12 [92-1312] of this act.

B. The compensation shall be paid to the beneficiary and dependents of every employee covered by this act in cases where death results from an occupational disease arising out of his employment subject to the following conditions:

1. No compensation shall be paid when the last day of injurious exposure of the employee to the hazards of the occupational diseases has occurred prior to the effective date of this act, except as in section 11 [this section], paragraph "A," subparagraph 4 of this act provided.

2. No compensation shall be paid for death from silicosis unless during the eight years immediately preceding the disablement the deceased employee has been exposed to harmful quantities of silicon dioxide dust for a period of not less than one thousand (1,000) work shifts in employment in this state.

3. No compensation shall be paid for death from silicosis unless the death results within four (4) years from the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed, except in those cases where death results during a period of continuous total disability from silicosis for which compensation has been paid or awarded, or for which a claim, compensable but for such death, is on file with the commission. In such cases compensation shall be paid if death results within seven (7) years from the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed.

4. No compensation shall be paid for death from any occupational disease other than silicosis unless death results within one (1) year from the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed, except in those cases where death results during a period of continuous total disability from an occupational disease other than silicosis for which compensation has been paid or awarded, or for which a claim, compensable but for such death, is on file with the board. In such cases compensation shall be paid if death results within three (3) years from the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed.

5. No claim shall be maintained nor compensation paid unless the claim has been filed with the employer, the insurer or the board, as the case may be in writing within the time fixed by section 12 [92-1312] of this act.

C. Proof of the exposure to silicon dioxide dust for a period of not less than one thousand two hundred (1,200) work shifts in employment in this state, with proof of total disability from silicosis, shall be prima facie evidence of exposure to harmful quantities of such dust during all such period.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1312. Claims must be presented within what time. The provisions of section 92-601, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, as amended, shall not apply to claims filed under this act.

It is hereby provided in the case of disability resulting from occupational diseases as herein defined, including silicosis, that all claims therefor shall be forever barred unless the same shall be presented in writing under oath to the employer, the insurer or the board as the case may be within thirty (30) days after claimant has filed his notice of disability as provided in section 13 [92-1313] of this act. In the case of death from an occupational disease, as herein defined, including silicosis, all claims therefor shall be forever barred unless the same shall be presented in writing under oath to the employer, the insurer, or the board, as the case may be, within thirty (30) days of filing the notice of death as provided in section 13 [92-1313] of this act.

Claims shall be filed in triplicate on forms to be furnished by the board and may be accompanied by a medical report of the claimant's attending physician. The provisions of this section 12 [this section] as to the time for presenting claims for compensation shall prevail over any other provisions of this act to the contrary.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1313. Notice of disability or death. The provisions of section 92-807, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, as amended, shall not apply to cases of disability or death from occupational diseases as in this act defined.

Notice of disability or death in respect to which compensation is payable under this act, except disability or death resulting from silicosis, shall be given to the employer, the insurer, or the board, as the case may be, within thirty (30) days after the employee, his beneficiaries, or his dependents knew or should have known the nature of the impairment or cause of death and its relationship to the employment, but in no event shall notice be filed more than one year after the last day upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed.

In cases of disability resulting from silicosis which are compensable under this act, notice of such disability shall be given to the employer, the insurer, or the board, as the case may be, within thirty (30) days after the employee knew or should have known of the nature of the impairment and its relationship to employment, but in no event shall such notice be filed more than four (4) years after the last date upon which the employee actually worked for the employer against whom compensation is claimed.

In cases of a death from silicosis which is compensable under this act, notice of such death shall be given to the employer, the insurer, or the board, within thirty (30) days after the employee's beneficiaries or his dependents knew or should have known of the cause of death and its relationship to the employment, but in no event shall such notice be filed more than one (1) year after such death.

Such notice shall be valid only if filed in writing on forms to be furnished by the board, and shall contain the name and address of the employee and a statement of the time, place, nature, and cause of the disability or death, and shall be signed by the employee or by some other person on his behalf; or in case of death by any person claiming to be entitled to compensation for such death or by some person on his behalf.

Except if death occurs during the period of total disability described in section 11, B.3. [92-1311], in which case the period of notice may be extended to the term of seven (7) years from the last day of said employment.

92-1314. Medical panel, medical committee, and pulmonary specialists.

The Montana medical association may, at least annually, certify to the board as "medical committee nominees" thirty (30) or more licensed physicians of the state of Montana who are particularly qualified in the diagnosis, care and treatment of occupational diseases. In addition thereto, and simultaneously therewith the Montana medical association may certify to the board as "pulmonary specialists nominees" three (3) or more licensed physicians of the state who shall have had at the time of certification at least five (5) years' practice in the diagnosis, care and treatment of diseases of the pulmonary tract and the interpretation of x-ray films thereof. From said list of physicians certified as "medical committee nominees," the board shall appoint thirty (30) physicians who shall serve as and be hereinafter referred to as the "medical committee" and who shall examine claimants for occupational disease disabilities other than silicosis. From said list of physicians so certified as "pulmonary specialist nominees" the board shall appoint three (3) or more physicians who shall serve as and be hereinafter referred to as "pulmonary specialists."

In the event that the Montana medical association fails to make the certification as hereinabove provided, then, in that event, the board shall of its own choice appoint thirty (30) licensed physicians in the state of Montana who are particularly qualified in the diagnosis, care and treatment of occupational diseases which said physicians shall serve as and be hereinafter referred to as the "medical committee" and shall appoint three (3) or more licensed physicians in the state of Montana who have had at the time of appointment at least five (5) years' practice in the diagnosis, care and treatment of diseases of the pulmonary tract and the interpretation of x-ray films thereof, which latter group of three (3) or more shall serve as and be hereinafter referred to as "pulmonary specialists." The "medical committee," together with the "pulmonary specialists," shall be known as and hereinafter referred to as the "medical panel."

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1315. Procedure for medical examination. A. In order to determine the validity of claims made pursuant to the provisions of this act, the following procedure and no other shall be followed in the course of the medical examination of the claimant for official report to said board, claimant, employer, or insurer, as the case may be.

1. Upon the filing of a claim by a claimant for occupational disease disability, other than silicosis, the board shall direct a member from said "medical committee" to examine and determine the disability of the claimant and submit a written report thereon to the board.

Upon the filing of a claim for compensation for silicosis disability under this act, the board shall direct an examination of and report to the board upon the claimant by said "pulmonary specialists," or one of them, including such x-ray and other pathological examinations and tests as in the opinion of such specialist or specialists may be necessary for the purpose of determining diagnosis, disablement, and the nature and type of medical treatment, hospitalization and other care required. If the claim is not controverted as to any medical fact, the examination and report of one of said specialists, shall be deemed the examination and report of all "pulmonary specialists." If the claim is controverted as to any medical fact, the report shall be made by all of said specialists after a physical examination by at least two (2) of them. The findings and opinions of a majority of the number of said specialists then appointed shall constitute the findings and opinions of all of them. The contents of the report of said "pulmonary specialists" when placed in the record shall constitute prima facie evidence of fact as to the matter therein contained. The "pulmonary specialists" or any one (1) of them making the report shall be subject to examination upon demand of any interested parties.

The "pulmonary specialists," or any one (1) of them in order to assist in reaching a conclusion may require the attending physician or director of a hospital or a sanitarium or other place in which treatment or care is being given, or has been given, to attend at a convenient time and place to consult with said specialists, or any one of them and to describe the nature and type of care and treatment and furnish any other evidence which said specialist or specialists desire.

Upon receiving the written report of such examining physician or physicians so appointed, the board shall forthwith determine whether or not the claimant shall receive the benefits pursuant to this act and it shall forward notice of its determination together with a true and correct copy of said medical report to the claimant and the employer or insurer as the case may be.

2. If within twenty (20) days after receipt of such notice and medical report the claimant, employer or insurer, as the case may be, is dissatisfied with said determination by said board, they, or any of them, may demand a hearing before said board pursuant to the re-hearing provisions of section 92-829, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947. If, however, the board, claimant, employer or insurer, or any of them, is dissatisfied with the results of such first medical examination as indicated by said medical report, such dissatisfied party may upon thirty (30) days' notice in writing to all adversary parties and to the board require a re-examination by a member of said "medical panel"; provided, however, that if the benefits claimed are for a disability caused by silicosis the physician so selected by the dissatisfied party must be one of the "pulmonary specialists." Thereupon, after receipt of the report of medical re-examination, the board shall give like notice of its determination, whether said determination shall be the same as before or otherwise, together with a copy of said medical report, in the same manner as in the case of the first such examination and the party shall be entitled to a re-hearing in the same manner as in the case of such first medical examination. The evidence of the two (2) medical examinations above described shall be final, and, so far as the medical examination of the claimant is concerned, no evidence of other or additional medical examinations shall be admissible before the board upon re-hearing nor before any court upon the appeal, if any.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

Compiler's Note

This section as enacted contained no subsection "B."

Where silicosis causes death. Where silicosis causes death and a claim for death benefits is filed, the "pulmonary specialists," or any one of them, if the medical evidence be not controverted, shall examine all available evidence pertaining to the claim and shall make findings and thereupon report to the board. The report shall constitute prima facie evidence of fact as to the matters therein contained.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

When occupational disease other than silicosis causes death. When an occupational disease, other than silicosis, causes death and a claim for death benefits is filed therefor, a member of the "medical committee" shall examine all available evidence pertaining to the claim and shall make findings and thereupon report to the board. The report shall constitute prima facie evidence of fact as to the matters therein contained.

The board may designate a duly licensed physician who is a specialist in such examinations to perform or attend such autopsies, and to certify his findings thereon. Such findings

The employee and any other party in interest may have a physician present at the examination if such physician is provided and paid for by the employee or other party.

D. A physician who makes or is present at the examination may be required to testify as to the result thereof.

E. The board may reduce or suspend the compensation of an employee who persists in unsanitary or injurious practices tending to imperil or retard his recovery, or who refuses to submit to such medical or surgical treatment as is reasonably essential to promote his recovery.

Payment of medical examination and autopsy expenses. Expense of the first medical examination as provided in section 15 [92-1315] of this act shall be borne by the employer if compensation is claimed under plan one, by the insurer if the claim is under plan two, and by the board if the claim is under plan three. The expense of re-examination shall be borne by the dissatisfied party requesting such re-examination. The expense of the periodic medical examinations, as provided in section 19 [92-1319] of this act, shall be borne by the party requesting such periodic medical examination. The expense of the autopsy, as provided for in section 18 [92-1318] of this act, shall be borne by the party requesting such autopsy.

92-1323. Prohibiting lump sum settlements. No award made upon any claim pursuant to this act may be converted into a lump sum payment, in whole or in part, except in case the claimant, after having filed a claim with the employer, the board or the insurer, as the case may be, shall have entered into a contract of employment with an attorney for the recovery of such claim, the terms of which employment contract shall be deemed to be reasonable compensation by said board for such attorney's services, in which case, the amount of such attorney's compensation may be ordered by the board to be paid by the employer, insurer or the board as the case may be, and thereafter deducted proportionately from weekly payments thereafter to be made to the claimant pursuant to this act, or said board may at its option require such payments to be deducted each week in such amount as it deems advisable from the payments thereafter to be made to the claimant pursuant to this act and paid to said attorney as they are so deducted from the weekly payments to the claimant.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1324. Burial expenses. In addition to and separate and apart from any other compensation or benefit provided for in this act, there shall be paid in case of death of an employee, which death is the result of an occupational disease contracted in the course of employment, the reasonable burial expenses of the employee, not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00).

Any employee who suffers any of the occupational diseases listed in section 4 [92-1304], but who is able to continue in his employment while being treated therefor, shall be entitled to receive such medical services, treatments and medicines reasonably required, not exceeding the value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

When such employee is under a hospital contract as above and when hospital and medical facilities or both are inadequate to the needs of a disabled employee in a particular case such disabled employee may, any time, be placed where adequate hospital facilities are obtainable, and the cost thereof in whole or in part shall be a legal charge against the one so contracting to furnish hospital facilities, and the amount of such charge and the necessity therefor shall be determined by the board.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1327. Silicosis with complications. In cases of disability or death from silicosis complicated with tuberculosis of the lungs, compensation shall be payable as for disability or death from an uncomplicated silicosis. History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1330. Agreement by employee to waive compensation or to pay premium void—no liability in certain cases. An agreement by an employee to waive his rights to compensation and except as otherwise provided in this act, an agreement by an employee to pay any portion of the premium paid by his employer, shall be void.

A. The employer may give, within two weeks of the application, physical examinations to the applicants for employment. Where an applicant for employment whether such applicant has been formerly employed by the employer to whom application is made, or not, though not actually disabled, is found upon competent medical and x-ray examination to be afflicted with an occupational disease, such employer shall not be liable under this act for disability from the particular disease or diseases with which the employee is found to be afflicted or for any normal progression without aggravation of said disease or diseases, if a report of said medical examination be approved by the board as hereinafter provided.

The report of the medical examination of the applicant for employment and x-rays, if any, shall be delivered to the board by the employer within five (5) days after such examination to such medical report and x-rays, if any, shall be attached a certificate by the examining physician certifying that the medical report is the report of the physical examination of the applicant for employment.

The board shall submit such medical report and x-rays, if any, to a physician of its choice from the medical panel, and such physician shall report to the board his finding as to whether the medical report is satisfactory. The board shall within twenty (20) days after the receipt of such medical report from the employer enter its order approving or disapproving such report and specifying the particular disease or diseases found. Such order shall be in writing stating the reasons for such approval or disapproval. A copy of such order shall be mailed to the employer and a copy of such order shall be mailed to the applicant for employment within twenty-four (24) hours after the board has approved or disapproved such report.

An applicant for employment may commence work prior to the approval or disapproval of such report by the board, but if the board shall disapprove such report the employer may discharge such applicant for employment without liability to such applicant.

Provided, however, that if no physical examination is given to the applicant for employment within said two (2) week period then such applicant for employment shall be fully eligible to the benefits of this act.

B. Employers may give within one hundred eighty (180) days after becoming subject to this act physical examinations to any employees which said employer has in his employment. Where an employee, though not actually disabled is found upon competent medical and x-ray examination to be afflicted with an occupational disease or diseases, such employer shall not be liable under this act for disability from the particular disease or diseases with which the employee is found to be afflicted or for any normal progression without aggravation of said disease or diseases, if a report of said medical examination be approved by the board as hereinbefore provided in subsection A of this section 30 [this section].

Provided, however, that if no examination is given to the employee within said one hundred eighty (180) day period then such employee shall be fully eligible to the benefits of this act.

C. All such reports shall become permanent records of the board.

The board may make reasonable rules and regulations relative to the form, execution and filing of such reports not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1331. Rights of suit at common law. There shall be no common law right of action for damage from occupational disease against an employer who elects to come under the provisions of this act, excepting for those employees not eligible for compensation under the terms of this act, or who reject coverage of this act.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1332. Prohibiting supplementing of benefits. No person receiving compensation or benefits under the public welfare act of the state of Montana, as provided for by sections 71-1001 to 71-1008, inclusive, of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, as amended, shall be entitled to compensation or benefits under this act.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1333. Diminution of compensation. Compensation payable pursuant to the terms of this act to the claimant, his beneficiaries or dependents shall be diminished by the amount of any compensation paid or to be paid him or them under the workmen's compensation act of Montana or any other workmen's compensation act.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

92-1334. Compensation plans. Employers shall secure compensation to their employees under one of the following plans:

COMPENSATION PLAN NUMBER ONE

1. When and how employer may elect to adopt—direct payment to employee. Any employer in the industries, trades, works, occupations, or employments in this act specified as hazardous, by filing his election to become, subject to and be bound by compensation plan No. 1, upon furnishing satisfactory proof to the board of his solvency and financial ability to pay the compensation and benefits in this act provided for, and to discharge all liabilities which are reasonably likely to be incurred by him during the fiscal year for which such election is effective, may, by order of the said board, make such payments directly to his employees as they may become entitled to receive the same under the terms and conditions of this act.

2. Proof of solvency of employer electing plan No. 1 to be filed. Every such employer now or hereafter engaged in the state of Montana, in the industries, trades, works, occupations, or employments herein mentioned, and who shall have elected to be bound by such compensation plan No. 1, shall file such proof of his solvency within the time and in such form as may be prescribed by the rules or orders of the board. The industrial accident board shall require a fee of five dollars ($5.00) to be paid into the industrial administration fund for the filing of every such proof of solvency.

3. Employer permitted to carry on business and settle directly with employee—renewal of application. If such employer, making such election, shall be found by the board to have the requisite financial ability to pay the compensation and benefits in this act provided for, then the board shall grant to such employer permission to carry on his said business for the fiscal year within which such election is made, and such proof filed, or the remaining portion of such fiscal year, and to make such payments directly to his employees as they may become entitled to receive the same. Every employer, so long as he continues in his said employment, and so long as he continues to be bound by such compensation plan No. 1, shall, at least thirty (30) days before the expiration of each fiscal year, renew his application to be permitted to continue to make such payments as aforesaid directly to his employees for the next ensuing fiscal year, and under like circumstances as those mentioned for the granting of such permission upon such first application, the board may renew the same from year to year.

4. Additional proof of solvency—revocation of order. The board may at any time require from any employer acting under compensation plan No. 1 additional proof of solvency and financial ability to pay the compensation provided by this act, and may at any time, upon notice to such employer of not less than ten (10) or more than twenty (20) days, after and upon a full hearing, revoke any order or approval theretofore made.

5. Requiring security of employer. If said industrial accident board shall find that such employer has no financial responsibility for the payment of the compensation herein provided to be paid, which might reasonably be expected to be chargeable to such employer during the fiscal year to be covered by such permission, said industrial accident board must so find, and must require such employer, before granting to him such permission, or before continuing or engaging in such employment, subject to the provisions of compensation plan No. 1, to give security for such payment, which security must be in such an amount as said board shall find reasonable and necessary to meet all liabilities of such employer, which may reasonably and ordinarily be expected to accrue during such fiscal year. Said security must be deposited with the treasurer of the board, and may be a certain estimated per centum of said employer's last preceding annual payroll, or a certain per centum of the established amount of his annual payroll for said fiscal year or said security may be in the form of a bond or undertaking executed to said industrial accident board in the amount to be fixed by it with two or more sufficient sureties, which undertaking must be conditioned that such employer will well and truly pay, or cause to be paid, all such sums and amounts for which the employer shall become liable under the terms of this act to his employees during said fiscal year; or such security may consist of any state, county, municipal, or school district bonds, or the bonds or evidence of indebtedness of any individuals or corporations which the board may deem solvent; and every such deposit and the character and amount of such securities shall at all times be subject to approval, revision, or change by the board as in its judgment may be required, and upon proof of the final payment of the liability for which such securities are given, such securities, or any remaining part thereof, shall be returned to the depositor. The treasurer of the board and his bondsmen shall be liable for the value and safekeeping of all such deposits or securities, and shall, at any time, upon demand of the bondsmen or the depositor or the board, account for the same, and the earnings thereof.

6. Failure of employer to pay compensation—duty of board. Upon failure of said employer to pay any compensation provided for in this act, upon the terms and in the amounts and at the times when the same shall become due and payable, it shall be the duty of such industrial accident board, upon demand of the person to whom compensation is due, to apply any deposits made with the board to the payment of the same, and it shall be its duty to take the proper steps to convert any securities on deposit with the said board, or sufficient thereof, into cash and to pay the same upon the liabilities of said employer, accruing under the terms of this act, and it shall be its duty, insofar as the same shall be necessary, to collect and enforce the collection of the liability of all sureties upon any bonds which may be given by the said employer to insure the payment of his said liability. And to these ends, and for these purposes, the board shall be deemed to be the owner of said deposit and security and the obligee in said bond in trust for the said purposes, and may proceed in its own name to recover upon such bonds, or foreclose and liquidate said securities.

7. When employer to make deposit or security to guarantee payment of compensation. Within thirty (30) days after the happening of an accident where death or the nature of the disability renders the amount of future payments certain, or reasonably certain, the employer shall make a deposit or give security as herein defined with the treasurer of the board for the protection and guaranty of the payment of such liability, in such sum as the board may direct; provided, however, that if sufficient securities are already on deposit with the said board, or if the said board shall have determined that the employer has sufficient financial responsibility to meet said liability of the said employer, together with other liabilities already accrued, no such additional deposit or security shall be demanded.

8. When employer may be relieved from liability. Any employer against whom liability may exist for compensation under this act, may, with the approval of the board, be relieved therefrom by:

(1) Depositing the present value or the estimated present value of the total unpaid compensation for which such liability exists, assuming interest at five per centum (5%) per annum, with the treasurer of the board; or

(2) Purchasing an annuity within the limitations provided by law, in any insurance company granting annuities, and authorized to transact business in this state, subject to the approval of the board.

COMPENSATION PLAN NUMBER TWO

1. Employer electing plan No. 2 to insure his liability. Any employer in the industries, trades, works, occupations, or employments in this act specified as hazardous, by filing his election to become subject to and bound by compensation plan No. 2, may insure his liability to pay the compensation and benefits herein provided for, in any insurance company authorized to transact such business in this state.

2. Duty of employer electing plan No. 2—amount of insurance necessary. Any employer electing to become subject to and bound by compensation plan No. 2 shall file with the board written acceptance of the provisions of compensation plan No. 2, together with a statement upon forms provided by the board of the nature of his employment, the character and location of his works, the number of men employed during the preceding year, or any part of the preceding year, and the probable number of men to be employed during the first fiscal year to be covered by such election, and the board shall thereupon determine the amount of insurance which will be reasonably necessary to secure the compensation with which the said employer may reasonably be expected to become chargeable during such fiscal year. And thereupon the said employer shall file the policy or policies of insurance herein provided for with the board, which policy or policies shall insure in the amount so fixed by the board against any and all liability of the employer to pay the compensation and benefits provided for in this act. The amount of such insurance shall be fixed by the board for each ensuing fiscal year during which said employer shall engage in his said employment, and shall remain subject to the provisions of compensation plan No. 2, and for the purpose of fixing such amount of said insurance, the said board may make all reasonable and necessary investigation, and the said employer shall furnish to such board all information which it may require.

3. Policies to contain what. All policies insuring the payment of compensation under this act, must contain a clause to the effect that as between the employee and the insurer the notice to, or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the insured, shall be deemed notice or knowledge, as the case may be, on the part of the insurer; that jurisdiction of the insured for the purpose of this act shall be jurisdiction of the insurer; and that the insurer shall, in all things, be bound by and subject to the awards, orders, judgments, or decrees rendered against such insured. When any such policy, or the renewal thereof, is filed with the industrial accident board, the same shall be accompanied by a fee of three dollars ($3.00), which fee is to be credited to the industrial administrative fund.

4. Agreement to be contained in policies of insurance—deposit of bonds. No such policy shall be issued unless it contains the agreement of the insurer that it will promptly pay to the person entitled to compensation all the installments of compensation or other payments in this act provided for, and that the obligation shall not be affected by any default of the insured after the disablement or by any default in the giving of any notice required by such policy or by this act or otherwise. Such agreement shall be construed to be a direct promise by the insured to the person entitled to compensation. Before issuance of any policy by an insurer as herein authorized, such insurer must deposit with the treasurer of the industrial accident board, bonds of the United States or the state of Montana, or of any school district, county, city or town in the state of Montana, in an amount not less than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) or more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) as the industrial accident board may determine. If any insurer shall fail to discharge any liability after the amount thereof shall be determined by the board, and within the time limited by the board, it shall be the duty of the board to convert said bonds, or such part thereof as is necessary, into cash, and from the proceeds liquidate such liability in the manner hereinafter provided; and thereafter said insurer must make an additional deposit to meet any deficiency caused thereby. It is intended hereby to give the industrial accident board the discretion in the matter of whether an insurer has failed to discharge any liability.

5. Policies made subject to this act—form of insurance. Every policy for the insurance of the compensation herein provided for, or against liability therefor, shall be deemed to be made subject to the provisions of this act. No insurer shall enter into any such policy of insurance unless its form shall have been approved by the board, as otherwise provided by law.

6. Renewals. Every renewal of such policy shall be made and delivered to said board at least thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the expiring policy.

7. Deposits by insurer with board. Within thirty (30) days of the happening of an accident where death or the nature of the disablement renders the amount of future payments certain or reasonably certain, the insurer shall make a deposit, as herein defined, with the treasurer of the board for the protection and guarantee of the payment of such liability in such sum as the board may direct; provided, that if the board deems the amount on deposit by said insurer under the provisions of paragraph 4 of plan two, in section 34 [this section], sufficient to cover all liabilities of the insurer, then no further deposit shall be required.

8. How insurer relieved from liability. Any insurer against whom liability may exist for compensation under this act, may, with the approval of the board, be relieved therefrom by:

1. Depositing the present value or the estimated present value of the total unpaid compensation for which such liability exists, assuming interest at five per centum (5%) per annum, with the treasurer of the board; or

2. By purchasing an annuity within the limitations provided by law in any insurance company granting annuities, and authorized to transact business in this state, subject to the approval of the board.

9. Cancellation of insurance policy. No policy of insurance issued under the provisions of compensation plan No. 2 shall be cancelled within the time limited for its expiration except upon thirty (30) days' notice to the employer in favor of whom such policy is issued, and to the board unless such policy sought to be cancelled shall have been sooner replaced by other insurance.

10. Report of insurance companies to board. Every insurance company transacting business under this act shall, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the board, make and file with the board such reports of accidents as the board may require.

11. Policies to contain clause agreeing to do what—approval or change. Every policy or contract insuring against liability for compensation under compensation plan No. 2 must contain a clause to the effect that the insurer shall be directly and primarily liable to and will pay directly to the employee, or in case of death, to his beneficiaries, or major or minor dependents, the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable. Every such policy shall at all times be subject to the approval, change, or revision by the board, and shall contain the clauses, agreements, and promises required by this act.

12. Deposits under plan No. 2 as security. Any deposit made under the provisions of compensation plan No. 2 shall be held in trust by the treasurer of the board as security for the payment of the liability for which the deposit was made. Such deposit may be reduced from time to time with the permission of the board, as the payment of the liability of the insurer may reduce the amount required to be on deposit. Such deposit may be changed or renewed when desired by the depositor, by withdrawing the same, or any part thereof, and substituting other deposits therefor; upon proof of the final payment of the liability for which such deposit was made, any deposit remaining shall be returned to the depositor. All earnings made by such deposit shall be first applied upon any liability of the depositors, and if no such liability exists, then such earnings shall upon demand be delivered to such depositor. The treasurer of the board and his bondsmen shall be liable for the value and safekeeping of such deposit, and shall at any time upon demand of his bondsmen, the depositor, or the board, account for the same and the earnings thereof.

COMPENSATION PLAN NUMBER THREE

1. It is the intent and purpose of compensation plan No. 3 that each employer subject to and bound by this plan shall be liable and pay for all disability to employees due to occupational diseases coming under the provisions of this plan, and that all funds collected by assessments as herein provided shall be paid into one common fund to be known as the occupational disease compensation fund, which fund shall be devoted exclusively to the payment of all valid claims for disability from occupational diseases arising out of or in the course of employment coming under the provisions of compensation plan No. 3. Such fund shall consist of all assessments and penalties received and paid into the fund, or property and securities acquired by and through the use of money belonging to the fund, and interest earned upon money belonging to the fund, together with any money appropriated by the legislature for the purpose of this act. The accounts of employers insured in such fund shall be kept in such a manner as the board may prescribe for the purpose of providing information and statistics necessary for determining any changes in rates of classification of employment. The occupational disease compensation fund shall be neither more nor less than self-supporting.

2. Any employer, whether subject to and bound by this act or not, may elect to comply with the provisions of compensation plan No. 3 and pay into the occupational disease compensation fund the premiums provided in this act, in which event such employer shall not be liable to respond in damages at common law or by statute for disability or death of an employee due to an occupational disease during the period covered by such premiums and shall enjoy the benefits and privileges of this act. The employee of such an employer shall be deemed to have elected to come under the provisions of this act unless such employee shall execute and file with the board on proper form to be furnished for that purpose, a specific election not to be so bound, in which event he shall not enjoy the benefits or privileges of this act until such election is withdrawn.

3. All employments, occupations, or industries affected by the provisions of compensation plan No. 3 shall be divided by the board for the purpose of the occupational disease compensation fund into classes whose rates may be set and readjusted at such times as the board may determine. The board may rearrange the classes by withdrawing any employment embraced in one class and transferring it wholly or in part to another class. Separate accounts shall be kept if [of] the amounts collected and expended in each class for determining rates, but for paying compensation and dividends the fund shall be one and indivisible. The board shall determine the hazard of the different classes of occupations or industries, and fix the rates of assessment therefor at a percentage of the annual total payroll of such employer at the lowest rate consistent with the maintenance of a solvent occupational disease compensation fund, and the creation of necessary surpluses and reserves, and for such purpose may adopt a system of scheduling in such a manner as to take account of the peculiar hazard of each individual risk. The board, in fixing rates, shall provide for the expenses of administering the fund, the disbursements on account of occupational disease to employees in each class, reserves adequate to meet anticipated and unexpected losses, reserves adequate to carry the class to maturity, and such other necessary reserves and surpluses as may be determined by the board. The board is authorized, in its discretion, to apply tentative rates, subject to modification in accordance with the loss experience of such risks.

4. The initial payment of assessments provided for herein by employers, whether presently engaged in a business, occupation or industry, subject to this act, or an employer who enters such business, occupation or industry at some future date, and all subsequent payment of assessments herein provided shall be made at such times and in such amounts as may be ordered and prescribed by the board.

5. Any employer who is in default in the observance of any order of the board issued pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall, in addition to any other penalty provided by this act, be charged an advance of twenty-five per centum (25%) over the established rate, and such advance rate shall continue to be in force until such employer shall have ceased to be in such default.

6. If at the end of any year, it shall be seen that the contribution to the occupational disease compensation fund by any class of industry shall be less than the drain upon such fund on account of that class, the deficiency shall be made good to the fund on the first day of February of the following year by the employers of that class, in proportion to their respective payments for the previous year.

7. The treasurer of the board shall invest in bonds of the United States, bonds of the state of Montana, or bonds of any county, city, or school district in the state of Montana, or any other security which may be approved by said board, and out of the same and its earnings shall be paid such compensation and benefits as the board may direct; provided, however, that when there is sufficient money in the occupational disease compensation fund to meet such compensation payments, any surplus or earnings remaining may be placed in a reserve fund and invested in the securities specified in this section.

8. If any employer shall default in any payment to the occupational disease fund, the sum due may be collected by an action at law in the name of the state and such right of action shall be cumulative. The board is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to cancel any employer's right to operate under compensation plan No. 3 for failure to pay the premiums due the occupational disease compensation fund; provided, that when the board makes an order cancelling an employer's right for failure to pay premiums or assessments to the occupational disease compensation fund it shall be the duty of the board to make such order at least sixty (60) days before the cancellation becomes effective and to send a formal notice to the sheriff or sheriffs of the county or counties wherein the employer is operating, and it shall be the duty of the said sheriff or sheriffs to post a notice in at least three (3) conspicuous places where the workmen can readily see said notices to the effect that the board has cancelled the right of the said employer to operate under the act, and said notice shall give the date of the effectiveness of said order. After said cancellation date the said employer shall have the same status as an employer who is not enrolled under the occupational disease act.

When an employer's right to operate has been cancelled by the board for failure to pay premiums and when the board, in its discretion, finds that the property and assets of said employer are not sufficient to pay said premiums, the board may compromise said claim for premiums and accept a payment of an amount less than the total amount due.

9. For any disability to any employee resulting from an occupational disease occurring during default in any payment to the occupational disease compensation fund, the defaulting employer as to such disability shall be considered as having elected not to come under the provisions of this act, except that he shall be and remain liable to pay to the occupational disease compensation fund the amount of such default together with the penalty prescribed in subsection 5 of this section.

10. The person entitled to sue under the provisions of subsection 9 of this section shall have the option of proceeding by suit or taking under this act. If such persons take under this act, the cause of action against the employer shall be assigned to the state for the benefit of the occupational disease compensation fund. If such person shall elect to proceed against the defaulting employer, such election shall constitute a waiver of any right to compensation under the provisions of this act.

11. Any cause of action assigned to the state under the provisions of subsection 10 of this section may be prosecuted or compromised by the board in its discretion.

12. Where an employee is entitled to compensation under compensation plan No. 3, he shall file with the board his application therefor, together with the certificate of the physician attending him, and it shall be the duty of such physician to lend all necessary assistance in making application for compensation and such proof of other matters as may be required by the rules of the board without charge to the employee; provided that the filing of a certificate of the attending physician shall not constitute a sworn claim for compensation.

13. For proper compliance with the provisions of subsection 12 of this section, the physician, after approval by the board, shall be paid out of the occupational disease compensation fund, five dollars ($5.00) for each case.

14. Where death results from an occupational disease, the parties entitled to compensation under compensation plan No. 3, or someone in their behalf, shall make application for the same to the board. The application must be accompanied with proof of death and proof of relationship, showing the parties entitled to compensation, certificate of the attending physician, if any, and such other proof as may be required by the board.

15. In computing the pay-roll of any employer the entire compensation received by any employee subject to this act shall be included, whether it be in the form of salary, wage, piecework, or otherwise and whether payable in money, board or otherwise.

16. Disbursements out of the occupational disease compensation fund shall be made by the treasurer of the board, as the board may order. If at any time there shall not be sufficient money in the occupational disease compensation fund with which to pay any warrants drawn thereon, the employer, on account of whose workmen the warrant was drawn, shall pay the same, and upon his next contribution to such fund he shall be credited with the amount so paid, with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum from the date of such payment to the date upon which the next assessment becomes payable; and if the amount of the credit exceeds the amount of such assessment, he shall have a warrant upon such fund for the excess, and if said warrant be not paid for want of funds, it shall be credited to such employer and be applied upon succeeding assessments.

17. All earnings made by the occupational disease compensation fund by reason of interest paid for the deposit thereof, or otherwise, shall be credited to and become a part of said fund, and the making of profit, either directly or indirectly, by the treasurer of the board, or any other person, out of the use of the occupational disease compensation fund shall constitute a felony, and on conviction thereof shall subject the person making such profit to imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a term not exceeding two (2) years, or a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or both such fine and imprisonment, and the treasurer of the board shall be liable upon his official bond for all profits realized for any unlawful use of the said fund.

92-1335. Hearing, findings and awards. Upon receiving a demand for hearing or rehearing by a party dissatisfied by either the first or second determination of compensability by the board, as provided in section 15 [92-1315], the board shall hold such hearing within ninety (90) days from the date of demand for hearing or rehearing. After the final hearing by the board, it shall within thirty (30) days, make and file a finding upon all facts involved in the controversy, and its award, which shall state its determination as to the rights of the parties.

ment of such award and indemnity shall be in the same manner as that of undisputed awards and indemnities coming within the particular plan provided for in this act to which said award and indemnity belong.

In other cases, payment shall be made to the person entitled thereto or to his duly authorized representative.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 155, L. 1959.

1. That the employee was negligent, unless such negligence was wilful;

2. That the disability was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee;

3. That the employee had assumed the risks inherent, incident to, or arising out of his employment, or arising from the failure of the employer to provide and maintain a reasonably safe place to work, or reasonably safe tools or appliances.

93-216. (8805) Powers and duties of supreme court on appeals.*Equity Appeals

In an equity case, where no cause appears why a new trial or the taking of further evidence should be ordered, it is the court's duty to finally determine the same. Fey v. A. A. Oil Corporation, 129 M 300, 285 P 2d 578, 589.

their demeanor and appearance, and hence was in a better position to judge of their credibility. Reynolds v. Reynolds, 132 M 303, 317 P 2d 856, 857.

In entering upon a review of the evidence on appeal in equity case, Supreme Court indulges the presumption that the judgment of the trial court is correct, and will draw every legitimate inference therefrom to support the presumption. Havre Irrigation Co. v. Majerus, 132 M 410, 318 P 2d 1076, 1078.

Equity Cases

Under this section the Supreme Court is authorized in reviewing the decrees in equity cases, where all of the facts were presented on an appeal and showed that the cause was ripe for an ultimate decision, to make such disposition of the case as the court below ought to have made; the reluctance of an occasional judge to abide by and apply the foregoing mandates of the legislature neither repeals nor changes the statute. Bond v. Birk, 126 M 250, 247 P 2d 199, 205, 206.

It is the trial court's office to resolve inconsistencies in the testimony, and where the evidence, fully considered, furnishes reasonable grounds for different conclusions the findings of the trial court will not be disturbed by the Supreme Court on appeal. Havre Irrigation Co. v. Majerus, 132 M 410, 318 P 2d 1076, 1078.

Separate maintenance action by wife, being an equity case, Supreme Court had the right and duty to review the facts, but this power or duty did not necessarily require the overturning of the findings made by the trial judge. Reynolds v. Reynolds, 132 M 303, 317 P 2d 856, 857.

In an equity action, the Supreme Court will review all questions of law and fact presented in the record on appeal. Havre Irrigation Co. v. Majerus, 132 M 410, 318 P 2d 1076, 1078; Tillinger v. Frisbie, 132 M 583, 318 P 2d 1079, 1083.

Findings of trial judge will be sustained by Supreme Court where the evidence is conflicting, since he had the advantage of having seen the witnesses and observed

Appeals in equity require a disposal by the Supreme Court which will put an end to litigation and avoid the necessity of new trials involving expense and the contingencies incident to delay. Bradbury v. Nagelhus, 132 M 417, 319 P 2d 503, 510.

Examination of Evidence in Equity Proceedings and Disposition of Cases

In equity cases Supreme Court has right to make independent findings of fact after a review of all evidence, but if there is in the record substantial evidence supporting the findings of the trial court Supreme Court will not interfere with those findings. Sanders v. Sanders, 124 M 595, 229 P 2d 164. (The court was evenly divided on this point, see dissenting opinion.)

Function of Supreme Court as to Questions of Fact

In an equity case on appeal the court reviews all questions of fact arising upon the evidence presented and determined such questions of fact as well as the questions of law, unless for good cause, a new trial or the taking of further evidence is ordered in the court below. Hart v. Barron, 122 M 350, 204 P 2d 797, 804.

Operation and Effect

Under the power granted to the Supreme Court by this section, the court may direct that a proper judgment be entered in any case. Thus in a quiet title action, where the lower court found that at the time of the commencement of the action the plaintiff was in ownership, but the judgment states that since the filing of the complaint and at all times thereto the plaintiff was in ownership, the judgment is modified to conform with the findings. Warren v. Warren, 127 M 259, 261 P 2d 364, 366.

Stipulation of Facts

Where the facts set forth in opinion were stipulated and no objections made to their sufficiency or correctness, the Supreme Court is in as advantageous a position to do justice in the cause as was the trial court. No presumption obtains in such a case as to the correctness of the trial court's decision since supreme court is empowered to completely review the record. Pluhar v. Guderjahn, — M —, 328 P 2d 129, 131, 132.

Application of Section

The provisions of subd. 4 of this section apply not only to ordinary law suits but to any "action, motion or proceeding" including proceedings for the establishment of an irrigation district. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 256.

Where a judge in a probate proceeding is disqualified for imputed bias and prejudice under this section, the procedure for calling in another judge is under this section and not under section 91-2001 which has no application when the disqualification is for imputed bias and prejudice. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1078.

Authority of Called Judge

A judge called in under the provisions of this section has the right under the provisions of section 93-1510 to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 to serve for the remainder of the term. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

Authority of Disqualified Judge

Upon the filing of the affidavit under subd. 4, the judge as to whom such disqualification is averred is without authority to act further in the action, motion or proceeding except as the doing of purely ministerial act of arranging the calendar, regulating the order of business, calling in another judge, or transferring the case if transfer is proper. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 244; State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, 455.

Where the regularly presiding judge was disqualified and thereafter the second judge was disqualified, the regular presiding judge had the power to arrange the calendar and call in another judge. Fuller v. Gibbs, 122 M 177, 199 P 2d 851, 855.

Change of Venue

The district judge's compliance with this section is a condition precedent to obtaining a change of venue under section 93-2906. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Disqualified Judge

Where, during the course of a divorce proceeding a judge is disqualified and another judge assumes jurisdiction and commits the husband to jail for contempt, on a habeas corpus petition brought by the jailed husband the disqualified judge would not be authorized to act and a writ of prohibition will lie to prohibit such judge from proceeding further in the habeas corpus matter. State v. District Court of Lewis and Clark County, 130 M 73, 295 P 2d 233.

Filing of Affidavit—Effect

The mere filing of the affidavit ipso facto works the disqualification of the judge against whom it is directed. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 244.

The mere filing of such affidavit ipso facto worked the disqualification of the judge against whom it was directed and except as is expressly provided in and allowed by the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 93-901, all orders in the cause made by the judge subsequent to the filing of the affidavit of disqualification against said judge are set aside, vacated and held for naught as null and void for want of jurisdiction. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 849.

In habeas corpus proceedings relating to custody of children under divorce decree where judge assumed jurisdiction on October 28, father's affidavit for disqualification of judge was timely filed on October 31 depriving judge of jurisdiction in the case and judgment rendered by him thereafter was null and void. Mead v. Mead, — M —, 332 P 2d 499, 500.

Grounds for Disqualification

The fact that the judge had previously heard some criminal matter against the person who was acting as the agent of the defendant but who was not a party to the action himself was not a ground for disqualification. Gibbs v. Fuller, 120 M 516, 188 P 2d 426, 428.

Juvenile Delinquency Proceedings

From a reading of the statutes governing juvenile matters it is apparent that the legislative intent is that juvenile matters and proceedings are to be treated as civil and not as criminal proceedings and therefore the provisions of this section relating to the disqualification of judges applies to juvenile delinquency proceedings. State ex rel. Ostoj v. McClernan, 129 M 160, 284 P 2d 252, 254.

Mandamus

In action for mandamus to require district judge to call in another judge after affidavit of disqualification, judge cannot defend that the relatrix had not consented to the filing of the affidavit nor to the institution of the mandamus proceeding, where no attempt was made to raise such question under section 93-2121. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

Number of Disqualifications

Where plaintiff had already disqualified two judges, he had no right to disqualify another judge for bias or prejudice. Gibbs v. Fuller, 120 M 516, 188 P 2d 426, 428.

Where judgment was obtained in action to quiet title, a subsequent proceeding for a writ of possession was a proceeding in the same action for the enforcement of the judgment and therefore when two judges had been disqualified for bias or prejudice in the original proceeding an attempted disqualification of another judge by the defendant in the proceeding for writ of possession was of no effect. Fuller v. Gibbs, 122 M 177, 199 P 2d 851, 853.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-2906 are companion sections and must be construed together. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

The disqualification provided for in subd. 4 of this section stands upon the same level of importance as do those provided for in the preceding three subdivisions, except as to the time when the imputation may be made, and operates as effectively if invoked at the proper time. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 245.

Probate Proceedings

The word "proceeding" used in this section applies to a probate proceeding, thus permitting the disqualification of judges therein for imputed bias. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546, 550.

A proceeding for the administration of an estate of a deceased person advances step by step through various stages of the proceeding and involves successive determinations in the course of such proceeding. The term "proceeding" is used in the Probate Code as a general designation of the entire judicial procedure employed whereby the law is administered upon the various subjects within the probate jurisdiction. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546, 549, 550.

Where appellant filed a petition for letters of special administration and for probate of a will, which will was contested and during which appellant disqualified one judge for bias, and subsequent to the first petition, other parties filed a petition for letters of administration and appellant disqualified one judge for bias from hearing such petition, the appellant could not disqualify another judge from hearing the second petition since he had already disqualified the maximum of two judges as allowed by this section. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546. (See, however, dissenting opinions of Justices Angstman and Anderson in 126 M 586, 256 P 2d 546 at pages 551 and 552 respectively.)

Proof of Alleged Bias and Prejudice Is Neither Required Nor Permitted

No inquiry as to the truth or falsity of the assertion of bias or prejudice can be permitted. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

Time for Calling in New Judge

While a district judge against whom an affidavit of disqualification for implied bias has been filed may take the time reasonably necessary to ascertain what other judge or judges may be available to preside in the case, he must proceed in good faith and without unreasonable delay to call another judge. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 93.

A judge against whom an affidavit of disqualification has been filed ought not to be permitted to delay for ten months the calling in of another judge to sit in the case simply because he has not sooner been able to find a district judge who will accept such jurisdiction in conformity with the rules of his court. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

When district judge fails to call in another judge within a reasonable time after the filing of an affidavit of bias, mandamus is the proper remedy. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Time for Disqualification

A judge who has been called in and assumed jurisdiction of a case could be disqualified to hear a separate proceeding therein, long after he had actually exercised jurisdiction on other matters in the case. McLeod v. McLeod, 126 M 32, 243 P 2d 321. (This case rests upon Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452 inasmuch as the Sullivan case by necessary implication overrules any contrary conclusion of Stefonick v. District Court, 117 M 86, 157 P 2d 96.)

Where the judge in issuing a writ of prohibition set November 21, 1950 as the return date and defendant filed a demurrer, which was disposed of and then an answer to which plaintiff filed a reply so that the trial actually took place on April 25, 1951 upon the issues framed by the pleadings, an affidavit of disqualification of the judge for imputed bias and prejudice filed April 13, 1951 was timely. The return date stated in the writ of prohibition (November 21, 1950) was not the "day appointed or fixed for the hearing or trial" within the meaning of this section. Esterby v. Justice Court of Hellgate Township, 127 M 1, 256 P 2d 544.

Trial Date Fixed by Disqualified Judge

A judge though disqualified may still arrange the calendar and where hearing date was fixed by disqualified judge and subsequent notice that another judge had accepted jurisdiction was tantamount to a notice that the trial would proceed on the date fixed where no different date was arranged for. Gibbs v. Fuller, 120 M 516, 188 P 2d 426, 428.

When Affidavit Must Be Filed

Where notice of intention to move for a new trial was to be based on the minutes of court and affidavits to be filed and no affidavits were filed and no additional time for filing was obtained from the court, the moving parties had only ten additional days after the ten day period for filing affidavits in which to have the motion heard, and an affidavit of disqualification of the judge, filed less than five days before the last day for hearing the motion, came too late. State v. District Court, 131 M 404, 310 P 2d 1055, 1056.

Withdrawal of Affidavit

Upon the filing of the affidavit of disqualification, jurisdiction over the cause is lost, and disqualification cannot thereafter be waived by a withdrawal of the affidavit over the protests and objections of the opposite party. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 245.

The fact that the supreme court was not in session at the time the affidavit of disqualification was filed is no ground for permitting the withdrawal of the affidavit and proceeding with the same judge over the objection of the opposite party. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 256.

Writ of Prohibition

Relators in application for a writ of prohibition, were not joined as parties defendant in the original proceeding, therefore were not served with notice of the date and place of hearing. They were joined as parties defendant by order of the court at the hearing; and immediately filed affidavit of disqualification required by this section. Upon the filing of the affidavit the judge against whom it was directed was without authority to further act in the proceedings. State ex rel. Montana State University v. District Court, 132 M 262, 317 P 2d 309, 314.

CHAPTER 14—JURORS—SELECTION AND RETURN

Section 93-1401. Jury lists, by whom and when to be made.

93-1402. Selection of persons qualified to serve as trial jurors.

93-1404. Duty of clerk—jury boxes.

93-1401. (8896) Jury lists, by whom and when to be made. The chairman of the county commissioners, or in his absence, any member of the board of county commissioners, the county treasurer, and the county assessor, or any two of such officers, of each county must meet at the county seat of each county at the office of the county clerk on the second Monday of December of each year, for the purpose of making a list of persons to serve as trial jurors for the ensuing year. If they fail to meet on the day specified in this section, they must meet as soon thereafter as practicable. The first meeting of such officers for the purpose of making such list is within ten [10] days after this code takes effect.

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 133, Laws 1949 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 86, Laws 1959 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment inserted the words "or in his absence, any member of the board of county commissioners" and the words "or any two of such officers."

The 1959 amendment substituted "December" for "January" in this section.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 133, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1949.

93-1402. (8897) Selection of persons qualified to serve as trial jurors. At the meeting, specified in the last section, the officers present must select, from the last assessment roll of the county, and make a list of the names of all persons qualified to serve as trial jurors, as prescribed in the last chapter. Each name so appearing on said list shall be assigned a number which shall be placed opposite the name on the jury list and shall be considered the number of the juror opposite whose name it appears. Said numbers shall be consecutive from "1" to the total number of jurors.

Said capsules may be used as often as necessary; provided, however, no capsule shall be used which is in any manner whatsoever defaced or disfigured, or so marked that it may be recognized or distinguished from the other capsules in said jury box No. 1. There shall be so enclosed in said box one number, and only one number, corresponding to the name of each juror on the jury list.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "The clerk shall prepare and keep a jury box and contents as follows: The number of each juror shall be written, typed or stamped on paper or other suitable material, and enclosed in separate black capsules, identical in all respects, and placed" for the words "Immediately after the list has been delivered to him, the clerk must prepare suitable ballots, by writing the name of each person so selected, as contained in the list, with his place of residence and other additions, on a separate piece of paper. The ballots must be uniform, as nearly as may be, in appearance, and each ballot must thereafter be inserted in a black capsule, and when all the said ballots have been so inserted, the clerk must deposit them" and added the third sentence.

 93-1503. Drawing—how conducted.
 93-1504. Jury box No. 2.
 93-1505. Jurors—when to be drawn from jury box No. 2.

 93-1511. Summoning jurors to complete a panel.

93-1501. (8902) Summoning of trial jury. At least once each year in each county, when a civil or criminal case has been at issue and ready for trial for more than six (6) months and the plaintiff or defendant in such case has requested a jury trial or whenever the business of a district court requires the attendance of a trial jury for the trial of civil or criminal cases, and no jury is in attendance, the court must make an order directing a trial jury to be drawn and summoned to attend before said court. Such order must specify the number of jurors to be drawn, and the time at which the jurors are required to attend, which time may be at the same term in which the jurors are drawn, or at the next succeeding term, in the discretion of the court. And the court may direct that such causes, either criminal or civil, in which a jury may be required, or in which a jury may have been demanded, be continued and fixed for trial when a jury shall be in attendance.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment inserted the first part of this section reading "At least once each year in each county, when a civil or criminal case has been at issue and ready for trial for more than six (6) months and the plaintiff or defendant in such case has requested a jury trial or" and substituted the word "must" for "may" between the words "the court" and "make an order directing a trial jury."

93-1502. (8903) District judge to draw jury. Immediately upon the order mentioned in the preceding section having been made the district judge shall in the presence of the clerk of the court proceed to draw the jurors by number from jury box No. 1.

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 62, L. 1949 repealed Chapter 277 of the Montana Session Laws of 1947 (secs. 93-4912 to 93-4915, Revised Codes 1947).

Section 3 of Ch. 62, L. 1949 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

93-1503. (8904) Drawing—how conducted. 1. The clerk must place said box on a rod so that the same may readily revolve and said box must be revolved a sufficient number of times so as to insure that the capsules in said box shall become thoroughly mixed, and thereafter the judge must draw from said box one at a time, as many of said capsules containing the numbers of jurors as are ordered by the court.

2. A minute of the drawing shall be entered in the minutes of the court, which must show the names of the jurors corresponding to the numbers so drawn from said jury box.

3. If the name of any person so drawn is deceased or insane, or who may have permanently removed from the county, and the fact shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court, the name of such person shall be omitted from the list, and another juror drawn in his place, and the fact shall be entered upon the minutes of the court. The same proceeding shall be had as often as may be necessary, until the number of jurors required shall have been drawn. After the drawing shall have been completed, the clerk shall make a copy of the list of names of the persons so drawn, and certify the same. In his certificate he shall state the date of the order and of the drawing, and the number of the jurors drawn, and the time when and the place where such jurors shall be required to appear. Such certificate and list shall be delivered to the sheriff for service.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment in subd. 1 substituted the word "numbers" for the word "names"; in subd. 2 substituted "names of the jurors corresponding to the numbers" for "name on each slip of paper" and in subd. 3 substituted the present first sentence for one which read "If the name of any person is drawn from said box who is deceased or insane, or who may have permanently removed from the county, or who is exempt from jury service, and the fact shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court, the name of such person shall be omitted from the list, and the slip of paper having such name on it shall be destroyed and another juror drawn in his place, and the fact shall be entered upon the minutes of the court."

93-1504. (8905) Jury box No. 2. After the adjournment of the term or session at which trial jurors have been returned, as prescribed in the last section, the clerk must deposit the capsules containing the numbers of the jurors who attended and served, in another box kept by him, known as and marked "jury box No. 2." The capsules containing the ballots with the numbers of those who did not appear and serve must be returned to the box from which they were taken.

History: En. Sec. 263, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6351, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 35, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 8905, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 168, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment in the first sentence substituted the words "numbers of the jurors" for the words "ballots with the names of those"; in the second sentence substituted "numbers" for "names" and deleted the words "which have not been destroyed as prescribed in the preceding section" which appeared between the words "serve" and "must."

Jurors Called But Not Serving

Where a panel of 89 persons was called and sworn as jurors for the term but were discharged before serving at any trial, such jurors had not served within the meaning of this section and it was proper to return such names to jury box No. 1 and not jury box No. 2. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 284.

93-1505. (8906) Jurors—when to be drawn from jury box No. 2. If, at the time of drawing trial jurors for a term or session, there is not a sufficient number of capsules containing the numbers of jurors thereon remaining in box No. 1, the judge presiding, after drawing all the capsules containing therein the numbers of the jurors, must draw the necessary number from box No. 2, containing the numbers of those jurors who have before served, as prescribed in the last section; and must continue to draw from that box until new lists of jurors are provided.

History: En. Sec. 264, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6352, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 35, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 8906, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 148, L. 1933; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 168, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted “the numbers of jurors” “the numbers of the jurors” and “the numbers of those jurors” for “ballots with the names of jurors” “ballots with the names of jurors thereon” and “the names of those jurors” respectively.

93-1506. (8907) Jury box No. 3. The clerk must keep, in addition to the two boxes specified in the last two sections, a third box, known as and marked “jury box No. 3,” in which he must deposit capsules containing duplicate numbers of all persons selected and returned as trial jurors, who reside in the city or town where a trial term or session of a court of record is held, pursuant to law.

History: En. Sec. 265, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6353, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 35, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 8907, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 168, L. 1957.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the word “numbers” for the words “ballots, with the names and the proper additions.”

Repeal

This section (Sec. 266, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 35, L. 1919), relating to the deposit of ballots in box No. 3, was repealed by Sec. 10, Ch. 168, Laws 1957, effective January 1, 1958.

93-1509. (8910) Sheriff to summon jurors, how. The sheriff, as soon as he receives a list or lists of jurors drawn, shall summon the persons named therein to attend the court at the time mentioned in the order, by a written notice by certified mail to that effect addressed to them to the postoffice address named in the jury list and deposited in the postoffice with the postage thereon prepaid, except in cases where the district judge expressly directs that such service shall be made by giving personal notice, and shall return the list to the court at the opening of the regular session thereof, or at such session or time as the jurors may be ordered to attend, specifying the names of those who are summoned, and the manner in which each person was notified.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment substituted the words “certified mail” for “registered mail” in this section.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 88, Laws 1959 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

93-1510. (8911) Jurors drawn from jury box No. 3, when. If a sufficient number of trial jurors, duly drawn and notified, do not attend or cannot be obtained in the opinion of the court, without great delay or expense to form a jury, the court may, in its discretion, direct the clerk to draw from box No. 3, in the presence of the court, the numbers corresponding to the names of as many jurors on the jury list as the court deems sufficient for that purpose.

History: En. Sec. 281, C. Civ. Proc. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6357, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 8911, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 168, L. 1957. Cal. C. Civ. Proc. Sec. 226.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "numbers corresponding to the names of as many jurors on the jury list" for the words "names of as many persons."

Called Judge—Authority

A judge called in under the provisions of section 93-901 has the authority to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 to serve for the remainder of the term. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

Operation and Effect

It was error for the trial judge to deny the defendant's motion to obtain additional jurors from jury box No. 1, when the inadequacy of the panel jury was called to the attention of the court six days before the case was to be tried, and at the trial the judge then called additional jurors from box No. 3. Defendant believed that a "Maine Street" jury would be antagonistic towards him and he made a timely request to have the venire augmented by additional jurors drawn from the entire county. Failure to provide an adequate panel was an abuse of discretion and amounted to the systematic and calculated exclusion of persons residing throughout the county at large other than those living in the city of Helena. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 986.

Right to Draw From Box No. 3

Where seventy jurors were drawn from jury box No. 1, there was no abuse of discretion in not drawing more and no constitutional rights were violated by drawing from jury box No. 3 after the original panel was exhausted. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 235.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "whose number has been drawn" for the words "so drawn."

Repealing Clause

Section 10 of Ch. 168, Laws 1957 read "That sections 93-1405 and 93-1507, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

Section 11 of Ch. 168, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in full force and effect from and after January 1, 1958.

CHAPTER 19—COURT STENOGRAPHERS

Section 93-1906. Salary and expenses of stenographer—apportionment.

93-1904. (8931) To furnish copies to parties, etc.

Application of Section

This section governs only the furnishing of copies of the transcript of record for use in the trial court and has nothing to do with appeals to the Supreme Court. Sullivan v. Board of County Comrs., 124 M 364, 224 P 2d 135, 136.

93-1906. (8933) Salary and expenses of stenographer—apportionment. Every stenographer appointed under the provisions of this chapter receives an annual salary of five thousand four hundred ($5,400.00) dollars and no other compensation except as provided in section 93-1904, provided, however, that all transcripts and bills of exceptions required by the county shall be furnished without cost, payable in monthly installments out of the general funds of the counties comprising the district for which he is appointed, according and in proportion to the number of civil and criminal actions entered and commenced in the district courts of such counties respectively in the preceding year; and it shall be the duty of the judge of such district, on the first day of January of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be, to apportion the amount of such salary to be paid by each county in his district on the basis aforesaid. The stenographer is allowed, in addition to the salary and fees above provided, in judicial districts comprising more than one (1) county, his actual and necessary expenses of transportation and living when he goes on official business to a county of his judicial district other than the county in which he resides, from the time he leaves his place of residence until he returns thereto, said expenses to be apportioned and payable in the same way as the salary.

Amendments

The 1951 amendment raised the salary of the stenographer from $3,600 to $4,200.

The 1953 amendment raised the salary of the stenographer from $4,200 to $4,800 and added the proviso in the middle of the first sentence.

The 1955 amendment raised the salary of the stenographer from $4,800 to $5,400 and substituted the word "thereafter" for "after" near the end of the first sentence.

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 49, Laws 1951; Sec. 2 of Ch. 125, Laws 1953 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 76, Laws 1955 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 20—ATTORNEYS—QUALIFICATIONS—ADMISSION— LICENSE AND DISBARMENT

93-2002. (8937) Qualifications, examination and admission.

Operation and Effect

Where an applicant took and failed the bar examination three times, the supreme court will not allow a petition by the applicant to admit the applicant on motion and without examination for this would set at naught the labors and recommendations of the board of law examiners and nullify the governing statutes and rules of the court. Petition of Bergen, 125 M 607, 233 P 2d 399.

CHAPTER 21—ATTORNEYS—POWERS—DUTIES— LIABILITIES AND COMPENSATION

93-2104. (8977) Death or removal of attorney.

Operation and Effect

Where there is a failure to show that the procedure has been followed when an attorney for a party litigant dies, a motion to dismiss the appeal will be denied. In re Estate of Burton L. Knowles, 130 M 637, 304 P 2d 923.

When one attorney dies, appointment of a successor must be demanded. Hand v. Hand, 131 M 571, 312 P 2d 990, 993.

Where a divorced wife's attorney died and defendant husband did not demand the appointment of a successor, the special appearance by an attorney to quash an order that the wife show cause why the divorce decree should not be modified did not waive the defect that there was no statutory substitution of an attorney. Hand v. Hand, 131 M 571, 312 P 2d 990, 993.

93-2120. (8993) Lien for compensation.*Extent of Lien

Where, in second trial of conversion action, plaintiff obtained judgment against defendant, the attorney's lien on the judgment covered only the amount which would be realized on the judgment after costs accruing to defendant on appeal from first trial were deducted. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 635.

Notice

Under this section there is no need to file a notice of lien, the commencement of an action or the service of an answer containing a counterclaim being sufficient notice of the lien of the attorney. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 634.

Priority of Lien

While an attorney's lien is subordinate to the rights of the adverse party to offset judgments in the same actions or in actions based on the same actions or in actions based on the same transactions, it is nevertheless superior to any right to offset judgments obtained in wholly independent actions. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 634.

An attorney's lien for unpaid compensation is not superior to the adverse party's claim for costs accruing as a part of the litigation on the cause of action. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 635.

- Section 93-2502. When actions cannot be brought by grantee from the state.
- 93-2504. Seizin within five years—when necessary in actions for real property—action for dower.
- 93-2505. Such seizin, when necessary in action or defense arising out of title to or rents of real property.
- 93-2506. Entry on real estate.
- 93-2507. Possession—when presumed—occupation deemed under legal title, unless adverse.
- 93-2508. Occupation under written instrument or judgment—when deemed adverse.
- 93-2512. Relation of landlord and tenant as affecting adverse possession.
- 93-2513. Occupancy and payment of taxes necessary to prove adverse possession.
- 93-2515. Certain disabilities excluded from time to commence actions.
- 93-2516. Application of chapter to lands sold and conveyed by state.

93-2502. (9013) When actions cannot be brought by grantee from the state. No action can be brought for or in respect to real property by any person claiming under letters patent or grants from this state, unless the plaintiff, his ancestor, predecessor or grantor was seized or possessed of the property in question within ten (10) years before the commencement of the action. In any such action the state of Montana may be made a party defendant, and shall have only the defenses thereto as are available to other parties defendant to the action; provided that no judgment in any such action shall include damages, attorney fees or court costs against the state of Montana.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" the first time it appeared in this section.

Application for Tax Deed

The affidavit of service of notice of application for tax deed must recite whether the premises involved were occupied or unoccupied and if occupied by whom. Failure to so recite is a fatal defect. Davis v. Steingruber, 131 M 468, 311 P 2d 784, 786.

Ditch Right

Title by prescription to a ditch conveying water may be obtained by use thereof whenever water is needed. Te Selle v. Storey, 133 M 1, 319 P 2d 218, 220.

Where deed to defendant after describing property by legal subdivisions contained clause: "Together with all the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances, water rights and water ditches to the same belonging," if defendant's predecessor used the ditch for more than ten years there was title in him by prescription which passed to defendant by deed and it was of no consequence that the deed did not specifically mention the ditch right as an appurtenance. Te Selle v. Storey, 133 M 1, 319 P 2d 218, 220.

Operation and Effect

Where plaintiff's complaint alleges that "plaintiff is now the owner, entitled to possession," there is a presumption under section 93-2507 that the person establishing a legal title to the property is in possession thereof within the time required by law, and it is up to the other party to overcome the presumption with proof. Warren v. Warren, 127 M 259, 261 P 2d 364, 365.

Where party was the owner of the surface rights of land but there was a reserved right of entry for mining purposes in another person, the owner of the surface rights could not acquire any right by adverse possession unless he could show possession of the mine independently of the possession of the surface of the land for grazing or other purposes. Lehfeldt v. Adams, 130 M 395, 303 P 2d 934, 937.

In an action to quiet title, the fact that a county, which was named party defendant several months after the action was commenced, may have been entitled to assert the statute of limitations as a defense, did not make the same defense available to the plaintiff against a cross-complaint filed before the lapse of the 10-year period following the plaintiff's acquisition of a tax title. Marek v. Smith, 132 M 73, 314 P 2d 864, 865.

Where new parties are brought into a case, and it appears that between the commencement of the suit and the time when they are brought in, the period of limitations had expired, the new parties may plead the statute of limitations for themselves, but the plea is not available to the original defendants. Marek v. Smith, 132 M 73, 314 P 2d 864, 866.

This section applies to a case where a fence was erected prior to the government survey and with intent to claim all within the fence even though a subsequent patent based on the survey lines does not include all to the fence. Thibault v. Flynn, 133 M 461, 325 P 2d 914.

93-2505. (9016) Such seizin, when necessary in action or defense arising out of title to or rents of real property. No cause of action, or defense to an action, arising out of the title to real property, or to rents or profits out of the same, can be effectual, unless it appear that the person prosecuting the action, or making the defense, or under whose title the action is prosecuted or the defense is made, or the ancestor, predecessor, or grantor of such person, was seized or possessed of the premises in question within five [5] years before the commencement of the act in respect to which such action is prosecuted or defense made.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

Operation and Effect

The bringing of an action against one in adverse possession disputing his title arrests the running of the statute. Flathead Lumber Corp. v. Everett, 127 M 291, 263 P 2d 376, 378.

Where party was the owner of the surface rights of land but there was a reserved right of entry for mining purposes in another person, the owner of the surface rights could not acquire any rights by adverse possession unless he could show possession of the mine independently of the possession of the surface of the land for grazing or other purposes. Lehfeldt v. Adams, 130 M 395, 303 P 2d 934, 937.

Pleading

Since a person in adverse possession can acquire no new right as against the plaintiffs by the mere fact that they remain in possession during the pendency of the action it follows that a pleading of adverse possession by defendants for ten years is insufficient to constitute a defense unless it is alleged that the ten years were before the commencement of the action, and the trial court erred in sustaining a motion for judgment on the pleadings and in entering judgment thereon for defendants. Flathead Lumber

Corp. v. Everett, 127 M 291, 263 P 2d 376, 378.

Possession By Constructive Trustee

Where daughter deeded property to mother to be held in trust for her and later mother deeded property to another daughter with the understanding that it was to be held for the benefit of the first daughter, the possession of the mother and the second daughter was the possession of and for the first daughter and therefore an action by the first daughter to recover the property was not barred. Opp v. Boggs, 121 M 131, 193 P 2d 379, 384.

93-2506. (9017) Entry on real estate. No entry upon real estate is deemed sufficient or valid as a claim, unless an action be commenced thereupon within one [1] year after making such entry, and within five [5] years from the time when the right to make it descended or accrued.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

93-2507. (9018) Possession—when presumed—occupation deemed under legal title, unless adverse. In every action for the recovery of real property, or the possession thereof, the person establishing a legal title to the property is presumed to have been possessed thereof within the time required by law, and the occupation of the property by any other person is deemed to have been under and in subordination to the legal title, unless it appear that the property has been held and possessed adversely to such legal title for five [5] years before the commencement of the action.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

Burden of Proof

In action by mortgagor to quiet title to grazing lands burden of proving adverse possession was upon the plaintiff. Bell v. Gussenhoven, 132 M 346, 318 P 2d 251, 253.

Possession Under Contract for Deed

Possession under contract for deed was subordinate to title of owner. Hinton v. Staunton, 124 M 534, 228 P 2d 461, 463.

Presumption of Possession

Upon a motion to set aside a default judgment wherein the person in his affidavit of merits alleged that he was the record owner of the real estate he set up a prima facie defense to the original action because of the presumption of this section that the person who has legal title is in possession. Holen v. Phelps, 131 M 146, 308 P 2d 624, 627.

93-2508. (9019) Occupation under written instrument or judgment—when deemed adverse. When it appears that the occupant, or those under whom he claims, entered into the possession of the property under claim of title, exclusive of other right, founding such claim upon a written instrument, as being a conveyance of the property in question, or upon the decree or judgment of a competent court, and that there has been a continued occupation and possession of the property included in such instrument, decree, or judgment, or of some part of the property, under such claim, for five [5] years, the property so included is deemed to have been held adversely, except that when it consists of a tract divided into lots, the possession of one [1] lot is not deemed a possession of any other lot of the same tract.

Amendment

The 1953 amendment substituted "five years" for "ten years" in this section.

Color of Title

A tax deed, though void, is ample as color of title so as to sustain the claim of adverse possession. Hentzy v. Mandan Loan & Investment Co., 129 M 324, 286 P 2d 325, 327.

Color of title may be evidenced by a contract for the sale of land. An instrument which purports to convey the land or the right to its possession is sufficient color of title as a basis for adverse possession if the claim is made in good faith. Hentzy v. Mandan Loan & Investment Co., 129 M 324, 286 P 2d 325, 327.

in 1941, the occupant had "color of title" under the tax deeds and contracts for deeds to support adverse possession even though such tax deeds to the county were void for failure to comply with all of the requirements. Long v. Pawlowski, 131 M 91, 307 P 2d 1079, 1081.

Tacking Possession

A wife may tack her possession on to that of her husband prior to his death and it is not necessary that the relationship of husband and wife be established by probate proceedings before this can be done where the relationship is admitted by the pleadings. *Barcus v. ### 93-2509. (9020) What constitutes adverse possession, etc.

Application of Section

This section was inapplicable to claim of adverse title by plaintiff to grazing lands who contended that he had color of title by virtue of his patent, where proof disclosed that mortgage foreclosure proceedings divested him of title, leaving him with privilege of redemption which was not exercised. Upon the issuance of sheriff's certificate of sale, title vested in purchaser. Bell v. Gussenhoven, 132 M 346, 318 P 2d 251, 253.

Facts Showing Adverse Possession

Where plaintiffs inclosed the land with barbed wire fence, cultivated the land, executed an oil and gas lease on the land, and mortgaged the land, there were sufficient facts to show adverse possession. Laas v. All Persons, 121 M 43, 189 P 2d 670, 674.

Where defendant paid taxes on land for more than ten years [since amended], staked out the land in lots and leased it at various times for different purposes, and the land was in defendant's name in the tax records, evidence was sufficient to show adverse possession. Kenney v. Bridges, 123 M 95, 208 P 2d 475.

93-2511. (9022) What constitutes adverse possession under claim, etc.

This section was inapplicable where plaintiff did not claim grazing land on any title except adverse usage and there was no testimony in the record that the land had been protected by a substantial enclosure, nor had it been cultivated or improved. Bell v. Gussenhoven, 132 M 346, 318 P 2d 251, 253.

93-2512. (9023) Relation of landlord and tenant as affecting adverse possession. When the relation of landlord and tenant has existed between any persons, the possession of the tenant is deemed the possession of the landlord until the expiration of five [5] years from the termination of the tenancy, or, where there has been no written lease, until the expiration of five [5] years from the time of the last payment of rent, notwithstanding such tenant may have acquired another title, or may have claimed to hold adversely to his landlord. But such presumptions cannot be made after the periods prescribed in this section.

(9024) Occupancy and payment of taxes necessary to prove adverse possession. In no case shall adverse possessions be considered established under the provisions of any section or sections of this code unless it shall be shown that the land has been occupied and claimed for a period of five [5] years continuously, and the party or persons, their predecessors and grantors, have, during such period, paid all the taxes, state, county, or municipal, which have been legally levied and assessed upon said land.

Burden of Proof

Operation and Effect

Where plaintiff and his predecessor had remained in open, exclusive, notorious and adverse possession of an abandoned river channel since 1936 and had paid taxes on improvements thereon but not on the real property because none had been assessed it was sufficient for adverse possession. Helland v. Custer County, 127 M 23, 256 P 2d 1085.

Payment of Taxes

This section requires the payment of taxes only if there are any to be paid. Barcus v. Galbreath, 122 M 537, 207 P 2d 559, 564.

Payment of Taxes—Time for Payment

All that is required under this section is that the claimant shall have claimed the land for a period of ten years [since amended] continuously and that he has paid all taxes levied during that period, but it is not necessary that each year's taxes should have been paid when due. Laas v. All Persons, 121 M 43, 189 P 2d 670, 675.

1. Within the age of majority ; or,
2. Insane ; or,
3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution upon conviction of a criminal offense, for a term of less than for life.

The time during which disability continues is not deemed any portion of the time in this chapter limited for the commencement of such action, or the making of such entry or defense, but such action may be commenced, or entry or defense made, within the period of five [5] years after such disability shall cease, or after the death of the person entitled, who shall die under such disability ; but such action shall not be commenced or entry, or defense made, after that period.

Minority—Time for Bringing Suit

Where the youngest of the heirs attained his majority more than ten years [since amended] before action to establish title to land, and they brought no action within that time, they could not defend such suit by party holding under tax deed and by adverse possession, on the ground that the heirs were minors at the time the tax deed was procured. *Laas v. ##### Action on Bond for Deed

Action to enforce "bond for deed" for certain mining rights in land was barred by this section. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487.

Effect of Suspension of Foreign Corporation

Held, that the suspension of a foreign corporation for nonpayment of taxes does not suspend the running of the statute of limitations, and hence an action based on a mortgage would be barred after eight years under this section. The suspension does not result in an inability to get service of process on the foreign corporation for section 93-3007 provides for such service and section 93-3011 states that it is personal service so that a personal judgment may be entered on such service. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325.

Part Payment—Proof

Where the plaintiff in an action on a note executed in 1931 and payable within 90 days pleaded part payment in 1934 and 1938 to bar the statute of limitations, he has the burden of proof that the payments were made, and it is not sufficient to show the indorsement on the back of the note. An indorsement of a payment on a note by the holder does not create a presumption that the payment was made at the time that the indorsement indicates. Wight v. Stevenson, 126 M 377, 252 P 2d 241.

Where daughter conveyed real property to her mother with the understanding that it was to be held in trust for her, and mother then deeded property to another daughter with the understanding that it

93-2702. (9048) Exception, where defendant is out of the state.

Application

This section does not toll the running of a statute of limitation in an action against a foreign corporation which was suspended from operating in the state for non-payment of taxes, since the person could get service of process on such corporation through the secretary of state in accordance with sections 93-3007 and 93-3011 and a personal judgment could be entered on such service. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325.

CHAPTER 28—PARTIES TO CIVIL ACTIONS

93-2801. (9067) Action to be in name of party in interest.

Operation in General

In an action on account for the balance due on stumpage from timber sold to the defendant, it was not error to fail to join the plaintiff's wife or the vendors from whom the plaintiff and his wife had contracted to purchase the land, since it did not appear that their rights would be prejudiced by a decision in their absence. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1051.

Stockholder of Corporation

Single stockholder has no authority to bring action to quiet title where he alleges that corporation "is the sole and exclusive owner in fee simple title of the lands." Noble v. Farmers' Union Trading Co., 123 M 518, 216 P 2d 925.

Sole or majority stockholders of a corporation cannot maintain an action for the corporation. The reason is, that because the majority stockholders control the corporate machinery, they necessarily control the corporation and through its officers and directors the defense and the prosecution of any litigation involving the corporation. The sole or majority stockholders then have no need to resort to the indirection of a stockholders' suit by grace of a court of equity to protect the corporate interests. Equity will deny them any such relief, if asked, because their remedy within the corporation is adequate. Malcom v. Stoddall Land & Investment Co., 128 M 142, 284 P 2d 258, 260.

As a general rule stockholders may not sue upon a cause of action belonging to their corporation whether in their own names or in the name of the corporation itself. Nor generally may they defend for it an action brought against the corporation as defendant. Malcom v. Stoddall Land & Investment Co., 128 M 254, 284 P 2d 258, 260.

Contributory negligence of a beneficiary is a bar to an action for death brought by or for such beneficiary. Hence, in an action against the United States for negligence in not providing proper ventilation in a parachute room, and failing to provide respirators so that the plaintiff's wife became ill from the inhalation of fumes and died, the plaintiff could not recover because he and his deceased wife were guilty of contributory negligence by using open containers of carbon tetrachloride and assumed the risk of inhaling the fumes. *Sartori v. the death of the convicted person abates the appeal. State v. Lawrence, 122 M 277, 201 P 2d 756.

93-2825. (9087) Another person may be substituted for the defendant, etc.*Complaint Insufficient as Interpleader

In an interpleader action, allegations of defendants tending to show that plaintiff was not a disinterested stakeholder and that it had incurred an independent liability to other defendants, were improperly stricken on the plaintiff's motion, since by such motion plaintiff failed to maintain its position as a disinterested stakeholder. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 995.

The petition or affidavit in interpleader must disclose some reasonable basis of conflicting claims to the fund or property. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 993.

An attitude of perfect disinterestedness, excluding even an indirect interest by the plaintiff is necessary if plaintiff is to maintain a bill of interpleader. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 994.

Right to Relief

In action to prohibit defendant from cancelling an agreement for sale of lands even though the deposit in court might be legally insufficient as a tender to defendant, plaintiff might be relieved from forfeiture upon a showing of facts sufficient to appeal to the conscience of a court of equity under section 17-102. Blackfeet Tribe of the Blackfeet Indian Reservation v. Klies Livestock Co., 160 F Supp 131, 133, 141.

Where Rights to Property Determined in Previous Action

Where the rights and claims of parties to attached property were fully determined by the supreme court in a prior action, the findings as to these matters were res judicata in a subsequent interpleader action. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 991.

93-2826. (9088) Intervention—when it takes place and how made.*Interest in the Matter in Litigation

Where a taxpayer, under proper procedure, filed an action against the county for a refund of taxes, the state and the state board of equalization have an interest in the subject-matter of the litigation so as to enable them to intervene in the action, not only because part of the tax collected was a state levy but also because the determinative questions raised are of vital interest and concern as they pertain to the tax laws, the procedure thereto, and the public fiscal policy of the sovereign state. Carlson v. Flathead County, 130 M 24, 293 P 2d 273, 275. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 24, 293 P 2d 273, 276.)

Where electors brought action to enjoin a school district from carrying out contracts for construction of a gymnasium, the contractors were indispensable parties without whose presence the court is without jurisdiction to proceed with the case, particularly to a trial on the merits. Miller v. Cut Bank High School District, 130 M 499, 305 P 2d 319, 320. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 499, 305 P 2d 319, 321.)

Operation and Effect

Where wife asks court to partition various parcels of real property in which she and her husband have an interest it is necessary that interested or affected persons be made parties. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 265.

Where plaintiff did not ask the court to bring in some indispensable parties, the court cannot be put in error for not invoking this statute. Miller v. Cut Bank High School District, 130 M 499, 305 P 2d 319, 320. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 499, 305 P 2d 319 at 321.)

In an action on account for the balance due on stumpage from timber sold to the defendant, it was not error to fail to join the plaintiff's wife or the vendors from whom the plaintiff and his wife had contracted to purchase the land, since it did not appear that their rights would be prejudiced by a decision in their absence. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1051.

CHAPTER 29—PLACE OF TRIAL OF CIVIL ACTIONS

93-2901. (9093) Certain actions to be tried, etc.*Construction

The phrase "subject of the action" as used in subdivision 1 is not synonymous with the term "cause of action" nor with the term "object of the action." Subject of the action denotes the plaintiff's principal primary right to enforce or maintain that for which the action is brought and does not denote the specific thing in regard to which the legal controversy is carried on. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 115. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

93-2904. (9096) Other actions, according to the residence of the parties.*Actions for Divorce

This section determines the place of trial of divorce actions unless the court has the power to declare otherwise. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510, 511.

Actions in Tort

Action brought two years after dissolution of partnership for damages resulting from false representations, a paragraph of the complaint alleging that defendant purchased a house with part of the partnership funds and that plaintiff was entitled to one-half the profits received on its sale, was for damages and at law and the proper venue of the county was in the county where the tort was committed. Brownback v. Nelson, 122 M 525, 206 P 2d 1017, 1020.

Lincoln County was the proper county for trial of action where complaint by which plaintiff commenced suit alleged plaintiff's ownership and right of possession of the timber in Lincoln County, conversion by the defendants and resulting damage. Johnson v. Clark, 131 M 454, 311 P 2d 772, 775.

Plaintiff by instituting his action in a county other than where the accident occurred or the defendant resided, waived his right to have the action tried in either of these counties, and defendant had the right to have the place of trial changed to either of the latter counties, Seifert v. Gehle, 133 M 320, 323 P 2d 269, 270.

Actions on Contract

The provisions of the second sentence of this section insofar as it relates to actions upon contracts is in the nature of an exception to the general rule enacted in the main clause of the first sentence which provides generally that actions be tried in the county of the defendant's residence. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 119. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

Early decisions uniformly held that in actions upon contracts the second sentence of this section applied only to actions upon express contracts wherein the contract sued upon discloses on its face that it was to be performed in a particular county other than that of defendant's residence. Later cases departed from the earlier decisions and held that the performance exception applies to a contract which failed to state or provide for any place where such contract was to be performed. The case of State ex rel. Interstate Lumber Co. v. District Court, 54 M 602, 172 P 1030 went further and expressly overruled the earlier cases. The construction given in the Interstate Lumber Co. case and the overruling of the earlier decisions by the case are expressly disapproved. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 119. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

The word "may" in the second sentence of this section should not be given the force of "must." Love v. Mon-O-Co Oil Corp., 133 M 56, 319 P 2d 1056, 1058.

Either the county of defendant's residence, or the county where the contract was to be performed, is the proper county for the trial of the action and if the plaintiff chooses either of these counties, defendant may not have it removed, except as stated in the last part of this section, it is still subject to the power of the court to change place of trial as provided in section 93-2906. Love v. Mon-O-Co Oil Corp., 133 M 56, 319 P 2d 1056, 1059.

The performance exception, appearing in the second sentence of this section, applies only to such actions as are based upon contracts which plainly show, either (a) by their express terms, or (b) by necessary implication therefrom, that the contracting parties, at the time of contracting, did mutually agree upon a particular county, other than that of defendant's residence wherein they intended that their contract was to be performed. Love v. Mon-O-Co Oil Corp., 133 M 56, 319 P 2d 1056, 1059.

Charge of Allegations in Subsequent Complaint

Where plaintiff in first complaint for damages alleged that false representations were made in one county, he was not precluded from alleging that the false representations were made in another county in a subsequent complaint since the representation may have been made in both places. Brownback v. Nelson, 122 M 525, 206 P 2d 1017, 1020.

Construction

The general rule is that actions should be tried in the county in which the defendants reside at the commencement of the action. This is embodied in the first clause of the first section and the four subordinate clauses in that sentence provide alternatives which are departures from the general rule which are allowed under the circumstances set forth in the subordinate clauses. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 117. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

The word "may" as used in the last sentence applies to tort actions as well as to contract actions. Seifert v. Gehle, 133 M 320, 323 P 2d 269, 270.

Venue Established by Contract

Defendant in action to recover monthly rental for electric signs was not entitled to change of venue where stipulation in contract established venue of any future suit or action instituted for enforcement of contract. Electrical Products Consolidated v. Bodell, 132 M 243, 316 P 2d 788, 789.

93-2905. (9097) Actions may be tried in any county, unless, etc.

Application of Section

When a timely and proper motion for a change of place of trial is pending, the court has no jurisdiction except first to rule on the motion for change of place of trial. Johnson v. Clark, 131 M 454, 311 P 2d 772, 775.

The district court must determine defendants' right to a change of place of trial to the proper county upon the state of plaintiff's original complaint as it stood at the time defendants first came into court and made their general appearance in the case. Johnson v. Clark, 131 M 454, 311 P 2d 772, 777.

Essential Steps to Change Venue

Venue may be changed if the statutory method of securing a change is invoked and sufficient grounds are shown. Electrical Products Consolidated v. Bodell, 132 M 243, 316 P 2d 788, 789.

When Change Required

Where divorce action was not brought in county of defendant's residence and defendant appeared by general demurrer, accompanied by written motion for change of venue, affidavit of merits and demand that the action be transferred to the county of his residence, the motion should have been granted. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510.

93-2906. (9098) Place of trial may be changed in certain cases.

Actions Upon Contracts

Either the county of defendant's residence, or the county where the contract was to be performed, is the proper county for the trial of the action, and if plaintiff chooses either of those counties, defendant may not have it removed, except as stated in the last part of section 93-2904, it is still subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial as provided by subdivisions 2, 3 and 4 of this section. Love v. Mon-O-Co Oil Corp., 133 M 56, 319 P 2d 1056, 1059.

Application of Section

Right of defendant to a change of place of trial to the proper county depends upon the state of plaintiff's original complaint at the time defendants made their first general appearance. Johnson v. Clark, 131 M 454, 311 P 2d 772, 777.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-901 are companion sections and must be construed together. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

This section cannot become applicable until the district judge has complied with section 93-901. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Power of Substituted Judge

Subdivision 4 of this section and section 93-310 give a judge called in under the provisions of section 93-901 the authority to draw additional jurors from jury box No. 3 for the remainder of the term under the provisions of section 93-1510. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

Provisions Are Mandatory

The provisions of this section are mandatory and on timely and proper application, require the district court to change the venue. Johnson v. Clark, 131 M 454, 311 P 2d 772, 776.

Time for Making Decision

Until defendant has answered, any action of the court in determining a motion for a change of venue under subd. 3 is premature. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510, 512.

Where divorce action was not brought in the county of the residence of the defendant and defendant appeared by general demurrer and demand that the action be transferred to the county of his residence, it was error for the court to refuse the transfer since the court could not be given such authority to retain jurisdiction in such county by subd. 3 of this section prior to the disposition of the demurrer and the answer of defendant. McNeill v. McNeill, 122 M 413, 205 P 2d 510, 511.

Parties have a right to stipulate in advance where any action arising under a contract may be tried. Electrical Products Consolidated v. Bodell, 132 M 243, 316 P 2d 788, 790.

93-3008. (9112) Service of summons on certain corporations—made on secretary of state. When an action is pending in any court in this state against a corporation organized under the laws of this state, or against a corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country, that has filed a copy of its charter in the office of the secretary of state of Montana and qualified to do business in this state; or against a corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country that is actually doing business within the state of Montana or that was actually doing business within this state at the time the said action arose even though such corporation has not filed a copy of its charter in the office of the secretary of state of Montana and has not qualified to do business in this state; or against a national banking corporation who, through insolvency or lapse of charter has ceased to do business in Montana; upon any cause of action arising within this state, and the president or other head, secretary, cashier, or managing agent of such domestic corporation, or the business agent, cashier, secretary, or agent appointed to receive service of process by such corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country, or any clerk, superintendent, general agent, cashier, principal director, ticket agent, stationkeeper, managing agent, or other agent, having the management, direction, or control of any property of any corporation doing business in this state, cannot be found, upon which service of process can be made, and an affidavit is filed in the office of the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, setting forth that an action is pending in that court, and that the plaintiff has a good cause of action upon the merits, and that such corporation is a necessary party therein, and that none of the persons or officers above named can be found within the state, upon whom service of process can be made, the clerk of the court shall make an order directing process to be served upon the secretary of state of the state of Montana, or, in his absence from his office, upon the deputy secretary of state of the state of Montana; provided, however, that when service of process is made under the provisions of this section in actions and proceedings in which personal service of summons is not required to be made in order to obtain relief, including every action or proceeding commenced in this state to enforce any legal or equitable lien upon, or claim to, or to remove any encumbrance, or lien, or cloud, upon the title of real or personal property within this state, service by publication must also be made.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment inserted the words "or against a national banking corporation who, through insolvency or lapse of charter has ceased to do business in Montana."

The 1951 amendment inserted the words appearing between the first and second semi-colons relating to corporations not having qualified to do business in the state and added the proviso.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 135, L. 1949 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 135, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect upon its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1949.

Doing Business within State

Corporation, which manufactured automobiles and had its principal place of business in Ohio was not doing business within the state for purposes of service of process where it was shown that the corporation had no agents or property in the state, and that it sold its automobiles and parts to distributors in Ohio who in turn sold them to dealers. Representatives from the corporation visited distributors and dealers but their business was to note and report the manner in which the distributors and dealers conduct the business. Clapper Motor Co. v. Robinson Motor Co., 119 F Supp 79.

Sufficiency of Affidavit

Affidavit that affiant was unable to locate "the President, Vice President, Cashier or other officer of the said defendants upon whom service could be made, and that there is no such agent or officer of said corporation in the State of Montana upon whom service could be had" was in substantial compliance with the requirements of the statute. Hinton v. Staunton, 124 M 534, 228 P 2d 461, 465.

The 1951 amendment inserted the words "And in the case of corporations which have not qualified to do business within the state, to the principal home office address as supplied by the plaintiff in said action" and added the proviso.

The 1953 amendment deleted the proviso at the end of the section which read "provided that in cases of corporations which have not qualified to do business within this state service shall not be deemed complete unless the registry receipt shows prima facie that each copy of summons and complaint and copy of the order was received."

Repealing Clauses

Section 3 of Ch. 122, Laws 1951 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 151, Laws 1953 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Dates

Section 3 of Ch. 151, Laws 1953 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 3, 1953.

93-3011. (9115) Service to be deemed personal.

Operation and Effect

It is competent for the legislature to provide that service on the secretary of state shall constitute personal service on the corporation. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325, 328.

In the Rothrock Case the court distinguished between substituted service and constructive service. Personal service of process means delivery to the defendant personally. But even in the case of individuals, it is competent for the legislature to give other modes of service the force of personal service. Since a corporation is but an artificial being, it is proper for the legislature to prescribe what shall constitute personal service on such a being and it is competent for the legislature to provide that service on the secretary of state shall constitute personal service on the corporation. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325, 328.

Personal Judgment

As this section deems service on the secretary of state under section 93-3007 personal service it follows that a personal judgment may be entered on such service. Montana Valley Land Co. v. Bestul, 126 M 426, 253 P 2d 325, 328.

93-3013. (9117) Publication of summons.*Affidavit Made by Attorney

There is nothing in this section which prevents plaintiff's attorney from either making or filing the affidavit. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 494.

Applicable to Quiet Title Action

This section is made applicable to quiet title actions by section 93-6202. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 495.

Filing Summons and Return Not Condition Precedent

There is no provision which requires that the original summons with the return thereon must first be filed with the clerk of the court before an order of publication may be obtained. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 495.

Specific Performance

A suit for specific performance of a contract to convey real property is a suit in personam and service cannot be had by publication. State ex rel. Miller v. District Court, 120 M 423, 186 P 2d 506, 507, 173 ALR 978.

93-3020. (9124) Return of summons.*Failure to File Original Summons With Return

Mere failure or omission to file the original summons with the various returns thereon within the time specified in this section does not affect the district court's jurisdiction. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 496.

Failure to Make Return in Time

The court does not lose jurisdiction over a defendant who has been properly served by the failure of the sheriff to make the return within the time required by this section. Clinton v. Miller, 124 M 463, 226 P 2d 487, 496.

CHAPTER 31—PLEADINGS IN GENERAL*93-3103. (9127) What pleadings are allowed.*Operation and Effect

Where a motion for a change of venue was timely served and filed in the action by defendant's attorney, defendant was not in default. McLeod v. McLeod, 124 M 590, 228 P 2d 965.

Defendants filing motion to strike portions of plaintiff's complaint made their general appearance in the case. Johnson v. Clark, 131 M 454, 311 P 2d 772, 774.

93-3202. (9129) Complaint—what to contain.*Divorce Action

In a divorce action a complaint charging desertion must be sufficiently informative as to matters of time and place of desertion as to reasonably inform the defendant of the charge. Hosking v. Hosking, 120 M 437, 186 P 2d 503, 504.

Effect of Allegations on Evidence Admissible

Where complaint alleged the only issue that defendant was required to meet as the amount of $2,956 which plaintiff claimed to have earned, it was error to permit plaintiff to testify that there was still $2,956 due him after he had been paid that much. It confronted defendant with a cause of action not pleaded. Johns v. Modern Home Crafters, Inc., — M —, 328 P 2d 641, 643.

"Last Clear Chance Doctrine"

The doctrine of last clear chance has application to a case not only where defendant actually saw plaintiff in a position of peril in time to avoid the injury by the exercise of reasonable care but also to a case where in the exercise of reasonable care he should or could have discovered plaintiff in his perilous position in time to avoid the injury. Sorrells v. Ryan, 129 M 29, 281 P 2d 1028, 1030.

Legal Conclusions

Statement that the defendant "wrongfully failed to perform his official duty to supply the plaintiff with license blanks" in a suit for damages against the state fish and game warden was a bald conclusion of law and insufficient to withstand general demurrer. Meinecke v. McFarland, 122 M 515, 206 P 2d 1012, 1014.

Pleadings in Actions on Bills and Notes

It is a fundamental rule of pleading in actions on bills and notes that the plaintiff must allege facts showing title or right to sue. In an action by the payee named in the instrument, however, a formal allegation that he is still the owner and holder is unnecessary if the execution of the instrument, its delivery to the plaintiff, and the default of the maker or acceptor are alleged. Parkinson v. Diefenderfer, 128 M 547, 280 P 2d 424.

Statement of Facts in Ordinary and Concise Language

It is not necessary to allege the items constituting an account, but an allegation that an indebtedness is owing from defendant to plaintiff for the balance due on "stumpage from timber purchased of and from the plaintiff" which upon demand the defendant failed and still fails to pay, is sufficient to allege the ultimate facts required to state a cause of action. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1049.

93-3203. (9130) What causes of action may be joined.

Divorce

Relief for causes set out in subds. 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this section cannot be joined in an action for a divorce. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 256.

Failure to Object Waives Right

Where plaintiff failed to move the court to require the defendant to separately state and number causes of action, the objection to the intermingling of separate causes of action was waived. Pioneer Engineering Works v. McConnell, 123 M 171, 212 P 2d 641.

Trespass

Where plaintiff is grazing cattle of several other persons on his lands and defendant on two separate occasions commits a trespass against such cattle the causes of action may be joined. Cormier v. Fraser, 130 M 170, 296 P 2d 1021.

CHAPTER 33—DEMURRER TO COMPLAINTS

93-3301. (9131) When defendant may demur.

Defect in Parties

Generally, any defect in parties must be taken advantage of by special demurrer or else it is deemed waived, or if the defect of parties does not appear on the face of the complaint then to move for non-suit at the trial. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1051.

Facts Sufficient to Constitute a Cause of Action

As actionable negligence arises only from a breach of a legal duty, and a complaint alleged that the defendant owed plaintiff, his employee, the duty of furnishing him a reasonably safe place to work and alleged a breach of the duty by alleging that the defendant failed to provide a reasonably safe place to work and a reasonably safe way to travel to and from a water fountain and rest room, the complaint stated facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action and was good as against the demurrer. Ritchie v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 128 M 218, 272 P 2d 728, 729.

Forcible Entry and Unlawful Detainer Actions

The provisions of this chapter, sections 93-3301 to 93-3306, are made applicable to proceedings for forcible entry and unlawful detainer by section 93-9718, since they are encompassed by and included within sections 93-2301 to 93-8717 as specified in section 93-9718. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 999.

Waiver of Defects

Where defendants filed a demurrer they thereby waived all defects in the complaint attackable only by motion and therefore motion for bill of particulars was properly overruled. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 603.

CHAPTER 34—ANSWER

93-3401. (9137) Answer—what to contain.

Denial of Material Allegations

Where answer denied each and every "material" allegation of the complaint and plaintiff went to trial thereon without objection, each and all allegations in the complaint were material and the plaintiff was required to make proof of such material allegations so pleaded by him. Maass v. Patterson, 122 M 394, 204 P 2d 1040, 1045.

Forcible Entry and Unlawful Detainer Actions

The provisions of this chapter, sections 93-3401 to 93-3415, are made applicable to proceedings for forcible entry and unlawful detainer by section 93-9718, since they are encompassed by and included within sections 93-2301 to 93-8717 as specified in section 93-9718. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 999.

93-3411. (9147) Partial defenses.

Burden of Proof

Matter in mitigation of damages is a defense and the burden of pleading and proving it rests with the defendant. Garden City Floral Co. v. Hunt, 126 M 537, 255 P 2d 352, 358.

Offer to do Equity

An "offer to do equity" in the answer when not accepted as provided in section 93-8201 could not be used in evidence nor could it be regarded as an admission that defendants had waived any of their defenses. Rachou v. McQuitty, 125 M 1, 229 P 2d 965.

Waiver of Objections

Objections to the form of denials are waived by going to trial without first challenging the pleading by motion, demurrer or other timely and proper objection. Maass v. Patterson, 122 M 394, 204 P 2d 1040, 1045.

Scope of Cross-complaint in Mandamus Proceedings

Interveners in a mandamus action are not entitled to maintain their cross-complaint unless that cross-complaint relates to, or depends upon, the duties asserted by the plaintiff against the defendant public officer. Thus, where the plaintiff seeks by mandamus to require the recorder of marks and brands to record a brand in his name as administrator whether the interveners are the owners of the brand, the animals bearing the brand, and of the proceeds of the sale of animals so branded presents a question which bears no relation to the duty of the general recorder of marks and brands to issue a certificate to the plaintiff. Benolken v. Miracle, 129 M 495, 289 P 2d 953, 955.

Interveners by their cross-complaint may not transform a proceeding in mandamus against a public officer into a private dispute between them and the plaintiff to settle disputed property rights which do not relate to, or depend upon, the duty of the officer against whom the proceeding is brought. Benolken v. Miracle, 129 M 495, 289 P 2d 953, 956.

In action for specific performance of contract for assignment of leases in which defense was impossibility of performance because leases had been terminated when defendant entered into contract with owner of land for purchase, a reply admitting such termination of the leases and praying for the assignment of such contracts of purchase was an abandonment of the original cause of action and sought to enforce a different contract and therefore could not be the basis for any recovery. Rachou v. McQuitty, 125 M 1, 229 P 2d 965.

In action based upon indemnity bond issued by defendant to indemnify plaintiff against loss from fraud or dishonesty of station agent, allegation in complaint that agent while in possession of money and property belonging to plaintiff, had wrongfully and dishonestly appropriated plaintiff's products and cash money, sufficiently stated a cause of action. Waite v. Stand- ard Accident Ins. Co., 132 M 220, 315 P 2d 989, 992.

Divorce Action

A complaint in a divorce action which does not set forth the elements of the ground for divorce with sufficient certainty to establish them is not aided by this section. Hosking v. Hosking, 120 M 437, 186 P 2d 503, 504.

Relief Requested

In divorce action where complaint alleged that $2,040 which had been in bank was plaintiff's separate property, that it was placed in her name although she had no interest in it and that she took the money without plaintiff's consent and prayer was for "such other and further relief as to the court may seem meet and equitable in the premises," it was not error for the court to adjudge that plaintiff recover from defendant the amount of $2,040. Rogers v. Rogers, 123 M 52, 209 P 2d 998, 1001.

In action to foreclose mechanic's lien and recover a stated sum of money for labor and materials a complaint which did not contain an itemized statement of the materials and labor furnished was not subject to demurrer, but the defendant's remedy was under this section. Cole v. Hunt, 123 M 256, 211 P 2d 417, 419.

Operation and Effect

An allegation that an indebtedness is owing from defendant to plaintiff for the balance due on "stumpage from timber purchased of and from the plaintiff" which upon demand the defendant has failed and still fails to pay, is sufficient to allege the ultimate facts required by the code. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1049.

Where plaintiff filed a statement of account, in an action for the balance due on stumpage from timber sold to the defendant, findings for the plaintiff based upon the complaint which sufficiently stated a cause of action and which were couched in terms of ultimate facts were sufficient. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1049.

cerning it. Professional & Business Men's Life Ins. Co. v. Bankers Life Co., 163 F Supp 274, 288, 289.

defendants are involved it is not proper to make determination thereof unless demanded in the pleadings. Strack v. Federal Land Bank, 124 M 19, 218 P 2d 1052, 1056.

93-3820. Adoption by reference of statements in a pleading. Statements in a pleading may be adopted by reference in a different part of the same pleading or in another pleading or in any motion. 93-3905. (9187) Amendments by the court—enlarging time, etc.*Amendments by Leave of Court*Affirmative Showing of Abuse of Discretion Must be Made to Reverse Lower Court

The allowance or denial of leave to amend a pleading during the course of a trial is within the sound discretion of the trial court and in the absence of an affirmative showing of abuse of discretion the supreme court will not disturb the order of the trial court. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 378.

Amendments Allowed*To Substitute Real Party in Interest

In action to quiet title, court was authorized, after default of original defendant, to set aside default and permit assignee of timber rights to be substituted as the party defendant. State ex rel. Hilyard v. District Court, 120 M 342, 184 P 2d 997.

When Amendment Properly Refused

After plaintiff had put in his proof and rested his case and defendant introduced some evidence in support of his defense, the court cannot be said to have abused its discretion in refusing an amendment to the answer which would have materially changed the issues. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 378.

Discretion of Court

When a motion to quash is sustained, it is within the discretion of the trial court either to allow an amendment or to give judgment forthwith. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1016.

Extending Time for Filing Demurrer

Where motion to strike complaint was overruled and court ordered defendant to answer, defendant could, if he felt that the order prejudiced him in not permitting him to demur to the complaint, request the court for permission to file a demurrer under the provisions of this section and if he fails to do so he waives his right to demur. Betor v. Chevalier, 121 M 337, 193 P 2d 374, 376.

Inapplicability Where Party Fails to Present Bill of Exceptions within time Limit

Where a party fails to present his bill of exceptions within the time limit prescribed by section 93-5505, he may not rely upon this section for relief. Non-action is not the equivalent of a "proceeding taken against" the party and since this section is a general one while sections 93-5505 and 93-8708 are specific and pertain to bills of exceptions, the latter sections control under the well-settled rule of construction in this state that the provisions of a special statute control those of a general statute relating to the same subject-matter. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 992, 994, 995.

Operation and Effect

This court has repeatedly declared that default judgments are not favored and that it is the policy of the law to have every case tried on its merits. While slight abuse of discretion in refusing to set aside a default judgment is sufficient to justify a reversal of the order, only in exceptional cases will this court disturb the action of a trial court in re-opening a default. Waggoner v. Glacier Colony of Hutterites, 127 M 140, 258 P 2d 1162, 1168.

Trial court erred in refusing to set aside a default judgment entered after defendant's failure to answer, where evidence disclosed that defendant after being served with process went to see the plaintiff's lawyer and not finding him in talked with an associate who promised to relay defendant's message to him to the effect that the plaintiff was suing the wrong colony, and there was confusion over what was told to the defendant. Waggoner v. Glacier Colony of Hutterites, 127 M 140, 258 P 2d 1162.

Trial court was correct in setting aside a default judgment against the defendant entered in a divorce decree, where it was disclosed that at the time plaintiff instituted the divorce action in Montana there was pending a divorce action by defendant against plaintiff in California and to which plaintiff had filed a cross-complaint. Petrol v. Petrol, 127 M 184, 259 P 2d 338.

Relief From Judgments, Orders, or Other Proceedings

Amended Application After Motion to Quash Sustained

Where order sustained motion to quash and dismissed action it amounted to a judgment which could be set aside by complying with this section and the provisions of this section can not be avoided by filing an amended application on the theory the order on such amended application for a writ of certiorari is by implication an order to set aside the judgment of dismissal and granting leave to amend. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1017.

Default Judgments

A party defendant, on application to set aside his default, must, in addition to excusing his delinquency, support the motion by an affidavit of merits setting forth the facts constituting his defense. Holen v. Phelps, 131 M 146, 308 P 2d 624, 627.

In ruling on a motion to set aside a default, the affidavits of merits filed by the petitioner cannot be controverted by counter affidavits. The court confines itself to an investigation of the affidavit of merits to see whether a prima facie defense is made out. Holen v. Phelps, 131 M 146, 308 P 2d 624, 627.

Where defendant alleged that he was owner of the record title in his motion to set aside a default and in his affidavit of merits, he has set out a prima facie defense in view of section 93-2507 which provides that the person establishing legal title is presumed to be in possession. Holen v. Phelps, 131 M 146, 308 P 2d 624, 627.

93-3908. (1910) Suing a party by a fictitious name—when allowed.

Operation and Effect

It is sufficient to describe a party by any known and accepted abbreviation of

While the supreme court will disturb the action of a trial court in opening default only in exceptional cases, "no great abuse of discretion by the trial court in refusing to set aside a default need be shown to warrant a reversal." Holen v. Phelps, 131 M 146, 308 P 2d 624, 627.

Fraud—Probate Proceedings

This section does not provide for setting aside a judgment because of fraud, and while such relief on such ground may be available in a court of equity it is not obtainable in a court of probate. State ex rel. Sanford v. District Court, 124 M 429, 225 P 2d 866, 868.

Variance

Where, in action to recover value of use and occupancy, plaintiff claimed damages measured on a certain basis, and defendant denied that it had any rental value, the fact that a different rental value than that alleged in the complaint was proved was not a material variance. Pritchard Petroleum Co. v. Farmers Co-op. Oil & Supply Co., 121 M 1, 190 P 2d 55, 60.

In taxpayers' suit opposing annexation of a city subdivision where trial court found that less than the required majority had protested, it must be presumed on appeal, that the lower court's proceedings are regular and contain no substantial error until otherwise shown preponderantly by the plaintiff. Kunesh v. Great Falls, 132 M 285, 317 P 2d 297, 298.

Error Not Presumed

Where trial court observed the witnesses, the jury found for the plaintiff, new trial was brief, argued, considered at length and denied, the supreme court on appeal will reverse only for manifest cause; an appeal presumes no error. Thompson v. Mattuschek, — M —, 333 P 2d 1022, 1025, 1026.

Excessive Verdict

Where verdict of jury was for ten dollars more than proof showed loss to be and there was no conflict in the evidence, the judgment entered on such verdict would not be reversed but the judgment would be modified by reducing it by ten dollars. Miller v. Emerson, 120 M 380, 186 P 2d 220.

the litigants to have a fair trial before an impartial judge is involved. In re Woodside-Florence Irr. Dist., 121 M 346, 194 P 2d 241, 254.

Operation in General

Where defendant in divorce action admitted that certain stocks in her name belonged to plaintiff and that she would indorse them and turn them over to plaintiff if produced, any error in the order of the court quieting title to the stock in plaintiff and ordering defendant to transfer and convey the stock to plaintiff was harmless. *Rogers v. In such actions it is incumbent on plaintiff to establish by the preponderance of the evidence the right to the immediate possession in himself at the time the action is brought, and that the defendant is wrongfully in possession. Plaintiff must rely upon the strength of his own right of possession and not upon the weakness of his adversary's claim to such right. O'Connell v. Haggerty, 126 M 442, 253 P 2d 578, 580.

CHAPTER 42—INJUNCTION

93-4201. (9240) Injunction order defined—by whom granted.

Definition—Restraining Order

An order which requires a person to refrain from a particular act for any period of time, no matter what its purpose, is an injunction and this applies to a "restraining order." Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 603.

Operation and Effect

An injunction operates only in personam and affects only the parties to the action and a party occupying the relation of a privy who was not a party to the suit at the time of the rendition of the judgment cannot be held to obey the mandate of the injunction. Big Four v. Bison, 132 M 87, 314 P 2d 863.

93-4203. (9242) Injunction—when not allowed.

Enforcement of Criminal Law

An injunction may not be granted to prevent the enforcement of the criminal law. State ex rel. Olsen v. Horsky, 122 M 547, 206 P 2d 1157.

Enjoining Enforcement of Board Order

Where the industrial accident board issued an order directing a coal mine to erect a washhouse for its employees in compliance with section 50-435, the coal mine cannot obtain an injunction to enjoin enforcement of the order based on facts which they can assert as a defense to any proceeding brought by the board. Jeffries Coal Co. v. Industrial Accident Board, 126 M 411, 252 P 2d 1046, 1047.

Injunction Pendente Lite Regarding Possession of Real Estate

junction against peaceful picketing as affected by employer's lack of opportunity to negotiate with union or employees. 11 ALR 2d 1069.

junction. Where there was a lease which was allegedly breached the plaintiff is not entitled to a restraining order preventing the defendants from occupying the land pending a determination of the case on its merits since it was found that the relationship of the parties was one of landlord and tenant and was not a cropping agreement. Davis v. Burton, 126 M 137, 246 P 2d 236.

Operation and Effect

Since a private citizen, who does not show that he will be injured in any property or civil right, cannot invoke equitable cognizance of a purely political question, where plaintiff's complaint, in an action seeking an injunction preventing the secretary of state from certifying nominees for a vacancy in the board of railroad commissioners, shows that his only interest is as a taxpaying, private citizen and prospective absentee voter, he is without standing or capacity to invoke equitable cognizance of a purely political question. State ex rel. Mitchell v. District Court, 128 M 325, 275 P 2d 642, 649.

Power to enjoin canvassing votes and declaring result of election. 1 ALR 2d 588.

93-4204. (9243) Injunction order—when granted.

Grounds for Injunction

To entitle an applicant to an injunction he must show not only that he is in danger of losing a substantial right but also that he is in no fault. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 261.

In addition to having a clear right there must also be an apparent and pressing necessity for an injunction, and the injury threatened must be imminent and such as can only be avoided by an injunction. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 261.

Title to Real Property

A wife may not obtain injunction to injunction by state court against action in court of another state. 6 ALR 2d 896.

Compelling reinstatement to nonpublic office for employment by mandatory injunction prior to hearing of case. 15 ALR 2d 328.

restrain her husband from selling property when her title to the property is not clear. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 265.

Where, in action for injunction, to prevent trespass on land in which plaintiff claimed title to land, defendants in answer claimed title to land involved by adverse possession which plaintiff denied, the pleadings presented the issues of title and ownership which the court had power to determine. Tiffany v. Uhde, 123 M 507, 216 P 2d 375.

93-4205. (9244) Injunction order—at what time granted, etc.

Application of Section

This section has no application to proceedings for the abatement of a nuisance under section 94-1001 et seq. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

Operation and Effect

An order to show cause why a divorce decree should not be modified was not sufficiently served where nothing at all was served on the wife and where the wife's mother was served with the first order, but without supporting affidavit. Hand v. Hand, 131 M 571, 312 P 2d 990, 993.

Sufficiency of Affidavit

Where restraining order is granted on affidavits they must contain a statement of the material facts essential to establish the applicant's right to the relief sought.

Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 259.

The requirement that the affidavit should show that sufficient grounds exist for the restraining order is not met by statements of the legal conclusions of the pleader or of mere matters of opinion unsupported by sufficient facts. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 259.

In affidavit for restraining order to prevent defendant in divorce action from molesting plaintiff or entering their home, it was necessary to state facts showing specific improper acts or conduct. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 260.

In affidavit for restraining order to restrain withdrawal of bank funds, statement that "the defendant is addicted to spendthrift and profligate habits" is a bare conclusion and where there are no specific acts alleged, it is insufficient. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251, 260.

93-4206. (9245) When notice required.

Cross-Reference

See note to sec. 93-4205. Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251.

93-4207. (9246) Security upon injunction.

Consecutive Restraining Orders

Where bond was executed in connection with granting of temporary restraining order which was thereafter dissolved but on the same day the judge continued the restraint by another restraining order and continued the bond, the sureties on the original bond were liable for damages sustained through the period of restraint imposed by the second order. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Consideration for Bond

A bond executed pursuant to and in substantial compliance with this section needs no consideration. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Measure of Damages

The measure of damages in an action on the injunction bond is the amount which will compensate for all the detriment proximately caused by the injunction during the time it is operative, or which in the ordinary course of things, would be likely to result therefrom. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Proof of Damages

Where there was evidence as to expenses and attorney's fees in a sum in excess of the amount of the bond, it was error to grant motion for nonsuit but case should have gone to jury. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 601.

Fact that person suing on bond became obligated for attorney's fees in injunction is sufficiently shown by proof that he employed an attorney who procured a dissolution of the injunction and of the reasonable value of his services. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 602.

Voluntary Dismissal—Action on Bond

Where appeal was taken from action dissolving temporary restraining order and thereafter appellant dismissed his appeal, such dismissal constituted a final adjudication that appellant was not entitled to injunction thereby making the sureties liable. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 600.

What May Be Recovered

Under a bond given in accordance with this section, reasonable expenses are recoverable including attorney's fees and costs of procuring the dissolution of the restraint from the time such restraint was imposed to the final determination thereof. Sheridan Elec. Coop. v. Ferguson, 124 M 543, 227 P 2d 597, 602.

When Modification Not Permissible

Where complaint and affidavits showed prima facie that premises constituted a nuisance per se under section 94-1002, it was error to quash the temporary injunction issued thereunder when defendant filed affidavit under this section and before any hearing on the complaint was had. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307.

93-4212. (9251) Dissolution or modification.

Dismissal, discontinuance or nonsuit as nullifying previous temporary injunction. 11 ALR 2d 1411.

she was entitled to damages under the provisions of this section. Benson v. Benson, 121 M 439, 193 P 2d 827, 830.

CHAPTER 43—ATTACHMENT

Section 93-4304. Undertaking.

93-4301. (9256) When attachment may issue.*Effect of Dissolving Attachment

Where an attachment is dissolved the lien on the property seized thereunder is vacated, the right to hold the property ceases, and the officer holding it should return the same promptly. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 995.

Nature of Attachment

The attachment of one person's property to satisfy a claim against another is a conversion of the property. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 989.

When Attachment Not Authorized

Held, that in a contract for the sale of real property wherein there was provided a remedy for and security to the vendors for a breach thereof, this section precluded a rightful attachment and seizure of defendant's personal property. The contract was not one for the direct payment of money and such payments due under the contract were secured by the provisions of the contract. Fraser v. Clark, 129 M 56, 282 P 2d 459, 468.

93-4302. (9257) Affidavit—what to contain.*Security for Note

Held, a chattel mortgage, which by its terms stated that it was to be security for future advances, was security for a later loan so that attachment was not available in an action for default of a later loan. The chattel mortgage was plain and unambiguous and needed no construction so that parol evidence which tended to vary or alter the terms of the written mortgage was required to be disregarded. First Nat. Bank of Plains v. Green Mt. Soil Conservation District, 130 M 1, 293 P 2d 289.

93-4304. (9259) Undertaking. Before issuing the writ, the clerk must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with two [2] or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, in a sum not less than double the amount claimed by the plaintiff, if such amount be one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or under, or, in case the amount so claimed by plaintiff shall exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), then in a sum equal to such amount, but in no case shall an undertaking be required exceeding in amount the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00). The condition of such undertaking shall be to the effect that if the defendant recover judgment, or if the court shall finally decide that the plaintiff was not entitled to an attachment, the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages he may sustain by reason of the issuing out of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. At any time within thirty (30) days after the service of summons, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. When excepted to, the plaintiff's sureties, upon notice to the defendant of not less than two (2) days nor more than ten (10) days, must justify before a judge of the district court, or before the clerk thereof, and upon failure to justify, or if others in their place fail to justify, at the time and place appointed, the clerk or judge shall issue an order vacating the writ of attachment.

Amendment

The 1951 amendment substituted the words "At any time within thirty (30) days after the service of summons," at the beginning of the third sentence for "Within five days after service of the summons in the action," and in the fifth sentence substituted "ten days" for "five days."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 15, L. 1951 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 15, L. 1951 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 2, 1951.

Procedure for Recovery by Defendant

A defendant's cause of action under an attachment bond accrues only when judgment for him in the attachment action has been made, entered, and filed, so his recovery must be by a separate action on the bond rather than being included in the judgment in the original action. Yellowstone Livestock Comm. v. Dupuis, 133 M 454, 325 P 2d 691.

93-4331. (9284) When writ must be discharged.

Application

A writ of attachment based upon a fatally defective or erroneous affidavit is improper and irregular. Such writ will be dissolved or discharged when the affidavit on which it is issued states that the obligation is unsecured whereas it is in fact secured. First Nat. Bank of Plains v. Green Mt. Soil Conservation District, 130 M 1, 293 P 2d 289, 292.

CHAPTER 44—RECEIVERS

93-4401. (9301) Appointment of receiver.

Subd. 1.

No Right to Receiver When Action is Based on Sister State Judgment Debt

In the state of Washington, the plaintiff had a joint interest in the house trailer, but when the divorce decree was rendered, her interest was merged in the Washington decree and judgment. In a suit in Montana, the suit is on the debt created by the judgment, and for the collection of a judgment debt the relief by receiver does not lie. Little v. Little, 125 M 278, 234 P 2d 832, 835.

Appointment of receiver in proceedings arising out of dissolution of partnership or joint adventure, otherwise than by death of partner or at instance of creditor. 23 ALR 2d 583.

CHAPTER 45—DEPOSIT OF MONEY OR PROPERTY IN COURT—ENFORCING ORDER TO CONVEY

93-4501. (9308) Deposit in court.

Right to Relief

In action to prohibit defendant from cancelling an agreement for sale of lands even though the deposit in court might be insufficient as a tender to defendant, plaintiff might be relieved from forfeiture upon a showing of facts sufficient to appeal to the conscience of a court of equity under section 17-102. Blackfeet Tribe of Blackfeet Indian Reservation v. Klies Livestock Co., 160 F Supp 131, 133, 141.

Tender of Payment of Judgment Refused

Where tender in payment of judgment was refused, payment could not be made by deposit in court. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 632.

CHAPTER 47—JUDGMENTS IN GENERAL

93-4701. (9313) Judgment defined.

Dismissal of Action

In proceeding for writ of certiorari an order sustaining a motion to quash and dismissing the proceeding was a judgment. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1016.

An order dismissing an action is a final judgment from which an appeal can be perfected if the order has the effect of finally determining the rights of the parties. Kelly v. Harris, 158 F Supp 243, 244, 247.

Order Denying Petition for Writ of Prohibition

Order of district court denying petition for writ of prohibition to restrain justice court from further proceedings in criminal action was not a judgment. State ex rel. Aho v. Justice Court of Laurel Township, 131 M 585, 313 P 2d 542, 543.

Order for an Accounting

An order for an accounting is not a judgment since it is not a final determination of the rights of the parties. It is not final, but is a necessary step to determine what if anything the plaintiff has coming from the defendant. Corcoran v. Fousek, 126 M 223, 233 P 2d 1040, 1041.

Order Granting an Injunction

A judgment and order granting an injunction in interpleader action was appealable. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 987.

In divorce action it was not error for court to adjudge that plaintiff recover from defendant the amount of $2,040 which she had withdrawn from the bank although such relief was not requested in the prayer where the prayer asked "for such other and further relief as to the court may seem meet and equitable in the premise." Rogers v. Rogers, 123 M 52, 209 P 2d 998, 1001.

93-4705. (9317) Action may be dismissed or nonsuit entered.*Entry on Court Minutes

In proceedings in Montana state court where in open court the court granted defendant's "motion to have the case dismissed with prejudice, on its merits," and the clerk recorded this action in the court minutes, the order so entered was a judgment. Kelly v. Harris, 158 F Supp 243, 244, 247.

Failure to Enter Judgment

Under subsec. 6 of this section, dismissal must precede the entry of judgment. If the judgment is entered after the expiration of the 6 month period, but before a motion to dismiss is interposed, it is not void, hence not open to collateral attack. Kelly v. Harris, 158 F Supp 243, 244, 247.

Operation and Effect

Where actions were commenced and the summons in each case was issued and served within the period and time limit fixed and allowed by express statutes, the trial court has no "discretion" to disregard the rules of practice and procedure so prescribed and attempt to shorten the time so allowed for the performance of the acts of which the defendant complains. Kujich v. Lillie, 127 M 125, 260 P 2d 383, 389.

93-4708. (9320) Effect of judgment dismissing complaint.*Dismissal with Prejudice

A judgment of dismissal may be said to be on the merits when, after plaintiff has lost the right to a dismissal without prejudice because of the filing of a counterclaim, it appears that at the time set for trial he cannot make a case in support of his complaint, and not only fails and refuses to proceed with the presentation of his case but participates in the trial upon defendant's counterclaim. Schuster v. Northern Co., 127 M 39, 257 P 2d 249, 253.

Whether a judgment of dismissal is upon the merits largely depends upon the facts and circumstances of the particular case. Schuster v. Northern Co., 127 M 39, 257 P 2d 249, 253.

In civil action in federal district court the federal court would not go behind a judgment of dismissal entered in state court and declare that judgment to be something other than it purported to be, i. e., a judgment on the merits, where both the state court minutes and judgment expressly stated that the judgment was on the merits. Kelly v. Harris, 158 F Supp 243, 244, 248.

In prior action by pedestrian for injuries sustained when he was hit by vehicle while crossing highway, where motion of dismissal was granted as to defendant and judgment was entered on jury's verdict for codefendant, the judgment on the merits in favor of codefendant was a bar to present action against defendant only. Willoughby v. Flem, 158 F Supp 258, 260.

Res Judicata

A judgment of dismissal, wherein it expressly declares on its face that it was rendered on the merits, must be given that effect in a plea of res judicata. Kelly v. Harris, 158 F Supp 243, 244, 247.

Injunction

In action by property owners to enjoin construction and operation of stock car race track as a nuisance, where defendant filed affidavit to set aside temporary injunction granted without notice and de-murrer to complaint, trial court improperly ordered permanent injunction, as the cause was not at issue and not ready for trial. State ex rel. Thompson v. District Court, 132 M 53, 313 P 2d 1034, 1039.

93-4904. (9326) Issue of fact—how raised.

No Answer Filed—Effect

Where, in proceeding for writ of possession to enforce judgment in quiet title action, no answer had been filed, there were no pleadings before the court raising any issue of fact which could be tried by a jury. Fuller v. Gibbs, 122 M 177, 199 P 2d 851, 854.

93-4905. (9327) Issues of fact—how tried—when issues both of law and fact, the former to be first disposed of. In actions for the recovery of specific real or personal property, with or without damages, or for money claimed as due upon contract, or as damages for breach of contract, or for injuries, an issue of fact must be tried by a jury, unless a jury trial is waived, or a reference is ordered, as provided in this code. Where in these cases there are issues both of law and fact, the issue of law must be first disposed of. In other cases, issues of fact must be tried by the court, subject to its power to order any such issue to be tried by a jury, or to be referred to a referee, as provided in this code.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment omitted provisions relating to pretrial practice.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 84, L. 1949 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 84, L. 1949 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 25, 1949.

Pretrial Conference

(The following decisions were decided under the amendment of Ch. 61, L. 1939 and prior to amendment of Ch. 84, L. 1949 which repealed provisions for pretrial conference.)

The permission granted the court to require a pretrial conference does not violate the constitutional guarantee of a jury trial.

State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

A pretrial conference is not especially for the purpose of disclosure or discovery and the fact that plaintiff furnished defendant with a bill of particulars does not dispense with the reason for a pretrial conference. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 263, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

The district court has power to establish by rule a pretrial calendar, and to make the rule effective it is within the power of the court to provide that no jury case shall be set for trial until pretrial conference thereon is had. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

As used in referring to a court calendar the word "calendar" denotes merely a list of cases to be tried. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Where rule required pretrial conference

93-4910. (9332) Motion to postpone a trial for absence of testimony, etc.

Abuse of Discretion in Not Granting Continuance

Where plaintiff filed an affidavit for a continuance wherein it was shown that the affidavit was made in good faith, that the absent witness was a material witness; that due diligence was used to procure the witness; and the defendant did not file before setting jury cases for trial it was not required that the rule contain any definite time for the calling of a jury after the pretrial conference. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 264, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Where a rule is adopted under the provisions of this section requiring a pretrial conference before a jury trial, such rule is not revoked in a particular case when the judge of the court is disqualified to act. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 260, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

93-5008. (9341) Ballots—when drawn from box No. 3.

Operation and Effect

This section which requires the jurors drawn from jury box No. 3 to be discharged at the conclusion of the case has no especial connection with section 93-

1510 and does not prevent jurors which are drawn under the provisions of such section from being drawn to serve for the remainder of the term. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 234.

93-5011. (9344) Challenges for cause. Challenges for cause may be taken on one or more of the following grounds:

1. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by this code to render a person competent as a juror;
2. Consanguinity or affinity within the sixth degree to any party.

3. Standing in the relation of guardian and ward, master and servant, debtor and creditor, employer and clerk, or principal and agent, to either party, or being a member of the family of either party, or a partner in business with either party, or surety on any bond or obligation for either party; provided, however, that a challenge for cause may not be taken because of debtor and creditor relation when the same arises solely by reason of current bills of gas, water, electricity or telephone;

4. Having served as a juror or been a witness on a previous trial between the same parties for the same cause of action;

5. Interest on the part of the juror in the event of the action, or in the main question involved in the action, except his interest as a member or citizen of a municipal corporation;

6. Having an unqualified opinion or belief as to the merits of the action;

7. The existence of a state of mind in the juror evincing enmity against or bias in favor of either party.

93-5101. (9349) Order of trial.

Instructions on Res Ipsa Loquitur

If plaintiff desires the jury instructed on the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur, it was their duty to tender such instruction and request that it be given. Whitney v. Northwest Greyhound Lines, 125 M 528, 242 P 2d 257, 266, 268, 271 (dissenting opinion).

Right to Open and Close

In eminent domain proceedings the party upon whom the burden of proof rests is entitled to open and close. State v. Peterson, — M —, 328 P 2d 617, 629.

Specific Objections Required

Plaintiff, an iron worker, was employed by steel contractor in placing iron and steel around windows and walls during construction of building in connection with brick laying. In action against building contractor for injuries sustained when hoist maintained by defendants fell, after striking plank negligently placed across shaft by an employee of defendant, objection to obstructions because they placed a higher duty on defendants than that fixed by law was not sufficiently specific to be subject to review. *Le Compte v. After a case has been submitted to the jury and a verdict returned, accepted and filed at the direction of the court and the jury discharged from the case, the only way to reach the verdict, if insufficient or against the law, is by a timely and proper motion for a new trial. Fauver v. Wilkoske, 123 M 228, 211 P 2d 420, 425, 17 ALR 2d 518.

Insufficient Verdict

Where the court in its original instruction told the jury it could find but one verdict and the jury returned with a verdict for the plaintiff and also one for the defendant for a lesser amount, the court was correct in sending the jury back for further deliberation and requiring but one verdict. Baranko v. Grenz, 127 M 18, 256 P 2d 1074, 1076.

It is not permissible in this state to move for a judgment non obstante verdicto in a law case. Fauver v. Wilkoske, 123 M 228, 211 P 2d 420, 425, 17 ALR 2d 518.

Operation and Effect

Even though findings based upon the allegations of the pleadings are valid, they must be weighed as to sufficiency by the complaint or pleadings upon which they are based and if the findings of fact refer to the complaint, then to be sufficient, the complaint must state a cause of action.

Upon proper request it is the duty of the district court to make findings, in the absence of which the cause presents grounds for reversal. Ballenger v. Tillman, 133 M 369, 324 P 2d 1045, 1048.

In hearings on motions to modify child custody orders, parties desiring written findings of facts and conclusions of law must move for them in writing at the close of the evidence, as the statute requires. Even then, if the evidence justifies but one conclusion, formal findings are not necessary. Trudgen v. Trudgen, — M —, 329 P 2d 225, 230.

In the absence of statute, the court need not make formal findings of fact in support of its order modifying the custody provisions of divorce decrees. Trudgen v. Trudgen, — M —, 329 P 2d 225, 229.

When Findings Not Necessary

Where case is submitted to court without a jury and the evidence justifies but one conclusion, formal findings are unnecessary though request be made for them in conformity with this section. Perry v. Luding, 123 M 570, 217 P 2d 207, 217.

93-5505. (9390) Exceptions not presented at time of ruling—notice to adverse party, how settled upon, etc. Whenever a motion for a new trial is pending, no bill of exceptions need be prepared or settled until the decision of the court upon motion for a new trial has been rendered, but a bill shall be prepared and settled in the same manner and within the same length of time after the decision on the motion for a new trial as is hereinafter provided for the making and settling of bills of exceptions.

Except as above provided, the party appealing from a final judgment, if he desires to present on appeal the proceedings had at the trial, must, within fifteen (15) days after the entry of judgment if the action was tried with a jury, or after receiving notice of the entry of judgment if the action was tried without a jury, or within such further time as the court or judge thereof may allow, not to exceed sixty (60) days, except upon affidavit showing the necessity for further time, prepare and file with the clerk of the court and serve upon the adverse party a bill of exceptions, containing all of the proceedings had at the trial upon which he relies, in which bill the evidence shall, unless otherwise prescribed by a rule of the supreme court, be stated in narrative form, except that the particular portion of the record showing objections to the admission or rejection of testimony upon which the party preparing the bill expects to rely, shall be set out verbatim.

Within ten (10) days after such service, the adverse party may propose amendments thereto, and serve the same, or a copy thereof, upon the other party.

The proposed bill and amendments must, within ten (10) days thereafter, be presented by the party seeking the settlement of the bill to the judge who tried or heard the case, upon five (5) days' notice to the adverse party, or be delivered to the clerk of the court or judge. When received by the clerk, he must immediately deliver them to the judge, if he be in the county; if he be absent from the county, and either party desire the papers to be forwarded to the judge, the clerk must, upon notice in writing of either party, immediately forward them by mail, or other safe channel; if not thus forwarded, the clerk must deliver them to the judge immediately after his return to the county.

When received, the judge must designate the time and place at which he will settle the bill, and the clerk must immediately notify the parties of such designation. At the time designated, the judge must settle the bill.

If the action was tried before a referee, the proposed bill, with the amendments, if any, must be presented to such referee for settlement within ten (10) days after service of the amendments, upon notice of five (5) days to the adverse party, and thereupon the referee shall settle the bill. If no amendments are served, or if served are allowed, the proposed bill may be presented, with amendments, if any, to the judge or referee, for settlement without notice to the adverse party. It is the duty of the judge or referee, in settling the bill, to strike out of it all redundant and useless matter, so that the objections may be presented as briefly as possible.

When settled, the bill must be signed by the judge or referee with his certificate to the effect that the same is allowed, and shall then be filed with the clerk.

In compensation cases the record certified by the industrial accident board to the district court shall be a part of the judgment roll, and not a part of the bill of exceptions, and the appellant taking an appeal to the supreme court of the state of Montana, shall by praecipe to the clerk of the district court designate such portions only of the judgment roll as the appellant deems necessary to be certified to the supreme court of the state of Montana. A copy of the praecipe shall be served upon the respondent, and filed with the clerk, and respondent may within ten (10) days after the date of service of the appellant's praecipe, excluding the day of service, likewise by praecipe served upon the appellant and filed with the clerk, designate such portions of the judgment roll which respondent desires to have incorporated in the record on appeal. Only such portions designated by the praecipes need be certified by the clerk as constituting the judgment roll.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment added the last paragraph.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 85, Laws 1955 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Discretion of Court

The court has a wide discretion under this section. Barcus v. Portland Cattle Loan Co., 122 M 534, 207 P 2d 565, 566.

Effect of Failure to Have Settled Bill of Exceptions, on Appeal

Motion to strike purported bill of exceptions from the record and dismiss appeal was granted where transcript on appeal was not certified to be correct. Fraser v. Johnson Flying Service, Inc., 132 M 607, 317 P 2d 316.

Effect of Failure to Present Bill within Time Limited by Statute

This section has specific application to the time that may be lawfully allowed for the preparation, service, filing and settlement of bills of exceptions. The provisions are mandatory; thus, where the statutory time of fifteen days has elapsed and there has not been an extension of time, the trial court is without power to settle or allow a bill of exceptions. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 991 to 995.

Section 93-3905 pertaining to a court giving relief to a party from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect does not authorize relief from failure of a litigant to prepare, serve, and file his bill of exceptions within the time fixed by this section as extended by lawful orders of the court made pursuant to timely application by the litigant or his counsel. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 991 to 995.

Effect of Failure to Present Bill within Time Limited by Statute or Extension of Time Granted by Court

Where a defendant served a proposed bill of exceptions after the time prescribed by statute and also after a 60 day extension granted by the court; the court was without jurisdiction to allow defendant's bill of exceptions and a motion to strike the bill of exceptions must be sustained. Kemp v. Murphy, 125 M 234, 233 P 2d 824.

Extension of Time

Where court extends the time and defendant relies on such extension Supreme Court will not deprive the defendant of the benefit of that order after the time for filing and serving the bill of exceptions has expired. Barcus v. Portland Cattle Loan Co., 122 M 534, 207 P 2d 565, 566.

If court erroneously made order extending the time to prepare, serve and file bill of exceptions under this section it had authority to correct such order under the provisions of section 93-8405. Barcus v. Portland Cattle Loan Co., 122 M 534, 207 P 2d 565, 566.

Failure to Amend Bill of Exceptions by Adverse Party

Where an adverse party did not propose amendments to a bill of exceptions and did not suggest diminution of the record prior to submission of the cause to the reviewing court, the respondent could not be heard to say that the bill did not contain all the proceedings at the trial. Deich v. Deich, — M —, 323 P 2d 35, 47.

Limitation

It is doubtful whether the legislature intended when it amended this section to still have section 93-8708 operate as a further limitation upon the courts in granting extension of time for a bill of exceptions. State ex rel. Robbins v. Bonner, 128 M 45, 270 P 2d 400, 402.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-8708 are special statutes pertaining to the preparation and extension of time for the service and filing of bills of exceptions, and by the well-established rule of construction in this state, control over general statutes. Hutchinson v. Burton, 126 M 279, 247 P 2d 987, 995.

Appellant entitled to an extension of time within which to file a bill of exceptions where it was shown that the official court stenographer could not prepare a transcript setting forth the evidence and proceedings. Petition of Butts, 128 M 118, 271 P 2d 424.

Presumption When No Bill of Exceptions

Where record on appeal contains no bill of exceptions but only the judgment roll, the presumption must be indulged that the evidence introduced at the trial supports the trial court's finding and judgment. Tiffany v. Uhde, 123 M 507, 216 P 2d 375.

In the absence of a bill of exceptions the supreme court would not review alleged error concerning the comments of the county attorney but would presume that the trial court was correct in ruling in the manner it did. State v. Ruona, 133 M 243, 321 P 2d 615, 620.

Record

On appeal, where the lower court order granting the appellant an extension of time for the filing and serving of a bill of exception showed that it was made upon application and a showing made, the Supreme Court will not presume that the lower court acted in violation of the applicable statute in the absence of a showing to the contrary. Erdmann v. Erdmann, 127 M 252, 261 P 2d 367, 368.

Where the judgment roll, motion for new trial, notice of intention to move for new trial, and order of court granting new trial were properly certified to the Supreme Court, but the transcript of testimony had no proper authentication, whether called a bill of exceptions or transcript of the minutes, there could be no determination whether the trial court's order granting a new trial was correct. Nissen v. Western Construction Equipment Co., 133 M 143, 320 P 2d 997, 999.

This statute is both prohibitory and jurisdictional. McVay v. McVay, 128 M 31, 270 P 2d 393, 395.

Findings of Fact and Conclusions of*Law

Findings of fact and conclusions of law are not a judgment nor are they an order, as known to our practice; they are the court's statement on which he will base his order or judgment. Sheridan County Electric Co-op. v. Anhalt, 127 M 71, 257 P 2d 889, 891.

Subd. 2—Orders*A. What Orders May be Appealed From*Denial of Motion to Release Attachment

Fact that motion was to vacate or release attachment rather than to dissolve the attachment would not prevent the order denying the motion from being appealable. Stallinger v. Goss, 121 M 437, 193 P 2d 810.

Denying Writ of Habeas Corpus

An order denying a writ of habeas corpus is appealable. State ex rel. Veach v. Veach, 122 M 47, 195 P 2d 697, 700.

Modification of Child Custody Decree

An appeal from an order modifying a decree as to custody of children can only be stayed by an application for a stay made and granted under subd. 2 of this section. Application of Nelson, 132 M 252, 316 P 2d 1058, 1059.

Order Denying an Injunction

Where temporary injunction to abate nuisance under section 94-1002 was quashed the same day issued upon presentation of affidavit of defendant under section 93-4211 and in its stead was issued an order to show cause why an injunction should not issue and enjoining defendant from operating "any of the games of chance described in the complaint contrary to the laws of the State of Montana" such order was appealable. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Order Granting an Injunction

A judgment and order granting an injunction in an interpleader action was appealable. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 987.

A judgment in an interpleader action dismissing plaintiff from the action and awarding it costs, enjoining defendants from prosecuting any action against the plaintiff involving a fund deposited, and ordering defendants to interplead in the action instituted by the plaintiff, was appealable. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 987.

Ordering Satisfaction of Judgment

An order, after final judgment, ordering plaintiff to satisfy judgment upon tender of specified amount by defendant was an appealable order. Galbreath v. Armstrong, 121 M 387, 193 P 2d 630, 632.

Order Made after Final Judgment Denying Realtors' Motion to Strike from the Memorandum of Costs

Since an appeal may be taken from a special order made after judgment which modifies a judgment theretofore entered and adversely affects the rights of a party to the litigation, an application for a writ of supervisory control will be denied. State ex rel. Ferris v. District Court, 126 M 623, 255 P 2d 687.

Dismissal of Appeal

In General

Effect of Failure to Appeal

Where a decree of distribution was entered on an estate and no appeal was taken from such decree, an affidavit thereafter filed and recorded, stating that the affiant was an heir and devisee of the will and claiming an interest in the real estate distributed, was void on its face and constituted no cloud on the title to the land. Hart v. Barron, 122 M 350, 204 P 2d 797, 805.

Motion or petition for rehearing in court below as affecting time within which appellate proceedings must be taken or instituted. 10 ALR 2d 1075.

93-8005. (9733) Appeal—how taken.*Service of Notice

The notice contemplated in this section is a legal notice which must be served in the manner provided in section 93-8502. Malick v. Peterson, 124 M 585, 228 P 2d 963.

The statute governing service of notice of appeal must be complied with in order to give the court jurisdiction. McLeod v. McLeod, 124 M 590, 228 P 2d 965.

Service of Notice Must be On All Adverse Parties

Where two defendants had filed motions for change of venue and the motion was granted as to one but denied as to the other and an appeal was taken from the order granting the motion, notice of appeal should have been given to both defendants, and Supreme Court was without jurisdiction where only defendant in whose favor the motion was granted was given such notice. McLeod v. McLeod, 124 M 590, 228 P 2d 965.

Time for Filing Undertaking

Held: that where notice of appeal was served by mail on Monday, February 4, 1952, that day is excluded from computation in accordance with section 90-407 and defendants then had five full days commencing with Tuesday, February 5th within which to file the undertaking on appeal. As by section 59-510 office hours in public offices on Saturdays are from nine o'clock to twelve noon, the filing of the undertaking on Monday, February 11th complied with the Code. Appellants may not be cut off with but four days nor with only four and one-half days nor with any other time less than the five full days allowed by statute. Fey v. A A Oil Corp., 126 M 552, 255 P 2d 339.

Who is an Adverse Party

An "adverse party" upon whom a notice of appeal is required to be served is one whose rights may be injuriously affected by a reversal or modification of the judgment from which the appeal is taken. Reardon v. Gilligan, 122 M 295, 202 P 2d 242, 244.

Where plaintiff alleged that he and defendant B jointly purchased land from the state with funds borrowed from defendant G in whose name deed was issued and prayed that the deed to G be declared a mortgage, and B answered denying any interest in the land, the administrator of B's estate (B having died) was an adverse party upon whom notice should have been served upon appeal by defendant G after judgment for plaintiff. Reardon v. Gilligan, 122 M 295, 202 P 2d 242.

An adverse party is a party who has an interest in opposition to the object sought to be accomplished by the appeal, or a party whose rights may be adversely affected by the reversal or modification of the judgment. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 988.

In the case of an appeal from a judgment in an interpleader action giving plaintiff all the relief he asked for in his complaint, defendants who were defaulted in that action for failure to answer within the time allowed by law were not "adverse parties" on whom notice of appeal must be served. Central Montana Stockyards v. Fraser, 133 M 168, 320 P 2d 981, 988.

With respect to the definition of adverse parties upon whom notice must be served, this section and section 93-5605, relating to motion for new trial, are on the same footing. In re Hardy's Estate, 133 M 536, 326 P 2d 692, overruling In re Roberts' Estate, 102 M 240, 255, 58 P 2d 495.

Who is Entitled to Notice of Appeal

An adverse party within the meaning of the statute upon whom it is necessary to serve notice of appeal, is a party to a judgment whose rights may be injuriously affected by its reversal or modification, or one who has an interest in opposing the object sought to be accomplished by the appeal. Hence, one who would be benefited by a reversal is not an adverse party. McNaught v. Weyh, 128 M 418, 276 P 2d 491, 495.

Ambiguity in Undertaking

If there be any ambiguity in the undertaking so far as it relates to the super-seedeas, that would furnish no ground for the dismissal of the appeal for want of an undertaking for costs. Rader v. Taylor, — M —, 333 P 2d 480, 484.

93-8007. (9735) Stay of proceedings—money judgments. If the appeal be from a judgment or order directing the payment of money, it does not stay the execution of the judgment or order unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant, by two or more sureties, to the effect that they are bound in the amount named in the judgment or order plus interest at the legal rate for two years, plus estimated costs on appeal, in an amount to be fixed by the trial court; that if the judgment or order appealed from, or any part thereof, be affirmed, or the appeal dismissed, the appellant will pay the amount directed to be paid by the judgment or order, or the part of such amount as to which the judgment or order is affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages and costs which may be awarded against the appellant upon the appeal, and that if the appellant does not make such payment within thirty days after the filing of the remittitur from the supreme court in the court from which the appeal is taken, judgment may be entered on motion of the respondent in his favor against the sureties for such amount, together with the interest that may be due thereon, and the damages and costs which may be awarded against the appellant upon the appeal. If the judgment or order appealed from be for a greater amount than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), and the sureties do not state in their affidavits of justification accompanying the undertaking that they are each worth the sum specified in the undertaking, the stipulation may be that the judgment to be entered against the sureties shall be for such amounts only as in their affidavits they may state that they are severally worth, and judgment may be entered against the sureties by the court from which the appeal is taken, pursuant to the stipulations herein designated.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment deleted the word "double" which appeared after the words

"to the effect that they are bound in" and inserted the words "plus interest at the legal rate for two years, plus estimated costs on appeal, in an amount to be fixed by the trial court."

Operation and Effect

Though this section may not provide a stay of execution in case a writ of mandate is issued by a district court to compel the issuance of a license, the supreme court may nevertheless issue any appropriate writ to insure an appeal. Gill v. Rafn, 133 M 505, 326 P 2d 974.

93-8011. (9739) Stay of proceedings—court may limit security.*Modification of Child Custody Decree

An appeal from an order modifying a divorce decree as to custody of children does not stay the enforcement of the order. Such order can only be stayed by an application for an order staying the proceedings under section 93-8003, subd. 2. Application of Nelson, 132 M 252, 316 P 2d 1058, 1059.

Operation and Effect

On appeal from a change of venue the court has jurisdiction not only to hear and determine the appeal but also to hear, determine and act upon any incidental matters arising while the appeal is pending and that may ultimately affect the rights of the parties litigant. Thus the Supreme Court has the power to consider and determine a motion to dissolve the attachment. Fraser v. Clark, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 114. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 160, 273 P 2d 105, 120.)

Where a notice of appeal from a judgment was served and filed, jurisdiction over the parties to the controversy and the subject-matter thereof passed from the district court and vested in the Supreme Court. It then became the duty of the Supreme Court to maintain the status quo of the parties and their rights until the controversy could be determined in this court, so that rights involved in such appeal may not be lost or prejudiced prior to such determination. Benolken v. Miracle, 128 M 262, 273 P 2d 667, 669.

Where an appeal was taken from an order appointing a person executor, the district court and its clerk were then without jurisdiction to issue letters testamentary to the executor and allowing him to qualify. In re Hansen's Estate, 129 M 261, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Stay of Proceedings in Lower Court on Appeal

Where an appeal is taken from a judgment declaring ownership of certain cattle and the general recorder of marks and brands held money derived from the sale of such cattle and which he deposited with the district court, the ownership and right to possession of the money was a matter embraced within the action and judgment and the lower court will be stayed from distributing such money pending determination of the appeal. Benolken v. Miracle, 128 M 262, 273 P 2d 667, 670.

93-8014. (9742) Cases in which stay of proceedings not allowed.*Operation and Effect

The issuance of letters testamentary after an appeal had been taken from the order of appointment of an executor and all acts done pursuant to the letters so issued were beyond the jurisdiction of the district court and void. Section 93-8016 does not save the action as the executor had not qualified by the time of the taking of the appeal. In re Hansen's Estate, 129 M 261, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Where writ of prohibition was issued against liquor control board prohibiting the issuance of licenses except to persons who have permits and a writ of mandate was also issued compelling the issuance of licenses to certain persons, which writs were complied with after the district court refused to stay the writs; the questions on appeal were moot. State ex rel. Hagerty v. Rafn, 130 M 554, 304 P 2d 918. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 554, 304 P 2d 918 at 921.)

Though this section may not provide a stay of execution in case a writ of mandate is issued by a district court to compel the issuance of a license, the supreme court may nevertheless issue any appropriate writ to insure an appeal. Gill v. Rafn, 133 M 505, 326 P 2d 974.

Prohibitory Injunction

The Supreme Court is not empowered to stay, pending an appeal, the operation of a perpetual prohibitory injunction ordered in a final judgment in the district court. Brackman v. Kruse, 122 M 91, 217 P 2d 203, 204.

93-8016. (9744) Acts of same valid when appointment vacated.*Construction

The district court proceeded without jurisdiction when its clerk issued letters testamentary to a person appointed executor when an appeal was taken from the order appointing such person executor and such appeal was taken before the executor qualified. Neither his letters nor his acts done thereunder are saved by this section inasmuch as he never qualified. In re Hansen's Estate, 129 M 261, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Held, that where a person was appointed administrator, but before he qualified, an appeal was taken from the order appointing him administrator, such person could not then qualify and enter into administration of the estate for at the time of attempting to qualify the district court had lost jurisdiction of the matter because of the appeal. In re Hansen's Estate, 129 M 261, 284 P 2d 1007, 1010.

Where an adverse party did not propose amendments to a bill of exceptions and did not suggest diminution of the record prior to submission of the cause to the reviewing court, the respondent could not be heard to say that the bill did not contain all the proceedings at the trial. Deich v. Deich, — M —, 323 P 2d 35, 47.

Operation and Effect

The bill of exceptions referred to in this section is the bill of exceptions prepared under the provisions of section 93-5505. Deich v. Deich, — M —, 323 P 2d 35, 48.

Laches in Preparing Transcript

On motion to dismiss appeal the fact that appellant did obtain an order from the trial court purporting to extend the time may be considered in determining whether she was guilty of laches in preparing her transcript on appeal. Rader v. Taylor, — M —, 333 P 2d 480, 483.

Operation and Effect

A motion to dismiss an appeal on the grounds that no transcript or brief of appeal had been served or filed by the appellants within the time prescribed by the rules of the Supreme Court will be denied when it appears that prior to the consideration of the motion to dismiss the appellant's transcript had been filed with the Supreme Court and the record perfected to the satisfaction of the court and the delay in filing such transcript has been without laches on the part of the appellants. McNaught v. McCahan, 126 M 616, 250 P 2d 912, 913.

In the absence of fraud, perjury or other collusive action, after the Supreme Court's dismissal of an appeal from the district court's judgment denying a petition for a writ of mandate, such judgment could not again be challenged by another action in the district court. Gray v. Bohart, 131 M 522, 312 P 2d 529, 530.

Subsequent Appeal

Where appeal was dismissed a subsequent appeal taken from the same judgment within the time allowed for taking appeals must likewise be dismissed. Libin v. Huffine, 124 M 361, 224 P 2d 144.

If plaintiffs are aggrieved by dismissal, their remedy is to promptly apply to Supreme Court to have order of dismissal modified and not to take another appeal from the same judgment. Libin v. Huffine, 124 M 361, 224 P 2d 144, 146.

93-8023. (9751) Ruling against respondent may be reviewed.*Cross-appeal When Necessary

This section does not do away with the necessity for cross-appeals in cases where in a party feels himself aggrieved by rulings on matters separate and distinct from those sought to be reviewed by appellant. Francisco v. Francisco, 120 M 468, 191 P 2d 317, 319, 1 ALR 2d 625.

In action to foreclose lien by taker up of animals under section 46-1410, where defendant appealed but plaintiff did not cross-appeal, a cross-assignment of error by plaintiff contending that allowance of ten cents per goat per day for caring for animals was not a reasonable allowance but that allowance should have been fifty cents per goat per day, could not be considered since the error was not of a compensatory character. Doornbos v. Ihde, 124 M 570, 228 P 2d 235, 237.

Failure to Make Assignment of Error or Cross Assignment of Error

Where appellant did not make an assignment of error, the court will likewise excuse the failure of the respondent to make a cross assignment of error. National Surety Corp. v. Kruse, 121 M 202, 192 P 2d 317, 318.

93-8024. (9752) Remedial powers of an appellate court.*Operation and Effect

Where district court issued a writ of prohibition prohibiting the liquor control board from issuing licenses to persons other than those who had permits, and also issued a writ of mandate directing the issuance of licenses to certain persons, which writs the court refused to stay pending appeal, and the parties to whom the licenses were issued engaged in the business of selling liquor at retail; the questions on appeal are moot, since the court on appeal could not restore the parties to the status quo and could not effect restitution. State ex rel. Hagerty v. Rafn, 130 M 554, 304 P 2d 918. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 554, 304 P 2d 918 at 921.)

While the subject of the controversy and the parties are before the court it has jurisdiction to enforce restitution of an amount lost through the enforcement of a judgment subsequently reversed. Waggoner v. Glacier Colony of Hutterites, 131 M 525, 312 P 2d 117, 118.

Order of Restitution

District court erred in refusing motion

Irregularity in Jury Proceedings

Affidavit of eight of the jurors, who were enough to render a verdict, stated that they were not in disagreement as to what the evidence showed. The only jurors who desired some or all of the testimony read were those who finally voted against the verdict. They had hoped to influence the other jurors to change their minds by having testimony read. The other jurors, being two-thirds of them, stated definitely that their verdict would not have been different had the testimony or any part of it been read to them. The irregularity, if it actually existed, did not affect verdict and was not cause for reversal where it was clear that it did not affect substantial right of plaintiff. Galliger v. Hansen, 133 M 34, 319 P 2d 1051, 1055.

He had no legal right to the amount given him of the proceeds of the partnership and the judgment had been modified declaring appellant the owner of certain property previously paid over to the purchaser. *Hansen v. Rights Subject of Restitution

The entry of the judgment rendered by the Supreme Court by the clerk of the district court as directed by statute ipso facto modifies the judgment theretofore entered by the district court; and the judgment of the Supreme Court so entered becomes the final judgment in the cause. Hansen v. Hansen, 130 M 496, 304 P 2d 1107, 1108.

Motions

A motion is not made by merely filing an application in writing with the clerk of the district court, but by the moving of the court or judge viva voce, to grant the order. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 846.

As a motion is not an action but simply an application for an order it is not subject to the general rules of pleading. State ex rel. McVay v. District Court, 126 M 382, 251 P 2d 840, 846.

Since, ordinarily no question not open on the hearing of the original or main motion is presented for decision by a motion to quash, dismiss, deny or strike from the files or records the original motion or by a demurrer to such original motion, such motion or demurrer is regarded as superfluous, frivolous, confusing and bad practice. *State ex rel. It is doubtful whether the legislature intended when it amended section 93-5505 to still have this section operate as a further limitation upon the court in granting extensions of time for a bill of exceptions. State ex rel. Robbins v. Bonner, 128 M 45, 270 P 2d 400, 402.

Notice of Appeal

This section makes it clear that the time prescribed by law for the serving of notices of appeal may not be extended thereunder for notices of appeal are specifically excluded from the operation of the statute. Thus are the courts denied the authority to extend the maximum time prescribed by statute for the service or filing of a notice of appeal. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 126 M 489, 255 P 2d 693, 699.

Operation and Effect

This section and section 93-5505 are special statutes pertaining to the preparation and extension of time for the service and filing of bills of exceptions, and by the well-established rule of construction in this state, control over general statutes. Thus where a party did not present his bill of exceptions within fifteen days or get an extension of time for presenting the bill of exceptions, he could not rely on section 93-3905 pertaining to a court giving relief to a party from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect. *Hutchinson v. Finding of Facts Required

Writ of review is not available where the plaintiff simply did not take his appeal within the statutory time of 60 days under section 93-8004. McVay v. McVay, 128 M 31, 270 P 2d 393, 395.

What Must Be Shown to Obtain This Writ

To obtain relief by writ of certiorari three essentials must coexist, namely, excess of jurisdiction, absence of right to appeal and lack of a plain, speedy and adequate remedy other than certiorari. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 765.

When Remedy Is Not Proper

The writ will not be granted for the correction of merely harmless, technical or formal errors which are not shown to have resulted prejudicially, or to have caused substantial injustice to the relator. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 766.

Where intermediate judgment requiring the payment of alimony pendente lite in action for divorce was not appealed, it cannot be reviewed and annulled on writ of certiorari after judgment for contempt. State ex rel. Houtchens v. District Court, 122 M 76, 199 P 2d 272, 274.

The writ cannot be used to correct errors within jurisdiction. Application of Banschbach, 133 M 312, 323 P 2d 1112, 1113.

Excess of Jurisdiction

The power of a court of review to issue a writ of certiorari is limited and the writ may be granted only when there has been an excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 765.

A writ of certiorari to review judgment of contempt can only be made when there is a showing that the tribunal acted in excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Porter v. First Judicial Dist., 123 M 447, 215 P 2d 279.

Scope of Review

The hearing in a certiorari proceeding is limited to a review of the record of the inferior tribunal, board or officer for the sole purpose of determining from such record whether the tribunal, board or officer had jurisdiction to do the act, to make the order or to render the judgment of which complaint is made. *State ex rel. While this section sets forth the minimum contents of the judgment roll, it does not follow that only the papers therein enumerated may be incorporated in the judgment roll. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1015.

Special Proceeding

When there is an appeal from a final judgment entered in a special proceeding the judgment roll is that described in section 93-5707. State ex rel. Walker v. Board of Comrs., 120 M 413, 187 P 2d 1013, 1015.

Bridge Repairs

On appeal from a mandamus proceeding to force state water conservation board to repair and rebuild bridges over ditch, owned by the board where it crosses city streets, before the Supreme Court could affirm the judgment of the district court it had to be shown that some law enjoined upon board an affirmative duty to repair the bridges in question. State ex rel. Livingston v. State Water Conservation Board, — M —, 332 P 2d 913, 915, 916.

General Requisites for Issuance of Writ

The writ lies only when the person seeking it is entitled to have the defendant perform a clear legal duty, and then only when there is no speedy or adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. State ex rel. Kennedy v. District Court, 121 M 320, 194 P 2d 256, 261, 2 ALR 2d 1050.

Inadequate Right of Appeal

The mere existence of a right of appeal, where it is inadequate, does not preclude the issuance of a writ of mandate. State v. State Highway Patrol, 133 M 162, 321 P 2d 612, 614.

Mandamus Lies to Compel Calling in of Another Judge

Mandamus is the proper remedy where a district judge fails to call in another district judge after an affidavit of bias has been filed under section 93-901. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 120 M 372, 186 P 2d 91, 94.

Mandamus Lies to Compel Highway Patrol and Officers to Return Motor Vehicle License Plates

An automobile co-owner had the right to a writ of mandamus to regain license plates taken from her automobile by the highway patrol acting under the authority of section 53-422 following an accident of the other co-owner while driving another vehicle. State v. State Highway Patrol, 133 M 162, 321 P 2d 612, 614.

Mandamus Lies to Compel Issuance of License

Mandamus will lie to compel issuance of license for logging trailer under section 53-122. State ex rel. Sharp v. Cross, 123 M 261, 211 P 2d 760.

Operation and Effect

Mandamus is properly issued to carry into effect the judgment of the Supreme Court where the district court fails for any reason to execute its mandate from the Supreme Court. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907, 911.

Where an employee of the state fish and game commission was summarily dismissed by the commission without sufficient notice, he was entitled to relief by way of mandamus; even though, subsequent to the discharge, he was given notice that a hearing on his dismissal would be held. State v. State Fish & Game Comm., 133 M 362, 323 P 2d 1116, 1118.

When Mandamus is Not Proper

Where the holder of a registered brand died and thereafter the brand expired without being re-registered, the brand was then open to record by anyone; hence, mandamus brought by the administrator of the deceased person at a later date would not lie to require the recorder of marks and brands to record the brand in the administrator's name as there is no clear legal duty upon the recorder to do what the administrator required by his complaint. Benolken v. Miracle, 129 M 495, 289 P 2d 953, 954.

Requiring successor judge to journalize finding or decision of predecessor. 4 ALR 2d 884.

Mandamus to protect charitable or eleemosynary corporation against use of same or similar name by another corporation. 27 ALR 2d 962.

Mandamus to compel municipal officials to enforce zoning regulations. 35 ALR 2d 1136.

93-9104. (1985) Must be either alternative or peremptory—substance.

Operation and Effect

Where the liquor control board issued a license in compliance with district court mandate in lieu of applying for superseades from Supreme Court, the question whether the mandate was proper did not present a justiciable controversy for the Supreme Court, even under section 93-8024. Gill v. Rafn, 133 M 505, 326 P 2d 974.

Where counsel for relatrix made several trips to consult with a judge who had been disqualified about calling in another judge and then later instituted mandamus proceedings to compel the appointment of another judge, such expenses of travel is not a proper item of costs incident to the institution of the mandamus proceeding. It was a matter that should have been attended to by letter or telephone. State ex rel. O'Sullivan v. District Court, 127 M 32, 256 P 2d 1076, 1079.

Where relator for a writ of mandamus requiring the court to set a case for trial, and return was made, and alternate writ issued, and return and answer showed that the cause had been set for trial, the relator was entitled to recover from the county attorney fees upon the court's finding that the respondents appeared in the action and made defense in the proceeding in good faith. State ex rel. Haegg v. District Court, 130 M 530, 304 P 2d 1116, 1117.

If pleaded, attorney fees are allowable as an item of damages in prohibition cases. State v. District Court, 131 M 397, 310 P 2d 779, 782.

Damages and Costs

If pleaded, attorney fees are allowable as an item of damages in prohibition cases. State v. District Court, 131 M 397, 310 P 2d 779, 782.

Habeas Corpus Proceeding

Where, during the course of a divorce proceeding a judge is disqualified and another judge assumes jurisdiction and commits the husband to jail for contempt, on a habeas corpus petition brought by the jailed husband the disqualified judge would not be authorized to act and a writ of prohibition will lie to prohibit such judge from proceeding further in the habeas corpus matter. State v. District Court of Lewis and Clark County, 130 M 73, 295 P 2d 233.

Nature of Writ

If the district court and judge were proceeding within the jurisdiction given them by the Constitution and statutes of this state, they may not be restrained by this writ out of the Supreme Court. Moreover, even though the district court at some point exceeded its jurisdiction, the writ of prohibition must be denied if the person has another plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. State ex rel. Adamson v. District Court, 128 M 462, 279 P 2d 691, 693.

Prohibition does not properly issue as a writ of right, but only in the exercise of a sound judicial discretion to arrest the proceedings of courts, or tribunals or officers exercising judicial functions, but acting at the time without or in excess of its or their jurisdiction. State ex rel. Adamson v. District Court, 128 M 538, 279 P 2d 691, 693.

Operation and Effect

Writ of prohibition does not lie against the county superintendent of schools to prevent her from acting in an appeal taken to her by a teacher who had been denied re-employment by the school board since by section 75-2411 appeals from such dismissals go to the county superintendent of schools. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P 2d 209.

District court acted in excess of its jurisdiction in summarily issuing an order affecting the right to custody of a child without giving notice and a hearing to the child's mother. State v. District Court, 131 M 397, 310 P 2d 779, 782.

Where an order of the district court, issued without notice and without a hearing, was to deprive a mother of the custody of her child, and there were two modifications of the original custody decree which would require separate appeals, an appeal would not be adequate to protect the best interests of the child, and a writ of prohibition was the proper remedy. State v. District Court, 131 M 397, 310 P 2d 779, 781.

When Writ May Be Granted

Refusal of court to set aside indictments on grounds set forth in section 94-6601 may be reviewed on writ of prohibition under the authority granted the Supreme Court by Const., Art. VIII, sec. 2 giving it superintending control over the courts. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1039.

Supreme Court had jurisdiction to grant writ of prohibition to prevent payment of grand jury illegally in session. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052.

The writ of prohibition lies when there is no other plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law. State v. District Court, 131 M 397, 310 P 2d 779, 780.

Writ May Run to End Litigation and Save Expense

The writ of prohibition may be issued to end litigation and save expense. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052, 1054.

Operation and Effect

Where Supreme Court issued an alternate writ of prohibition against a district court judge, and before the return date the district judge conceded that he was disqualified and would take no further part in the case in the district court, the alternate writ will be dissolved as there is no purpose for it. #### Pleading of Damages and Attorney Fees

The first condition to the recovery of damages and attorney fees is that they be claimed in the pleading. If they are not claimed in the pleading they are waived.

93-9701. (9887) Forcible entry defined.

Operation in General

Where the right to possession of real property is in dispute, the owners thereof may not take the law into their own hands and proceed by violence to take possession thereof. In order to secure such possession, resort must be had to the peaceful process of law. Brown v. Grenz, 127 M 49, 257 P 2d 246, 248.

Where owner, after giving notice under this section, commenced a course of action and conduct which forced the tenant from the premises, instead of filing a complaint as provided by section 93-9708, he was liable for wrongful eviction. Brown v. Grenz, 127 M 49, 257 P 2d 246.

Change in Use of Building

Change in the use of a building by sublessee from a retail food store to a motor sales and garage did not amount to waste or destruction of building. Turman v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 132 M 273, 317 P 2d 302, 304, 307.

Notice to Quit

Whether notice that deal with regard to the sale of land was off and that if there was any further desire to buy or lease land they should see the party appointed to act as agent for the owner was a notice to quit, was a question for the jury. Hamilton v. Rock, 121 M 245, 191 P 2d 663, 666.

pay alimony pendente lite it is not necessary for the wife to show the husband's ability to pay, but lack of ability to perform is a defense to be advanced and to be proved by the accused. State ex rel. Houtchens v. District Court, 122 M 76, 199 P 2d 272, 274.

Where orders of court ordering payment of alimony pendente lite and support money and finding of ability to pay were not appealed, and there was substantial evidence in the record tending to establish ability to pay, court had jurisdiction to sentence for contempt. State ex rel. Houtchens v. District Court, 122 M 76, 199 P 2d 272, 274.

93-9810. (1917) Judgment and penalty, if guilty.

Fine Enforced by Imprisonment

It is well settled in this jurisdiction that the payment of a fine imposed upon one adjudged guilty of contempt may be enforced by imprisonment and that imprisonment in excess of five days is permissible to compel such payment. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 767.

Purge Order

A purge order contained in a judgment for contempt is not coercive and beyond the jurisdiction of the court, they being for the defendant's benefit. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 768.

Suspension of Execution

Contempt order containing provision for the suspension of execution if monthly payments are made "each month after the present month, the execution of the judgment will continue to be suspended, and this for the period of one year; and if the payments have been continued for twelve of such calendar months then the execution of such judgment will be continued indefinitely," was not a judgment for an indefinite period of time but twelve months was fixed as the maximum of the coercive effect. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 769.

93-9811. (1918) If the contempt is the omission, etc.

Imprisonment

A person who refuses to perform a judicial order which he is able to perform may be imprisoned until he complies with such order. State ex rel. Lay v. District Court, 122 M 61, 198 P 2d 761, 768.

93-9903.1. Appropriation of underground natural gas reservoir—effect on landowner's right to drill. The appropriation of any sand, stratum or formation for use as an underground natural gas storage reservoir shall be without prejudice to the rights of the owner or owners of said lands, or of the oil, gas or other mineral rights therein, to drill or bore through the sand, stratum or formation so appropriated for use as an underground natural gas storage reservoir, in order to explore for, produce, process, treat or market any oil, gas or other minerals that might be contained in said lands above or below the sands, stratum or formation so appropriated. Any additional cost or expense required to be incurred in order to protect the underground gas storage reservoir against pollution and the escape of the gas therefrom, by reason of such boring or drilling through of the sand, stratum or formation used as such underground gas storage reservoir shall be paid by the persons, firm or corporation then owning such underground gas storage reservoir.

Highways

Under section 32-1615 the state highway commission is the only tribunal authorized to condemn land for relocating highways, and even assuming that the taking of an existing highway is justified by this section as a more necessary public use where the purpose is to build a dam and a reservoir; yet the public utility building the dam cannot acquire land for relocating the highway since that function is exclusively within the power of the highway commission. State ex rel. Bartholomew v. District Court, 126 M 183, 248 P 2d 215, 216.

Appeals from Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law

Since this section allows appeals from any finding or judgment made or rendered under this chapter, as in other cases and section 93-8003 allows appeals from final judgments or orders, an appeal does not lie from the court's finding of fact or conclusions of law. Sheridan County Electric Co-op. v. Anhalt, 127 M 71, 257 P 2d 889. (See, however, dissenting opinion, 127 M 71, 257 P 2d 889, 894.)

93-9908. (9940) The complaint and its contents. The complaint must contain:

1. The name of the corporation, association, commission, or person in charge of the public use for which the property is sought, who must be styled plaintiff.
2. The names of all owners and claimants of the property, if known, or a statement that they are unknown, who must be styled defendants.
3. A statement of the right of plaintiff.
4. If a right-of-way is sought, the complaint must show the location, general route, and termini, and must be accompanied with a map thereof, so far as the same is involved in the action or proceeding.

5. A description of each piece of land sought to be taken, and whether the same includes the whole or only a part of the entire parcel or tract. All parcels lying in the county, and required for the same public use, may be included in the same or separate proceedings, at the option of the plaintiff, but the court may consolidate or separate them to suit the convenience of the parties. When application for the condemnation of a right-of-way for the purposes of sewerage is made on behalf of a settlement, or town, or a county, the county commissioners of the county may be named as plaintiff.

6. If a sand, stratum or formation suitable for use as an underground natural gas storage reservoir is sought to be appropriated, a description thereof and of the land in which it is alleged to be contained, and a description of all other property and rights sought to be appropriated for use in connection with the appropriation of the right to store natural gas in and withdraw natural gas from such reservoir. In addition, the complaint shall state facts showing that the underground reservoir is one subject to appropriation by plaintiff; also stating that the underground storage of natural gas in the land sought to be appropriated is in the public interest; that the underground reservoir is suitable and practicable for natural gas storage; that the plaintiff in good faith has been unable to acquire the rights sought to be appropriated hereunder and a statement that the rights and property sought to be appropriated are not prohibited by law; and in addition, the complaint must be accompanied by a certificate from the state oil and gas conservation commission as set forth in section 4 [93-804] of this act.

Amendments

The 1953 amendment substituted "is" for "be" at the beginning of subdivision 4; and added subdivision 6.

The 1955 amendment near the beginning of subd. 6 deleted the words "known to be" which appeared between the words "formation" and "suitable" and at the end of subd. 6 substituted "as set forth in section 4 of this act" for "setting forth its findings as to the existence of all of the facts contained in this paragraph."

93-9909. (9941) Summons, what to contain—how issued and served. The clerk must issue a summons, which must contain the names of the parties, a description of the lands and other property proposed to be taken, a statement of the public use for which it is sought, and a notice to the defendants to appear before the court or judge, at a time and place therein specified, and show cause why the property described should not be condemned as prayed for in the complaint. Such summons must, in other particulars, be in form of a summons in a civil action, and must be served in like manner upon each defendant named therein, at least ten (10) days previous to the time designated in such notice for the hearing, and no copy of the complaint need be served. But the failure to make such service upon a defendant does not affect the right to proceed against any or all other of the defendants, upon whom service of summons had been made.

Amendment

The 1955 amendment inserted the words "and other property" in this section.

93-9911. (9943) Power of court to appoint commissioners, etc. The court or judge has power:

1. To regulate and determine the place and manner of making the connections and crossings, and enjoying the common uses mentioned in subdivision 5, section 93-9904, and of the occupying of canyons, passes, and defiles for railroad purposes, as permitted and regulated by the laws of this state or of the United States;

2. To determine whether or not the use for which the property is sought to be appropriated is a public use, within the meaning of the laws of this state;

3. To limit the amount of property sought to be appropriated, if in the opinion of the court or judge the quantity sought to be appropriated is not necessary;

4. If the court or judge is satisfied that the public interests require the taking of such lands, it or he must make an order appointing three (3) competent persons, resident in said county, commissioners to ascertain and determine the amount to be paid by the plaintiff to each owner, or other person interested in such property, as damages, by reason of the appropriation of such property, and specify the time and place of the first meeting of such commissioners, and fixing their compensation. Any party may object to the appointment of any person as a commissioner on the same grounds that he might object to him as a trial juror.

5. If the property sought to be appropriated is a sand, stratum or formation suitable for use as an underground natural gas storage reservoir and the existence and suitability of it for such use has been proved by plaintiff upon substantial evidence, the order of the court or judge shall direct the commissioners so appointed to ascertain and determine the amount to be paid by the plaintiff to each person for his interest in the property sought to be appropriated for use as such underground natural gas storage reservoir, and/or as the annual rental for the use of such underground gas storage reservoir and for the use of so much of the surface as is required in the operation of the said underground gas storage reservoir, and for use in connection with the creation, operation and maintenance thereof, and for all the native gas contained in said reservoir as compensation and damages by reason of the appropriation of such property; provided, however, the amount to be paid for such native gas and all thereof shall be no less than the market value of such gas.

The court shall appoint three (3) persons, qualified as experts and recommended as such by the oil and gas conservation commission of the state of Montana, to assist and advise the commissioners in determining the com-compensation and damages to be paid by plaintiff to each person for his interest in the property sought to be appropriated and the fees and expenses of such persons shall be chargeable as costs of the proceedings to be paid by the plaintiff.

Amendments

The 1953 amendment added subdivision 5.

The 1955 amendment in the first paragraph of subd. 5, substituted "each person for his interest" for "each owner or other person interested"; inserted the words "and/or as the annual rental for the use of such underground gas storage reservoir and for the use of so much of the surface as is required in the operation of the said underground gas storage reservoir"; inserted the words "and for all the native gas contained in said reservoir"; added the proviso in that paragraph and in the second paragraph of subd. 5 substituted "each person for his interest" for "each owner, or other person interested."

Separability Clause

Section 11 of Ch. 259, Laws 1955 read "Constitutionality. If any part or parts of this act shall be held to be unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity of the remaining parts of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining parts of this act if it had known that such part or parts thereof would be declared unconstitutional."

Just Compensation

In eminent domain proceedings, the jury findings will generally not be disturbed on appeal unless they are so obviously and palpably out of proportion to the injury done as to be in excess of just compensation provided for by section 14, article III, of the Montana Constitution. State v. Peterson, — M —, 328 P 2d 617, 620.

Removal of Fixtures

In proceedings to condemn tract of land for new highway which would leave defendant's business on old highway, testimony concerning removal of gas tanks was wholly incompetent. Landowner was not required to remove his buildings or fixtures from the land taken and accept an amount of money to defray costs of removal. State v. Peterson, — M —, 328 P 2d 617, 624.

Valuation of Property

Testimony of right-of-way agents who had been engaged in the process of appraising real estate for some time all over the state, and had extensive experience in and knowledge of real estate values in community and elsewhere, should have been admitted by court to establish value of property taken by plaintiff for new highway. Admissibility in condemnation proceedings of opinion evidence as to probable profits derivable from land condemned if devoted to particular agricultural purposes. 16 ALR 2d 1113.

93-9913. (9945) The date with respect to which compensation shall be assessed, and the measure thereof. For the purpose of assessing compensation and damages, the right thereto shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the summons, and its actual value at that date shall be the measure of compensation of all property to be actually taken, and the basis of damages to property not actually taken, but injuriously affected, and the cost of removal of all necessary personal property from the condemned real property and of the damage to such personal property, if any, incurred by such removal. If an order be made letting the plaintiff into possession, as provided in section 93-9920, the compensation and damages awarded shall draw lawful interest from the date of such order. No improvements put upon the property, subsequent to the date of the service of summons, shall be included in the assessment of compensation or damages.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 133, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Operation and Effect

applicable to condemnation proceedings for a private road of necessity and therefore attorney's fees are not includable as an expense under 93-9923. Tomten v. Thomas, 125 M 159, 232 P 2d 723, 725, 26 ALR 2d 1285.

93-9923. (9955) Private roads.*Expenses of Action

Attorney's fees are not allowed as an expense of a proceeding in condemnation for a private road of necessity under this section or section 32-1401. Section 93-9922 adopts sections 93-8601 and 93-8618 to the proceedings. Under 93-8601 attorney's fees in condemnation proceedings are not enumerated, nor are they allowed under 93-8618 as a cost or disbursement less specifically authorized by law or is according to the course and custom of the court. In Montana it is not customary to include attorney's fees as a cost; and in this section and 32-1401 the term "expenses" is synonymous with the term "costs." Tomten v. Thomas, 125 M 159, 232 P 2d 723, 725, 26 ALR 2d 1285.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon, wherein the defendant was found guilty by a jury, it was held on appeal that in view of the uncertainty in the mind of the state's only eyewitness as compared with witnesses for defendant, coupled with the effect of this section and section 94-7203, the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction for the crime charged. State v. Gilbert, 125 M 104, 232 P 2d 338, 341.

CHAPTER 401—EVIDENCE—GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF

93-401-1. (10505) One witness sufficient to prove a fact.

Conflicting Evidence

Where there is any substantial evidence to support the findings of the trial court, even though the evidence is conflicting the supreme court will not interfere with the judgment and findings of the trial court. Hankins v. Waitt, 120 M 596, 189 P 2d 666, 667.

Operation and Effect

In deciding the facts of a case the trial judge could accept "the direct evidence of one witness who is entitled to full credit" to prove any fact and he was not bound to decide the facts in conformity with the declarations of any number of witnesses, who did not produce conviction in his mind, against a less number, or against a presumption or other evidence satisfying his mind. Davis v. Burton, 128 M 134, 278 P 2d 213, 218.

93-401-2. (10506) Testimony confined to personal knowledge.

Report by physician taking or interpreting X-ray pictures. 6 ALR 2d 406.

Written recitals or statements as within rule excluding hearsay. 10 ALR 2d 1035.

93-401-4. (10508) Witness presumed to speak the truth.*Construction

It was error for the trial court to allow the testimony of a witness at the first trial to be read into evidence at the second trial of the defendant. It was the right of the defendant to have the jury see and observe the witness upon the witness stand. It was his right that the jury see how the witness acted while under direct and cross-examination. It was his right to have the jury judge the credibility of the witness from his appearance and manner while upon the witness stand. None of these rights could be had except and unless the witness met the defendant "face to face" in the presence of the jury during the course of the trial. State v. Storm, 127 M 414, 265 P 2d 971, 973. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in 127 M 414, 265 P 2d 971, 975.)

Cases which permit testimony, given by a witness in a first trial, to be read into evidence in a second trial, in the absence of such witness, are based upon the theory that the accused has been present when the witness gave the testimony in the first trial and had the opportunity of then cross-examining such witness. Such cases proceed upon the theory that the observation by the jury of the manner and demeanor of the witness is no essential part of the right of a defendant to meet the witness face to face. Montana subscribes to no such theory. To do so would be to make this section a useless and meaningless thing and would deny the defendant the right to meet the witness against him face to face, a right guaranteed him by Art. III, sec. 16 of the state Constitution. State v. Pivaler, 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970.)

On a second trial of a defendant the testimony of a state witness given at the first trial could not be read into evidence at the second trial since to do so would be to deprive the defendant of his right to meet a witness face to face. State v. Pivaler, 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970. (See, however, the dissenting opinion in 127 M 427, 265 P 2d 969, 970.)

In a prosecution for the crime against nature, it was error to permit the mother of the prosecuting witness to testify as to details of the crime as related by him when he complained to her, where there was no showing that the statement was made while in shock or immediately after

In General

This section does not authorize the introduction of parol evidence to show the execution of a deed where the entire deed is in evidence including the printed lines for the signature of the party executing the instrument and also the lines for the notary but no signatures appear thereon and the paper gives no evidence that any signatures ever appeared thereon, although plaintiff claimed that the signatures disappeared while the deed was in the ground for a period of nine years. *Miller v. #### Reservation of Mineral Interest

In action for specific performance arising over interpretation of contract for conveyance of land reserving mineral interest, where cross-complaint of defendants alleged that the contract was ambiguous and uncertain and prayed for a declaratory judgment to adjudicate the rights of the parties, it was the duty of the trial court to determine the intent of the parties, and the exclusion of parol evidence of intent was error. Stokes v. Tut-tet, — M —, 328 P 2d 1096, 1103, 1104.

In criminal case, statements of defendant voluntarily made to doctor who was to perform autopsy on deceased were admissible as statements against interest. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 293.

Subd. 4*Dying Declarations

It is within the discretion of the trial judge as to whether or not the jury should be present when the foundation for the admission of the dying declaration is being laid. Should the trial judge find the foundation sufficient and decide to admit the dying declaration in the absence of the jury, then the whole procedure is repeated for and in the record in the presence of the jury. State v. Morran, 131 M 17, 306 P 2d 679, 686.

There was a proper foundation for the admission of a dying declaration where it was shown that the deceased made statements that he was going to die; that he was "going down for the long count"; because he was told by his doctors that he was going to die of his burns; because he knew and appreciated that his doctor was telling him the truth; because he received the last rites of his church; because he knew that an accomplice had died of burns and knew that his own burns were nearly as bad. All of these facts and circumstances warrant the conclusion that the declaration was made under a sense of impending death. State v. Morran, 131 M 17, 306 P 2d 679, 687. (Dissenting opinion on this point, 131 M 17, 306 P 2d 679, 691.)

Where a dying declaration contains objectionable portions, such objectionable portions may be stricken, but it is incumbent upon the defendant to specify the objectionable parts and give the reason why such parts are objectionable. *State v. Subd. 3Competency After Testimony of Another

In action on claim against estate for money loaned by daughter to deceased, it was proper, after testimony of witness that she heard plaintiff say, "Could I have the money you owe me, Mother?" to which the mother replied "Yes, I owe you $520 and you will get every cent of it," to permit plaintiff to testify in her own behalf concerning the making of the loan to her mother. Ahlquist v. Pinski, 120 M 355, 185 P 2d 499, 501.

Operation in General

A party to an action to enforce a contract to make a will may not testify as to the facts of direct transactions or oral communications between himself and the deceased, except when, without the testimony of the witness injustice will be done. Cox v. Williamson, 124 M 512, 227 P 2d 614, 619.

Court should not admit testimony of witness who is party to case to enforce agreement alleged to have been made with deceased until sufficient other independent testimony has been admitted to warrant the court, in exercise of its discretion, to render a ruling in favor of such testimony, which discretion must be exercised with caution and reasonable strictness. Cox v. Williamson, 124 M 512, 227 P 2d 614, 619.

Sufficiency of Foundation Evidence

Evidence which tends to establish at most nothing more than an intention on the part of the testator to leave to another a certain sum of money, will not support an allegation of express agreement or contract to do so, so as to permit testimony of plaintiff as to contract made with deceased. Cox v. Williamson, 124 M 512, 227 P 2d 614, 621.

Where there was no other evidence to establish the loan, it was not an abuse of discretion to reject plaintiff's testimony as to direct transactions or oral communications between plaintiff and decedent in connection with the alleged loan. Mowbray v. Mowbray, 131 M 580, 312 P 2d 995.

Subd. 4Operation and Effect

Under the exception to this section, which allows the testimony of a party or assignor "when it appears to the court that without the testimony of the witness injustice will be done" there must first be sufficient other testimony admitted to warrant the court, in the exercise of its discretion to rule in favor of the questionable testimony. Potlatch Oil & Refining Co. v. Ohio Oil Co., 199 F 2d 766.

Under the Montana dead mens statute, the testimony of an assignor of the plaintiff relating to a conversation with one of defendant's officers was properly excluded since the officer of defendant was now dead, nor was it admissible under Rule 43 (a) of the Federal Rules since the witness, a stockholder of plaintiff corporation, was interested in the outcome of the suit. *Potlatch Oil & Refining Co. v. #### 93-801-4. Act, how cited.

93-801-5. Reproductions of originals. If any business, institution, member of a profession or calling, or any department or agency of government, in the regular course of business or activity has kept or recorded any memorandum, writing, entry, print, representation or combination thereof, of any act, transaction, occurrence or event, and in the regular course of business has caused any or all of the same to be recorded, copied or reproduced by any photographic, photostatic, microfilm, micro-card, miniature photographic, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for so reproducing the original, the original may be destroyed in the regular course of business unless held in a custodial or fiduciary capacity or unless its preservation is required by law. Such reproduction, when satisfactorily identified, is as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding, whether the original is in existence or not, and an enlargement or facsimile of such reproduction is likewise admissible in evidence, if the original reproduction is in existence and available for inspection under direction of court. The introduction of a reproduced record, enlargement or facsimile, does not preclude admission of the original.

An instruction containing an abstract statement of the statutory law as set out in this section and sections 93-1301-3, 93-1301-4 is not error when the facts are few and simple. Gobel v. Rinio, 122 M 235, 200 P 2d 700, 705.

evidence and "a fact legally proved" by circumstantial evidence. A fact, although arrived at by indirect or circumstantial evidence, may serve as a basis for an inference. Fegles Const. Co. v. McLaughlin Const. Co., 205 F 2d 637, 639.

The presumption of the continued existence of a person, a personal relation, or a state of things is prospective, and not retrospective, and the law does not presume, from proof of the existence of present conditions or facts, that the same facts or conditions had existed for any

Operation and Effect

Unless a presumption is controverted by other evidence, it is binding on the court. Dial v. Dial, 131 M 310, 310 P 2d 610, 612.

A statutory disputable presumption is satisfactory if uncontradicted, and must be followed if uncontroverted. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 455.

Whether sworn testimony to the contrary is sufficient to rebut a statutory presumption is a question for the triers of fact to determine, except where the facts proved are overwhelmingly against the presumed facts and permit of but one rational and reasonable conclusion. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 455.

Operation and Effect

Equitable estoppel will prevent a contractor from asserting a lien preference for an amount over the contract price against the first mortgagee where the contractor made representation as to the total price of the work to the mortgagee and knew that the loan would not have been granted had it been for a greater amount. McGaffick v. Leigland, 130 M 332, 303 P 2d 247.

This section is a declaration of the doctrine of equitable estoppel. Hustad v. Reed, 133 M 211, 321 P 2d 1083, 1090.

Where executors made an advance payment out of their personal funds to the legatee of a cash bequest, they were not estopped from asserting a debt due from the legatee, as against a judgment creditor of the legatee, even though the petition for distribution and final account showed no legacy advancements had been made. Hustad v. Reed, 133 M 211, 321 P 2d 1083, 1090.

Statements not Creating Estoppel

Where lessee of property with option to purchase sued for specific performance he could not be estopped from exercising his option by testimony of statements made by lessee to lessor and prospective purchaser of property from lessor, prior to time for exercise of option, that he did not intend to purchase the property if he could get certain other property he had in mind. Fiers v. Jacobson, 123 M 242, 211 P 2d 968, 973.

In action by church members to set aside a deed executed by certain persons purporting to act as trustees, they could not be estopped by statements by one of their number proposing that the church property be sold. Smith v. St. John Baptist Church, 123 M 264, 211 P 2d 975, 978.

Subd. 4

Operation and Effect

Where land was purchased by defendant and leased to plaintiff, plaintiff should not be permitted to claim that the purchase price of the land constituted a loan from defendant to plaintiff and that deed was made to defendant as security for the loan and therefore defendant held the land in trust for plaintiff. Laas v. All Persons, 121 M 43, 189 P 2d 670 (concurring opinion).

Subd. 6

Operation and Effect

A decree of distribution does not concern itself with whether a legacy has been paid, acquired by third parties or is subject to a lien and the decree is not the final order of the court on the point of payment in the closing of an estate, but that is the office of the decree of final discharge under section 91-3906. Hustad v. Reed, 133 M 211, 321 P 2d 1083, 1092.

Operation and Effect

A judgment or final order in an action or proceeding is not evidence, conclusive or otherwise, of matters that were not involved in the proceeding and not determined. Hustad v. Reed, 133 M 211, 321 P 2d 1083, 1091.

Subd. 3

Operation and Effect

A person instituting a criminal proceeding for passing a fraudulent check intends to vex, annoy and injure such person within the meaning of the word malice in section 19-103. Rickman v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 124 M 451, 227 P 2d 607, 610.

Evidence was undisputed that defendant, charged with assault in first degree, shot the victim twice, critically wounding him. The repeated shooting into the vital parts of the body of a live human being with a deadly weapon is evidence that the gun was used intentionally and deliberately, and demonstrates the intent to kill. With this fact established the law presumes that the defendant was sane at the time he committed the act; that defendant committed the unlawful act with an unlawful intent, and that defendant intended the ordinary consequences of his voluntary act. These are rebuttable presumptions. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 406, 407.

Certificate of Title

In action by administratrix to recover amount of automobile purchase loan made by decedent to defendant, it was a question for the jury whether title certificate was first surrendered as evidence of a pledge and then returned as evidence of payment. Olson v. McLean, 132 M 111, 313 P 2d 1039, 1042.

Subd. 15

Acts of an Official

The law presumes that the commissioner of agriculture performed his official duty as required by section 3-218 and that the form of warehouse receipt used and issued by plaintiff is in the form prescribed by law and the rules and regulations of the commissioner of agriculture of which law and official acts this court may take judicial notice. Northern Montana Mustard Growers Co-op. v. Britton, 128 M 553, 280 P 2d 1078, 1085.

Subd. 25

Operation and Effect

Where a defendant was charged with a prior conviction of a felony there must be some evidence aside from the judgment itself that the person who stood convicted by the prior judgments of conviction was the defendant in the instant case. State v. Nelson, 130 M 466, 304 P 2d 1110.

Operation and Effect

A power of attorney to a physician to perform all medical services for decedent for which he was to receive $2,000, any portion of such amount unpaid on her

93-1401-5. (10611) Transfer of real property to be in writing.

Parol Evidence

Where quitclaim deed was typewritten on printed form which contained lines for the signatures and the acknowledgment but the paper showed no evidence that any name had ever been signed thereto or any notary's seal attached, it could not be shown by parol evidence that the deed

Memorandum

An endorsed bank check with the additional words "payment land" written on it is insufficient to constitute the written "note or memorandum" required by the statutes for it does not contain all the essentials of the agreement. Lewis v. Peterson, 127 M 474, 267 P 2d 127, 128.

The law will presume that a contract was in writing in the absence of any statement to the contrary. Johnson v. Elliot, 123 M 597, 218 P 2d 703, 706.

Sale of Ranch

In action for specific performance of contract for purchase of ranch of defendants, writings were sufficient to take the case out of the statute of frauds where instrument giving broker exclusive right for 30 days to sell ranch for $30,000, provided that defendants were to pay broker a $1,000 commission, recited that terms of sale were cash to defendants, possession should be taken by purchaser on named date and that defendants, who retained a 5% royalty, agreed to pay 1953 taxes and transfer all lease land to purchaser, who accepted unqualifiedly in writing accompanied by check as a down payment. Ward v. Mattushek, — M —, 330 P 2d 971.

Sufficiency of Complaint

Where complaint shows on its face that memorandum of agreement does not contain all essentials of agreement and such essentials cannot be ascertained without resort to oral evidence, demurrer to complaint was properly sustained. Dineen v. Sullivan, 123 M 195, 213 P 2d 241.

Although a contract to be valid must be in writing, that fact is a matter of proof and need not be alleged in the pleading. Johnson v. Elliot, 123 M 597, 218 P 2d 703, 706.

Sufficiency of Memorandum

The memorandum must contain all the essentials of the contract but if the material elements are stated in general terms all the details or particulars need not be stated. Johnson v. Elliot, 123 M 597, 218 P 2d 703, 707.

CHAPTER 1501—EVIDENCE—PRODUCTION OF—SUBPOENAS

93-1501-1. (10616) Evidence to be produced, by whom.*Operation and Effect

Where a plaintiff may be aided by a permissive inference as prima facie support of her contention, her opponent need do no more than counter-balance such permissive inference or prima facie case; he is not required to overbalance or outweigh it and when the whole of the evidence upon the issue involved leaves the case in equipoise, the one affirming on whom rests the burden must lose. *Whitney v. ## CHAPTER 1801—EVIDENCE—DEPOSITIONS, HOW TAKEN WITHIN AND WITHOUT THE STATE

If issued to any place within the United States, it may be directed to any person agreed upon by the parties, or if they do not agree, to any judge or justice of the peace, or commissioner, or notary public, selected by the court or judge issuing it. ## 93-1801-12. (10654) A deposition once taken may be read at any time.

Operation and Effect

Where a plaintiff offers a deposition in evidence, he is not bound by such evidence in the sense that he may not offer evidence that conflicts with it and have all the evidence considered by the jury. McCollum v. O'Neil, 128 M 584, 281 P 2d 493, 496.

CHAPTER 1901—EVIDENCE—GENERAL RULES OF EXAMINATION

93-1901-2. (10660) Witness not under examination may be excluded.

Discretion of Court

The matter of excluding witnesses rests in the discretion of the trial court and the supreme court will not disturb the action of the trial court in the absence of a showing of prejudice. Smith v. Armstrong, 121 M 377, 198 P 2d 795, 799.

Where no prejudice is shown, the judge's refusal to exclude will not be disturbed on appeal. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 408.

Exempting Some Witnesses From Requirements

It is not mandatory that the motion be granted in its entirety. It is discretionary with the court to exempt some witnesses from the operation of the exclusion rule. It was not an abuse of discretion where the prosecuting witness was paralyzed and needed the personal attention of his wife. State v. Cockrell, 131 M 254, 309 P 2d 316, 321.

Felony Cases

Customary and universal rule of exclusion of witnesses should be applied in all felony cases, when proper and timely request, supported by particular and well founded reasons, is made. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 409.

Witness Influencing Another

Defendant was not prejudiced by court's refusal of his motion for exclusion of witnesses where the state's witnesses each testified as individuals and some of the state's witnesses even disputed each other on some of the vital facts in the case. This demonstrated that there was no evidence of any witness being under the influence of any other witness. State v. Leod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 409.

Where re-direct examination did not elicit any new matters court did not err in denying the defendant an opportunity for re-cross-examination. State v. McSloy, 127 M 265, 261 P 2d 663, 666.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 93-401-25, the trial court may control the cross-examination of witnesses. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 819.

93-1901-7. (10665) Cross-examination, as to what.*Cross-examination as to Matters Stricken from the Records

There is no merit to the defendant's contention that she was unduly restricted in the cross-examination of a witness when she was not permitted to examine the witness as to what he had testified to in the morning because it was ordered stricken from the record. The defendant was permitted to examine the defendant as to what occurred during the trip which was what the morning examination of the witness had been about. State v. Robuck, 126 M 302, 248 P 2d 817.

Operation and Effect

Where the matter of the absence of influence by members of the defendant's family was brought out by the defense upon cross-examination, the state then had the privilege to make inquiry into the subject of influence by members of the family. State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 583.

Cross-examination of witness in criminal case as to whether, and with whom, he has talked about or discussed the facts of the case. 35 ALR 2d 1045.

Impeachment of witness by evidence or inquiry as to arrest, accusation, or prosecution. 20 ALR 2d 1421.

93-1901-9. Litigant calling opposite party as witness not bound, etc.*Not Applicable in Criminal Proceeding

In a criminal case the state of Montana is the opposite party to the defendant, and the adverse witness statute is not applicable to a criminal proceeding. State v. Moorman, 133 M 148, 321 P 2d 236, 238.

93-1901-10. (10667) Witness, how examined—when re-examined.*Limitation of Re-examination

Where re-direct examination did not elicit any new matters court did not err in denying the defendant an opportunity for re-cross-examination. State v. McSloy, 127 M 265, 261 P 2d 663, 666.

References

Cited or applied in State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 583.

93-1901-11. (10668) How impeached.*Improper Method of Impeachment

Defendant was deprived of a substantial right, the right to object to questions and answers which were collateral, immaterial and prejudicial, when a fourteen page document was introduced and accepted in evidence over defendant's objection, which document contained some matters which were collateral, immaterial and prejudicial although some of the statements were proper impeaching evidence. By accepting the entire document, the defendant was prevented from excluding immaterial and collateral matters. State v. Deeds, 126 M 38, 243 P 2d 314.

Particular Wrongful Acts Not Admissible

In a prosecution for rape, evidence tending to show that the defendant had committed rape upon another woman at some prior time was inadmissible as tending to establish a systematic scheme or plan, or connecting the defendant with the crime charged. Such evidence only tended to show bad character and disposition and if the defendant introduced no evidence of his good reputation, such evidence is clearly inadmissible. State v. Sauter, 125 M 109, 232 P 2d 731, 733.

Prejudicial and Incompetent Questions

Where the county attorney continually asked one of defendant's character witnesses about how many times he had been in jail in different counties it was not proper questioning and it cannot be said that a defendant has had a fair and impartial trial where the prosecutor continually asks the defendant or his witnesses prejudicial and incompetent questions. State v. Toner, 127 M 283, 263 P 2d 971, 975.

Proper Method to Impeach

Where a defendant takes the stand and upon cross-examination admits his prior convictions, the purpose of the statute was served, weakening his credibility as a witness. To go further and introduce the judgment showing such prior convictions serves no good purpose and it is prejudicial error to admit it. State v. Coloff, 125 M 31, 231 P 2d 343, 344.

Violation of Rule is Invasion of Substantial Right

Violation of this rule is an invasion of a substantial right, and where, in the cross-examination of a mother charged with murder for failure to feed her child, questions were asked involving the death of another child, the prosecution's statements that the questions were to test her credibility, and to prove that she knew that insufficient food would result in child's death were not acceptable and the error was not waived by efforts of defendant's counsel to explain the matter on redirect. State v. Rivers, 133 M 129, 320 P 2d 1004, 1007.

93-1901-12. (10669) Same—by evidence of declarations.

Testimony in Juvenile Court may be Used for Impeachment of Juvenile as a Witness

Section 10-611, which prohibits the "disposition of a child or any evidence given in the juvenile court being used as evidence against the child in any other case or proceeding," applies only when the child is a party to a later proceeding. Prior contradictory statements made in the juvenile court may be admitted when the juvenile is a witness in a later proceeding for the purpose of impeachment. State v. Searle, 125 M 467, 239 P 2d 995, 997, 998.

93-1901-13. (10670) Evidence of good character—when allowed.

Action for Slander

In action for slander where complaint alleged that manager of drug store stopped plaintiff in front of store and "maliciously intending to injure the good name and character of plaintiff" accused her of stealing an article from the store and that "by means of said defamatory words the plaintiff has been greatly injured in her good name and character" and answer was general denial and affirmative defense containing defendant's allegations of what had taken place, there was no issue raised of plaintiff's character so as to permit plaintiff to introduce evidence of her honesty and integrity. Meinecke v. Skaggs, 123 M 308, 213 P 2d 237.

Military record or discharge from army or navy as evidence to show character or reputation. 9 ALR 2d 606.

CHAPTER 20—EVIDENCE, EFFECT OF

93-2001-1. (10672) Jury judges of effect of evidence, etc.

Subd. 2

Operation in General

In deciding the facts of a case the trial judge could accept "the direct evidence of one witness who is entitled to full credit" to prove any fact and the trial judge was not bound to decide the facts in conformity with the declarations of any number of witnesses, who did not produce conviction in his mind, against a less number, or against a presumption or other evidence satisfying his mind. Davis v. Burton, 128 M 434, 278 P 2d 213, 218.

Whether sworn testimony to the contrary is sufficient to rebut a statutory presumption is a question for the triers of fact to determine, except where the facts proved are overwhelmingly against the presumed facts and permit of but one rational and reasonable conclusion. State v. Rice, — M —, 329 P 2d 451, 455.

Subd. 3

All Parts of Testimony Not Necessarily Rejected

Although court was satisfied that testimony on one point was deliberately false, it would only furnish grounds for distrusting other parts of the witness's testimony and would not necessarily call for a rejection of all of it. Sanders v. Sanders, 124 M 595, 229 P 2d 164, 166.

In separate maintenance action by wife where evidence on most points was in sharp conflict, if the court thought some of plaintiff's story incredible the most it could have done was to treat the rest of her testimony with distrust, the court was not bound to disregard all of her testimony. Reynolds v. Reynolds, 132 M 303, 317 P 2d 856, 858.

Subd. 4

Instructions Based on This Subdivision

Where the defense requested instructions as to the effect of accomplice's testimony and there was evidence in the record from which the jury might have concluded that a deputy sheriff was an accomplice of the defendant, the court should have instructed the jury that if they believed the deputy sheriff was an accomplice then they must weigh his evidence as provided by this section and that such evidence must be corroborated as required by section 94-7220. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

Subd. 5

Burden of Proof

In an action to cancel and terminate a lease, the burden was on the plaintiffs to prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the defendants had violated the lease as charged in the complaint. Davis v. Burton, 128 M 434, 278 P 2d 213, 218.

Subd. 7

Operation in General

In an action to quiet title and establish a boundary, and the plaintiff and the defendant each had a survey made but the defendant did not produce any evidence of his survey the court was justified in finding the survey as made by the plaintiff correct. Reel v. Walter, 131 M 382, 309 P 2d 1027, 1030.

CHAPTER 2201—EVIDENCE—RULES IN PARTICULAR CASES

93-2201-3. (10682) Objections to tender must be specified.

When Tender Unnecessary

In action for specific performance by lessee having option to purchase real property, tender could not be objected to where it was evident that defendants would not have conveyed property no matter what was done in the way of a tender and no objection was made to the tender at the time it was made. Fiers v. Jacobson, 123 M 242, 211 P 2d 968, 974.

93-2201-5. (10684) Compromise offer of no avail.

Evidence Inadmissible

Request for Papers

94-117. (10726) To constitute crime there must be unity of act, etc.

Criminal Negligence

Insofar as the offense of involuntary manslaughter is concerned under section 94-2507, the proof of culpability is supplied by evidence of criminal negligence. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

It is wholly unnecessary in involuntary manslaughter cases to superimpose upon the requirement of the element of criminal negligence the further requirement that a determination must be made as to whether the act resulting in death might ordinarily be classified as malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, for, if that act is done in a manner which is criminally negligent, it thereby becomes malum in se and thereby includes the element of mens rea. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

Under a prosecution for involuntary manslaughter, irrespective of the character of the unlawful act, whether malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, the criminality of the act resulting in death is established if that act was done negligently in such a manner as to evince a disregard for human life or an indifference to consequences. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

CHAPTER 2—PERSONS LIABLE TO PUNISHMENT— PARTIES TO CRIME

94-201. (10729) Who are capable of committing crimes.

Instructions

Refusal to give instruction under subd. 6 of this section was not reversible error in view of other instructions given. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

References

94-204. (10732) Who are principals.

Aiding and Abetting

While the statute defines larceny as the taking of property from the person of another yet it is sufficient to show the defendant's guilt that he aided or abetted in the commission of the crime. State v. Maciel, 130 M 569, 305 P 2d 335, 336.

Felony Murder Rule

Where defendant hired two men to set fire and burn his service station, and during the course of the arson the two men were burned and subsequently died, the defendant was guilty of first degree murder under the felony murder rule since any death directly attributable to a plot to commit arson makes all the conspirators in the arson plot equally guilty of first degree murder. State v. Morran, 131 M 17, 306 P 2d 679.

Instructions

Where a verbal declaration of one co-defendant that he and the other codefendant were partners was given in evidence, it was error for the court to refuse defendant's instruction that such verbal declaration is insufficient to establish a partnership. Although a partnership was immaterial because of this section and section 94-6423, yet the jury may have given full consideration to the declaration and found defendant guilty on the strength thereof. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 821.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 94-6423, evidence was sufficient to sustain a conviction of assault in the second degree where defendant was at the scene of the crime and was admittedly a participant therein; it is not necessary to show that he actually fired any one of the guns. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 484.

Change of Plea of Guilty

Where defendant was charged with desertion of minor children and upon arraignment the defendant indicated that he wanted to plead guilty and court read him this section making it a felony to desert and abandon children under 15 years of age, and also sections 94-301 and 94-302 which make it a misdemeanor to omit without lawful excuse to furnish necessary board, clothing, shelter or medical attention to children under the age of 16 years, the court abused its discretion in refusing to grant the defendant's motion to change his plea of guilty since there was a misunderstanding as to what the defendant pleaded guilty. State v. McBane, 128 M 369, 275 P 2d 218. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 369, 275 P 2d 218, 222.)

CHAPTER 6—ASSAULTS

94-601. (10976) Assault in the first degree defined—penalty.

Criminal Intent

The element of felonious intent in every contested criminal case must necessarily be determined from the facts and circumstances of the particular case, this for the reason that criminal intent, being a state of mind, is rarely susceptible of direct or positive proof and therefore must usually be inferred from the facts testified to by witnesses and the circumstances as developed by the evidence. State v. Madden, 128 M 408, 276 P 2d 974, 978.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for assault in the first or second degree the prosecution had to prove by satisfactory evidence, that when the defendant pointed a gun at a person he intended to commit a felony upon that person; instructions defining the felony must be given to the jury so that the jury can determine if the evidence showed such intended felony. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059 (the court was not in agreement on this however, see the dissenting opinions of two judges on pages 1060, 1063).

Penalty

Defendant charged with assault in first degree was properly sentenced to state prison for 18 years which was within the statutory term for the offense of which the jury found him guilty and during trial on first day of assault charge he pleaded guilty to three prior felony convictions charged in same information charging assault in first degree. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 408.

Sufficiency of Information

Trial court did not err in overruling defendant's demurrer to amended information and in overruling his objection to the introduction of evidence and his motion to dismiss the information, where the amended information complied with the requirements of sections 94-6401, 94-6403 to 94-6405 and 94-6412. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 406.

References

94-602. (10977) Assault in second degree.*Instructions on This Section

Instructions defining the felony intended to be committed must be given to the jury in a prosecution of assault in the first or second degree so that the jury may determine if the evidence showed an intended felony. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059.

Subd. 4*Operation and Effect

Evidence was insufficient to justify a conviction of second degree assault with a deadly weapon where it was disclosed that the defendant was hunting jack rabbits at the time; that he never knew the prosecuting witness prior to the day of the alleged assault; that the rifle was extremely sensitive and would fire upon being brushed against an object such as clothing or even a change in temperature might fire the gun; and that the defendant was an instructor in firearms in the army during the war and would not have missed from the distance of eight feet had he been aiming at the prosecuting witness. State v. Smith, 126 M 124, 246 P 2d 227, 228.

Evidence was sufficient to justify a conviction under this section when it was shown that defendant was with a group of boys who fired a barrage of shots at a house and some of the pellets hit the house; the fact that the prosecuting witness had moved to a position away from the line of fire did not prevent the attack from being an assault upon him and sustained the charge that the guns were fired toward him and in his direction. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 482, 483, 484.

Proof of Offense Different Than That Charged

Where defendant was charged with assault in the second degree as defined in subd. 4, it was error to introduce evidence that the defendant in pointing the firearm was resisting a lawful arrest by the sheriff in violation of subd. 5. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where evidence did not show that defendant pointed gun at sheriff after he was handed paper by deputy which purported to be a warrant, evidence was insufficient to support a conviction under either subd. 4 or 5 of this section. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 678.

Sufficiency of Information

Information charging defendant with unlawfully threatening another by pointing a loaded revolver at him charged a criminal offense. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

References

Cited or applied in State ex rel. Neilson v. District Court, 128 M 445, 277 P 2d 536, 539.

94-603. (10978) Assault in third degree.*Instructions

It was error to refuse defendant's instructions defining assault in the third degree, and instead instructing the jury as to assault in the first and second degree but omitting any instructions defining what felony was intended to be committed by assaulting a person with a gun. Since the jury had no way of knowing what felony, if any, the defendant intended to commit upon a person by pointing a gun at him, the jury should have been allowed to consider whether or not defendant was guilty of third degree assault. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059.

94-605. (10980) Use of force not unlawful.*Subd. 3*Operation and Effect

Evidence failed to justify a conviction of assault with a deadly weapon when it was shown that the defendant was merely exercising force in defense of his home, inasmuch as the prosecuting witness came to defendant's cabin in the company of another fellow who had intruded in defendant's home and lived there without defendant's permission and who the defendant had to forcibly evict, and also someone had been stealing log poles from the defendant. State v. Nickerson, 126 M 157, 247 P 2d 188, 192, 193.

CHAPTER 7—BIGAMY AND INCEST

94-705. (11029) Incest.*Amendment of Information

There was no substantial change in the charge where the court allowed the state to amend an information charging defendant with incest by changing "fornication" to "adultery." Whether the defendant was married and unmarried at the time is not a material ingredient of the offense. In either event the defendant is guilty, if the intercourse charged is proved. State v. Kuntz, 130 M 126, 295 P 2d 707, 710.

CHAPTER 8—BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

94-804. (10856) Improper attempts to influence jurors, referees, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where the evidence discloses that the defendant conversed with a grand juror privately at the latter's home it can not be construed to be in the regular course of proceedings and thus within the exception to this section. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

94-806. (10858) Embracery.

Operation and Effect

After a person has been discharged as a grand juror, the crime of embracery could not be committed even though the defendant thought he was influencing a grand juror. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 987.

CHAPTER 9—BURGLARY AND HOUSEBREAKING—POSSESSION OF BURGLARIOUS INSTRUMENTS AND DEADLY WEAPONS

Section 94-901. Burglary defined.

94-904. Word "enter" defined.

94-901. (11346) Burglary defined. Every person who enters any house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, out-house, or other building, tent, motor vehicle and aircraft, vessel, or railroad car, with intent to commit grand or petit larceny or any felony, is guilty of burglary.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment inserted the word "automobile" and the word "or" before "railroad car."

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "motor vehicle and aircraft" for the word "automobile."

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 17, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 18, 1957.

Truck

The legislature has made it clear that an automobile and truck are to be considered two distinct and separate vehicles for registration and tax purposes. It does not make sense to hold that the legislature intended, in making entry into an automobile burglary, to have intended the word "automobile" as a general term, and to include automobiles, trucks, busses and the like. Had the legislature intended to use a general term, it would have used the term "motor vehicle." Certainly no interpretation should be given any word which would make an act a crime unless it is clear that the legislature intended that interpretation should be given such word. State v. Duran, 127 M 233, 259 P 2d 1051, 1052. (See, however, the dissenting opinion, 127 M 233, 259 P 2d 1051, 1054.)

94-902. (11347) Degrees of burglary.

Failure to Prove Time Crime Was Committed

Where the information alleges nighttime or first degree burglary it is essential that the state prove the crime occurred during the nighttime as provided in section 94-905. When the evidence is that the crime took place sometime between 3:15 a.m. and 8:00 a.m. and that on the particular day the sun rose at 5:56 a.m.

a conviction of nighttime burglary cannot stand. State v. Fitzpatrick, 125 M 448, 239 P 2d 529.

94-904. (11349) Word "enter" defined. The word "enter," as used in this chapter, includes the entrance of the offender into such house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, outhouse, or other building, tent, automobile, vessel, or railroad car, or the insertion therein of any part of his body, or of any instrument or weapon held in his hand, or used or intended to be used, to threaten or intimidate the inmates, or to detach or remove the property.

Amendment

The 1949 amendment inserted the words "store, mill, barn" and the word "automobile."

Repealing Clause

94-905. (11350) Nighttime defined.

Operation and Effect

When an information charges nighttime or first degree burglary, proof that the crime occurred in the period between sunset and sunrise is essential in order to convict the defendant. State v. Fitzpatrick, 125 M 448, 239 P 2d 529.

CHAPTER 10—COMMON NUISANCES—MAINTENANCE IN CONNECTION WITH SELLING INTOXICATING LIQUORS—OPIUM—PROSTITUTION AND GAMBLING

Section 94-1002. Certain buildings declared nuisances.

94-1001. (11123) Definition of "person" and "building."

Operation and Effect

Actions for the prosecution of gambling laws may be prosecuted under either of these sections or under sections 94-2401 and 94-2404, or under each and all of such sections. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

Fact that county attorney proceeded under this law for abatement of gambling nuisance, rather than under sections 94-2401 and 94-2404 for criminal punishment, is not a matter of which the defendant can complain on appeal. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

94-1002. (11124) Certain buildings declared nuisances. Every building or place or tract of land under one ownership used for the purpose of lewdness, assignation, or prostitution, and every building or place or tract of land under one ownership wherein or upon which acts of lewdness, assignation, or prostitution are held or occur, and any building, place or tract of land under one ownership wherein or upon which gambling or those other illegal acts prohibited by chapter 24 and chapter 30, Title 94 Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, are carried on or occurs, contrary to any of the laws of the state of Montana, or wherein any wine rooms are conducted or maintained, contrary to the laws of the state of Montana, or wherein any opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives, and preparations thereof are sold or given away or used contrary to the laws of the state of Montana, is a nuisance which shall be enjoined, abated, and prevented as hereinafter provided, whether the same be a public or private nuisance.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 95, L. 1917; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 76, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 11124, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 268, L. 1959.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment inserted the words "or tract of land under one ownership" the first two times it appears and substituted the words "place or tract of land under one ownership wherein or upon which gambling or those other illegal acts prohibited by chapter 24 and chapter 30, Title 94 Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, are" for the words "wherein gambling is."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 268, Laws 1959 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 268, Laws 1959 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 16, 1959.

Cross-Reference

Punch Boards

Premises wherein punch boards are operated may be abated as a nuisance inasmuch as punch boards constitute a lottery and play at lottery is gambling. Sections 84-5701, 84-5702 (since repealed) and 94-2401 which assume to authorize the use of punch boards as trade stimulators violate § 2, Art. XIX of the Montana Constitution, which prohibits the legislature from authorizing lotteries, and therefore are invalid and do not prevent the abatement of the premises as a nuisance. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140.

94-1004. (11126) Verification of complaint—temporary injunction.

Law Applicable

The procedure for the abatement of a nuisance per se provided by the statute is that set forth by this law and the general procedure for the issuance of an injunction in ordinary civil cases has no application. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

Order Quashing Injunction Appealable

Where temporary injunction enjoining defendant from conducting the business constituting a nuisance as described in the complaint was quashed same day of issuance and an order issued enjoining defendant from operating "any of the games of chance described in the complaint contrary to the laws of the State of Montana," such order was appealable. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Quashing Injunction Prior to Hearing

Where complaint and affidavits showed prima facie that premises constituted a nuisance per se, it was error to quash the temporary injunction issued thereunder when defendant filed affidavit under provisions of section 93-4211, but injunction should have remained in effect until a hearing was had. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Verified Complaint

A complaint filed by a person other than the county attorney, if verified on information and belief pursuant to section 93-3702, is sufficient for the issuance of a temporary injunction. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

This section did not give authority to court to order the return of the property to the owners where sheriff in executing judgment made return of no gambling equipment found notwithstanding that defendants had stipulated that gambling equipment was in their possession. State ex rel. Olsen v. Craven Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1033.

CHAPTER 14—ELECTION FRAUDS AND OFFENSES—CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT

Section 94-1475. Political literature to contain name of officer of organization or person publishing and producing.

94-1476. Violation of preceding section a misdemeanor.

94-1454. (10800) Political criminal libel.

Compiler's Note

This section may be partially superseded by sec. 94-1475.

94-1475. Political literature to contain name of officer of organization or person publishing and producing. It shall be unlawful for any person to publish, print, mimeograph, type or otherwise produce any dodger, bill, handbill, pamphlet or other document which is designed to aid, injure or defeat any candidate or any political party or organization or measure before the people unless it is stated therein the name of the chairman or secretary, or the names of the other officers of the political or other organization publishing, printing, mimeographing, typing or otherwise producing such dodger, bill, handbill, pamphlet or other document or the name of some voter who is responsible therefor with his residence and street address, if any, together with the name of the publisher, printer or the producer thereof with his residence and street address, if any, or his place of business.

Title of Act

CHAPTER 18—FALSE PERSONATION AND CHEATS

Section 94-1805. Obtaining money, property or services by false pretenses.

94-1822. Inducing engagement as an advertising agency for sale of real property by misrepresentation of fact concerning services—penalty.

94-1805. (11410) Obtaining money, property or services by false pretenses. Every person who knowingly and designedly, by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses, defrauds any other person of money or property, including evidence of indebtedness, or who knowingly and designedly obtains the service of another by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses, or who causes or procures others to report falsely of his wealth or mercantile character, and by thus imposing upon any person obtains credit, and thereby fraudulently receives services or gets into possession of money or property, is punishable in the same manner and to the same extent as for larceny of the money or the value of the property or services so obtained.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment inserted the words "or who knowingly and designedly obtains the service of another by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses"; inserted the words "receives services or" and substituted the words "the value of the property or services" for the word "property."

Application

A defendant charged under section 94-1806 with obtaining property by means of a confidence game cannot be convicted on evidence which shows that the defendant obtained such property "by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses" under this section because such crimes are separate and distinct offenses. State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 201. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Evidence of an Offense Not Charged in the Information

When a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees, by presenting a claim under the name of another to the county for work which was within his duties as county surveyor it was prejudicial error for the court to admit evidence of another claim submitted by the county surveyor to the county which offense was not charged in the information (Justices Bottomly and Angstman dissenting). State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

Information

Where a statute uses general or generic words in defining the offense the information or indictment bottomed upon that statute must specify the particular facts which constitute the offense. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 232. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

An information may be drawn consistent with this section which is not vulnerable to the objection that it is bad for duplicity for charging an offense under section 94-3908 (presenting fraudulent claim to a county). State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 234. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Information which avers only that the defendant made a "false" or "fraudulent" representation is not sufficient. It must expressly allege the facts which made the stated pretense false. State v. Hale, 129 M 429, 291 P 2d 229, 232. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

To characterize a representation as "false" or "fraudulent" does not suffice to state the offense. The particulars in which the representations relied upon are false must appear from facts directly and positively set out. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 231. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Operation and Effect

When a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees by presenting a claim under the name of another to the county for work which was within his duties as county surveyor, the public policy of this state under section 94-5516 is that, as a matter of defense, the county officer is entitled to offer evidence of his good faith or honest mistake and the value received by the county. State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

94-1806. (11411) Confidence games.

Application

Where evidence disclosed that all the defendant did, to induce the complaining witness to give him the ring, was, after she had broached the subject of oil wells, to say, in effect that he had an oil well in Louisiana from which he received $800 a month income, and that he would cut her in for $200 of that income. The jury could assume such statements were false, since, according to the complaining witness, neither the first $200 due July 15th, nor any other was ever paid to her. Defendant should have been prosecuted under section 94-1805 "obtaining money or property by false pretenses," not under this section "confidence games." State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Confidence or Bunco Game

It is a crime to obtain or attempt to obtain money by the use of a confidence game. State v. Hale, — M —, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

Construction of Statute

The element of confidence must be present in order to maintain an action under this section. State v. Hale, — M —, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

The confidence games described in this section are those whereby an elaborate scheme is developed to play upon the credulity or sympathy or some other trait of the victim. State v. Hale, — M —, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

Operation and Effect

A defendant charged under this section with obtaining property by means of a confidence or bunco game cannot be convicted on evidence which shows that defendant obtained such property "by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses" under section 94-1805, because such crimes are separate and distinct offenses. State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 201. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Separate and Distinct Crime

This statute covers a separate and distinct crime from that covered by section 94-2406. State v. Hale, — M —, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

94-1822. Inducing engagement as an advertising agency for sale of real property by misrepresentation of fact concerning services—penalty. Any person engaged or purporting to be engaged as an advertising agency for real property who accepts or solicits money or other considerations for himself or for any other person, in connection with the execution by an owner of real property of any contract whereby such owner authorizes such person to serve as an advertising agency for the sale of such property, and who for the purpose of inducing the owner of such property to enter into such a contract makes or procures the making of any oral or written representation of fact with respect to the nature or extent of the services to be rendered for or on behalf of such owner by any such person under such contract, with reasonable ground for belief that such representation is not true, or who refrains from disclosing to such owner, any matter of fact pertinent to the nature or extent of the services to be rendered for or on behalf of such owner by any such person under such contract is guilty of a felony and shall be imprisoned for not less than one (1) year nor more than five (5) years.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 125, L. 1959.

Title of Act

An act declaring that the acceptance or solicitation of money or other considerations in connection with any contract for the advertising of real property by misrepresentation or by failing to disclose facts pertinent to such contract is a felony and prescribing a penalty; containing a repealing clause.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 125, Laws 1959 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 20—FORGERY AND COUNTERFEITING

94-2001. (11355) Forgery of wills, conveyances, etc.*Cross-Reference

State tax stamps, counterfeiting, sec. 94-35-260.

Act Committed by Indian on Indian Reservation

State court was without jurisdiction to try an Indian for forgery of a check where the Indian attempted to cash the check on a store located within the boundaries of an Indian Reservation. The defendant is still a ward of the federal government and is still under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government for all acts and crimes defined and made punishable by the laws of Congress, when committed within the exterior boundaries of an Indian reservation. State ex rel. Bokas v. District Court, 128 M 37, 270 P 2d 396.

Non-negotiable Instruments

The fact that a warrant is non-negotiable does not affect the question as to whether one who passes it when containing a known forged indorsement is guilty of forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Passing of Auditor's Warrant

The statute when speaking of indorsements while not specifically mentioning auditors' warrants does cover "orders."

The indorsement of an auditor's warrant amounts to the indorsement of an order within the meaning of the statute. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Testimony of Person Forging Indorsement as Corroboration

The testimony of the person who forged the indorsement on a warrant and who was not implicated in the matter of passing or uttering the instrument is corroborating evidence to the testimony of an accomplice of the defendant charged with uttering the forged instrument, since the person who forged the indorsement is not an accomplice to the defendant who uttered the instrument as the making of the instrument and the uttering of it are two separate crimes although they both constitute forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1014. (See, however, the dissenting opinions in 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1016, 1018.)

Unnecessary for Instrument to Create Civil Liability

It is not necessary that the forged instrument should create civil liability before it can be held to be forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

XIX of the Montana Constitution, which prohibits the legislature from authorizing lotteries. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140, 141, 142.

Construction of Amendment

The 1937 amendment to this section which added the licensing provisions did not affect section 94-2404. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 996.

Slot Machines

Slot machines are not included among the enumerated "hickey" games nor among the "trade stimulators" from which the ban was lifted by the 1937 amendment known as the "Hickey Law." State v. Israel, 124 M 152, 220 P 2d 1003, 1010; State ex rel. Olsen v. Crown Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1032.

Testimony before Grand Jury

The words "grand jury" should not be read into this section which gives immunity from prosecution to persons testifying before a "court or magistrate." State v. Saginaw, 124 M 225, 220 P 2d 1021, 1023.

94-2429. Slot machines—possession unlawful. From and after the passage and approval of this act, it shall be a misdemeanor and punishable, as hereinafter provided, for any person to use, possess, operate, keep or maintain for use or operation or otherwise, anywhere within the state of Montana, any slot machine of any sort or kind whatsoever.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

Title of Act

An act prohibiting the licensing, use, operation, keeping or maintenance of slot machines within the state of Montana; defining certain terms used in this act; providing penalties for the violation of this act and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith; providing for a referendum on this act; and providing for local option elections in counties on the question of the licensing and operation of slot machines and specifying the procedure for holding said election.

Gaming—79(1).

38 C.J.S. Gaming § 99.

94-2430. Slot machine defined. A slot machine is hereby defined as a machine operated by inserting a coin, token, chip or trade check therein by the player and from the play of which he obtains, or may obtain, money, checks, chips or tokens redeemable in money. Merchandise vending machines where the element of chance does not enter into their operation are not within the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

94-2431. Person or persons defined. In addition to their ordinary meaning, the word "person" or "persons," as used in this act, shall include both natural and artificial persons and all partnerships, corporations, associations, clubs, fraternal orders and societies, including religious, fraternal and charitable organizations.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

94-2432. Penalty for possession or permitting use of slot machine. Any person, partnership, club, society, fraternal order, corporation, co-operative association or any other person, individual or organization who violates any of the provisions of this act, or who permits the use of any slot machine, as herein defined, on any place or premises owned, occupied or controlled by him or it, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00), nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty (30) days nor more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 197, L. 1949.

Repealing Clause—Effective Date

Section 5 of Ch. 197, L. 1949 read, "All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith, particularly all laws of this state and all ordinances of cities and towns relating to the issuance of licenses for the operation of slot machines, are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect and be in force and effect on and after the 31st day of December, 1950, as to sections 1 to 6, inclusive, provided a majority of the votes cast on this issue are against the operation of slot machines, and if a majority of the votes so cast are for the operation of slot machines, the act shall be in effect on said date as to sections 8 to 15, inclusive." At the general election in November, 1950, the majority of votes was against the operation of slot machines. Sections 7 to 16 of Ch. 197, L. 1949 are therefore omitted.

Separability of Provisions

Section 6 of Ch. 197, L. 1949 read, "If any part of this act shall be declared by any court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity of the remaining parts of this act."

Malice may be express or implied and on proof of homicide by the defendant, malice is presumed, but the presumption does not exist in the presence of evidence tending

Where the evidence disclosed that the defendant hired two men to set fire and burn his service station, and during the course of the arson the two men were burned and subsequently died, the defendant was guilty of first degree murder under the felony murder rule since any death directly attributable to a plot to commit arson makes all the conspirators in the arson plot equally guilty of first degree murder. *State v. 94-2507. (10959) Manslaughter—voluntary and involuntary.*Subd. 2*Acts of Omission

Omission to perform an act required by law can be the basis for manslaughter. Hence, where evidence disclosed that a child, 5 months old, died due to starvation, and that his weight at death was only 5 pounds 14 ounces which was but ten ounces over his birth weight, and that the father and mother had the means with which to care for the child, the evidence would be sufficient to support the conviction of the parents for manslaughter. State v. Bischoff, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969.

Criminal Negligence

In every crime there must be a joint operation of act and intent or of act and criminal negligence; hence criminal negligence is an essential element of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

Insofar as the offense of involuntary manslaughter is concerned, the proof of culpability is supplied by evidence of criminal negligence. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

It is wholly unnecessary in involuntary manslaughter cases to superimpose upon the requirement of the element of criminal negligence the further requirement that a determination must be made as to whether the act resulting in death might ordinarily be classified as malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, for, if the act is done in a manner which is criminally negligent, it thereby becomes malum in se and thereby includes the element of mens rea. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

Irrespective of the character of the unlawful act, whether malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, the criminality of the act resulting in death is established if that act was done negligently in such a manner as to evince a disregard for human life or an indifference to consequences. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617.

Neither ordinary negligence nor the violation of traffic regulations unaccompanied by criminal negligence will suffice to establish the essential element of mens rea. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 619.

Instructions

Where judge instructed the jury in the language of the statute thereby giving the jury the definitions of both voluntary and involuntary manslaughter, defendant could not complain on ground there was no evidence of voluntary manslaughter in the case where the jury found him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Where defendant was charged with second degree murder but the court withdrew the murder charge from the jury and presented the question of the guilt or innocence of the defendant for the crime of manslaughter, an instruction charging the jury that the state must prove the "intent" alleged in the information could properly have been modified to apply to the crime of manslaughter, however, conviction will not be set aside where it appears that no prejudice resulted. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 291.

Where evidence showed that defendant was drunk and that he drove his automobile at a high rate of speed into the rear of another automobile going the same direction, causing it to catch fire and killing the occupants, the contention of defendant that he could not remember the events which transpired at that time did not establish an accident and instruction on responsibility for deaths caused by accident was not necessary. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 796.

In prosecution for involuntary manslaughter the issue is one of criminal negligence rather than intent and giving of instruction that "intent is not an element of involuntary manslaughter" was not erroneous. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 797.

Since the word "feloniously" is not necessary in the information it was not necessary that the word "feloniously" be defined by the court's instructions and court's erroneous definition could not have been prejudicial particularly where other instructions clearly advised the jury of the elements of the crime. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 797.

Where the court instructed the jury that in order to find the defendant guilty it must find that the defendant committed an unlawful act, not amounting to a felony, and that the unlawful act was the proximate cause of the injury and death; and then in a later instruction defined criminal negligence as such that amounts to a wanton, flagrant, or reckless disregard of consequences or wilful indifference of the safety or rights of others, the instructions taken as a whole are correct. For while the former may, standing alone, be inaccurate or even erroneous, yet as qualified and explained by other portions of the charge, in pari materia, it fully and fairly submits the case to the jury. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 480.

Intent

A wilful or evil intent is not a requirement of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Pankow, — M —, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

Operation and Effect

This section is a recognition of the frailty of human nature, and has as its purpose to reduce a homicide committed under the circumstances therein contemplated to the grade of manslaughter. State v. Messerly, 126 M 62, 244 P 2d 1054, 1056.

Photographs in Evidence

In a prosecution of defendant for failure to provide food to an infant child which resulted in the child's death, it was error to admit into evidence photographs of the body of the child which showed ghastly and gruesome looking sores or scars alleged to have been caused by dermatitis. The charge was for failure to provide food and not for the failure to provide medical care and such photographs in no way went to the proof of starvation. Their purpose could only arouse the human feelings of the jury without aiding them in further understanding the crime charged. State v. Bischert, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969, 973.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where defendant had invited another person to stay or "bunk" with him for the night, and thereafter, while in his tavern, shot through the screen and door of his bedroom striking such person who was on the other side of the door, jury was justified in returning a verdict of guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Defendant who deliberately drove his car around curve at a speed which he must have known was dangerous to human lives, those of himself and his passengers was properly convicted of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Pankow, — M —, 333 P 2d 1017, 1019.

Sufficiency of Information

Information for manslaughter against driver of death car was sufficient where it was in the form prescribed by section 94-6404, complied with the requirements of sections 94-6403, 94-6405, and met the tests provided by section 94-6412. State v. Haley, 132 M 366, 318 P 2d 1084, 1085.

Verdict of Manslaughter on Charge of Murder

Where defendant was charged with murder in the second degree it was permissible for the jury to find him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 288.

CHAPTER 27—LARCENY AND FALSIFICATION OF PUBLIC RECORDS AND JURY LISTS

Section 94-2702. Uttering fraudulent checks or drafts—evidence.

94-2701. (11368) Larceny defined.*Civil Liability

In action based upon indemnity bond issued by defendant to indemnify plaintiff against loss from fraud or dishonesty of its station agent, allegation in complaint that the agent while in possession of money and property belonging to plaintiff, had wrongfully and dishonestly appropriated plaintiff's products and cash money, sufficiently stated a cause of action on which to predicate civil liability. Waite v. Standard Accident Ins. Co., 132 M 220, 315 P 2d 989, 992.

Instructions

Conviction under this section requires proof of specific intent and an instruction that "when an unlawful act is shown to have been deliberately committed for the purpose of injuring another, it is presumed to have been committed with a malicious and guilty intent. The law also presumes that a person intends the ordinary consequences of any voluntary act committed by him" was erroneous. State v. Garney, 122 M 491, 207 P 2d 506.

Larceny by Indians on Indian Territory

A state district court was without jurisdiction to convict an Indian of larceny which occurred on Indian territory since under Acts of Congress (U. S. C. Tit. 18, §§ 1153, 3242) such an offense is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. State v. Pepion, 125 M 13, 230 P 2d 961.

94-2702. (11369) Uttering fraudulent checks or drafts—evidence.

Any person who for himself or as the agent or representative of another or as an officer of a corporation, wilfully, with intent to defraud shall make or draw or utter or deliver, or cause to be made, drawn, uttered or delivered, any check, draft or order for the payment of money upon any bank or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, knowing at the time of such making, drawing, uttering or delivery that the maker or drawer has no funds or insufficient funds in or credit with such bank or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft, or order in full upon its presentation, although no express representation is made with the reference thereto, shall upon conviction be punished as follows: If there are no funds in or credit with such bank or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of any part of such check, draft or order, upon presentation, then in that case the person convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars

($5,000.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment; if such check, draft or order be for a sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or less, and there are some but not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank, or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full, then in that case the person so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six (6) months, or by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment; if such check, draft or order be for a sum greater than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and there are some but not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank, or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, then in that case the person so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment. As against the maker or drawer thereof, the making, drawing, uttering or delivering of such check, draft or order as aforesaid shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of no funds or insufficient funds, as the case may be, in or credit with such bank, or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, provided such maker or drawer shall not have paid the drawee thereof the amount due thereon, within five (5) days after receiving notice that such check, draft, or order has not been paid by the drawee. The word "credit" as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank, depository, person, firm or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 135, Laws 1957, repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Operation and Effect

Held, that where a person was convicted under this section, the proper procedure for review of errors was by appeal under the statutes and not by seeking at a later date the common-law writ of coram nobis. Were it shown that the defendant's case was exigent, as for example, that although innocent of any crime he was nevertheless arbitrarily sentenced and wrongfully imprisoned under that sentence, and if then the existing remedies by appeal as prescribed by our statutes and as well the usual writs to which this court customarily turns to prevent an injustice were found in truth inadequate, the court would not hesitate to design a further remedial writ so that the court could meet the emergency and attain the ends of justice, otherwise denied. State v. Zumwalt, 129 M 529, 291 P 2d 257, 260. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 529, 291 P 2d 257, 262 based on the opinion that the defendant was innocent of the crime charged and arbitrarily sentenced.)

94-2704. (11371) Grand larceny defined.

Aiding and Abetting

While the statute defines larceny as the taking of property from the person of another yet it is sufficient to show defendant's guilt that he aided or abetted in the commission of the crime under section 94-6423 because all persons concerned in the commission of a crime are principals under section 94-204. State v. Maciel, 130 M 569, 305 P 2d 335, 336.

Effect of Ownership Not Proven as Alleged

Where the information alleges the ownership of the property, such allegation must be proven; proof of a brand only is not sufficient proof of the ownership of an animal bearing such brand. State v. Elmore, 126 M 232, 247 P 2d 488, 492.

Operation and Effect

Conviction for larceny cannot be sustained where the evidence connecting the defendant with the hide and asportation of a live steer amounts to no more than suspicion and conjecture. State v. Elmore, 126 M 232, 247 P 2d 488, 492.

It is grand larceny to take money from the person of another with a felonious intent no matter what the amount is that is taken. State v. Peschon, 131 M 330, 310 P 2d 591, 595.

94-2721. (11388) Receiver of stolen property.

Essential Elements of Crime

Proof that the defendant knew the property was stolen is an essential element of the crime. The evidence is not sufficient where the state relies on a bill of sale which describes "3 cow hides red no brand" and in fact the hides had brands and cattle was missing from the brand owners, while the defendant proves that when he received the hides they were bundled up and so stiffly frozen that they could not be examined to see if they had brands. State v. Gilbert, 126 M 171, 246 P 2d 814, 815.

Operation and Effect

Conviction for receiving stolen goods cannot be sustained where the information charged that the defendant received a deepfreeze knowing the same to have been stolen from the true owner, Missoula County, while the facts were that the defendant was the county surveyor and he ordered a deepfreeze from a company and charged it to the county. Since the acts of the surveyor were unlawful, the county never purchased the freezer and never had it in its possession and at no time had title to the deepfreeze; therefore, Missoula County was never the owner from whom it was stolen as charged in the information. State v. Bourdeau, 126 M 266, 246 P 2d 1037, 1038.

94-3001. (11149) Lottery defined.

Numbers Games

A numbers game, whether called Chinese lottery, "The Crown Game," "The Crown punchboard game" or any other game is a lottery. State ex rel. Olsen v. Crown Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1032.

Punch Boards

Punch boards constitute a lottery. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140, 141.

In an action for violation of this section it was no defense that the defendant had offered to pay for the operation of such punch boards in accordance with section 84-5703 et seq. which purports to license trade stimulators such as punch boards since it is not competent for the legislature to authorize lotteries in view of Const. Art. 19, sec. 2 and the case of State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff. State v. Tursich, 127 M 504, 267 P 2d 641, 642.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 143, L. 1949.

Compiler's Note

The section appearing in the parent volume (Sec. 1, Ch. 122, Laws 1927 as amended Sec. 1, Ch. 124, Laws 1941 and appearing in Revised Codes 1935 as Sec. 11048.1) was held to have been impliedly repealed by Ch. 105, Laws 1933 in *State v. Title of Act

An act preventing the selling or giving away of intoxicating liquor to persons under twenty-one (21) years of age; providing penalties therefor; and repealing Section 11048.1 as amended by Chapter

Alcoholic Content of Beer

Operation and Effect

Misrepresentation of age by a minor is not a defense and a seller of intoxicating beverages must know the age of the purchaser and whatever false representations are made or precautions taken are immaterial where, in fact, the purchaser is under the age of twenty-one. State v. Paskvan, 131 M 316, 309 P 1019, 1021.

The purchaser under the age of twenty-one is not an accomplice to the seller. The purchaser has committed a crime too,

Where prosecution for perjury is founded upon a false affidavit which was notarized in Lake County and delivered to Lewis and Clark County, apparently by mail, by virtue of section 94-3809, the crime was completed when the affidavit left the defendant with the requisite intent. If upon having the affidavit notarized the defendant then gave it to some other person to mail or mailed it himself, then the crime was committed and the proper county for venue was Lake County and not Lewis and Clark County. State v. Rother, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393. (Dissenting opinions, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393, at 397 and 409.)

Crime—When Complete

Under this section the crime of perjury is complete when the instrument is delivered by the accused to "any other person, with the intent that it be uttered or published as true." State v. Rother, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393, 395. (Dissenting opinions, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393 at 397, 409.)

If upon having the affidavit notarized the defendant then gave it to some other person to mail or mailed it himself, then the crime was committed and the proper county for venue was Lake County and not Lewis and Clark County. State v. Rother, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393. (Dissenting opinions, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393 at 397, 409.)

94-3908. (10828) Presenting fraudulent bills or claims for allowance, etc.

Operation and Effect

An information may be drawn consistent with section 94-1805 (obtaining money under false pretenses) which is not vulnerable to the objection that it is bad for duplicity for charging an offense under this section. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 234. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

94-3920. (10925) Importing persons to discharge duties, etc.

Operation and Effect

This section did not change the common-law rule respecting a sheriff's liability in damages. Annala v. McLeod, 122 M 498, 206 P 2d 811, 815.

CHAPTER 41—RAPE AND OTHER SEXUAL CRIMES

Section 94-4106. Lewd and lascivious acts upon children.

94-4120. Child under age of sixteen cannot be accomplice.

94-4101. (11000) Rape defined.

Partial Repeal

Since this section is repealed by implication by Laws of 1943, Ch. 227 (10-601 et seq.), and the amendments thereof, in sofar as it is in conflict with the substance and intent thereof, district criminal court was prohibited from trying child under the age of 16 years charged with rape. He was solely under the exclusive jurisdiction of the juvenile court. State ex rel. Dahl v. District Court, — M —, 333 P 2d 495, 497, 499.

Statutory Rape

Any man who accomplishes an act of sexual intercourse with a female under the age of 18 years, when such female is not his wife, is guilty of the crime of statutory rape. The corpus delicti is sufficiently proved by the testimony of the prosecutrix that she had sexual intercourse with the accused at the time and place set forth in the information. State v. Reid, 127 M 552, 267 P 2d 986, 991.

Partial Repeal

Laws 1943, Ch. 227 (10-601 et seq.), and the amendments thereof have repealed by implication this section and section 94-4101, insofar as they conflict with the substance and intent thereof and district criminal court was prohibited from trying child under the age of 16 years charged with rape. He was solely under the exclusive jurisdiction of the juvenile court. State ex rel. Dahl v. District Court, — M —, 333 P 2d 495, 497, 499.

94-4106. (11005) Lewd and lascivious acts upon children. Any person over the age of eighteen (18) years, who shall wilfully and lewdly commit any lewd and lascivious act, other than the acts constituting other crimes provided in sections 94-4101 to 94-4108, upon or with the body or any part or member thereof, of a child under the age of sixteen (16) years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, or gratifying the lust or passions or sexual desires of such person, or of such child, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state prison not exceeding twenty-five (25) years.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 59, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 11005, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 70, L. 1935; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 57, L. 1959.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment raised the penalty in this section from five years to twenty-five years.

Evidence of Similar Acts

Where alleged lewd and lascivious acts upon the person of a minor child below the age of 16 years were committed on or about March 19, 1955, it was improper to permit state to show similar acts to those charged as having been committed on August 4, 1951, and in June 1951 in the State of California because of the remoteness in time. State v. Nicks, — M —, 332 P 2d 904, 905.

94-4109. (11008) Importation and exportation of females, etc.

Constitutionality

This section (94-4109) is void since Congress has legislated upon this matter in the Mann Act (U. S. C. Tit. 18, §§ 2421-2424). This section then, being in contravention of a valid law of the United States, is wholly void. Ex Parte Anderson, 125 M 331, 238 P 2d 910, 911, 912.

94-4118. (11030) Crime against nature.

Where Accomplice's Testimony Insufficiently Corroborated

Where the corroborating evidence to the testimony of the accomplice showed that accomplice slept with the defendant and stayed overnight at defendant's house on several occasions, such evidence was insufficient to sustain the conviction as it does nothing more than show opportunity on the part of defendant to have committed the crime. State v. Gangner, 130 M 533, 305 P 2d 338.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

Title of Act

An act providing for the registration of certain societies, corporations, associations, political parties, assemblies, and other bodies and organizations; defining "subversive organizations," and requiring such organizations to file reports, documents and information with the secretary of state, and providing for the making of rules and regulations by the secretary of state; prohibiting the sending and delivery to non-members of letters, leaflets, and other written or printed matter, unless the same bears the name of such organization and the names and addresses of its officers; and providing penalties for violations of this act.

94-4412. Purpose of act. This act is adopted in the exercise of the police power of this state for the protection of the public peace and safety by requiring the registration of subversive organizations which are conceived and exist for the purpose of undermining and eventually destroying the democratic form of government in this state and in the United States.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4413. Subversive organization defined. As used in this title, "subversive organization" means every corporation, association, society, camp, group, political party, assembly, and everybody or organization composed of two [2] or more persons or members, which comes within all or any of the following descriptions:

(a) Which directly or indirectly advocates, advises, teaches, or practices, the duty, necessity, or propriety of controlling, conducting, seizing, or overthrowing the government of the United States, of this state, or of any political subdivision thereof by force or violence;

(b) Which is subject to foreign control as defined in section 4 [94-4414] hereof.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4414. Organization subject to foreign control defined. An organization is "subject to foreign control" if it comes within either of the following descriptions:

(a) It solicits or accepts financial contributions, loans, or support of any kind directly or indirectly from, or is affiliated directly or indirectly with, a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, an agent, agency, or instrumentality of a foreign government or political subdivision thereof, a political party in a foreign country, or an international political organization;

(b) Its policies, or any of them, are determined by or at the suggestion of, or in collaboration with, a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, an agent, agency, or instrumentality of a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, a political party in a foreign country, or an international political organization.

94-4415. Exceptions from definition of subversive organization. "Subversive organization" does not include any labor union or religious, fraternal, or patriotic organizations, society, or association whose objectives and aims do not contemplate the overthrow of the government of the United States, of this state or of any political subdivision thereof by force or violence.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4416. Organization pursuant to law—no exemption. This act imposes additional requirements upon corporations, associations, or organizations which are subversive organizations. Neither the fact that such a corporation, association, or organization was organized pursuant to law nor that its affairs and activities are in any respect regulated by law exempts it from complying with this title.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4720. (11600) Civil rights of convict suspended. A sentence of imprisonment in the state prison for any term less than life suspends all the civil rights of the person so sentenced, and forfeits all public offices and private trusts, authority, or power, during such imprisonment. The governor has power to restore to citizenship any person convicted of any offense committed against the laws of the state, upon cause being shown, either after the expiration of sentence, or after pardon. The governor may request an investigation by the board of pardons to determine if such restoration to citizenship be advisable.

94-4723. (11603) Convict competent witness.*Proper Method to Impeach

Where a defendant upon cross-examination admits his prior convictions of felonies it is error for the court to then allow the state to introduce into evidence the judgment record of prior convictions, for it serves no useful purpose since the credibility has already been impeached and it may weigh too heavily against the defendant. State v. Coloff, 125 M 31, 231 P 2d 343, 344.

In a criminal case the state is the opposite party to the defendant, and section 93-1901-9, relating to calling the opposite party, is not applicable to a criminal proceeding. State v. Moorman, 133 M 148, 321 P 2d 236, 238.

Trial court was in error for refusing to grant the defendant a change of venue where evidence disclosed that local newspaper had fanned the feeling of the community against the defendant, that the local people believed the defendant to be guilty, and that the county officials themselves felt that the feeling against the defendant was so high that they moved him for safety to the state prison. State v. Dryman, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 800. (Dissenting opinion, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 801.)

Right to Appear and Defend by Counsel

By section 94-6512 a defendant is guaranteed counsel by appointment of the court, if he cannot himself employ an attorney. It is equally the duty of the court to make the appointment of counsel effective, i. e. to give court-appointed counsel a reasonable time for the preparation of his case after he has been appointed. State v. Blakeslee, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107.)

Where counsel was appointed by the court, after withdrawal of defendant's original counsel, but trial was commenced three days after such appointment, such appointment was made purposeless as it is the duty of the court to make the appointment effective by giving a reasonable time for the preparation of the case. State v. Blakeslee, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107.)

Where the motion for leave to file the information disclosed that decedent was shot at close range with a high powered rifle and killed on defendant's farm, that the coroner's jury verdict was that the killing was intentional, that evidence of the commission of the crime and guilt of the defendant was introduced at a habeas corpus hearing, that the county attorney had made a complete investigation, and that as a result he believed the defendant was guilty, the motion was sufficient to grant leave to file information. State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 581.

94-5314. Liability of officers for neglect of duties, etc.*Liability of Sheriff

There was no provision imposing liability for damages upon the sheriff prior to the enactment of this law. Annala v. McLeod, 122 M 498, 206 P 2d 811, 815.

CHAPTER 55—REMOVAL OF OFFICERS OTHERWISE THAN BY IMPEACHMENT

94-5501. (11687) Officers subject to removal.*Operation and Effect

These sections do not restrain or limit the governor's power of removal of the third member on the unemployment compensation commission. State ex rel. Bonner v. District Court, 122 M 464, 206 P 2d 166, 171.

94-5516. (11702) Removal of public officers by summary proceedings.*Disqualification of Judge

Proceedings under this section for the removal of a public officer are governed by the rules of practice in civil cases and therefore subd. 4 of section 93-901 relating to disqualification of judges applies. This rule is inapplicable however to prosecutions under the section for the charging and collecting of illegal salaries or fees. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, 455.

Operation and Effect

Under this section of the Code it is the public policy of the state, in cases where a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees, that such officer be entitled, as a matter of defense, to offer evidence of his good faith or honest mistake and the value received by the county. State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

Time for Appearance of Party

That portion of this section providing that the court must cite a party to appear "at a time not more than ten nor less than five days from the time the accusation was presented" is directory rather than mandatory. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452, 454.

In computing time under the provision of this section which provides that the court must cite the party to appear "not more than ten nor less than five days" both the first and last days should be excluded. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court, 122 M 1, 196 P 2d 452.

94-6031. Minimum requirements. For the purpose of warning and protecting the traveling public, the minimum requirements to be met by such officers establishing temporary roadblocks, if time and circumstances allow, are:

1. The temporary roadblock must be established at a point on the highway clearly visible at a distance of not less than one hundred (100) yards, in either direction.

2. At the point of the temporary roadblock, a sign shall be placed on the center line of the highway displaying the word "stop" in letters of sufficient size and luminosity to be readable at a distance of not less than fifty (50) yards, in both directions, either in daytime or darkness.

3. At the same point of the temporary roadblock, at least one red light, which shall be a flashing or intermittent beam of light, must be placed at the side of the roadway clearly visible to the oncoming traffic, at a distance of not less than one hundred (100) yards.

4. At a distance of not less than two hundred (200) yards from the point of the temporary roadblock, warning signs must be placed at the side of the highway, containing any wording of sufficient size and luminosity, to warn the oncoming traffic that a "police stop" lies ahead. A burning beam light, flare, or a lantern must be placed near such signs for the purpose of attracting the attention of approaching drivers during hours of darkness. A red flag may be used for the same purpose during daylight hours.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 60, L. 1959.

94-6032. Existing law preserved. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to limit, or encroach upon the existing authority of Montana law-enforcement officers in the performance of their duties involving traffic control.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 60, L. 1959.

94-6033. Penalty. Any person who shall proceed or travel through a roadblock without subjecting himself to the traffic control so established shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

94-6207. (11804) Information may be amended.

Operation and Effect

Where court allowed state to amend information charging defendant with incest by changing "fornication" to "adultery" there was no substantial change in the charge and only touched a matter of form. Whether the defendant was married or unmarried at the time is not a material ingredient of the offense. In either event the defendant is guilty, if the intercourse charged is proved. State v. Kuntz, 130 M 126, 295 P 2d 707, 710.

Waiver of Objection

Where, after plea of not guilty, county attorney asked permission to amend information and counsel for defendant stated there was no objection, any objection to the amendment of the information to include a prior conviction was waived. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248.

94-6208. (11805) Indorsement on information.

Application

The reason for the statutory requirement that the names of witnesses be indorsed on the information is to safeguard defendant against surprise and unfair advantage. There was no unfair advantage taken of defendant when the county attorney indorsed the name of a witness after impaneling a jury because he did not know of the existence of the witness at the time when the information was filed and gave notice to the defendant's attorney at that time and offered to agree to a reasonable delay in the trial in order that the defendant could examine the witness and secure evidence to meet his testimony. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1015.

CHAPTER 63—THE GRAND JURY—ITS FORMATION—POWERS AND DUTIES—FINDING AND PRESENTING AN INDICTMENT

94-6314. (11819) Retirement of the grand jury—discharge of.

"Final Adjournment" When Court Always Open

Although district court is always open and each term continues until succeeding term, the terms as fixed by the court limit the existence of the grand jury, the beginning of each term constituting a "final adjournment" of the preceding term within the meaning of this section. State ex rel.

Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052.

94-6324. (11829) When and from whom they may ask advice, etc.

Special Prosecutor—Appearance Before Grand Jury

County attorney cannot delegate to unofficial counsel his right to advise the grand jury, assist them in their investigations and examine witnesses, and an order of the district judges appointing such special prosecutor when the county attorney was present and able to act could not give such authority. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

The appearance of "special prosecutor" before the grand jury was ground for setting aside the indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035.

The press of business in the office of district attorney does not justify the appointment of a "special prosecutor" to appear before the grand jury. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

Failure to Endorse Names—Effect

Where timely motion is made before trial the statute requires the indictment to be set aside when names of witnesses are not endorsed on indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

If there were no witnesses it was the duty of the prosecution, on objection of defendant, to so state, either by a verified pleading or under oath. State ex rel. Porter

v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Fictitious Names

If there were witnesses identified as John Doe and Richard Roe it is indefensible for the prosecution to conceal their identity from accused merely because the prosecutor believes that a disclosure of their true names is not vital or necessary to prepare a defense. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Operation and Effect

The statute requires the endorsement of names of all witnesses, not merely the names of witnesses the state believes to be important. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1041.

CHAPTER 66—SETTING ASIDE THE INDICTMENT OR INFORMATION

94-6601. (11891) Indictment, when set aside on motion.

Failure To Endorse Names on Indictment

Where timely motion is made before trial the statute requires the indictment to be set aside when names of witnesses are not endorsed on indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Indictment must be set aside where witnesses names on indictment were Richard Roe and John Doe and witnesses real names were not supplied to defendant and if there were no witnesses that fact should be shown by the prosecution either by a verified pleading or under oath. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043. (In this case it was said that if other grounds had not required setting aside of indictment, court would have been disposed to return case to trial court to permit defendant to interrogate prosecutor and grand jury foreman as to whether there were witnesses whose names were not endorsed on indictment.)

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the Supreme Court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Grounds Exclusive

The grounds for setting aside an indictment of a grand jury as set forth in this section are exclusive. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1037.

Presence of Unauthorized Person

Where there has been a violation of subd. 3 of this section the accused need not show prejudice, but the very appearance of an unauthorized person before the grand jury is sufficient to set aside the indictments. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

Presence of Unauthorized Person—Special Prosecutor Before Grand Jury

Presence While Indictment under Consideration

A case is "under consideration" before the grand jury within the meaning of subsection 3 of this section when witnesses are being examined. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1044.

Sufficiency of Information

An information which charges defendant with an infamous act against nature and then in describing the manner in which the crime was committed it alleged an assault, it is not open to the charge that it is duplicitous. Allegations with respect to the assault are merely descriptive of the means of accomplishing the infamous crime against nature which never could be perpetrated against an unwilling participant without an assault.

94-6803. (11909) Plea of guilty, how put in and when withdrawn.

Denial of Motion to Withdraw

Denial of motion to withdraw plea of guilty will not be reversed where chief contention was that he was misled by the erroneous advice of counsel as to his guilt under the law, when from the record of the trial court there was evidence which would have justified a finding of guilty, regardless of the correctness of the counsel's interpretation of the law. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561.

Discretion of Court

The granting or refusal of permission to withdraw a plea of guilty and substitute a plea of not guilty rests in the discretion of the trial court and is subject to review only where an abuse of discretion is shown. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 560.

Guilty Plea Under Agreement with Prosecutor

While the supreme court will not encourage the making of bargains with persons charged of crime, where a defendant has changed his plea of not guilty to a plea of guilty on an agreement with the prosecuting attorney as to recommendation for sentences which were carried out, the supreme court, will not, after he obtained the benefits of the agreement, aid him in escaping its obligations, by ordering a withdrawal of the guilty plea. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561.

Motion to Withdraw—Time for Filing

In order to receive favorable consideration an application to withdraw a plea of guilty should be made within a reasonable time. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561.

When Plea of Guilty may be Withdrawn after Judgment

Where the evidence discloses that there was a grave doubt that the defendant had the mental capacity to appreciate and understand what he was doing and the consequences thereof, when without benefit of counsel, he pleaded guilty to the charge of murder, defendant should have been allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty. State v. Dryman, 125 M 500, 241 P 2d 821.

Withdrawal of Plea of Guilty after Judgment

Held, on the facts of the particular case, that where the defendant at the time of entering his plea of guilty thought that he had an understanding as to what his sentence would be; that no direct commitment was made to him by any of the officers but the officers had made statements to others who were in contact with the defendant and upon whose advice he relied, the ends of justice would be best served by permitting the defendant to change his plea. State v. Morgan, 131 M 58, 307 P 2d 244.

Trial court was in error for refusing to grant a change of venue where evidence disclosed that local newspapers had fanned the feeling of the community against the defendant and that county officials themselves felt that feeling against the defendant was so high that they moved him for safety to the state prison. Change of Place of Trial

Where Supreme Court ordered a new trial and that it be had in some county not adjacent to Toole county because of the prejudice of the people in Toole county, trial court erred in directing that the new trial take place in Teton county. Although Teton county is not adjoining Toole county but is separated by some twenty miles, yet the word adjacent has no arbitrary meaning or definition; the term is a relative and not an absolute one, and the exact meaning of which, in any particular case, is determinable principally by the context in which it is used. State ex rel. Dryman v. District Court, 128 M 402, 276 P 2d 969, 970.

An application for a change of place of trial is addressed to the sound discretion of the trial court and a clear abuse of discretion must be shown, or the ruling of the trial court will not be disturbed. State v. Bischert, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969, 971.

94-6913. Disqualification of judge—affidavit—number of changes authorized—calling in of judge to preside. A district judge must not sit or act as such in any criminal action or proceeding when either party makes and files an affidavit, as hereinafter provided, that he has reason to believe, and does believe, he cannot have a fair and impartial hearing or trial before a district judge by reason of the bias and prejudice of such judge. Such affidavit may be made by any party to the criminal action, motion or proceeding, personally, or by his attorney or guardian and shall be filed with the clerk of the district court in which the same may be pending, at least fifteen days prior to the trial of said cause, or any retrial thereof after appeal. Upon the filing of the affidavit, the judge, as to whom said disqualification is averred, shall be without authority to act further in the criminal action, motion or proceeding, but the provisions of this section do not apply to the arrangement of the calendar, the regulation of the order of business, the power of transferring the criminal action or proceeding to some other court, nor to the power of calling in another district judge to sit and act in such criminal action or proceeding, providing that no judge shall so arrange the calendar as to defeat the purposes of this section. Not more than one judge can be disqualified for bias and prejudice, in said criminal action or proceeding, at the instance of the prosecution and not more than one judge at the instance of the defendant or defendants.

If there be more than one judge in any judicial district in which said affidavit is made and filed, another judge residing in the judicial district wherein the affidavit is made and filed must be called in to preside in such criminal action, motion or proceeding; if there be but one judge in the judicial district, then a district judge of another judicial district must be called in to preside in such criminal action, motion or proceeding; when another judge has assumed jurisdiction of a criminal action, motion or proceeding, the clerk of the district court in which the same was pending, shall at once notify the parties or their attorneys of record in the same, either personally or by registered mail, of the name of the judge called in.

If either party in any matter above mentioned shall file the affidavit as herein provided such party may not complain of any reasonable delay as the result thereof.

The provisions of this section shall be inapplicable to any person in any cause involving a direct contempt of court.

Operation and Effect

Where defendant filed a verified, specific and detailed challenge to a jury panel and the county attorney did not deny the sufficiency of the facts alleged and the defendant also filed a timely motion for the issuance of a subpoena to the jury commissioners to appear, the trial court could not presume the jury commissioners had performed their duty in selecting the panel; hence, it was error for the trial court to overrule defendant's motion based on the presumption that the jury commissioners had performed in accordance with the law. State v. Deeds, 130 M 503, 305 P 2d 321, 324.

94-7122. (11962) Causes of challenge, how stated.*Challenges for Cause

Where the state challenged three jurors for cause, and the evidence showed that one of the jurors was nearly deaf, and the other two had formed opinions, the court was correct in excusing the jurors for cause. This section is not a limitation upon the power of the court in granting challenges which are warranted. State v. Gates, 131 M 78, 307 P 2d 248.

Purpose

The purpose of this section was to require the ground of challenge to be stated before the challenger is in a position to predicate error on the court's refusal to sustain a challenge. It was not intended as a limitation upon the power of the court in granting challenges which the facts warrant. State v. Gates, 131 M 78, 307 P 2d 248, 249.

94-7127. (11967) Decision of court to be entered.*Overruling Challenge

Where court relied on answers to last two questions and on the assumption that there was a misunderstanding as to the earlier questions in examining a prospective juror for prejudice, the overruling of the challenge would not be disturbed especially where the defendant had three peremptory challenges left at the time and exercised one to discharge such juror, and fact that defendant regarded other jurors as undesirable on which he might have exercised his challenge gave him no right to have such juror excused for bias where there was no showing that such jurors were disqualified. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 286.

Objection to instruction that it "is not a correct statement of the law; it is not applicable to the facts in this case" does not comply with this section. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Objection to instruction that "it is repetitions and not a correct statement of the law" does not comply with this section. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Where instructions as finally proposed to be given were not objected to by counsel for defendant, the district court by statute was expressly forbidden to grant a new trial and the Supreme Court is forbidden to reverse the cause, even if error existed in such instructions. State v. Donges, 126 M 341, 251 P 2d 254, 255.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon; wherein the defendant was found guilty by a jury, it was held on appeal that in view of the uncertainty in the mind of the state's only eyewitness as compared with witnesses for the defendant, coupled with the effect of this section, the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction for the crime charged. *State v. ### 94-7220. (11988) Conviction on testimony of accomplice.

Cross-Reference

Child under sixteen not an accomplice to commission of infamous crime against nature, sec. 94-4120.

Corroboration

The evidence which corroborates the testimony of an accomplice could be furnished by the defendant. It could be circumstantial. It need not extend to every fact to which the accomplice testified and need not be sufficient to justify a conviction or establish a prima facie case of guilt: it being sufficient if it tends to connect defendants with the commission of the crime. Whether it tends to do so is a question of law, while its weight—its efficacy to fortify the testimony of the accomplice and render his story trustworthy—is a matter for the consideration of the jury. State v. Donges, 126 M 341, 251 P 2d 254, 257.

Instructions

Where the defense requested instructions as to the effect of accomplice's testimony and there was evidence in the record from which the jury might have concluded that a deputy sheriff was an accomplice of the defendant, the court should have instructed the jury that if they believed the deputy sheriff was an accomplice then they must weigh his evidence as provided by section 93-2001-1, subd. 4 and also that such evidence must be corroborated as required by this section. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

Insufficient Corroboration

In a prosecution for an infamous crime against nature, where the only evidence other than the testimony of the accomplice showed that the accomplice had stayed at the defendant's house over night and slept with the defendant, the corroborating evidence was not sufficient to sustain a conviction as it does nothing more than to show opportunity on the part of defendant to have committed the crime. State v. Gangner, 130 M 533, 305 P 2d 338.

Operation and Effect

In a sodomy case, court should have given the requested instructions of the defendant to the effect that if the jury finds the prosecuting witness was an accomplice, then the jury must acquit the defendant, where the only evidence connecting the defendant with the commission of the crime was the testimony of the prosecuting witness. State v. Searle, 125 M 467, 239 P 2d 995, 998.

Person Making Forged Instrument Not Accomplice of Person Passing Forged Instrument

The testimony of the person who forged the indorsement on a warrant and who was not implicated in the matter of passing or uttering the instrument is corroborating evidence to the testimony of an accomplice of the defendant charged with uttering the forged instrument. The person who forged the indorsement is not an accomplice to the defendant who uttered the instrument as the making of the instrument and the uttering of it are two separate crimes although they both constitute forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1014. (See, however, the dissenting opinions in 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1016, 1018.)

Operation and Effect

This section is applicable only in cases in which the trial court deems the evidence, although tending to prove every element constituting the crime charged, insufficient in weight to warrant a conviction. State v. Peschon, 131 M 330, 310 P 2d 591, 595.

The matter of permitting the jury to view the premises rests entirely in the discretion of the trial court which will not be interfered with except in case of manifest abuse. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 292.

94-7821. (12078) Court may suspend sentence, when. In all prosecutions for crimes or misdemeanors, except as hereinafter provided, where the defendant has pleaded or been found guilty, or where the court or magistrate has power to sentence such defendant to any penal or other institution in this state, and it appears that the defendant has never before been imprisoned for crime either in this state or elsewhere (but detention in an institution for juvenile delinquents shall not be considered imprisonment), and where it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the character of the defendant and circumstances of the case are such that he is not likely again to engage in an offensive course of conduct, and where it may appear that the public safety does not demand or require that the defendant shall suffer the penalty imposed by law, said court may suspend the execution of the sentence and place the defendant on probation in the manner hereinafter provided. Nothing in this act contained shall in any manner affect the laws providing the method of dealing with the juvenile delinquents. Any judge, who has suspended a sentence of imprisonment under this section, or his successor, is authorized thereafter, in his discretion, during the period of such suspended sentence to revoke such suspension and order such person committed, or may, in his discretion, order the prisoner placed under the jurisdiction of the state board of pardons as provided by law, or retain such jurisdiction with his court as is authorized by him or his successor. Prior to such revocation of the order of such suspension, the person affected shall be given a hearing before said judge.

94-8019. Western interstate corrections compact—contents. The western interstate corrections compact as contained herein is hereby enacted into law and entered into on behalf of this state with any and all other states legally joining therein in a form substantially as follows:

1. Purpose and policy. The party states, desiring by common action to improve their institutional facilities and provide programs of sufficiently high quality for the confinement, treatment and rehabilitation of various types of offenders, declare that it is the policy of each of the party states to provide such facilities and programs on a basis of cooperation with one another, thereby serving the best interests of such offenders and of society. The purpose of this compact is to provide for the development and execution of such programs of cooperation for the confinement, treatment and rehabilitation of offenders.

2. Definitions. As used in this compact, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "State" means a state of the United States, the Territory of Hawaii, or, subject to the limitation contained in article VII, Guam.

(b) "Sending state" means a state party to this compact in which conviction was had.

(c) "Receiving state" means a state party to this compact to which an inmate is sent for confinement other than a state in which conviction was had.

(d) "Inmate" means a male or female offender who is under sentence to or confined in a prison or other correctional institution.

(e) "Institution" means any prison, reformatory or other correctional facility (including but not limited to a facility for the mentally ill or mentally defective) in which inmates may lawfully be confined.

3. Contracts. (a) Each party state may make one or more contracts with any one or more of the other party states for the confinement of inmates on behalf of a sending state in institutions situated within receiving states. Any such contract shall provide for:

1. Its duration.

2. Payments to be made to the receiving state by the sending state for inmate maintenance, extraordinary medical and dental expenses, and any participation in or receipt by inmates of rehabilitative or correctional services, facilities, programs or treatment not reasonably included as part of normal maintenance.

3. Participation in programs of inmate employment, if any; the disposition or crediting of any payments received by inmates on account thereof; and the crediting of proceeds from or disposal of any products resulting therefrom.

4. Delivery and retaking of inmates.

5. Such other matters as may be necessary and appropriate to fix the obligations, responsibilities and rights of the sending and receiving states.

(b) Prior to the construction or completion of construction of any institution or addition thereto by a party state, any other party state or states may contract therewith for the enlargement of the planned capacity of the institution or addition thereto, or for the inclusion therein of particular equipment or structures, and for the reservation of a specific percentum of the capacity of the institution to be kept available for use by inmates of the sending state or states so contracting. Any sending state so contracting may, to the extent that moneys are legally available therefor, pay to the receiving state, a reasonable sum as consideration for such enlargement of capacity, or provision of equipment or structures, and reservation of capacity. Such payment may be in a lump sum or in installments as provided in the contract.

(c) The terms and provisions of this compact shall be a part of any contract entered into by the authority of or pursuant thereto, and nothing in any such contract shall be inconsistent therewith.

4. Procedures and rights. (a) Whenever the duly constituted judicial or administrative authorities in a state party to this compact, and which has entered into a contract pursuant to article III, shall decide that confinement in, or transfer of an inmate to, an institution within the territory of another party state is necessary in order to provide adequate quarters and care or desirable in order to provide an appropriate program of rehabilitation or treatment, said officials may direct that the confinement be within an institution within the territory of said other party state, the receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.

(b) The appropriate officials of any state party to this compact shall have access, at all reasonable times, to any institution in which it has a contractual right to confine inmates for the purpose of inspecting the facilities thereof and visiting such of its inmates as may be confined in the institution.

(c) Inmates confined in an institution pursuant to the terms of this compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and may at any time be removed therefrom for transfer to a prison or other institution within the sending state, for transfer to another institution in which the sending state may have a contractual or other right to confine inmates, for release on probation or parole, for discharge, or for any other purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state; provided that the sending state shall continue to be obligated to such payments as may be required pursuant to the terms of any contract entered into under the terms of article III.

(d) Each receiving state shall provide regular reports to each sending state on the inmates of that sending state in institutions pursuant to this compact including a conduct record of each inmate and certify said record to the official designated by the sending state, in order that each inmate may have the benefit of his or her record in determining and altering the disposition of said inmate in accordance with the law which may obtain in the sending state and in order that the same may be a source of information for the sending state.

(e) All inmates who may be confined in an institution pursuant to the provisions of this compact shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner and shall be cared for and treated equally with such similar inmates of the receiving state as may be confined in the same institution. The fact of confinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any inmate so confined of any legal rights which said inmate would have had if confined in an appropriate institution of the sending state.

(f) Any hearing or hearings to which an inmate confined pursuant to this compact may be entitled by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate authorities of the sending state, or of the receiving state if authorized by the sending state. The receiving state shall provide adequate facilities for such hearings as may be conducted by the appropriate officials of a sending state. In the event such hearing or hearings are had before officials of the receiving state, the governing law shall be that of the sending state and a record of the hearing or hearings as prescribed by the sending state shall be made. Said record together with any recommendations of the hearing officials shall be transmitted forthwith to the official or officials before whom the hearing would have been had if it had taken place in the sending state. In any and all proceedings had pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, the officials of the receiving state shall act solely as agents of the sending state and no final determination shall be made in any matter except by the appropriate officials of the sending state. Costs of records made pursuant to this subdivision shall be borne by the sending state.

(g) Any inmate confined pursuant to this compact shall be released within the territory of the sending state unless the inmate, and the sending and receiving states, shall agree upon release in some other place. The sending state shall bear the cost of such return to its territory.

(h) Any inmate confined pursuant to the terms of this compact shall have any and all rights to participate in and derive any benefits or incur or be relieved of any obligations or have such obligations modified or his status changed on account of any action or proceeding in which he could have participated if confined in any appropriate institution of the sending state located within such state.

(i) The parent, guardian, trustee, or other person or persons entitled under the laws of the sending state to act for, advise, or otherwise function with respect to any inmate shall not be deprived of or restricted in his exercise of any power in respect of any inmate confined pursuant to the terms of this compact.

5. Acts not reviewable in receiving state; extradition. (a) Any decision of the sending state in respect of any matter over which it retains jurisdiction pursuant to this compact shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but if at the time the sending state seeks to remove an inmate from an institution in the receiving state there is pending against the inmate within such state any criminal charge or if the inmate is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense, the inmate shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment or detention for such offense. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport inmates pursuant to this compact through any and all states party to this compact without interference.

(b) An inmate who escapes from an institution in which he is confined pursuant to this compact shall be deemed a fugitive from the sending state and from the state in which the institution is situated. In the case of an escape to a jurisdiction other than the sending or receiving state, the responsibility for institution of extradition proceedings shall be that of the sending state, but nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent or affect the activities of officers and agencies of any jurisdiction directed toward the apprehension and return of an escapee.

6. Federal aid. Any state party to this compact may accept federal aid for use in connection with any institution or program, the use of which is or may be affected by this compact or any contract pursuant hereto and any inmate in a receiving state pursuant to this compact may participate in any such federally aided program or activity for which the sending and receiving states have made contractual provision provided that if such program or activity is not part of the customary correctional regimen the express consent of the appropriate official of the sending state shall be required therefor.

7. Entry into force. This compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding upon the states so acting when it has been enacted into law by any two contiguous states from among the states of Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. For the purposes of this article, Alaska and Hawaii shall be deemed contiguous to each other; to any and all of the states of California, Oregon and Washington; and to Guam. Thereafter, this compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding as to any other of said states, or any other state contiguous to at least one party state upon similar action by such state. Guam may become party to this compact by taking action similar to that provided for joinder by any other eligible party state and upon the consent of congress to such joinder. For the purposes of this article, Guam shall be deemed contiguous to Alaska, Hawaii, California, Oregon and Washington.

8. Withdrawal and termination. This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon a party state until it shall have enacted a statute repealing the same and providing for the sending of formal written notice of withdrawal from the compact to the appropriate officials of all other party states. An actual withdrawal shall not take effect until two years after the notices provided in said statute have been sent. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the withdrawing state from its obligations assumed hereunder prior to the effective date of withdrawal. Before the effective date of withdrawal, a withdrawing state shall remove to its territory, at its own expense, such inmates as it may have confined pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

9. Other arrangements unaffected. Nothing contained in this compact shall be construed to abrogate or impair any agreement or other arrangement which a party state may have with a non-party state for the confinement, rehabilitation or treatment of inmates nor to repeal any other laws of a party state authorizing the making of cooperative institutional arrangements.

10. Construction and severability. The provisions of this compact shall be liberally construed and shall be severable. If any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 236, L. 1959.

Oral Request for Appeal Ineffective

Oral request of intention to appeal made orally in open court fails to conform to this section and is wholly ineffectual to give the Supreme Court jurisdiction. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

94-8113. (12117) Appeal, when tried.

In General

Where appellant filed his transcript, and subsequently received seven separate orders for extensions of time to file his brief, court would refuse appellant's application to vacate the hearing of the appeal. State v. Cockrell, 130 M 552, 305 P 2d 337, 338.

CHAPTER 82—DISMISSING APPEALS FOR IRREGULARITY—ARGUMENT ON APPEAL—JUDGMENT ON APPEAL

94-8207. (12125) Judgment without regard to technical errors.

Erroneous Instruction

Erroneous instructions are not cause for reversal in the absence of any prejudice. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 236.

to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Transcript of Evidence—Necessity.

Failure to Endorse True Names of Witnesses on Indictment

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the Supreme Court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant

In order to give effect to this section to determine whether the erroneous instructions were merely technical errors, or affected the substantial rights of the accused, it is necessary that the supreme court have before it a transcript of the evidence. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

94-8210. (12127) May reverse, affirm or modify the judgment and order, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where Supreme Court reversed conviction of defendant and remanded cause to district court with directions that if defendant have a new trial the district court should first make inquiry into the defendant's insanity but if the prosecution is dismissed that the district court deliver the defendant to the court of another county which has continuing jurisdiction over the defendant so that the latter court may inquire into his mental condition and make such disposition of the defendant as is required by law; and thereafter the prosecution was dismissed, the trial court then was compelled to deliver the defendant to the other district court and county attorney could not file a new information. The trial court was bound to follow the mandate of the Supreme Court as found in the remittitur and mandamus will lie to require that the district court follow such mandate. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907, 911.)

94-8215. (12132) Jurisdiction ceases after judgment remitted.*Operation and Effect

Where Supreme Court reversed conviction and the remittitur went down in due course and was filed with the lower court, the Supreme Court at that time lost jurisdiction in the case. Specifically it lost any jurisdiction it may have had theretofore to alter in any particular either the opinion or the mandate which followed upon that opinion, certainly unless the remittitur were first recalled. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907, 908.

CHAPTER 83—IN WHAT CASES DEFENDANT MAY BE ADMITTED TO BAIL

94-8301. (12133) Admission to bail defined.

Mandamus to compel judge or other officer to grant accused bail or to accept proffered sureties. 23 ALR 2d 803.

Failure to appear, and the like, resulting in forfeiture or conditional forfeiture of bail, as affecting right to second admission to bail in same noncapital criminal case. 29 ALR 2d 945.

94-8303. (12135) Offense not bailable.*Discretion of Trial Court

Bail is a matter within the discretion of the trial court and its ruling will not be disturbed unless a clear abuse of discretion appears. State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 580.

Denial of bail could not be claimed as showing prejudice by the trial judge for such is a mere preliminary matter and has nothing to do with the trial on the merits. State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 580.

CHAPTER 85—BAIL ON INDICTMENT OR INFORMATION
BEFORE CONVICTION

Section 94-8508. Sureties for guaranteed arrest bond certificates—filing of undertaking—guaranteed arrest bond certificate.

94-8509. Violations of motor vehicle laws—posting of guaranteed arrest bond certificate in lieu of cash.

94-8510. Certification of names of sureties—withdrawal by surety company.

94-8501. (12145) When the offense is not capital.

Discharge, suspension, or remission of bail by reason of imprisonment of principal for a different offense. 4 ALR 2d 443.

94-8506. (12150) Sections applicable to qualifications, etc.*Amount of Bail

Court did not err in refusing defendant's motion to reduce bail which was initially set at $25,000, where the person assaulted was in a very precarious condition and it was not known whether he would live or die. When the judge was advised that the victim would probably live, he reduced the bail to $7,500 which was a very reasonable amount. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407, 408.

The amount of bail which the judge may fix is within his sound legal discretion, and is always to be a reasonable amount.

State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407.

The trial judge in determining the amount of bail to be fixed, should take into consideration the enormity of the crime charged; the maximum penalty which the law authorizes; the pecuniary condition of the defendant; the probability of the defendant's flight to avoid punishment; his general character and reputation; the apparent nature and strength of the proof as bearing upon the probability of his conviction; and other matters bearing upon the particular case. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407.

94-8508. Sureties for guaranteed arrest bond certificates—filing of undertaking—guaranteed arrest bond certificate. (A) Any domestic or foreign surety company which has qualified to transact surety business in this state may, in any year, become surety in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) with respect to any guaranteed arrest bond certificates issued in such year by an automobile club or association or by an insurance company authorized to write automobile liability insurance within this state, by filing with the commissioner of insurance an undertaking thus to become surety.

(B) Such undertaking shall be in form to be prescribed by the commissioner and shall state the following:

(1) The name and address of the automobile club or clubs, automobile association, or insurance company or companies, or associations with respect to the guaranteed arrest bond certificates of which the surety company undertakes to be surety.

(2) The unqualified obligation of the surety company to pay the fine or forfeiture in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) of any person who, after posting a guaranteed arrest bond certificate with respect to which the surety company has undertaken to be surety, fails to make the appearance to guarantee which the guaranteed arrest bond certificate was posted.

(C) The term, guaranteed arrest bond certificate, means any printed card or other certificate issued by an automobile club, association or insurance company, to any of its members or insureds, which said card or certificate is signed by such member or insured and contains a printed statement that such automobile club, association or insurance company and a surety company, or an insurance company authorized to transact both automobile liability insurance and surety business in the state of Montana, guarantee the appearance of the person whose signature appears on the card or certificate and that they will, in the event of failure of such person to appear in court at the time of trial, pay any fine or forfeiture imposed on such person in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00).

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 39, L. 1957.

Title of Act

An act authorizing qualified surety companies to become surety with respect to guaranteed arrest bond certificates of automobile clubs and associations and insurance companies authorized to write automobile liability insurance within the state of Montana, and requiring the acceptance of such certificates in lieu of cash or property bail in the event of certain violations of motor vehicle laws; providing that all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are repealed.

94-8509. Violations of motor vehicle laws—posting of guaranteed arrest bond certificate in lieu of cash. Any guaranteed arrest bond certificate with respect to which a surety company has become surety or a guaranteed arrest bond certificate issued by an insurance company authorized to transact both automobile liability insurance and surety business within this state, as provided in section 1 [94-8508] hereof, shall, when posted by the person whose signature appears thereon, be accepted in lieu of cash bail in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00), as a bail bond to guarantee the appearance of such person, in any court, including municipal courts, in this state, at such time as may be required by the court, when such person is arrested for violation of any motor vehicle law of this state or ordinance of any municipality in this state (except for the offense of driving while intoxicated or for any felony) committed prior to the date of expiration shown on such guaranteed arrest bond certificate so posted as a bail bond in any court in this state shall be subject to the forfeiture and enforcement provisions with respect to bail bonds posted in criminal cases as provided by law, and that any such guaranteed arrest bond certificate posted as bail bond in any municipal court in this state shall be subject to the forfeiture and enforcement provisions of the chapter or ordinance of the particular municipality pertaining to bail bonds posted.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 39, L. 1957.

94-8510. Certification of names of sureties—withdrawal by surety company. The commissioner of insurance shall certify to each justice of the peace, police magistrate and district judge the names of surety companies who have become sureties with respect to guaranteed arrest bond certificates, and shall likewise immediately notify such official upon the withdrawal of such company as surety. No such withdrawal by any company shall be effective for thirty (30) days after the filing thereof with the state insurance commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 39, L. 1957.

Repealing Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 39, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

CHAPTER 89—COMPELLING ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES—SUBPOENAS

94-8904. (4945) Criminal actions not more than six to be subpoenaed, etc.

Operation and Effect

This statute is to control the expenses of the county and is a limitation upon the clerk of the court and not upon the judge. Where the court allows more than six witnesses to testify for the state the defendant is not prejudiced by the absence of an express order made by the court. State v. Cockrell, 131 M 254, 309 P 2d 316, 321.

CHAPTER 90—WITNESSES FROM WITHOUT STATE—HOW SECURED IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

Section 94-9003. Witness from another state summoned to testify in this state.

94-9003. Witness from another state summoned to testify in this state.

(1) If a person in any state, which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in criminal prosecutions, or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence, in this state, is a material witness in a prosecution pending in a court of record in this state, or in a grand jury investigation, which has commenced or is about to commence, a judge of such court may issue a certificate under the seal of the court stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required. This certificate will be presented to a judge of a court of record in the county in which the witness is found.

(2) If said certificate recommends that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of this state to assure his attendance in this state, such judge may direct that such witness be forthwith brought before him; and the judge being satisfied of the desirability of such custody and delivery, for which such determination said certificate shall be prima facie proof, may order that said witness be forthwith taken into custody and delivered to an officer of this state, which order shall be sufficient authority to such officer to take such witness into custody and hold him unless and until he may be released by bail, recognizance, or order of the judge issuing the certificate.

(3) If the witness is summoned to attend and testify in this state, he shall be tendered the sum of ten cents (10¢) a mile for each mile and five dollars ($5.00) for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness, provided further that in those cases in which the state wherein the witness is found has by statutory enactment required that the summoned witness be paid an amount or amounts in excess of the amount hereinbefore in this paragraph provided, then said witness may be tendered said amount or amounts so required by said state to be tendered though the said amount or amounts so required to be tendered are in excess of the said amounts in this paragraph provided for. A witness who has appeared in accordance with the provisions of the summons shall not be required to remain within this state a longer period of time than the period mentioned in the certificate, unless otherwise ordered by the court. If such witness fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this state.

CHAPTER 93—PROCEEDINGS ON INQUIRY AS TO SANITY OF A DEFENDANT

94-9301. (12213) Insane person cannot be tried or punished.

Declaratory of Common Law

This statute is declaratory of the common law as it has existed at least since Blackstone's day. Comparable or similar statutes have been enacted in all but four states of the Union. In these four, it seems the common law without the aid of statute remains in force. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

94-9302. (12214) Doubts as to sanity of defendant, how determined, etc.*Construction

A doubt within the meaning of this section may come from matters which are brought to the attention of the trial judge wholly beyond the common-law record or which although occurring at the trial do not appear in the record, or which although shown in the record are not admissible as evidence bearing upon any issue before the trial court on the merits. The sources of that doubt need not be evidence. It is enough that the doubt comprehended by the statute arises from credible and trustworthy information brought to the attention of the trial court from any source at all. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

The question whether such a doubt is raised in any given case addresses itself directly to the sound judicial discretion of the trial court. But like any other matter thus committed to the discretion of a court or its judge this discretion may not be exercised arbitrarily. Its abuse will be reviewed on appeal, and where an abuse does appear the reviewing court will say as a matter of law a doubt did arise which commanded action, and which therefore works a reversal for the error of the judge below in failing to heed its command. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

The weight of successive adjudications by four different courts and judges, in other proceedings, that the defendant was insane, were sufficient as a matter of law to raise the doubt required by this section. The testimony of a witness that the defendant was sane does not alter the case, for at this stage of the proceedings the court is only concerned with the preliminary question whether there is reason to doubt the defendant's sanity. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1085.

CHAPTER 95—DISMISSAL OF ACTIONS FOR WANT OF PROSECUTION OR OTHER REASONS

94-9501. (12223) When action may be dismissed.*Dismissal on Other Grounds

Where district court dismissed information on grounds other than that provided by this section and record failed to show whether this ground was urged at the hearing in the district court or any ruling thereon, the case was reversed and the cause remanded to the district court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the opinion of the Supreme Court. State v. Saginaw, 124 M 225, 220 P 2d 1021, 1025; State v. McRae, 124 M 238, 220 P 2d 1025, 1027.

Interruption of Period

From the six months mentioned in subdivision 2 of this section must be excluded the time elapsing between the date the demurrer to the information was erroneously sustained and the date of the remittitur of the Supreme Court reversing the decision. State v. Israel, 124 M 152, 220 P 2d 1003, 1013.

Operation and Effect

Whether or not motion to dismiss information under this section because of delay in trial should be granted or denied depends on whether or not "good cause" is shown for delay. State v. Saginaw, 124 M 225, 220 P 2d 1021, 1025; State v. McRae, 124 M 238, 220 P 2d 1025, 1027.

In a prosecution for a misdemeanor, where the complaint is dismissed upon request by the state so that a new complaint may be issued which is substantially the same as the first complaint but amends it as to the time the offense was committed, such dismissal is not one under this section which would be a bar to the prosecution under section 94-9507. *State ex rel. The defense of the bar arising under this section may properly be raised by a plea of not guilty, and all matters in proof thereof are admissible under the plea of not guilty by virtue of section 94-6805. State v. Porter, 130 M 299, 300 P 2d 952, 954.

State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 859 to 861.

At the close of each fiscal year the board shall submit to the governor, to the board of prison commissioners and to the legislature, a report with statistical data of its work, including research studies which it may make of probation, sentencing, parole or related functions, and a compilation and analysis of dispositions by criminal courts throughout the state.

Expenses to be paid. All expenses incurred by the board pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses and disbursements of the members thereof, its officers and employees, incurred while on business of the board either within or without the state, shall, unless otherwise provided in this act, be paid from funds appropriated, after being approved by the board upon claims therefor, to be audited and approved by the state board of examiners.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9827. Legal advisor of the board. The board may appoint any qualified attorney or the attorney general to act as its legal advisor and represent it in all proceedings whenever so requested by the board.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9828. Duties of the director. The director shall be the executive officer of the board. He shall be responsible for such investigation and supervision as may be requested by the board or the courts. He shall, subject to the approval of the board, divide the state into districts and assign probation and parole officers to serve in the various districts and courts; he shall obtain office quarters for such staff in each district as may be necessary. He shall assign the secretarial, bookkeeping and accounting work to the clerical employees, including receipt and disbursement of money. He shall direct the work of the probation and parole officers and other employees assigned to him. He shall formulate methods of investigation, supervision, record keeping and reports. He shall conduct training courses for the staff. He shall seek to cooperate with all agencies, public and private, which are concerned with the treatment or welfare of persons on probation or parole. He shall further be charged with the administration of the provisions of the interstate compact for the supervision of parolees and probationers.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9829. Duties of probation and parole officers. Probation and parole officers shall investigate all persons referred to them for investigation by the director of probation and parole or by any court to which they are instructed by the director to serve. They shall furnish to each person released under their supervision a written statement of the conditions of probation or parole and shall instruct him regarding same. They shall keep informed of the conduct and condition of each person released under their supervision and use all suitable methods to aid and encourage him to bring about improvement in his conduct and condition. Probation and parole officers shall keep detailed records of their work. They shall supervise the collection and disbursement of all moneys when so instructed by the director in accordance with the orders of a court. They shall make such reports in writing as the director may require.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9830. Conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. The board may adopt general rules or regulations concerning the conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. Such conditions shall apply in the absence of any specific or inconsistent conditions imposed by a court. Nothing herein contained shall limit the authority of the court to impose or modify any general or specific conditions of probation or of suspension of sentence.

The probation and parole officer may recommend, and by order duly entered, a court may modify any conditions of probation or suspension of sentence at any time. Due notice shall be given to the probation and parole officer before any such conditions are modified and he shall be given an opportunity to be heard thereon. The court shall cause a copy of any such order to be delivered to the probation and parole officer and the probationer.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9831. Arrest—subsequent disposition. At any time during probation or suspension of sentence a court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant for violation of any of the conditions of release, or a notice to appear to answer to a charge of violation. Such notice shall be personally served upon the defendant. The warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to return such defendant to the custody of the court or to any suitable detention facility designated by the court. Any probation and parole officer may arrest such defendant without a warrant, or may deputize any other officer with power of arrest to do so by giving him a written statement setting forth that the defendant has, in the judgment of said probation and parole officer, violated the conditions of his release. Such written statement delivered with the defendant by the arresting officer to the official in charge of a county jail or other place of detention shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of the defendant. The probation and parole officer, after making an arrest, shall present to the detaining authorities a similar statement of the circumstances of violation. Provisions regarding release on bail of persons charged with crime, shall be applicable to the defendants arrested under these provisions.

Upon such arrest and detention, the probation and parole officer shall immediately notify the court with jurisdiction over such prisoner, and shall submit in writing a report showing in what manner the defendant has violated the conditions of release. Thereupon, or upon an arrest by warrant as herein provided, the court shall cause the defendant to be brought before it without unnecessary delay for a hearing on the violation charged. The hearing may be informal or summary. If the violation is established, the court may continue to revoke the probation or suspension of sentence, and may require him to serve the sentence imposed, or any lesser sentence, and, if imposition of sentence was suspended, may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed.

A probationer or defendant under suspension of sentence for whose return a warrant has been issued by the court, shall, after the issuance of the warrant, if it is found that such warrant cannot be served, be deemed a fugitive from, or to have fled from, justice. If it shall appear that he has violated the provisions of his release, whether the time from the issuing of such warrant to the date of his arrest, or any part of it, shall be counted as time served on probation or suspended sentence, shall be determined by the court.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9832. Parole authority and procedure. The board shall release on parole any person confined in the Montana state prison, except persons under sentence of death, when in its opinion there is reasonable probability that the prisoner can be released without detriment to himself or to the community, provided,

1. That no convict serving a time sentence shall be paroled until he shall have served at least one-quarter ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) of his full term, less good time allowances off, as provided in section 80-740; except that any convict serving a time sentence may be paroled after he shall have served, upon his term of sentence, twelve and one-half ( $12\frac{1}{2}$ ) years;

2. No convict, serving a life sentence, shall be paroled until he shall have served twenty-five (25) years, less the good time allowances off, as provided in section 80-740. All paroles shall issue upon order of the board, duly adopted.

Within two (2) months after his admission and at such intervals thereafter as it may determine, the board shall consider all pertinent information regarding each prisoner, including the circumstances of his offense, his previous social history and criminal record, his conduct, employment and attitude in prison, and the reports of such physical and mental examinations as have been made.

Before ordering the parole of any prisoner, the board shall have the prisoner appear before it and shall interview him. A parole shall be ordered only for the best interest of society, not as an award of clemency; it shall not be considered a reduction of sentence or pardon. A prisoner shall be placed on parole only when the board believes that he is able and willing to fulfill the obligations of a law-abiding citizen. Every prisoner while on parole shall remain in the legal custody of the institution from which he was released, but shall be subject to the orders of the board.

The board may adopt such other rules not inconsistent with law as it may deem proper or necessary, with respect to the eligibility of prisoners for parole, the conduct of parole hearings or conditions to be imposed upon parolees. Whenever an order for parole is issued it shall recite the conditions thereof.

Subpoenas may be signed and oaths administered by the board or any member thereof. Subpoenas so issued may be served by any sheriff, constable, police officer, parole and probation officer, or other law-enforcement officer. In case of contumacy by, or refusal of any person to obey a subpoena issued to such person, any member of the board or duly authorized representative of any of them may make application to any court of record of this state and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before the board and there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation; any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof. Any person who shall without just cause fail, or refuse to attend and testify, or to answer any lawful inquiry or to produce records, books, papers and other documents if it is in his power to do so, in obedience to a subpoena of the board or any member thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars ($200) or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

94-9838. Return of parole violator. At any time during release on parole or conditional release the board may issue a warrant for the arrest of the released prisoner for violations of any of the conditions of release, or a notice to appear to answer to a charge of violation. Such notice shall be served personally upon the prisoner. The warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to return such prisoner to the actual custody of the penal institution from which he was released, or to any other suitable detention facility designated by the board. Any probation and parole officer may arrest such prisoner without a warrant, or may deputize any other officer with power to arrest to do so by giving him a written statement setting forth that the prisoner has, in the judgment of said probation and parole officer, violated the conditions of his release. Such written statement delivered with the prisoner by the arresting officer to the official in charge of the institution from which the prisoner was released or other place of detention, shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of the parolee or conditional releasee. The probation and parole officer, after making an arrest, shall present to the detaining authorities a similar statement of the circumstances of violation. Pending hearing, as hereinafter provided, upon any charge of violation, the prisoner shall remain incarcerated in such institution.

Upon such arrest and detention, the probation and parole officer shall immediately notify the board and shall submit in writing a report showing in what manner the prisoner has violated the conditions of release. Thereupon, or upon an arrest by warrant as herein provided, the board shall cause the prisoner to be promptly brought before it for a hearing on the violation charged, under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt. If the violation is established, the board may continue or revoke the parole or conditional release, or enter such other order as it may see fit.

A prisoner for whose return a warrant has been issued by the board shall, after the issuance of such warrant, if it is found that the warrant cannot be served, be deemed a fugitive or to have fled from justice. When a prisoner on parole or conditional release has performed the obligations of his release, the board shall make a final order or discharge and issue a certificate of discharge to the prisoner.

A majority of the board shall advise, investigate, and approve each such case before the action of the governor shall be final. All applications for executive clemency shall be made to the board, which shall cause an investigation to be made of all the circumstances surrounding the crime for which the applicant was convicted, and as to the individual circumstances relating to social conditions of the applicant. If the board, or a majority thereof, approves such application for executive clemency, it shall advise the governor and recommend action to be taken.
